—United Presbyterian services in the Presbyterian church next Sabbath morning and evening, by Rev. J. C. Greer. All cordially invited to attend.

—Rev. Hicks will occupy the pulpit of the M. E. Church next Sunday evening, at 7:30.

—Presbyterian Sabbath School at 3 p. m.; M. E. Sabbath School at 10 a. m.

—Frosty nights but rather pleasant days.

—Charley Partridge is on the sick list this week.

—Curt Shawkey has returned from his western trip.

—Local news is a mighty scarce article in this market just now.

—Oil Market closed last night at $1.10. Opened this morning at $1.10.

—Jas. Swails is in West Virginia looking up a location with a view to moving in the spring.

—Judge Reck has returned to his post in the meat market after several weeks' visiting with his children.

—Mrs. Walter Siverley of Oil City, visited Tionesta as the guest of Mrs. A. Hayden, on Monday and Tuesday of this week.

—Postmaster Arner's new house is being rapidly rushed to completion, and it is likely he will be able to occupy it before the snow flies.

—The heaviest frost of the season occurred Monday night. The ground was frozen in many places, while the full moon made the night as light as day—almost.

—The R. R. Co. is building a new water tank at this station; the old one having seen its day of usefulness will be torn down soon as the new one is ready for use.

—Baldwin's Official Railway Guide for October is issued, and proves itself the same boon to travelers it always has been, and they can scarcely do without it.

—Messrs. Wyman & Co., have commenced the shipment of lumber from their Tubbs Run Mill. They are an energetic set of young men and believe in rushing things.

—Rev. Hickling departed for Scranton on Monday to attend the State Sabbath School Association, to which he goes as a delegate from the Forest county Association.

—R. D. Hoskins has enlarged his Bathgate, (Dakota) Sentinel, and it now comes to the fore as an 8-column folio. Go on, Rob, in your prosperity; may your shadow never grow less.

—A steam thresher, which has been doing duty for the farmers in some parts of this county during the past few weeks, passed through town Monday, and was quite a curiosity to some.

—Mr. Clint Smith has purchased the mail route from James Rutter, and will hereafter run the stage between this place and Tylersburg. Passengers will be well taken care of if they patronize him.

—The Oil City Blizzard thinks that the B. N. Y. & P. is likely to run its through trains between that city and Buffalo over the river division the coming winter, in order to avoid the snow drifts and storms on the cross cut.

—Monday D. G. Baker, Fish Warden, had Floyd Proper arrested for assault and battery. Floyd waived a hearing and gave bail for his appearance at Court. Tuesday, Floyd had Baker arrested for stealing a net and fishing on Sunday. At last accounts Baker had not succeeded in finding bail, which was fixed at $100.

—Mr. and Mrs. John Cromer with their daughter, of Fox Creek this county, were in Tionesta last week and paid a visit to our office.

—Rev. Dr. Mateer, one of the most eminent divines in the Clarion Presbytery, and to whose eloquent discourses our people have had the pleasure of listening, died at his home in New Bethlehem on Oct. 1st, aged 60 years.

—Mr. Geo. W. Albaugh is no longer a resident of Tionesta, he having moved his family and household goods to Braceville yesterday morning, where he is employed on the saw mill of Rob. Herman. Success to you, George in your new home.

—Messrs. Dunkle & Breneman, who have lately resumed the building of coal boats at the Dithridge scaffold, across the creek, turned one of large dimensions there Saturday afternoon. They will endeavor to get out several more before cold weather sets in.

—Derrickson & Co. have moved their mill to Dawson Run where they recently purchased a tract of oak timber. They commenced sawing last Thursday. Mr. Len. C. Conroe has the job of stocking the mill, which means that it will be kept fully supplied with logs. He is an old and experienced hand at the business.

—Wm. F. Blum, our boss blacksmith, has secured the services of that rattling carriage blacksmith and painter, Mr. L. C. Pinney, in connection with his wagon making department and is now prepared to turn out first-class work on short notice.

