—Guess we're going to get the chrome. We haven't said 'beautiful snow' this winter.

—Remember the transit of Venus next Wednesday, one week from to-day. Get your smoked glass ready.

—To-morrow being a legal holiday the post office will be closed, except during the arrival and departure of mails.

—The extensive saw mill of Leeper, Arnold & Co., situated near Tylersburg, was totally destroyed by fire on the 17th inst.

—Three sled loads of "fitting" passed through town yesterday, but whence they came or whither they went we learned not.

—Mrs. G. W. Walters is at present lying very ill at her home at Tubbs Run. Her physician considers her in a critical condition, yet hopes for her recovery.

—The Elk Democrat comes to us this week in full sheet for the first time since the big fire in Ridgway. It has a complete new outfit, and looks much better than ever.

—Capt. George Stow Post, G. A. R. meets next Wednesday night, and as the election of officers for the ensuing term takes place on that occasion it is desired that all the members be present.

—The merry jingle of sleigh bells the past two days remind one that winter has come for the time being at least. The sleighing has been very good since Monday, but it is not likely to last long.

—Alex. Dale has just received a new-tooled set of furniture which he has marked down to bottom figures. Alex. is building up a very nice trade by close attention to "biz" and low prices. Give him a call.

—To-morrow's Thanksgiving, and as we never did believe in working or going to school on legal holidays, don't know but we'll slip out and slaughter a big buck. Thanksgiving's our day for killing bucks, anyway.

—Charley Southworth has moved from Newtown over to East Hickory, where he has erected himself a comfortable house, and expects to make his future home. As long as Charley don't move out of the county we'll not complain.

—Mr. Asa Lovejoy moved to Hickory recently, where he has engaged to work for Mr. Brace. We are sorry to lose him as a citizen of our town, but glad to know he has gone no farther away. Mr. Brace will find Asa a faithful worker.

—And still the hunters come straggling in in great droves. If the increase in arrivals continues, it will be necessary for the R. R. Co. to put on an extra coach or two. It is actually dangerous to be in the woods now, where so many greenies are hunting.

—An oil exchange will soon be an accomplished fact. Indeed, if the talk of different parties yesterday amounted to anything, there will be two exchanges immediately. At this rate even the poorest newspaper man can soon own a whole exchange himself.—Franklin Press.

—The oil market has been considerably on the fluctuate lately, having at one time within the past week touched 85 cents. Many prominent speculators have "laid down" under the pressure. The ways of the market are very mysterious and it behooves a fellow to "shoot a leadle oild" how he takes hold of it.

—At the meeting of citizens to discuss the matter of securing some kind of fire apparatus, held at our office last Thursday evening, Hen. Sheemaker and Geo. Sawyer attended. It was a very harmonious gathering, and after a few pipefuls of cut-and-dry had gone up in smoke, and all hands had bit off a fresh chew, the meeting adjourned to meet again immediately after the first big fire.

—"Why ain't you out hunting deer to-day?" we were asked by something less than two thousand persons last Monday. Now, we'll admit that Monday was a most lovely day for hunting deer, and that the temptation to take it in was very, very great, but hangdangit men, we're too busy to hunt anything just now, unless it might be the piece where the fastest turkey will be polished off to-morrow.

—The dog which is in the habit of visiting Judge Proper's farm seems to be rather choice of his diet, as he tries some new food every time he comes. A few nights ago he was seen racing the colts around, and it was discovered the next morning that he had inflicted some injuries on one of them. This canine has furnished us several items of late, but we hope the next one will be in the shape of an obituary.

—Several deer have succumbed to the rifle or shot gun hereabouts lately. Frank Norton, who is shantying with Constable Swales, on Salmon creek, killed two bucks without moving out of his tracks one day last week, and Mr. Swales had killed a large bear and wildcat at last accounts, besides innumerable porcupines. On Saturday last Billy Smearbaugh had the luck to kill a deer while out across the creek with a "belling" party.

—Among our numerous subscribers we were greatly pleased to receive an order from Dr. J. W. Morrow of Tionesta. Dr. Morrow was raised amongst us, thought our school, practiced medicine some years at Atwood, went to Tionesta, whose citizens we think will find the Dr. well skilled professionally and personally a gentleman.—Dayton News. That's so. And we can assure the Doctor's old friends in Armstrong county that he enjoys a very extensive and lucrative practice here.

—A couple parties from the east were in town last week looking for large bodies of hardwood lands, and left for Forest county on Monday. They said they did not care for tracts of less than one thousand acres, and were particularly looking for sugar maple, which they propose manufacturing into umbrella and parasol sticks, etc.—Clarion Jacksonian. They can find lots of just such tracts in our county. What Forest can't produce in the shape of timber isn't worth fooling with.

—Tionesta has lost another of its popular young men in the person of M. L. Vought, of the Commonwealth office, who follows Rob. Hoskins to the far West, where he has engaged to work for Mr. Dunn at the printing business. He left for Crookston, Minn., yesterday afternoon where he will make his future home if the "lay of the land" suits him. Luther's many young friends were loth to have him leave, and wished him all the good fortune to be found in that busy section, in which wishes we heartily join.

