—Small pox has again broken out in Pittsburgh. It is to be hoped that we will not have another siege in this country like that of last winter.

—The muddy roads are here in all their pristine nastiness. Those who laid in sufficient fuel and such to last till sleighing comes are lucky and no doubt happy.

—Millville, Erie Co., Herald:
 Mrs. S. Miller left this morning for Forest county, to visit Mrs. White's parents, they expect to be absent about two weeks.

—The first genuine snow storm of the season visited this section on Monday forenoon last. It came down in big chunks but didn't lay any time.
 And now is the winter of our discontent upon us, we suppose.

—The transit of Venus will take place on the 8th day of December, and if the day is clear will be visible in this country. It will be necessary, however, to have smoked glass in order to get a fair squint at the transaction.

—D. H. Bee, of Marion, raised a head of cabbage that weighed twenty-five pounds.—Indiana Progress. Oh, pshaw! that's nothing. Mrs. Ault of Tylersburg recently presented Rev.
 Hickling of this place with a cabbage that weighed 29 pounds.

—Thanksgiving two weeks from tomorrow. It is evident the party who intends bringing us a turkey is going to bring a fat one, else they would have brought it in some time ago and given us time to fatten it. We can see through it all very plainly.

—And now doth the festive hunter bold shoulder his trusty Winchester and his himself to deerdom, and "ten to one" if he don't come straggling back in the course of two or three weeks all haired over, looking lank as a rail, his clothes worn out and smelling like a smoked ham.

—Postmaster McKay is receiving medical treatment at the hospital in Erie, having left for that place on Wednesday last. He has been a great sufferer for years, and of late has been barely able to move about. May the treatment he receives do him much good.

—The pleasant aromatic weed, found growing in all the fields of Pennsylvania, and known as "Life Everlasting," is said to be a specific remedy for Asthma. Simply breathing its perfume is all that is necessary to work a cure. A pleasant remedy and a pleasant way to take it.—Ex.

—P. M. Clark Esq., went to Ridgway yesterday to attend the meeting of the return judges for this Senatorial district, he being the judge for this county. We didn't learn the result of their meeting, but have a kind of an idea that the returns showed that Senator Hall was re-elected.

—Our readers are asked to glance at Ed. Heibel's new "ad." and then drop into his place and look over his large and complete line of hardware, which is he selling at astonishingly low figures. Don't fail to call on him when in need of anything in his line, especially if it should be a stove.

—There are yet several sidewalks which need the attention of our borough paps. The one leading from Blum's blacksmith shop to the river, being the most needy; in fact it's almost impossible in some places and a disgrace to the town. These matters should be attended to before winter sets in.

—Joe Dewees has gone to Oil City to take charge of the river line of the Western Union Telegraph. Joe commenced telegraphing less than a year ago, and by close attention has so far mastered the trade as to be able to fill a position of more than ordinary responsibility. We congratulate Joe on his rapid rise.

—We republish the election table this week in order to give vote of Forest county officially. As these figures are generally preserved for future reference they should be absolutely correct, hence we give the table another insertion; besides this, it will be good reading for some of our neighbor counties who acted very badly on the 7th.

—A lawsuit in Fulton county involved the sum of seven cents. A man bought two penny pears and tendered a coin in payment. The seller gave him one cent in change. The buyer said the coin he tendered was a dime; the seller asserted that it was a three-cent piece. They went to law about it and the jury disagreed. Wonder if causes almost as trivial don't occasionally creep into our own courts?

—The dog which visited Judge Propers's sheep pasture on Dutch Hill recently, having become tired of mutton conculded to change his diet and went for the veal on Sunday night last.
 He chewed the hindquarters of one calf until it could no longer navigate.
 The offender seems to be a large black dog, and for the good of the community in general, and the mutton market in particular, he ought to be speedily dispatched.

—In his election report Rob. Hoskins, of the Carman, (Minn.) Convrier, says "the Independents polled over 100,000 votes" in Pa. A little off, Rob; it did look that way about the time you left, and from their noise and brag one might have been led to think they would poll double that number, but several hundred of them "rose up grandly" and voted for Pattison straight, in order to make sure of Gen. Beaver's defeat.

