LOCAL AND MISCELLANEOUS.

Condensed Time Table Tionesta Station. NORTH. SOUTH. Train 15..... 7:48 am Train 63..... 11:05 am —Preaching in the F. M. Church next Sunday evening at the usual hour.

—Rev. Hicks will occupy the pulpit of the M. E. Church next Sunday

—Presbyterian Sabbath School at 3 p. m.; M. E. Sabbath School at 10 a. m.

—Let everybody decorate to-day.

—Oil Market closed last night at $1.14.

—Read the program for to-day's exercises in this issue.

—This promises to be a lovely day for the Memorial exercises.

—Miss Annie Dice, of Marienville, is paying Tionesta friends a visit.

—Rob. Hoskins has been elected Secretary of the Bathgate, D. T., base ball club.

—Side walk building goes on apace. The council takes a hand in the business occasionally.

—Mr. John Brecht, of Beaver Valley paid us a pleasant and substantial visit last Thursday afternoon.

—Mr. and Mrs. Asa Lovejoy, of East Hickory, spent the greater part of last week with Tionesta friends.

—Mr. Sloan is having his residence greatly improved by a new portico taking in nearly the entire front of the building.

—Mrs. R. L. Irwin, of Chautauqua Lake, accompanied by her children, is the guest of her brother-in-law, S. D. Irwin Esq.

—The M. E. Quarterly meeting held at Nebraska last Sunday is said to have been a well attended and successful meeting.

—The old Millers store building in Oil City is being removed, with a view to the further extension of the Oil Exchange block.

—There seems to be a wonderful dearth of local news these days; even the weather is too unreliable to furnish a subject for comment.

—Mrs. E. I. O'Conner who has been visiting relatives and friends in this section for some time past, returned to her home in Canada yesterday.

—The lumbermen on Tionesta creek managed to get out about 2,500,000 feet of lumber and timber on last week's flood; which wasn't so slow for a May freshet.

—Some one left a bunch of keys at our office 'tother day, and while we wouldn't object to keeping the ring, which is rather a nice one, we have no earthly use for the keys.

—W. P. Finley, a well-known and much respected citizen of Salem, Clarion county, died at that place on last Monday. He was once a candidate on the Republican ticket for State Senate in this district, and made a strong run.

—A new way letter from Whig Hill is omitted this week for the usual reason, no signature. Will the writer please send us another batch accompanied by his name? We will take pleasure in publishing it—not the name but the news.

—Work has begun on the Vine St. sewers, and doubtless before the summer is ended the street will be made passable as far as it is laid out. One of the culverts east of H. J. Hopkins & Co.'s store is already nearing completion.

—All members of the old Penna Reserve Corps, residing in Forest County are requested to send their names, company, Regiment and post office address to J. B. Agnew, Assist. Sec'y Penna Reserve Association, Tionesta, Pa., at their earliest convenience. Also please send notice of death of any member of the Division in the county.

—Clarion is making big calculations on celebrating the coming Fourth of July, in a grand old fashioned style. Clarion is noted for its success in such undertakings, and we presume this one will add to her reputation in that line.

—Mr. M. E. Hess, who spent last winter in Forest county "teaching the young ideas how to shoot," departed for his home in Sandy Lake, Pa., last week, bearing with him the good wishes of many friends made during his stay with us.

—"Golden Days" for June is out with its customary supply of choice literature for the young folks. This magazine occupies the front rank, and should be in the hands of all young readers. James Elverson, Publisher, Philadelphia, Pa.

—Mr. R. J. Flynn of this county accompanied by two other gentlemen, started for Manitoba yesterday, where they will engage in the lumber business. We learn they expect to go into the mill being erected in that section by L. L. Hackett, formerly of this county.

—Corn planting has been somewhat retarded in this section by the continued wet weather. A couple of weeks ago some of our more anxious farmers planted their corn, but are now obliged to do it over again. Potatoes fared about the same. Other crops, in the meantime, are looking and doing well.

—Rev. John Peate delivered his popular and highly entertaining lecture entitled, "Travels in Egypt," to the people of Red Brush, this county, on Monday evening last, the meeting being held in Watson & Root's mill. A very large audience was present, and all were very much pleased with the lecture, and speak in the highest praise of the entertainment.