—A cordial invitation to attend the "Third Annual Dinner" of the printers of Franklin to-morrow, Thanksgiving, has reached us, but we can't go, sorry to say. Nothing would afford us more pleasure than to go down and create a famice among our brothers of the craft, but "time and space will not permit." Our best wishes are with them in their annual eat, however, and we hope they will do themselves justice, and not allow the good reputation of the fraternity to suffer when they square themselves for the onslaught on Turkey.

—Choice Marrow Beans, Hominy, Green Peas, Mince Meat, &c., just in at Wm. Smearbaugh & Co. 2t

—That feeling of languor and debility that follows physical exertion, removed by using Brown's Iron Bitters. 2t

—Our friend O. W. Proper has become so accustomed to hunting up "mysteris" since the oil fever broke out in our county that he looks for them wherever he travels. Recently he started for the eastern cities, and on his way stumbled onto a "mystery" which he writes us about as follows: "There is a mystery being erected eight miles west of Kittanning, at a small town called Worthington. The building is to be of solid iron, size 60x100 feet. Some months ago a big gas well was struck within two miles of that town. Quite recently a Boston company paid thirty-five hundred dollars for the well and are conveying the gas to that place in pipes. They have not yet let the people in the neighborhood know what they intend to do or manufacture with it. I found out in Pittsburgh, however, what can be made from it. By some process they burn the gas against glass, I think, which forms lampblack; so that solves the mystery so far as I am concerned."

Forest Oil Notes.

Developments in some parts of Forest county are very quiet and hard to hear from of late. The Tionesta Oil Co. will put their Beaver Valley well, on tract 5211, two or three hundred feet deeper as soon as practicable. They have lately secured several hundred acres more territory and will give it a thorough test, firmly believing that they will yet open a good field there.

The Derrick of yestreday morning contained the following items of interest from the

COOPER TRACT.

Shultz & Co.'s well will reach the sand by Saturday, if they have no more bad luck. Reno Oil Co.'s well is 1,300 feet deep, and will hardly reach the sand this week. Clark & Foster have started the drill on division 2, of the Cooper tract. H. B. Porter has moved the erboil to his rig north of the Cooper tract and will begin drilling soon. The last gauge on the Anchor Oil Co.'s well, ending Monday noon, was 180 barrels. The well is falling off rapidly.

A Tour of the Eastern Cities.

ED. REPUBLICAN.—As you request I drop you a few lines, in which I will try and give you a synopsis of our eight seeing. We arrived at Washington about 10 a. m., Friday, where we were met by my uncle and his son at the Baltimore & Potomac depot. In passing out I noticed at my feet the gold star in the floor, marking the spot where "our Garfield" fell. Attended, Friday evening, the Golden Wedding of my uncle.

Saturday afternoon we visited the Cooper Art Gallery and the White House. We were only permitted to enter the vestibule at the White House as it was undergoing repairs. Sunday we attended the New York Avenue Presbyterian Church. Monday we extended our visit to the Department of Agriculture, Smithsonian Institute, and National Museum. In all of which we saw more than I could possibly describe. Also the Capitol, which is an immense institution. In the Rotunda the carpenters were at work busily arranging for the Garfield Hospital Fair. In the House of Representatives we found them busy fixing the Hall for the coming session, and in the Senate Chamber several ladies were scattered over the floor sewing carpet. In both these Halls the carpets are elegant—green velvet. After going all over the building we started for the top of the dome. Finally got there and enjoyed a good view of the city, but it was warm work. On Tuesday we visited the Treasury Department, and the Bureau of Engraving and Printing; everything in this building is very strict. When you go in you are required to register; you are then furnished a guide, who accompanies you through the building explaining here and there. It is impossible for me to attempt a description. In the room where the printing is done the printers work by the piece, paying their own help; some of them make from six to eight dollars per day after paying their lady help. Every piece of paper they take in the morning must be accounted for before an employe is permitted to leave the building. In this building we saw the three swords of General Twigg, valued at $35,000, which were captured by General Butler at New Orleans, and sent to the Treasury Department for safe keeping. Butler has been retained by the Twigg heirs to present the matter to Congress for the return of the swords. After this we visited and went to the top of the Washington Monument, and stood on the stone 328 feet high and sat on the stone 330 feet high. Wednesday we took in the Patent Office, Post Office Department and several other places of interest.

The streets of Washington are nearly all laid with asphalt pavement. Bicycles fitting here and there. The Garfield Memorial Church is fast approaching completion. There is quite an army of colored laborers at work widening 14th St., N. W. outside of the boundary. We noticed in several yards that flowers were all out and buds just ready to bloom, and they were nearly all of the delicate sort, such as Tea Roses, &c.

Our thanks are due to Mr. and Mrs. Emery for many kindnesses shown.

Arrived in New York Thursday morning at 7:30, well pleased with our visit so far. Found the REPUBLICAN awaiting us informing us of Forest county's victory. S.
