Dawson Run Items.

It just struck me that the readers of your paper might be interested to hear from the boys in the woods once in a while, where everything is lovely and the goose hangs high, just before Thanksgiving.

Business is booming up in this neck o woods. The stave mill of Cobb & Rexford on Dawson run is running full blast and turning out staves by the thousand. The bolts on the Madison lot are being cut and drawn by Scott and others, and on the Cherry Run Oil Co.'s lot by Wes. Hays and others. These parties are preparing to do a rushing business in the bolt line this winter. The same parties will haul the staves from the mill as they are cut, and deliver them on board the cars: They expect to deliver at the mill 2,000 cords of bolts during

I also hear sounds of the axemau on the Madison lot. R. J. Huddleson & Co. are there taking out a superior lot of R. R. ties. These boys understand their business, and dont allow any grass to grow under their feet.

Squirrels are still quite numerous in the woods here, and all around us we hear the reports of the shot gun. Come up and see, and bring your gun with you. Lots of sport.

We had quite a heavy fail of snow on the first inst., causing the roads to wheeling.

SPECIAL ANNOUNCEMENT.

We take pleasure in announcing Lard - that we have perfected arrangements Iron, common bar with the publishers of the American Nails, 10d, p keg Farmer that enable us to club that Potatoes magazine with the Forest Republic Lime to bbl. CAN at the low price of $1.75 per year, Dried Apples sliced per th a trifle over the price of the REFUBLI-CAN alone. This is beyond question the first time that a reliable agricultural paper has been offered at so cheap a price, and we trust all our subscribers will avail themselves of this unusual opportunity of securing a first class agricultural magazine. The American Farmer is beyond doubt worth three times the price, at which we place it. Try it. It is a monthly publication.

Is hereby given that I have filed my application in the office of the Secretary of Internal Affairs of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, for 1000 acres of unimproved and situate in the Townships of Howe and Kingsley, Forest County, Pa., adjoining warrants 5100 and 5108 on the northwest, land of the Commonwealth on the overtheast warrants 5107 at 10 and 5129 on will avail themselves of this unusual publication.

A Dangerous Counterfeit.

There are dangerous counterfeits in circulation purporting to be "Walnut Leaf Hair Restorer." The strongest evidence of its great value is the fact that parties knowing its great efficacy try to imitate it. Each bottle of the genuine has a fac simile of a walnut leaf -blown in the glass; and a Green Leaf on the outside wrapper. The 'Restorer" is as harmless as water, while it possesses all the properties necessary to restore life vigor, growth get quite muddy and making bad and color to the hair. Purchase only from responsible parties. Ask your druggist for it. Each bottle warranted. JOHNSTON, HOLLOWAY & Co., Philadelphia, and HALL & RUCKEL, New York, wholesale agents.

The pain in all his joints became in-tense; lever, with its deteriorating effects, was now added, and he became rapidly reduced to the semblance of a skeleton while vitality reached its lowest possible condition, and his sufferings were of such Indescribable character that those who most loved him sometimes thought it would be better if he were called away. At this time, physicians well-known in this city (Pittburg), informed his parents that he was in imminent danger of total Paralysis, and directly afterward they announced to his sorrowful mother that they could give no hopes of his recovery. WINANS-ZUENDELL-At Tionedta, Friday Nov. 2, 1883 by J. T. Brennan, J. P., Mr. Boyd F. Winans and Miss Minerya Zuendell, both of Kingsley township, Forest County.

VAUGHN-DECKER-At the M. E. Parsonage, Portville, N. Y., on Nov. 1, 1888, by Rev. Wm Bradley, Mr. Lyman H. Voughn, of Portville, Cattaraugus county, N. Y., and Mrs. Elizabeth A. Decker, of Whig Hill, Forest County.

IN MEMORY OF KATE JAMIESON.

Autumn's reigning on the hillside, Kate, In crimson, gold and brown, Regardless of thy early fate, She showers her glorious beauty down,

In vain I watch thy form to greet,
From thy lovely valley home;
In vain thy well-worn path I seek,
Where you were wont to roam.

The hillside by the river, Kate, In wild and beauteous bloom : A token gives of winter time, An emblem of thy doom.

O, Kate, it seems as but a dream, When I think of thee as dead; Methinks. I still can see the gleam Of sunshine on thy golden head.

Why did death in his cold embrace Claim thee for his bride?

Why steal the blushes from thy face? Why tear thee from my side? O! a friend I had in you,
A friend I loved and blest,
O Kate, I loved you well and true,
And would I were with you at rest.

You have gone before me, Kate, The pathway to make clear; You'll meet me there at heavan's gate, To calm my heart from ev'ry fear, Thou art gone to heaven Kate, But a little while before, And for love, and love's sweet sake,

You'll meet me at the door. O! my darling, I can see you In your robe of snowy white, From your eyes so mild and true, There beam the pure delight.

Soon the snow will gently cover The mound that hides thy form, Like a true and constant lover; Will shield you from the storm. O, my darling, in the autumn, They made thy lowly bed, And before the violets blossom,

May I beside pou lay my head, O, they gave thy ring to me, To keep for loves sweet sake, But for both thee and me

A remembrance it will make. To thy mother I will give it As a token of my love, For with thee I soon shall live, In thy beautiful home above.
