LOCAL AND MISCELLANEOUS.

Condensed Time Table Tionesta Station.

Table with columns NORTH and SOUTH, listing train times for various routes.

—Preaching in the Presbyterian Church next Sunday morning and evening, by Rev. Hickling.

—Rev. Hicks will occupy the pulpit of the M. E. Church next Sunday evening, at 7:30.

—Presbyterian Sabbath School at 12:30 p. m.; M. E. Sabbath School at 10 a. m.

—Trailing arbutus is in bloom. —Alex. Dale is home on a visit.

—Mr. F. A. Wheeler, Hickory's popular station agent, paid our town a flying visit yesterday.

—We have received a newsy letter from "Bummer," but as the author neglects to give us his real name we are obliged to withhold it.

—Constable Shoemaker wishes us to state that on and after April 8th, all cattle or horses running a large after 9 o'clock p. m., will be taken to the pound. Fair warning.

—Mr. W. H. Gardner of Hollidaysburg, Pa., paid our town a business visit this week. He is one agreeably and refined gentlemen whom it is a real pleasure to meet.

—The I. O. O. F. fraternity have decorated their hall with a fresh coat of paint and new and elegant paper, all of which adds greatly to its appearance, and makes it look very cheerful.

—Next Sunday will be Easter, and strange to say, eggs are only 20 cents a dozen at this writing. It's likely they'll take a jump before Saturday, and a consequent tumble after Easter.

—Lumbermen who made the trip down the river last week have about all returned. They report the market not yet fairly opened, but think prices will be a little above the average.

—Council levied 5 mills cash and 7 mills work tax, with John Muenzenberger collector of the cash, and J. S. Hood, Street commissioner, collector of the work tax. The usual dog tax was also levied.

—Dr. Coburn made the first shipment of trout from his Dutch Hill pond last Friday, and they were rare beauties, yet not by any means the largest in the pond. There were 23 of them which weighed 13 pounds.

—Our farmers are rubbing up their agricultural tools preparatory to opening up the spring campaign in good shape. It has been a little too moist yet to commence plowing but three or four days of sunshine will suffice to make the ground tillable.

—Forest county oil news has been rather slack for the past two weeks, no new wells having been struck to create a stir. Grandin & Kelly's No. 22 was drilled into the sand and shot, but according to reports it is not a large well. But these reports may not be just correct.

—Two of the colored men engaged in the Holeman Flats racket were arrested in Oil City last week by Constable Shoemaker, one of them giving bail there in the sum of $300 for his appearance at court, while the other was brought to this place and was bound over on Monday in the sum of $150, in default of which he was remanded to jail.

—C. M. Boush, Grand Master Workman of the A. O. U. W. of Pa., will visit Forest Lodge of this place on Friday evening April 18th, and will be pleased to meet all the members of that Lodge at their hall at the usual hour. It is desired that all who can possibly make it convenient to attend will do so.

—H. J. Hopkins & Co. will tell the people something about Spring Goods next week, in the meantime drop in and see how busy the boys are in opening up "oh, such a lovely stock of nice things for everybody!"

—The parents and brothers of the late Herman Raisig wish to return their heartfelt thanks to the many kind neighbors and friends who so generously aided them, by acts of kindness and words of sympathy, through their recent trial and great affliction.

—Our enterprising hardware merchant, Ed. Heibel has taken hold of the "driven well" process, and will drive a number of water wells for our citizens the coming season. He has already driven some which are destined to be a complete success. This plan is not so expensive as the digging process and as Ed. guarantees a "care or no pay" it is likely he'll have a good deal of it to do this summer.

—Among the Corry news published in the Erie Herald, under date of last Saturday, we find the following piece of news which will be read with pain by the many friends of the stricken parents: "Mr. and Mrs. James M. Lambing were called last evening" to mourn the loss of their little daughter Nellie R., who died about 4 o'clock, p. m., of diphtheria after three day's illness. Nellie was a lovely child of about six years of age. Her parents and brothers will sadly miss her."

