ED. REPUBLICAN:-Still on the wing. Have reached this place about five days behind schedule. Have visited the following places in Orange county, N. Y.: Middleton, Otisville and Port Jervis. At Otisville we saw the familiar oil tanks. Hawley is a place of about 3500 population lying in the valley of the Luckawaxen, on a branch of the New York, Iake Erie & Western R. R., 16 miles from Lackawaxen, where it interscets with the main line. After our arrival here we visited, through courtesy of Mr. G. M. Wilson, a merchant of this place, who introduced us to Mr. Saydam, the Superintendent of the "Bellemonte Silk Mill," who very kindly gave us the freedom of the mill, which is located on a stream of water called by the Indian name of "Waltenpaupack." structure is of solid "blue stone," built on a rockey precipice sixty feet above the bed of the stream; the building is 360 feet long by 45 feet wide, four stories high at one end and will be Prof. E. Hawley is the butlet for the sea mined by the Pennsylvania Coul Their mines are located at Pirfaton and Dunmore; they transport flete coal from the mines by a gravity bail read, there being two tracks-one used for loaded cars, the other for emptythe distance being about forty miles; their cars are hauled up the hills by an endless wire rope, power being furnished by stationery engines, which are located some at the top and some at the bottom of the plane. The cars. are attached to the endless rope by a piece of chain five or six teet long with a book at each end called a sling, one end being booked in a coupling on the head car and the other hooked in a swivel in the rope. The train arriving at the top of the plane, the sling is then unhooked from the car and also detached from the rope by the brakeman, (or, as they are called, "the runner") who gives the sling a peculiar jerk, which requires much skill. The train is then left to run by its own momentum down on the other side of the hill at a speed often times of 25 miles per hour. This rate never being reached by coal trains, but is frequently made by the passenger trains of which there are two running daily except Sundays. These trains are called "Pioneers." It has of late years become a great resort for tourists and others, the scenery and ride being magnificent, there being no dust or cinders, and running over deep ravines and around rugged cliffs over-hanging deep gorges that almost make one dizzy to laok down into the brook or stream, which they cross and wind along in numerous places. The coal after reaching Hawley is dumped from their cars (which hold about 5 tons) into enormous pockets, with a capacity of 1200 to 1800 tons; from these pockets the coal is loaded by chutes into the cars of the N. Y., L. E. & W. R. R., by which it is transported to tide water and other goints. This (Penn'a Coel) Company, however has another outlet from their mes via Delaware & Hudson Canal Co. R. R., through Scranton a Carbondale, thence over the Jefferson branch of the N. Y., L. E. W. R. R. to Susquehanna, thence points west. There is also at this place an ex-sive glass factory, which disb ses wages to the amount of $5,000 to $6,000 per month, to the blowers and vented our visiting this institution.