—He invites an inspection of his work and prices, and solicits a share of public patronage, for which he guarantees perfect satisfaction in every particular.

—Frank Bean, of Braceville, this county met with a painful accident at that place last Thursday. He was engaged in carrying logs to the mill when the binder gave way and struck him across the back and shoulders knocking him a distance of several feet.

—Dr. Coburn was summoned who found him severely but not dangerously injured, and thinks he will be able to resume work in a couple of weeks. Mr. Bean is a married man.

—We take pleasure in presenting to our readers this week a new law firm, that of Agnew & Clark, whose card appears in another column. We can cheerfully recommend these gentlemen as in every respect worthy the confidence of the public, and can say that if a thorough knowledge of law, strict attention to business and hard work go for anything Messrs. Agnew & Clark will be one of our most successful firms. Our best wishes attend them.

—James Cowan, father of Mrs. George Bluecock, who resides at Fox creek, near Nebraska, this county, died at that place on Monday of last week. Mr. Cowan was aged 81 years, and up to within a few days of his death was in good health. He was highly esteemed as an upright Christian man all his life. The funeral services were conducted at the house by Rev. Hicks, and his remains were laid to rest in the cemetery at this place.

—Some time ago the commissioners offered rewards for the capture of John and Stephen Bush who shot and badly wounded John Myers in August last. The result of the offer was the capture of John at Boliver, N. Y., one day last week. Sheriff Clark was telegraphed on Thursday and went there and brought his man home. On Saturday he also learned of the whereabouts of Stephen, at Economy, near Tidioute, whether he went and captured him that night. Both are now confined in jail to await their trial. A hearing was had before Esquire Brennan on Monday last, in the above cases and John was bound over to court in the sum of $500, and Stephen in the sum of $250. Their trials will take place in December.

—Mr. D. B. Tobey writes as follows concerning the dedication of the F. M. Church at Newmansville, on the 29th ult: "Rev. Michael preached the dedicatory sermon; attendance fair; a very successful quarterly meeting followed. The lot was donated by O. W. Proper Esq.; location, splendid; church 30x40, lathed and plastered inside, weatherboarded outside, with one coat of paint, all in workmanlike manner; total cost $875.81. We have enough subscribed to cover the cost as far as it has gone.

We need about $75 to purchase stoves, chandeliers, and seats, the seats that are in being only temporary ones; we expect to get this amount without much trouble as people seem, so far to be interested and want to help us, for which we are very thankful, and if any one has anything they wish to give us we will receive it gladly, and promise to use it to the best of our ability to the glory of God, for the welfare of mankind."

OIL NOTES.

There is nothing especially new to report from the upper country except the striking of Howe No. 13, which made 90 barrels the first hour. After it had declined some it was drilled four feet deeper into the sand and responded by putting 112 barrels in the tank the next hour. This was on Thursday last.

The next gushers that are expected in are Howe No. 10 and Grandin No. 16. The former may reach the sand any moment, while the latter will probably be finished to-morrow or next day.

The latest gauge of the Balltown district shows a production of 4,851 barrels from 57 wells. This was on Friday last. That of the Cooper district was 3,623 barrels from 125 wells.

The Hunter well near the depot at this place expected to reach the sand this week, but they have now another fishing job on hand, which will probably delay them a good share of the week. It is a mystery and no one is allowed to enter the derrick.

Stow Post Visits Clarion.

The G. A. R. boys of Capt. Stow Post, and a number of the citizens of Tionesta, left this ancient burg about 5 o'clock a. m., Oct. 10th. Arrived at Tylersburg at half past eight, where they had been promised a special train to convey them to the pleasant town of Clarion, which is situated on a hill on the west side of the Clarion river; but on arriving at the depot were informed by the agent of the Little Road that he had received no instructions concerning the special train, and so things began to look rather blue.