—As will seen by reference to the proper place in this issue Mr. J. Ad. Shriver has done the handsome and sensible thing by taking unto himself a wife, the fortunate young lady being the daughter of our old friend Alex. Mealy, of Leeper post office, Clarion county. Ad. is a young man of good habits; one of those steady, industrious gentleman that always make good citizens, and we are pleased to learn that he has secured a very worthy and amiable life-partner. The happy pair has our best wishes for a long life of usefulness and prosperity.

—The Republican State Convention will meet in Harrisburg next Wednesday, and the indications point to a very enthusiastic gathering. Many of the delegates got instructed for Blaine for President, while fully two-thirds of them will support him if they take into consideration the wishes of their constituents. S. D. Irwin, Esq., who has the honor of representing Forest county in the Convention goes uninstructed, yet he is a firm friend of James G. Blaine, and he will certainly not go amies by giving the "Plumed Knight" his support; on the contrary he will receive the approbation of his constituents. There is scarcely any doubt but that Pennsylvania will send nearly, if not quite, a solid delegation to Chicago for the Maine statesman.

—A rare treat is in store for the people of Tionesta and vicinity next Thursday evening, 17th inst. On that evening Mrs. Millie C. Pomeroy, of Chicago, will give an elocutinary entertainment in the Presbyterian church, and if we can rely on the leading papers of Chicago, which speak in glowing terms of this lady, we may expect a feast that will be worth going a long way to attend. The entertainment will be interspersed with songs by Mr. F. A. Wheeler, assisted by our best home talent. Mr. Wheeler's voice, we can say to his credit, has charmed a Tionesta audience before, and those who heard him then will be glad of the opportunity listening to him again. On Tuesday evening, April 15, Mrs. Pomeroy will give an entertainment at East Hickory. The general admission to these entertainments will be 25 cents; children 15 cents. Don't forget the dates.

Jenks Township.

Business in Jenks is moving along very nicely. Curtl, Campbell & Co. started up their mill last week running full time, with Whit Davis at the helm. Frank Williams' mill has been moved to Howe twp., above Sheffield Junction. We were sorry to lose Frank and the mill, and wish him luck in the new deal. The next mill on the list, Robinson & Bonder's, is shut down for the present. Also the next, Shipe, Mensch & Co., but the stock is on hand for work in the "near beyond." Mill number four, Henry Bayard & Co., is on the Hagen tract, cutting pine at the rate of 20,000 feet per day. Dr. Towler is the "Co." of this concern in Forest County; for four years he has been sawing hardwood and the company still have a million feet in stock. Hardwood, however, so far as cherry and ash are concerned has been cut as far back from the railroad as it pays to manufacture in this section, and it is now either less price for stamper or more price for lumber, or quit on that kind of stock. The pine and especially the hemlock, of this section, however, will keep lumbermen busy for years and years to come. The next mill is Frank Reck's with a capacity, since it was remodeled, of 40,000 feet per day. This mill is cutting pine and hemlock, and is first-class in every particular. Next comes Byroms—saw mill, planing mill, shingle mill, and dry-house, is the size of the manufacturing industries at that point. Over the line of the township comes Frost's mill, at Pigeon P. O. There is always some life and stir going on at Pigeon. Just now we understand Frost has an oil well in view. Good luck to him in the move. Near Byrom's is Drury's shingle mill, turning out good stock. Still farther up the railroad is the Nash shingle mill, running with a full crew and turning out a number one article.

The Mercantile List, recently published in the REPUBLICAN, gives our number and rating of stores, etc. All of these but three are at the mills. These three are at Marienville and are, Sigworth & Amsler, successors to J. W. Kahle & Son. The township lost a good resident in John W. Kahle; his honor is beyond question, and the stories he told of his old party, the democracy, were charming to hear. However, in losing our Greenback friend, the Honorable J. W., we gained a solid Republican in Col. Amsler, a most worthy man. Store number two, is run by T. Jefferson Reyner. Jeff is one of the solid men, both in a business point of view and that of avoirdupois. The last is Henry Bullers, from Jefferson Co. When Mr. Bullers started in, it was thought that 3 stores couldn't live in the town, but the result is, that Bullers is doing a nice business while not in the least hurting that of the other merchants.