—Derickson & Co.'s mill near the depot, caught fire on Friday night last, and only for the timely discovery by some of the citizens living on Front St., would have been totally destroyed.
 As it was the loss will foot up about $150, which is covered by insurance.
 The fire is supposed by some to have caught from a hot box, while some seem to think it was the work of an incendiary, as there seems to have been no fire about the arch when one of the men left the mill late at night and had taken a look at things before leaving. The fire seems to have started near the arch.

—The recent election has made many a Democratic editor happy, but of all the good-feeling chaps we've heard of yet, Brother Carlisle of the Clarion Jacksonian seems to have it the worst; hear him: "We feel good enough to forgive all our enemies, and if we owe anybody anything they don't need to worry about it. There's nothing mean about us. If we've said anything during the campaign that we are glad of, we hope our Republican friends are sorry for it, and those of our subscribers who are delinquent can remit by draft, postoffice order or registered letter at our risk." Now, we'll put Bro. C. on his "good behavior" for three months, and if, at the end of that time, we find he has been a good boy, we'll see that he is made supervisor of Licking twp., at the next spring election.

—On the 6th of December the much talked of transit of venus will take place. Pennsylvania will be just as good a place from which to see it as could be found by traveling 10,000 miles. The celestial hussy will waltz right betwixt the sun and the good people of our State. Those who would inspect the scandalous sight had better have their smoked glass ready. It is now or never with those who want to see Venus in her great transit act, because her next transit will not come along until the year 2004. At that time, of all the fourteen millions of people now living and paying taxes on the earth, there will not be a single one alive—except, perhaps, a straggling remnant of the aged people who nursed George Washington and voted for him.—Franklin Press.

—By bills printed at this office (all of which we are prepared to do on short notice, cheap for cash) we learn that Mr. J. F. Overlander has concluded to give up farming, not feeling able to follow the plow like he used to could, and will dispose of all his farming stuff by public sale on Tuesday, Nov.
 21, 1882. He has an immense amount of material for sale, including all kinds of farming implements besides a span of horses, harness, wagons, sleds, cows, young stock, hogs, a lot of hay, straw, &c., &c. Those in need of anything in this line should remember the date and attend the sale, at foot Jug Handle road, Kingsley twp.

—Peterson's Magazine for December is on our table, as usual ahead of all others. There are two beautiful steel-engravings, of which one, "Beware," is alone worth the price of the number; a superb steel, double size, colored fashion plate; and two colored patterns, both exquisite, in a new style of work, "Arrasen Embroidery." The price of the Magazine is but two dollars a year. Address, Charles J. Peterson, 306 Chestnut St., Phila., Pa.

A Jolly Party of Hunters Bold.

The merry hunters are around again.
 The blue bird comes in the spring, but as soon as snow flies, even so soon, is the hunter on deck and off for the fascinations of the dark woods with his respective Winchester after the nimble deer.

Appropos of these reflections we noticed, on Tuesday morning, our annual friends Aaron Kepler, the Lancaster Co. Ranger; Frank Blood (whose name is ominous) "the Wild Hunter of the Shores of Lake Erie;" Geo. W.
 Robinson, the famous merchant hunter, and Capt. Jacob M. Kepler, with game in his eye, wending their way Eastward—a jolly company. They hope to be joined at the mouth of Blue Jay by Buffalo Bill, and Rollicking Jack, the last of the Pawnees, and other choice spirits. "Thereby hangs a tale." On a snowy but auspicious morning in the month of November, might have been seen four jolly hunters wending their way Eastward toward the dark forest, the native home of the deer,—but oh, give us a rest; we have started on too broad a gauge; we have shouldered a bigger load than the horse could carry. Suffice to say, they have sufficient provisions along, as well as some of those creature comforts that serve to smooth down the declivities of life, and in a musical voice, as they ascended the hill, we heard one of them sing an old song.

"What is life with all its joys Without old Nelse?
 I am really 'one of the boys,' And wouldn't be anything else." hausted vitality cured by using

Forest Oil Notes.

Forest county oil news is getting quite scarce, and the worst of all is, from present indications, it is going to get much scarcer before the winter is over. The wells now to come in are few, about the only ones being those on Whig Hill, and from the best reports we can now gain, these are no longer a terror to the trade. It is pretty well settled in the minds of operators and dealers in oil, that they are dusty, being now down below all the sand levels known to exist, and yet no show of oil.

The Cornwell venture is about given up as dry. They haven't been able to extract the tools yet, but as the hole is supposed to be below the depth where it was expected to get a strike, there is no longer any fear in the mind of the average operator as to its results; however, it may yet astonish the trade, should they be able to get it cleaned out.

