LOCAL AND MISCELLANEOUS.

Condensed Time Table Tionesta Station.

Table with 4 columns: NORTH, SOUTH, TRAIN NO., TIME. Includes routes to North and South.

—Preaching in the Presbyterian Church next Sunday morning and evening, by Rev. Hickling.

—Rev. Hicks will occupy the pulpit of the M. E. Church next Sunday evening.

—Presbyterian Sabbath School at 8 p. m.; M. E. Sabbath School at 10 a. m.

—Vennor predicts skating for thanksgiving.

—This is the season of the year that church festivals bud and blossom.

—Oil market closed last night at $1.18, and opened this morning at $1.20.

—Jimmy Holings has gone back to the Bradford region, after a summer's sojourn in Tionesta.

—Mis Rena Campbell departed for Oil City last Friday where she will attend school this winter.

—Mr. K. G. McFarland, of Armstrong county, is paying his brother-in-law, Dr. Morrow, a visit.

—The "back channel" was frozen over yesterday morning. Hardly solid enough for skating, though.

—Mr. R. B. Sinclair, of Cleveland, Ohio, was among his Tionesta friends, of which has a host, over Sunday.

—The house occupied by Mr. Moon has been treated to a new shingle roof. Also the Geo. Haslet house, occupied by Mr. L. Fulton.

—Major Canfield has built an addition to his house, and has given the whole a coat of paint, adding materially to its appearance.

—Our old friend Mike Ulrich, traveling correspondent of the Oil City Breeze, stopped in town a few hours last Thursday afternoon.

—Esquire Brennan has been confined to his house since last Wednesday with a very severe attack of quinsy, but is now on the mend.

—Our local sports are laying awake nights waiting for tracking snow. We don't suppose there'll be a deer left in the country after the first snow.

—Major E. Newlon, father of Mrs. J. H. Derickeon of this place, died at the residence of his daughter, Mrs. Dr. Wallace, in East Brady, on the 9th inst., of pneumonia. His age was 74 years.

—The Salamanca division of the Buffalo, Pittsburgh & Western R'y from Kinzua to Salamanca has been completed and will be opened for business about Nov. 20, says Baldwin's Railway Guide.

—Franklin is to have an oil exchange, and so's Clarendon. They are springing up all around, and it wouldn't surprise us to wake up some morning and hear that Tionesta had erected a "bull-ring."

—Prof. Hillard has engaged the services of Prot. Lee L. Grumbine, of Fredericksburg, Lebanon county, Pa., one of the leading elocutionists of the State, for the teachers' institute, which convenes on the 18th of December next.

—We had a pleasant call from Mr. E. E. Clapp, of President, the city of fine roads, yesterday morning. No man in the State "mends his ways" oftener than Mr. C., and the consequence is they are always in excellent order.

—"Little Forest" county went republican all over last Tuesday, and did well in re-electing E. L. Davis to the Assembly. He makes a good member, and is returned with more than double the majority of two years ago.—Warren Mail.

—A correspondent asks, "What time of year do the days begin to shorten?" When you have a note in bank. A note in bank is a great annihilator of time.

—Mr. Hunter has put some substantial repairs on the Tionesta end of his bridge. Now, George, if you want to do a still handsomer thing, just put in a crossing and short sidewalk at this end, and pedestrians will rise up as masse and call you a "bully boy."

—We notice by the Newton, (Kas.) Republican that W. E. Lathy Esq., has been elected to the office of County Attorney, which pays about $1,200 a year.

—Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Seybolt, of Brooketon, this county, are at present making an extended tour of the eastern cities. We notice in the Washington Star of recent date that they attended the golden wedding of Mr. M.'s uncle, which was described as a very brilliant affair.

—The happy hunting grounds of this county must now contain something like 500,000 hunters. Hardly a day has passed since the election that eight to ten have not gone through here for the big woods, and if every tenth man should kill a deer there wouldn't be enough left for breeders next spring.

—While splitting wood the other day Geo. Albaugh allowed his ax to come in contact with the crown of his head, and the result was a gash about two inches long, and deep enough to touch the skull.

—The Superintendent of Forest county will be in his office in the Court House, at Tionesta, on the second Saturday of Dec., on the first Saturday of Jan., on the last Saturday of Jan., and on the last Saturday of Feb. and Mar., for the purpose of meeting with any person who may have business with him.

—The latest is a counterfeit $2.50 gold piece, bearing date of 1858. The new counterfeit piece is much lighter than the genuine, but this would not be detected save by a person in the habit of handling a good deal of money.

—The Weekly News, is a new candidate for public favor published in Dayton, Armstrong Co., Pa., by Messrs. Elder, Orr & Co. It is a neat little sheet, well filled with fresh news, and bears evidence of being well patronized by the business men of the town.

—Oil dropped from $1.28 to $1.12 last Friday, which causes the Franklin Evening News to offer this timely advice: The uncertainty of dabbling in oil stocks is shown by the great drop in to-day's market.