In the eating line, if your patrons are in a hurry, they can drop into M. C. Carringer's, near the depot, and get just what they want in shape of a meal, lunch or cigar, but your driaks must be in the line of coffee, tea, cider, birch or ginger beer, and pumpwater. When they want to stay awhile and enjoy the healthy air and bracing mountain breeze, all they have to do is to turn to the Hotel of J. B. Watson. Every Clarion county man of respectability will tell you that Mrs. J. B. is one of the most excellent ladies that ever left Clarion for a better country. It's possible they might modify the latter but in their hearts they know it's true. In religious matters we are progressing. Rev. Hickling, the excellent "Blue Stocking parson" of Tionesta, endeavors to keep the Presbyterians in order and preaches to the community in a most acceptable manner. Rev. Frampton, of Clarington, does his level best to keep the Methodists up to the standard of the M. E. church discipline, and succeeds very well. The Presbyterians will build this year, and there is a possibility that the M. E. people may also erect a place of worship. Politically, we are reasonably happy; the slight soreness left after the spring election has passed away, the only important changes being the election of Walter Byrom to the school board and J. J. Parsons to the board of road commissioners. On the whole, Jenks Twp. has reason to be proud of the progress made in the last year. New houses have been and are being built, not only in Marienville, but in Gilfoyle, Recks and Byroms are constantly improving. The saw mills and lumbermen are busy, and payments are generally prompt to the men. The Hub Factory of Whitney Bros. & Co. has doubled its capacity, and sends hubs to Maine and California, as well as cities and towns between these extremes. Not only have the mills and factory paid out large sums for material and labor, but "Uncle Sam" has sent several thousand dollars to a few of our "old vets," in the last six months. In railroad matters we are so fixed that we can leave here at 2:47 p. m. and be in the county seat in the evening. Leave there in the morning and be here at 1:15 p. m.—this via Sheffield—or leave here on alternate days and go via Tylerburg stage. This fall the township will poll the heaviest vote on its record and run close to two hundred assessed voters. April 5, 1884. XXX.

A Terrible Tale.

Many of your readers have met Gib. M. Morgan, he of the free and untrammelled imagination. Gib, like Peter Pinder, was "a great story teller," and not only a great story teller, but a teller of great stories. According to his narration he has seen much of the world, and speaks as familiarly of foreign countries as we speak of points along our beautiful little stream, the Tionesta. I was introduced to him at Balltown, last summer, and having heard of his descriptive qualities, I told him I had heard that he had traveled a great deal. Gib, in a matter of fact manner, and with the air of a man who could tell a lie, but wouldn't, he told me of some incidents of travel that had come under his observation. One of his "finest specimens" was that once, when in Kentucky, he discovered a very tall man. "Tallest man I ever saw; hundred and sixteen feet eleven inches in his boots, of course his boots would make some difference. Well, I told him I could get him a job up in Pennsylvania. The producers were coupling up their wells; had one man to about every seventeen wells, and climbing over the hills between wells was naturally wearing the pumpers' lives away. I thought my tall fellow with his long legs could overcome all difficulties of time and distance and he agreed to go. I brought him up to Pittsburgh on two steamboats, and there made arrangements with the pipe line company to ship him up to Butler county in the big pipe line; was very particular about the shipping directions, for I knew there was some risk about it for him. I left him in the pipe line agent's care and started up to Butler county to await the arrival of the lingering length of humanity. Well, I didn't have to linger long, and neither did he, poor fellow. You see, I told the pipe line man to be sure to put him in head first, but the darned fool put him in feet first, and as there was a "Y" in the line at Brady's Bend, half of him went to Millerstown and the other half went to petrolia. Killed him? I should interject the remark that it did. We buried him in six joints of casing. P. C. Boyle was at the funeral and will vouch for the story in every particular."

Many are the stories told of the New Jersey mosquito; that hunters have come in after a day's shooting in the swamps with their game bags filled with mosquitoes, having shot them in mistake for snipe. Gib. said that in Australia he saw some large mosquitoes. "Saw one swoop down onto a herd of wild horses; lit on the back of one of 'em, carried it up into the air and shook its shoo off." With this the meeting broke up, and nobody volunteered the usual remark that "the first man has no chance."