By request the agent telegraphed and found that the Train Dispatcher had received no orders as to a special. Then the G. A. R. was called and a "council of peace" held, at which it was decided that we proceed by private conveyance. At this juncture a report came to the Commander of the Brigade that there had been a sharp skirmish with the advance guard and one man badly wounded. The Commander, as in his wont, proceeded directly to the scene of conflict, where he found one of the soldier boys knelt and trying to stop the "Elixir of life" which was flowing from a hole at his side. After stopping the flow there was a "rally on the colors," and we were informed that the proceedings at Clarion would be held over until our arrival. Then, as some time had been lost in caring for the crippled soldier, it was decided to wait and take the regular train, which arrived about 11 o'clock. After a lively skirmish in which pocket-books were used for bullets, we boarded the train about a hundred strong. The cars were filled so there was not standing room, say nothing about seats, and so your correspondent took him to a pigeon hole in the post office in the baggage car. But, Oh, horror! the train started, and the first thing he knew he was out on the floor; the car was rolling from side to side and he could hardly keep his feet. Making his way through the ladies' car he saw that many of the countenances had changed from pleasure to fright, and they were holding on for dear life. Passing into the gentlemen's car he found the Sergeant Major, the Junior Guard and several comrades holding to the bars and hooks, doubtless thinking of their wives and children and wishing they were home. But as they saw their Commander was not frightened they took courage, and a smile took the place of a countenance on which a moment before was depicted instant death. As you all know, where the Commander shows no fear, even though he may be quaking in his boots, the rank and file take courage. Well, well, well! We finally got to the splendid town of Clarion, where we were met by a delegation of citizens. Headed by our drum corps, (for be it remembered we have a martial band that can't be beat, and where we go they go, as the darkey wife said directly after the battle of Hanover Court House, in the days of our unpleasantness, when the darkies flocked in by the thousands: "Bill, you go, I go too!" and we are proud of the boys, for a more gentlemanly set you would have to go far to find), we proceeded up the street, turned to the left and marched nearly through the town, when we turned to the right and then to the right again and up two flights of stairs and found ourselves—where? in the Clarion Armory! where the tables were spread with pork, beans and hard tack, bread and butter and delicious coffee. We were invited to take hold and help ourselves, which we did with a will, and in a very few moments you would have thought there was a famine therabouts; but the Clarion boys, observing that the boys of the forest had not forgotten the times that tried men's souls, and especially the stomach, came climbing up the stairs with a fresh supply of the necessities of life, and soon they—I mean the bummers from Forest county—began to "let up," and with a smile turn away in evident satisfaction. The assembly being sounded we formed in line and marched to the Fair Grounds, formed in a hollow square around the speakers' stand and listened to several addresses, after which we were dismissed and allowed the free use of the grounds. I then took in the whole Fair, which to my notion was a very creditable one indeed, and of which the managers may well feel proud. Any attempt at enumerating the many exhibits would be folly, and would occupy too much of your space. Nothing stronger than birch beer and lemonade to drink, with plenty of oysters, pie, cake, ham sandwiches and taffy candy to eat. At about 5 o'clock the fair closed for the day. After skirmishing around the town for some time we ran afoul of a soldier friend who said his preference was always for the soldier and through him we got a bed and supper. At 6 o'clock a. m., Oct. 11, we were aroused from our slumbers by the Junior Vice Commander, who is always on time and ready for duty, who reported, "breakfast; be ready to leave at 7 o'clock, sharp." After interviewing the Quartermaster we ate a hearty breakfast, paid our dollar and at 7:30 proceeded on our journey home, where we arrived safely about 12 m., after having enjoyed ourselves hugely. SPECIAL ANNOUNCEMENT.

We take pleasure in announcing that we have perfected arrangements with the publishers of the American Farmer that enable us to club that magazine with the FOREST REPUBLICAN at the low price of $1.75 per year, a trifle over the price of the REPUBLICAN alone. This is beyond question the first time that a reliable agricultural paper has been offered at so cheap a price, and we trust all our subscribers will avail themselves of this unusual opportunity of securing a first class agricultural magazine. The American Farmer is beyond doubt worth three times the price, at which we place it. Try it. It is a monthly publication.