—We are requested to state that a meeting of those who subscribed to and are interested in the purchase of a fire engine for this borough, will be held at this office, on to-morrow, (Thursday) evening.

—The County Commissioners left yesterday on a tour of inspection. Intending to visit the court house buildings of Warren, Ridgway and other places, so as to be able to choose the best plan for our new one to be built next summer.

—The item in the Pittsburgh Commercial of Saturday last from Blairsville, to the effect that Gen. White had objected in open court on the day of counting the returns of the late election to the granting of a certificate to J. D. Patton, Congressman-elect, on the grounds that Patton had used money to procure his election, was incorrect and had no foundation whatever.

—An Oyster Festival will be held in the Haslet Hall, over Haslet & Sons' store, Tionesta, Pa., on the evening of Thanksgiving day, Thursday Nov. 30, 1882.

—A full line of Evaporated Fruit, Dried Fruit, Canned Goods, Shakers' Sweet Corn, Fresh Groceries and Oysters for Thanksgiving.

—Vigor, strength and health all found in one bottle of Brown's Iron Bitters.

Our neighbor of the Democrat ignores the Greenbackers altogether in his reports of Patton's election to Congress; however, that is about the size of it. The Greenbackers of this district are good enough to help elect a Democrat, but they are entirely lost sight of after the election is over.

The December number of Ballou's Magazine contains the best and most expressive short account of the life of Robert Burns, the Scotch poet, that we have ever read. It was prepared with great care by Mr. John D. Ross, of New York, an admirer of the poet, yet written with great impartiality and fidelity.

Baldwin's Official Railway Guide for October is out as bright, newsy and authentic as ever. This really excellent publication should be in the hands of every traveler, as it contains much railroad information not to be found in any of its class.

Gone to His Rest.

The following, which we clip from the Franklin Oil Region of last Sunday, will be read with profound sorrow by the many old friends of the subject of the article, who was the father of our townsman, S. D. Irwin, Esq.

The venerable Judge Irwin, one of oldest and most esteemed residents of Venango county, died at his residence in this city yesterday afternoon, at a few minutes past three o'clock. Although not unexpected, the news of his decease will fall upon our citizens with a force of personal bereavement.

Whig Hill Waifs. Now that bad weather has come upon us we have nothing particularly to do but keep ourselves warm around the blazing fire. Oil developments, it appears, have closed for this winter, the weather being too cold for operation; cannot tell what success will be met with, but think the indications are good as far as known.

Forest Oil Notes.

Many startling reports have been circulated within the past week concerning the Anchor Oil Co.'s well on the Cooper tract, Howe township. Some were to the effect that it was flowing 1100 barrels a day, while others stated it was 200 or less.

The Tionesta Oil Co., we understand, propose putting their well on 5211 down 150 or 200 feet deeper, believing that they are not yet deep enough to get the oil bearing sand.

It is said the Whig Hill wells are shut down for the winter, but that the owners have by no means given up the hope of getting oil there.

Cornwell's venture at Root & Watson's mill has been cleared of its impediments and drilling resumed. It is expected to be finished this week. It is now something over 1800 hundred feet deep.

The parties who drilled the Tylersburg well have moved their machinery to a point near Marienville, and will put down a well forthwith. We were not able to learn the exact location.

Neilltown Notes.

Mr. Demunn is convalescing. Mr. John Black is visiting friends at Neilltown.

Major Woodcock and wife have gone to Philadelphia, where Mrs. Woodcock will remain for some time. The Major will be back in three or four weeks.

Another "bear" and Squire Hotchkiss' count will register a century. Work at the Methodist parsonage at Fagundus is going on briskly.

Mrs. McGee is visiting with her sister, Mrs. Gorman. Tom Machesney has hied himself 'awa' to the Everglades and orange groves of Florida.

Supt. Arid of Warren county, is among the latest accessions to the order Benedictus. Next to setting a good example is the following of one. Accept our congratulations.

Dr. Wilson's experience in farming on his farm at Neilltown is the incidental cause of an amusing story. The Doctor had in his employ a son of the Fatherland whose acquaintance with corn was so limited as to be an inappreciable quantity.

Our Sunday School did not close yesterday as was announced. Reason: the prizes did not arrive.

The day school opened on Monday last with Miss Belle Sarvis as teacher. Messrs. C. B. Grove and F. P. Barnes have moved into our neighborhood; our town is growing.

Now that the days of pancaques have arrived our populace is jubilant; all can live bountifully, at least while buckwheat lasts.

medical talent in our midst; one well versed in his profession. He having erected a substantial residence we are led to believe he has settled permanently.

The Free Methodists are plastering their church in this place. They believe in progressing until their church becomes the best finished in the land.

Frank Gillespie and family have moved to the headwaters of Bobs Creek, where he has taken a contract of stocking logs for Wheeler & Dusenbury.

G. S. Hindman has purchased another large horse and now has the largest team in this section.

Keene is chopping logs for Gillespie Bros. More in the future. MYSTERY. November 20, 1882.