—Bass fishing will be lawful after to-morrow, and then you can catch bass with impunity, rod, hook and line—we believe the law does not prohibit bass-catching with impunity after June first. The "wise men of the east" are getting the fishing business down so fine now-a-days that we presume the next step will be to compel the festive angler to catch his fish by hand, and with kids on at that.

—The card of the East Hickory Hotel appears in our paper this week. East Hickory has long felt the need of a regular hotel, and has perhaps lost considerable custom on account of the lack of one. Mr. J. W. Ball is the proprietor, and has a new house and furnished throughout with new furniture. The traveling public will find it a pleasant stopping place, and no doubt will take pleasure in patronizing the new hotel. We bespeak for Wes. a good run of custom.

—The protracted spell of sour and sloshy May weather now existing has a tendency to start old residents talking about the "cold summer" of 1816, when frost and snow were reported every month of the year, and ice formed in the dog-days. If the sun doesn't soon get a chance there's a poor prospect for fruit and vegetation, and we're likely to be confined to a summer diet of fried icicles, hail pie and snow chowder, thinks the Franklin Press.

—We learn from reliable information of the death of Joseph Shamburg, eldest son of Dr. Shamburg of West Hickory, by a nitro glycerine explosion. Some months ago he went to Bay City Mich., where he engaged in the manufacture of the explosive, and on Friday of last week the magazine was blown up and Mr. Shamburg's body was literally torn to pieces. We are unable to give fuller particulars at this writing. Joe was a young man of very pleasing address, and was very highly esteemed by all who knew him. He had many friends in this place, who will learn this sad news with deepest regret.

—A large assortment of Hosiery, Gloves, Parasols, Notions, Pocket Knives, Bird Cages, &c., just received at Wm. Smearbaugh & Co. It.

—F. Forthman, Waysboro, Pa., says: "The sale of Brown's Iron Bitters are increasing daily and it is giving complete satisfaction."

A Dangerous Counterfeit. There are dangerous counterfeits in circulation purporting to be "Walnut Leaf Hair Restorer." The strongest evidence of its great value is the fact that parties knowing its great efficacy try to imitate it. Each bottle of the genuine has a fac simile of a walnut leaf—blown in the glass; and a Green Leaf on the outside wrapper. The "Restorer" is as harmless as water, while it possesses all the properties necessary to restore life vigor, growth and color to the hair. Purchase only from responsible parties. Ask your druggist for it. Each bottle warranted. JOHNSTON, HOLLOWAY & CO., Philadelphia, and HALL & RUCKEL, New York, wholesale agents.

LIST OF LETTERS Remaining in Tionesta Post office, May 30, 1883: Cyrus Beighal, Rob't Bradish, Geo. M. Field, George Frampton, Anna D. Gibson, James Hughes, J. E. Hickory, Mrs. Tille Harkless, Thos. K. King, Joseph Keem, Maggie Moorehead, Chas. F. Myers, A. L. Persing, Elizabeth J. Shots, O. C. Thompson.

Letters not called for in 30 days will be sent to Dead Letter office. In calling for above please say "advertised." C. M. ARNER, P. M. —Bark Spuds, $1.25; and a good Double-bitt Axe for $1.25, at Robinson & Bonner's.

—A number of the railroad boys got up a little surprise on Mr. Ben Caldwell, foreman of the machine shops, Thursday night. Mr. Caldwell was "unprepared for this," but he has that pleasant way of entertaining his friends, although he was "unprepared," that made the evening pass pleasantly to all present.—Raton (N. M.) Comet. When Ben was in the States he was always "prepared" to meet his friends, and we hope he will hereafter keep a small supply of the "preparation," constantly on hand in case of surprises; and we opine those New Mexicans are none of the "preparation."

Death of James M. McKay.

James M. McKay died at his residence, in this place, on Tuesday, May 29, 1883, in the 62nd year of his age. He was born in Waterford, Erie county, Pa., and came to Tionesta in the year 1867. He was appointed postmaster about twelve years ago, a position which he held until within a few weeks of his death.

He was converted about four years ago, and has been a consistent member of the Free Methodist church for a little over three years.

He has suffered a great deal from bodily afflictions, being in ill health for many years, but rarely murmured. He had his senses to the last, and died as he has lived, trusting in his Saviour Jesus Christ.

We would like to give a fuller history of Mr. McKay, but are unable to do so, on account of the early hour at which we put our forms to press this morning. Funeral services to-morrow, Thursday afternoon.

