OIL NOTES.

And still the gushers continue to come in and gush with wonderful regularity in the Forest county field. Ou Monday evening Balltown No. 13, which is located on the north line of and the first hour it made sixty-seven barrels. It will make a 1600 barrel well good enough.

Yesterday morning Grandin No. 14, on 5236, tapped the sand and began flowing strong. It is put down by the scouts as a 600 barrel well, but is more likely to be a 1000-barreler.

The next well of importance is Bulltown No. 11, on 4821. It is 1600 feet deep and will doubtless reach the sand this week. Its location is forty rods northwest of No. 10.

The Beaver Valley well was finished lest week; that is, it was below the sand level, and the contractors, Messrs. Grove & Co., abandoned it and pulled the casing. The owners however, concluded to put it down farther and on Monday set the contractors to work again. They will perhaps get to drilling by to-day or to-morrow. Work on the Hunter well aeross the river has been somewhat retarded on account of the hole being filled with iron and other missiles. It is

P. S.-Since the above was in type they have experienced a break dawn at the above well. The jars were broken, and it may be several days before drilling commences again.

The report of oil operations for August shows that 310 wells were completed during the month giving a daily output of 4,257 barrels, with 29 dry holes; being an increase of 48 wells and 440 barrels daily production over the record of July with nine more dry holes. Warren and Forest show the greatest increase in product-

Sporting Matters.

THE HUNT.

The event of the season in the sport ing line took place last Saturday, the occasion of the match bunt. That was the opening day of the squirrel season, and a lovely day it was, and although the game was scarce the hunters all seem to have enjoyed themselves and were generally satisfied with the bags they made. In the evening all assembled at the Lawrence House and handed in their counts. It was generally conceded that Harvey not reported yet no decision could be arrived at until all were in, there beence. The absentees were Joe Clark well-known qualities of Siggins as a squirrel destroyer, and the firm belief that he would come in with no less than 100 of a count made the situation very uncertain. But they all came in about 8 o'clock, and, sure enough, like the last precinct in a closely contested election often turns the scale, so did Jake's string decide the matter, and, together with Agnew's, brought our side out 59 ahead; not enough to brag about, however. As soon as this result was announced the supper bell rang, and, all being dangerously hungry, the victuals disappeared with a rapidity that was awful to contemplate. The supper was a splendid one and did credit to the house. As on all former accasions the boys want to try it again, and it is likely they will in a couple or three weeks, when game will doubtless be plentier, Following is the score:

H Foreman Capt,...105 J E Wenk Capt, 94 T Shriver. 25 Wm Lawrence...16 Andy Carr. 22 T F Ritchev. Wm Laughlin 3 M Shawkey 57 Jas Carson... ..00 Mack Agnew,....35 ..13 T J Van Giesen 21 ohn Keller, 527

Notwithstanding these little inaccuracies in calling the names of the two clubs 4821, was drilled two bits in the sand there was no had feeling on the part of either nine, and the whole affair passed off pleasantly enough. We ask pardon for simply mentioning, however, that both Oil City and Shamburg have some good ball players. Below we append the score;
