LOCAL AND MISCELLANEOUS.

Condensed Time Table Tionesta Station.

Table with columns for NORTH and SOUTH, listing train times for various destinations like Harrisburg, Pottsville, etc.

—Preaching in the Presbyterian Church next Sunday morning and evening, by Rev. Hickling.

—Presbyterian Sabbath School at 3 p. m.; M. E. Sabbath School at 10 a. m.

—Pay your taxes if you want a vote.

—The organ grinders was around this week.

—Hon. E. L. Davis came home to take in the reunion.

—Oil Market closed last night at $1.14 1/2. Opened this morning at $1.14 1/2.

—Mr. Hamilton Stow attended the reunion, and met a host of his old friends.

—Now is the time to cut bee trees but it's essential to find the tree that has the bees in first. Ah!

—Mrs. Jas. M. Lambing and Mrs. E. D. McCreary of Corry, Pa., are the guests of Mrs. G. G. Butterfield this week.

—The crowd in town yesterday was variously estimated at from 1,500 to 2,000 people, exclusive of our own inhabitants.

—Mr. Eagles, the prompt and urbane delivery clerk of H. J. Hokkins & Co., drives a very handsome calico horse.

—Mr. Frank D. Smiley, of the Venango Citizen, took in the reunion yesterday, and had the pleasure of renewing many of his old acquaintances.

—Our sports are arranging for another match hunt to take place next Saturday. A good time is anticipated as squirrels are much plentier than at the last hunt.

—Don't neglect to pay your State and County taxes any longer or you may lose your vote. Republicans, we admonish you to look after this matter promptly.

—Jas. D. Davis and Mack Agnew, two of our promising young gentlemen, go to Meadville to-day, where they will attend Allegheny College the coming term.

—We hope the call of chairman Irwin for a meeting of the Republican County Committee will be heeded by all the members and that each township will be represented.

—Mrs. A. Hayden arrived home on Monday, her health having been sufficiently restored to endure the ride. Her many friends will hope for a continuance of her improvement.

—Mr. Wagner, of the enterprising firm of Wagner & McClune, manufacturers of hardwood and hemlock lumber, Brookston, Pa., was in town last Friday evening. He is a pleasant gentleman.

—Geo. Osgood of Star, Pa., reports the killing of the cheekiest rattlesnake yet. It actually came into the kitchen, while the family were at dinner, and curled itself up beside the cook-stove, evidently to warm up.

—The Clarion Republican has changed hands, W. R. Johnus, the veteran editor, retires and J. B. Patrick, Esq., assumes control. Both the new as well as the retiring editor have our kindest wishes for future success.

—We can hardly credit the following item, yet it must be true if the Blizzard says so: "An Oil City lady got to laughing over some amusing incident and couldn't stop. Finally a doctor was called in, and he couldn't quit her. Finally a friend showed her one of the "Stray Sand" items in the Derrick, which put a sudden stop to the mirth, and induced a fit of melancholy from the effects of which it is feared the poor woman cannot recover."

—Isaac Shimp has removed to Tionesta and now occupies his house on Front St. Ike tells us he is loose now and ready to take hold of any lumbering job which may turn up that will afford a living and a little more.

—Mrs. Judge Dale was surprised by a number of her friends last Saturday evening, on the occasion of her 61st birthday. A pleasant time was had, and the guests departed at a late hour wishing their kind hostess many happy returns of the day.

—Postmaster Arner is breaking ground for a new house on his lot back of the Court House. His lot adjoins Artist Douth's, whose new house is rapidly approaching completion; and which by-the-way, is going to be a very neat and tasty home.

—Drs. McCulloch and Ritchey and Bob McCulloch went up to Tionesta yesterday, on the afternoon train, and returned in the evening with nine squirrels. The inhabitants say there will be more squirrels in the woods this fall than for years.—Oil City Blizzard, Saturday.

—Court convenes next Monday, and judging from the length of the trial list and the number of criminal cases on the calendar, the entire week will be occupied. We have had no really first-class court for nearly a year, and the grand jury next week will be the first that has been needed since just a year ago.

—Mr. Jno. Huston, of Franklin was one of the veterans in attendance at the reunion yesterday. Mr. Huston is the secretary of the Venango county Republican committee, and, besides having been a good soldier, has figured in many a victory for the Republican party of his county. He is a gentleman in every sense of the word.

—The Star and Albaugh Sunday Schools held a union picnic and harvest home in a beautiful grove near Mr. A. Purdy's farm on Dutch Hill, Sept. 10th. The exercises consisted in singing, instrumental music, essays and some very interesting remarks by Rev. Rhodes and others. The dinner was excellent, and to say the little folks enjoyed the occasion hugely is but putting it mild.

—Ballou's Magazine for October contains a remarkable list of contents. Besides "The Belle of Australia," by William H. Thomas, and other noted works, there are some thirty different stories and poems, in addition to illustrations and humorous matters, household and ladies work. It has more live variety than any other magazine in this country. Published by Thomas & Talbot, 23 Hawley Street, Boston, at $1.50 per annum. Send ten cents for a specimen copy, and you will not regret it.