A Token of Respect

Tionesta Presbyterian Sunday School, May 20, 1883. Learning with deep regret of the sudden death of one of our faithful teachers and Sabbath School workers, Mrs. Amelia Conner, which occurred since our School last met it, appoints a committee to draft fitting resolutions and report at next meeting of the school. A. B. KELLY, Supt. C. W. BAKER, Sec'y.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE.

WHEREAS, It hath pleased Almighty God to remove from us our co-worker and fellow teacher, Mrs. Amelia Conner, who for a number of years has been a consistent member of the Presbyterian Church, and a faithful and earnest worker in Sunday School; one who was always ready and willing to render assistance in any and every way possible for the promotion of Christianity in all its branches.

AND WHEREAS, we realize with deepest sorrow the loss our School has sustained in this death of one of our best teachers, yet we bow in humble submission to the will of Almighty God, who doeth all things well, trusting and believing that she has gone home with her Savior as guide and that her song was, "In God I have found a retreat, Where I can securely abide; No refuge nor rest so complete; And here I intend to reside."

Therefore Resolved, In this sad bereavement we tender to the friends and relatives of the departed our heartfelt sympathy, and trust they may all follow the Christian path she has trod, and meet in the eternal home before the great white throne. Resolved, that this report be spread upon the minutes of our school, and published in the three Tionesta papers.

PROGRAM.

Memorial Day, 1883.

POST 274, AND FRIENDS.

Post, Visitors and Orders will assemble at Post Hall at 9:30 o'clock a. m. Post Band will report for duty at 11 o'clock a. m.

Quartette, Committee on Flowers, Children and Citizens, will meet at the Presbyterian Church, at 1 o'clock p. m., and will be commended by the following committee: Rev. James Hickling, Rev. J. P. Hicks, A. B. Kelly, T. F. Ritchey, Charles Bonner and J. H. Dingman, who will see that proper order is kept and the proper line formed.

The procession will form in line at 1:45 p. m., in the following order: Quartette, Committee on Flowers, Children, Citizens.

The Post, Veterans and orders will form at Post Hall and march at 2 p. m., sharp. On arriving at the Post Office a halt will be made, the Band will continue to play, and the Quartette, Committee on Flowers, Children and Citizens, will march across to the East side of Elm street, keeping time to the music of the Band, and continue their march to the Cemetery. Upon arriving near the Cemetery a halt will be made. Front face, rear rank, will step four paces to the rear, halt and dress-up, front rank will about face and dress-up. When ready, the Post, Veterans, and Orders will march between the rank and the Committee on Flowers will present to each Comrade a wreath or bouquet of flowers. When the Post is formed in position, the Quartette, Committee, Children and Citizens will march in and take positions as may be directed by Commander or his assistants. A Guard will be stationed at each soldier's grave.

The Adjutant will read Memorial Orders; also the names of Comrades buried there, and make a few remarks. Absolute silence is expected from every one not assigned to duty and any tendency to disorder will be promptly suppressed.

Address of Commander. Vocal Music. Dirge by the Band. Prayer by Chaplain. Vocal Music. Dirge by the Band. Address of Senior Vice Commander. Address of Junior Vice Commander. Address of Officer of the Day. Address of the Chaplain.

Strewing flowers by comrades, children and others. The band will play during this part of the ceremony. The assembly will be sounded together, and Post and others will form in their former order.

Oration. Hymn by the Choir. Music by Band. Post will form and march, followed by the Vocal Committee, Children and Citizens, to the Presbyterian Church and be dismissed with the Benediction by Rev. James Hickling. The Commander most earnestly requests the Business Places to close their doors, and Public Houses their Bars from 12 to 4 o'clock.

Mark Twain Again.

Mark Twain issues this month a new work, brimful of historic reminiscences, genial humor and sparkling wit, entitled "Life on the Mississippi." Mark Twain combines, as no one else can, pathos, sentiment and humor, throwing in "solid chunks of wisdom" inimitable jokes and side splitting stories. In this work he outdoes himself. It is his master piece. Agents wanted every where. Address H. K. Foster, Bissell Block, Pittsburg, Pa. Mr. Foster also desires the assistance of a few gentlemen in Western Pennsylvania for the sale of McClintock & Strong's Cyclopaedia of Biblical, Theological and Ecclesiastical literature of Harper's Cyclopaedia United States History and of Zell's Cyclopaedia.