The Balltown well, which was giving the trade no little uneasiness, came in last Saturday, and is dry.
 Parties interested think it may make a small producer. The well is located on the northern part of the Balltown property, and the owners didn't place much reliance on it from the start, believing it to be "off the belt" entirely. It is on warrant 4821.

The above are all the wildcats now in the county, and there is no prospect that there will be any more until spring opens, which is why we remark that oil news will likely be scarce for awhile in Forest county. In the mean while the market booms all the way from $1.14 to $1.30, and before the week is out there is no telling what she will be—perhaps $1.50, so "catch on" if you want to make a speck.

A "special" to yesterday's Derrick says: The Grandin well found twenty-seven feet of hard gritty sand. The second bit showed a little gas and slush oil. It is a total failure. The sand inclined to a grayish color. They intend putting the Hancock & Kennedy and McKeown's wells at Whig Hill deeper.

Forest County's Railroads.

Now that the political campaign is over I will ask a little space in your invaluable paper for a short article on the above subject.
 As most of our citizens are and have been acquainted with the late prosperity of the Buffalo, Pittsburgh & Western R.
 R., it is needless to speak of that here.
 Next comes the Pittsburgh, Bradford & Buffalo narrow gauge Railroad running through the townships of Jenks and Howe. What was three years ago a howling wilderness is now developing into a decidedly important part of the county in the way of industries in lumber and manufactories requiring our forests for a base on which to operate.
 The road is being built as rapidly as possible to Kane, McKean county, its eastern terminus, and the Company are sparing no expense to put the road in first-class order, ballasting it with broken stone and surfacing it in many places, so that it is not exceeded by the best roads in the country. The principal stations in Forest county are Gilfoyl, Marienville, Forest City, (By-rom's mills), Frostburg, Beechwood Junction (Tionesta Valley R. R. Junction to Sheffield), Spring Creek, and Kane; the last two in McKean Co.
 When the "gay and festive" and efficient engineer, B. E. Cutler, located through this part of the line there was not a house between the Eldridge settlement and Kane that afforded them accommodations, and they were compelled to camp and "board as board can," until they got through to Kane.
 Mr. Cutler deserves all the appreciation of his Company for his work in that section. The road when completed will open up the "New Short Line" to the upper oil field.

Last, but not least, comes the Tionesta Valley Narrow Gauge Railroad from Sheffield to Beechwood Junction on the P. B. & B. R. R., completed the past season, and on which trains have been running since about the first of September. This road is a private enterprise of Messrs. Horton, Cray & Co., of Sheffield, and as they are to a greater or less extent interested in Forest county's enterprises, some few things in connection with the road may be of interest to your readers, I will give the following:

The line is about thirteen miles long, laid with hardwood ties on curves and hemlock ties on tangents; weight of rail, 35 pounds per yard.

There are 19 trestles and bridges, aggregating 2,251 feet; its largest continuous trestle is 1,331 feet long and 35.1 feet high in the highest point, built on a 19° curve left and a part on a 16° curve right; the other trestles and bridges are on tangents; the embankments are 9 feet wide on top and excavations 12 feet wide at the bottom; maximum curvature, 20°; maximum grade 116.16 feet per mile equated for curvature, thus making an average of a little less than 95 feet per mile. The equipment is as follows: One 20-ton engine, two elegant coaches, two Gondola cars, four box cars and seventy-six flat cars, all of first-class construction. The principal stations are, Sheffield, Barnes, Brookston, and Beechwood Junction; this forms the remainder of the new "short line" to Bradford in connection with the Bradford air line building to Anderson's Station on O. B. & W. R. R., six miles from Kinzua village.

Yours truly, F. F. WHITTEKIN, Eng'r T. V. R. R.

Walnut Leaf Hair Restorer.

It is entirely different from all others. It is as clear as water, and, as its name indicates, is a perfect Vegetable Hair Restorer. It will immediately free the head from all dandruff, restore gray hair to its natural color, and produce a new growth where it has fallen off. It does not in any manner affect the health, which Sulphur, Sugar of Lead, and Nitrate of Silver preparations have done. It will change light or faded hair in a few days to a beautiful glossy brown.
 Ask your druggist for it. Each bottle is warranted. SMITH, KLINE &