Kellettville Krumbs.

Mrs. Sim Cogga, who has been very sick for the past two weeks, is improving slowly. Her friends will be glad to hear of her recovery to health once more.

Mrs. J. D. Hulings, of Tionesta, has been with her daughter, Mrs. Cogga, for the past week.

Since the Extract Works have been shut down bark hauling and piling has been the business of our town.

The Salmon Creek mill has started up once more; we are not prepared to say how long it will be kept running this time.

Mrs. Wm. Dusenbury of Newtown, and Mrs. Edgar Dusenbury of Portville, N. Y., were in Kellettville one day this week calling on Mrs. Arner and her daughter, Mrs. Whiteman.

Mr. Wm. Benson absented himself from business for a few days and visited the Pittsburgh exposition, and cities of Baltimore and Washington, and returned home very much refreshed and pleased with his trip.

If all attend the reunion of the 83rd that talk of going Kellettville will be well represented.

The sweetest music that we have had the pleasure of listening to for many a day was rendered by Wm. Benson with his banjo and Archie Adams with his "mouth organ," a few evenings ago. If you doubt it just please step into the Extract office almost any evening and be convinced of their ability. X. Y. Z.

TIONESTA'S GALA DAY.

Re-union of the 83rd Regiment, Pa. Volunteers.

The great day for Tionesta has passed, the battle-scarred veterans have been here and gone; the 14th annual reunion of the 83rd Regiment of Pennsylvania Volunteers can be remembered among the things that were. To say that it has been one of joy to the old comrades is but to reiterate the language of all the boys, and that it will go down in history as one of the pleasantest in every particular that has ever been held is the belief of all who had the pleasure of attending. The day could scarcely have been a more beautiful one for the occasion had it been made to order.

Early in the morning veterans and visitors began to arrive, and by ten o'clock the streets of Tionesta fairly swarmed with humanity. The early special train from Oil City brought a squad of 20 or 25 from Mays Post of, Franklin under command of S. V. C., James Dunlap, besides a number from Oil City, among whom Col. D. C. McCoy of the 83rd. A little after 12 the special from Irventon arrived bringing the Tidoute and Warren Post's, in a body, and many veterans and visitors from Erie, Warren, Bradford, Titusville, and intermediate points.

Immediately after the arrival of this train the veterans of the 83rd assembled at the Court House and held their annual business meeting. At this meeting letters of regret were read from Gen. Fitz John Porter, Comrades W. W. Diamond, J. Pat Siggins, James C. Percival and others. It would give us pleasure to reproduce these had we the time and space.

After the business meeting closed the procession formed and marched to the grove where refreshments were served. The order of march was as follows:

First Brigade—

Marshal, C. W. Clark and aids. Stow Post Band.

Veterans of 83rd Regiment,

Second Brigade—

Marshal, W. J. Roberts and aids. Youngville Cornet Band.

Warren Post.

Tidoute Post.

Stow Post of Tionesta.

Citizens.

Arrived at the grounds the veterans were marshalled around the bountifully spread tables and "business began." It is useless to say that every body fully satisfied the inner man, because there was an abundance left after all had eaten, and if any went away hungry it was their own fault. The ladies had worked hard in arranging everything for the comfort of the guests, and how well they succeeded can be imagined by the host of praises received from the visiting veterans. The tables looked lovely and tempting indeed. After dinner came the address of welcome by Burgess S. D. Irwin, who extended the freedom of the town to the "boys in blue" in a neat speech. Col. D. C. McCoy, the old commander of the regiment, responded in his usually eloquent manner. Speeches were also delivered by M. W. Tate, Esq., of Tionesta; Capt. Taggart, of Tidoute; the venerable Hamilton Stow, of Cincinnati; Ed. Bettis, the old Quartermaster Sergt. of the 83d, of Titusville, and others, all of which were received with cheers from "the boys."

This closed the program for the day, and the comrades gathered in groups here and there and indulged in a general hand-shaking, and no doubt rehearsed many of the old stories of the camp fire and battle field. Many of them had not met since the close of the war, and the greetings were happy, hearty and genuine. Altogether the day was joyously spent, and passed off with the very best of order. It was particularly noticeable and highly commendable that the "old boys in blue" conducted themselves in a most orderly manner, and were as well behaved a crowd as was ever assembled anywhere, and this was commented on to their credit in every quarter.

We give below a list of the members of the 83d that were present on this occasion, as obtained from the minutes of the Secretary of the business meeting. The letter following the name shows the company to which each belonged:

OIL NOTES.

It was rumored Saturday that Porcupine No. 9 was completed and dry. Telegrams received from the front say this report is wholly without foundation, as the well is not yet completed. It is dry so far, but it has not yet reached the sand.

Porcupine No. 5 was drilled into the sand Friday night, and on Saturday was flowing at the rate of 150 barrels. Its location is on 3,194 and 1,200 feet northeast of Porky No. 1. It is of no importance in defining or extending territory, as it is between other wells.

