OIL NOTES.

A gusher is still brought in occasionally up in the Balltown field, just to live up things a little when they get too dull. On Monday afternoon Porcupine Oil Co.'s No. 8 struck the sand. It began flowing strong.

Grandin No. 42 was drilled eight feet in the sand and is flowing. The first six hours it made thirty-six barrels. It is expected to improve by further drilling. The Tubbs Run well is now down over 2,000 feet, says Web. Clark, the boss of operations up there.

Notes by Our Tramp.

Dr. Burkitt has been quite unwell for a week or so, but is now better and able to get around amongst them again. The Dr. has a nice barn up on his lot, and has his house under way.

John Snyder, our blacksmith, is building himself a house also. We don't know who will help him occupy it.

The road laid out some time ago running from Clarington to the head of Buttonwood eddy along the creek is being made by David Wingard, he having taken the job at $2.40 per rod. The roads out through our township are in anything but good condition owing to the severe rains.

Our schools are open for a two month's summer term. We have six months of school this year.

Our town of Clarington keeps right up with the times, and revels in ice cream suppers once in awhile.

Andy Slauchenhaupt has had built this summer a very substantial barn. L. Warner's new house at Redcliffe is moving on toward completion.

The boat-scaffold at Coleman presents considerable of industry. Sol. Fitzgerald is contractor for building a number of boats and is pushing things right along.

The Clarion has been "up" so much this summer that it looks sort o' tired. The boys at Coleman, it is reported, captured a big fish some time ago. It weighed 23 pounds.

The rain is interfering with harvesting. Hay is good. Potatoes look well. Once in awhile a field may be found slightly struck with blight.

NEILLTOWN.

The Flemming Hill school closed with a nice picnic on Monday.

Miss Kerr will teach in Jenks township this fall and winter.

Major Woodcock is doing some fixing up to the wall and porch of his house.

Miss Coihnes of Bradford is the guest of Miss Lizzie Hopkins. Carsonville had a church dedication a week ago Sunday. The U. B. congregation built the church.

Whig Hill Talk.

After a long silence will again grasp our quill and try to give you a minute account of what we are all doing, at least so far as we know.

Everyone is busy, from our greatest farmer down to the poorest laborer. Crops are exceedingly good indeed. They exceed our expectation, but owing to the inclemency of the weather we are barely able to gather them in.

Joe Wuerzka beats us all in having the best crops, which speaks well for him and for our community. It is well, for such things have a tendency to arouse a feeling and an anxiety on the part of all to try and excel and become foremost in the ranks of the husbandmen.

Sunday School never has been so good as it is this year. All are anxious to make it a success, and our efforts are being crowned as they should be. The attendance averages sixty; good order prevails, and there appears to be a great interest awakened concerning the instructions.

Day school we hear nothing about so conclude it must be good, for if otherwise complaints would be made. Len Barnes broke his valuable phaeton on Friday evening last. Sorry for Len, also for the girls who were fortunate enough to get riding in it.

Jesse Shrefler says it is a mean man who dares to run a rubber boot crooked.

J. L. Klinestiver has returned and says there is no place like his old home. We welcome you back, Jacob. Long may you live and be happy.

Intelligence received from Ed. Gillespie is very favorable. The estimate made on his hay is between fifty-five and sixty tons. Also his other crops are very flattering. We bespeak for Ed. success, and we are safe in stating he will achieve it.

Eli Berlin and lady depart for Fairpoint in a few days. John Shuuk is around again. James Faichney still makes the anvil ring in the shop on the corners.

Roads are in the worst condition they have been for years. C. F. Gillespie has gone to visit his son at Union, and also to look after his interests in that section. Send up some of the candidates for office. We are ready to be bulldozed.

If you wish to see the latest improved farming implements in operation come up, for we can boast of having the largest assortment in use here of any farming community in this county. ICHABODE.

Whig Hill, July 30, 1883.

Kellettville Krumbs.

Rev. Hays preached his farewell sermon in Kellettville according to previous announcement, and it is regretted very much by the church-going people that his services cannot be secured longer. The kindest wishes of his friends here go with him wherever he may journey through life.

Mrs. Rarrick, of Painted Post, N. Y., is visiting her daughter, Mrs. R. R. Andrews, and son Charles Rarrick. Dr. Steadman, Misses Sallie Hulings and Jessie Knox, of Tionesta, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Cogan one day last week.

Mrs. E. H. Chase and family of Miles Grove, Erie county, Pa., are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. Arner.

Master Charlie Andrews returned home a few days ago from Canada, where he has been visiting his grandfather, Mr. Andrews.

School commenced last Tuesday with Miss Libbie Guenther in charge. The building is not finished yet, but near enough so that it could be occupied.

J. M. Kepler, Supt. of the Salmon Creek Co., was around looking after the interests of that Company a few days ago. X. Y. Z.

Snatched from the Grave. My wife was at the brink of the grave. She had been given up to die by three of Allegheny City's best physicians.

My wife was at the brink of the grave. She had been given up to die by three of Allegheny City's best physicians. They all pronounced her disease Consumption. Her finger-nails and lips were blue; was pulseless at the wrist; we were all called to witness her death.

Peter Anderson seems to be doing quite a nice business. The word of warning in our last appears to have been sufficient. July 30, 1883. BIAH.

For good fresh Goods cheap go to HASLET & SONS. Feb. 1, '82.

A Dangerous Counterfeit.

There are dangerous counterfeits in circulation purporting to be "Walnut Leaf Hair Restorer." The strongest evidence of its great value is the fact that parties knowing its great efficacy try to imitate it. Each bottle of the genuine has a fac simile of a walnut leaf-blown in the glass; and a Green Leaf on the outside wrapper.