SPECIAL ANNOUNCEMENT.

We take pleasure in announcing that we have perfected arrangements with the publishers of the American Farmer that enable us to club that magazine with the FOREST REPUBLICAN at the low price of $1.75 per year, a trifle over the price of the REPUBLICAN alone. This is beyond question the first time that a reliable agricultural paper has been offered at so cheap a price, and we trust all our subscribers will avail themselves of this unusual opportunity of securing a first class agricultural magazine. The American Farmer is beyond doubt worth three times the price, at which we place it. Try it. It is a monthly publication.

OIL NOTES.

Monday's Derrick has this: Anchor Oil Company will complete their Nos. 19 and 24 this week, and probably No. 6. Clark, Murphy & Breckenman's, on 3,198, is also set down for this week; Herrick No. 4 should be heard from about Wednesday, and if the gas does not interfere too much Patterson Nos. 7 and 8, will be completed. In the Baltown district Welsh's No. 2 and Baltown Oil Company's No. 7 may be expected in. The production of the Cooper tract Friday was less than 4,000 barrels. This is over 700 barrels less than a week ago.

Since the above was in type the following additional facts are reported: Anchor Oil Co's No. 6 on 2,735 struck the sand last night and is showing for a good well. Its location is northeast of No. 4 and on a good line with other large producers. In the first six hours it made 200 barrels, or at the rate of over 33 barrels an hour. At noon to-day it was flowing at the rate of 20 barrels an hour. This well proves that oil in the second sand does not prove the third sand is barren, because this well would have made a fair second sand producer. Anchor's No. 24 was completed Saturday. It made 330 barrels the first 24 hours. Fertig & Henne's No. 3, on the Enterprise Transit Co's tract, is in the sand, and is showing for 100 barrels the first 24 hours. Clark, Murphy & Breckenman's well on 3,198 tapped the sand Saturday, and has filled up 600 feet. This well is located 900 feet west of Union No. 10, and about the same distance northwest of Murphy's No. 2.

The Hoodoo Oil Company's wildcat venture in the western part of Forest county, on tract 3,668, has been drilled below the level of the Bradford sand and abandoned. The casing was being pulled at it to-day.

The Tubbs Run well is still drilling, but what depth they have reached, or just when they expect to "reach the bottom" we are unable to learn; perhaps ten days will see them pretty close to oil, or nothing, at the present rate of speed.

The Derrick arrives at the following sensible conclusion: There is at present a growing feeling among all classes of oil men against the manner in which the wildcat wells are manipulated. This feeling except in extreme cases, does not attack the right of the producer to mystify his well for his own benefit, until he ascertains its condition; but it does assert that the custom of keeping a well hanging over the trade for days and weeks is unjust and unbusinesslike. The producer has a right to handle his property as he sees fit. It is a recognized right, and there is no law to compel him to change his course. But the great oil trade has rights which should be respected as well. What benefit is it to an operator to shut a well down on top of the sand and keep it there for days or weeks as perpetual menace to the trade? He knows no more about it than the public, but his act unsettles values; keeps purchasers and sellers out of the market; creates an artificial price; makes business uncertain; destroys confidence in legitimate trade; drives outsiders away, and leads them to look upon oil men as a set of rascals. It really creates a false impression of the oilmen and the oil business, and injures it in more ways than one. While we recognize the right of a single producer to do as he will with his property; we also recognize that there are rights belonging to thousands of other individuals, and the rights of millions of dollars worth of property, which are of greater importance in the aggregate than those of the single individual, and which demand that the absurd manipulations of wildcat wells should be criticised as they deserve.

Baby Elephant.

Barnum is overjoyed with his acquisition—the baby elephant—and declares that $300,000 could not buy it. He offers $52,000 for an insurance of the life of the infant for 52 weeks. Surely, if he knew the full value of Peruvia and Manalin, he would do no such things as are the next successful protective medicines that have ever been introduced to the human family. No one can take any disease while taking Peruvia before each meal, and keeping the bowels regular with Manalin. Ask your druggist for the book on "His of Life."

DIED.

ALLIO—At his late residence in Tionesta township, Forest County, on Wednesday, May 25, 1883, Joseph Allio, aged 51 years, 1 month and 23 days.