During the present week Balltown No. 11, on 4,821, and Porky Nos. 10 and 11 should be completed. Balltown No. 11 is located to the north of No. 10 and nearer the supposed northwest edge of the belt. As the large wells have been found on this line, it is expected that No. 11 will be a large well. P. S.—This well was finished and started off at a 1,000 barrel rate.

Porky No. 10 is 400 feet north of No. 9, on 3,194, and its result will test the width of the belt there.

Porky No. 11 is on the north line of 3, 194, and 1,200 feet west of No. 4. The latter is a small producer. No. 11 will be a good test for the northeast extension of the belt. Should it be a failure it will almost decide the result of the wildcat wells to the northeast on 718 and 731.

Forest County's Insane.

The following letter from Dr. Curwen, Superintendent of the Insane Hospital at North Warren, to our County Commissioners, will be of interest to our readers:

WARREN, PA., Sept. 12, 1883.

County Commissioners of Forest Co.:

GENTLEMEN:—The condition of the several patients in this Hospital supported by you is as follows:

Andrew D. Sallegiver is better than he was, but his mind is weak and he is restless—wanting to be moving about most of the time.

Samuel Hawthorn is very quiet and pleasant, but very reserved and suspicious, with very little to say to any one.

Michael Callinan is very sullen; keeps by himself most of the time, but is more easily managed and more pleasant than at first.

Isaac Reed is at this time very quiet and pleasant, but every month has a period of excitement variable in its duration, but manifested more in almost constant talking than in any other demonstrations.

Wm. Banhart is very fretful most of the time and gives little trouble, though he requires careful management to keep him from becoming violent and ugly.

Sarah Shoupe is sullen and surly, rarely speaking to any one, but doing a little working in the laundry each day.

John Clary is noisy most of the time and occasionally so noisy that we are obliged to keep him in the house for several days at a time; generally he will do a little work of his own choice each day, but he keeps, even at that, away from others, and patters around a great deal.

Oliver Noble has thus far been quite well; once or twice somewhat irritable but not noisy or violent.

Letters directed to Warren are more promptly received than when directed to North Warren.

Very respectfully yours,

JOHN CURWEN.

Notes by the Tramp.

NELLITOWN.

The recent frost has left nothing for future frosts to do. It was so cold Saturday night that some of the boys almost broke Sunday telling freezing stories. The corn is done for, and buckwheat keeps it company about two paces to the front. Some of our farmers had invested considerably in these two products and their loss fits down close.

Mr. Demun lost a fine lamb the other day. He had turned the lamb into his orchard about noon and against evening it had quit by choking on an apple.

The people of Pineville will have a new school house soon, and a very nice one. The directors have already bought patent furniture for it.

Mr. Hotchkiss is away at Meadville under medical treatment. We hope he may recover rapidly.

Squirrels are good to shoot, and a fellow tramping around in the woods is liable to get himself peppered with shot most anywhere.

Mrs. Matron, sister of Major Woodcock, of Chester, Pa., with her daughter and son is visiting with her brother the Major.

We understand that one of our girls is going to change her name soon. Now it would take an act of assembly to enable a man to do this but a woman, nay, even a damsel under age can do this without going farther than the first j. p.'s office. And yet women clamor for rights!

Whooping-Cough has come.

Mr. Murphy of Fleming Hill, died from heart disease on the 8th inst. He had been working away and on his way home while on the train he died very suddenly. He leaves a large family.

The people of Berrytown have a subscription school running with Miss Cox as teacher.

Tom Machesney is at home on furlough.

Some of the "boys" went to Tidoute one night last week for the purpose of joining the G. A. R.

Pineville has a dancing platform in the grove where they used to hold preaching.

Major Woodcock has been at work on the inside of the hotel. The hall the parlor and dining room hung with embossed paper, and where it belonged paint has been put on, and now you can't find a pleasanter hotel anywhere in the county.

Joe Mchessney's trade is growing. He has been recruiting his stock lately.

Not very many of our people went to see the show the 10th.

Fred Machesney is visiting with friends here.

Sept. 15, 1883.

Star Twinklings.

Our farmers are harvesting their buckwheat now which is a very poor crop.

Misses Sophia and Anna Super, who have been stopping at Mr. Ahlers' for a month past, departed last Wednesday for their home in Pittsburgh. They made many friends during their stay who will be pleased to welcome them back at any time.

Mr. Weller has gone to work on his job at the Dale & Lawrence mill.

Dr. Cook and Mr. R. B. Sinclair spent a few hours at this place the fore part of the week.

We hear some talk of another wedding in the not distant future. That's right old boy.

Abe Weller wants a lot of eggs.

DIED.

JAMIESON—In Pleasantville, Pa., Sept. 18, 1883, of typhoid fever, Kate, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Jamieson, in her 18th year. Deceased was ill only about two weeks. The remains will be brought to Tionesta to-morrow for interment.

CANFIELD—In Tionesta, Sept. 18, 1883, of cholera infantum, Mattie Phoebe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Canfield aged about 15 months.
