—Preaching in the F. M. Church next Sunday evening at 7 o'clock, Rev. J. D. Rhodes officiating.

—Rev. Hicks will occupy the pulpit of the M. E. Church next Sunday evening, at 7:30.

—Presbyterian Sabbath School at 12:30 p. m.; M. E. Sabbath School at 10 a. m.

—Stewart's Run items arrived to late for this issue.

—The temperance meetings closed on Monday evening for the present.

—Bark-peeling has commenced for the season, and the boys will be kept busy for the next two months.

—Miss Alice Brennan, arrived from England yesterday afternoon. She will make her home with her brother J. T. Brennan.

—Mr. Peter Vought, who has been with Tionesta friends for the past four weeks, departed yesterday with his son for Minnesota, with whom he will make his home hereafter.

—Mr. Ed. Brennan, arrived in town on Thursday evening last from Kansas City, where he is making his home at present. Ed's many friends here were glad to see him among them once more.

—Last Saturday J. M. Kepler, of the Democrat was again arrested at the instance of Will J. McConnell, on a charge similar to that upon which the former arrest was based. Another article in last week's Democrat was the cause.

—R. D. Hoskins departed yesterday morning for Vineland, N. J., where he will visit father and mother for a few days before returning to his Dakota home. Rob. seems to have enjoyed his visit very much, and we can assure him his many friends here did. Come again soon, Rob.

—Mr. S. R. Cogan moved his household goods down from Salmon Creek last week, having finished his work at that place. Sim expects soon to take a jaunt through the lumber regions of West Virginia, with a view to settling there if desirable advantages present themselves.

—Our borough schools close to-day, the end of the term. Evidently the teachers have done well and given excellent satisfaction, as we have heard no complaints from interested citizens, and should the directors engage the same corps for next term they would not go far wrong, judging from the past.

—Neighboring counties elected School Superintendents as follows, on the 6th: Venango, George B. Lord; Warren, C. D. Arid; Clarion, C. F. McNutt; Jefferson, J. H. Hughes; Elk, Geo. K. Dixon; Crawford, J. W. Stardevant; Butler, W. J. Russell; Armstrong, G. C. Stockdill; Mercer, S. H. McCleary.

—Horton, Cray & Co., of Sheffield, have purchased the tannery property known as the Brookston, the price being $16,000. The works have been shut down during the last year, and the present purchasers intend to rebuild the tannery, and put two hundred men at work within the next four months. This tannery is located seven miles from Sheffield, on the Narrow Gauge road, which is owned by the company buying the tannery, and will be handy in carrying bark and other freights.—Clarendon Record. We are pleased to learn that the old time activity and bustle of Brookston is to be restored.

Devine, Recording Secretary, N. W. Cor. Broad and Filbert Sts., Phila., giving names and nearest railroad stations, before June 1st.

—There will be an entertainment given at Partridge's Hall on Monday evening next by Philip S. Konkle. It will consist of a large variety of scenes of a comic and sentimental nature, embracing views of our own as well as foreign countries, the Holy Land, &c. The proprietor of the exhibition guarantees a good time. Admission, 25 and 10 cents.

—Complaint is being made that some parties up the river are using dynamite or some other explosive to kill fish with. Large numbers of dead fish have been seen of late that were evidently destroyed in this way. This should be stopped instantly, and the guilty parties either be made to desist from the practice or be brought to speedy justice. Let this be a warning.

—At the citizens meeting held at the Court House last Thursday evening concerning school building matters, the feeling was very generally in favor of an increase of debt sufficient to build a house upon the plans proposed and shown, the limit of indebtedness to be $7,000. In accordance with this the directors will order a new election to take place as soon as practicable.

—The wedding of Mr. M. Luther Vought and Miss Alice Z. Holeman, at the residence of the bride's parents, Thursday evening last, was a most happy event, long to be remembered by all the happy guests who were present, numbering nearly an hundred. Promptly at the hour appointed, 8 o'clock, the wedding train, consisting of the bride and groom, Mr. Alex Dale and Miss Ida Paup, Mr. R. D. Hoskins and Miss Euretta Proper, first and second bridesmaids and groomsmen respectively, filed into the parlor occupied by the guests, while Mrs. T. F. Ritchey rendered the grand wedding march on the organ with excellent effect. Rev. James Hickling, in his usually pleasant and impressive manner pronounced the words which made Luther and Alice one while they both live, and then congratulations and best wishes were showered in profusion upon the happy couple. After elegant refreshments had been served "the band struck up" and those who were so disposed tripped the light fantastic for an hour or two and then the guests began to disperse, feeling that they had enjoyed a royal time. As souvenirs of the happy occasion many elegant and costly presents were left. Mr. and Mrs. Vought took their departure for their western home, Ashby, Minnesota, yesterday, and they bear with them the best wishes of a host of friends for abundant success, happiness and long life.

—Last Saturday night burglars entered the store of Wheeler & Dusenbury at Newtown Mills, this county, and robbed the safe. They effected an entrance through the back door, splitting off the casing with a mill-bar. They drilled through the safe door, and evidently used powder as the explosive. The door was blown off its hinges and lay on the store floor when discovered. The thieves secured $287 in money. There was a check in the safe made payable to bearer, some notes and a quantity of postage stamps, but none of these were taken. The books were more or less damaged. At most any other time the robbers would have gotten a larger amount of money but fortunately for the company the reserve in the safe had been allowed to run quite low. A suspicious character was seen about the premises the day before, which is about the only clue to the robbery.

—This should be a warning to our citizens to be on the lookout, for there is no telling where the next break will be made. Our neighboring exchanges are full of accounts of robberies, and it is evident the country is over-run with thieves.

A Forest County Boy Murdered.

When Mr. A. B. Kelly left Louisville, Ky. last week, he left Austin Ball, of East Hickory, son of Nelson Ball, in charge of his lumber. A day or two after his arrival home Mr. Kelly received a telegram stating that Ball was dead, and wishing to know what disposition to make of the body. Later it was learned that the young man had been found in the raft shanty, covered with straw, his head battered and a towel tightly wound about his neck, indicating beyond a doubt that he had been murdered. On Friday afternoon the body arrived at Hickory, and after being identified by the parents and relatives, was buried in the cemetery at that place. At this writing the particulars of the horrible affair are very meagre, but it is supposed that the young man was murdered for his money by some of the thugs who infest that part of the city, and who would cut a man's throat for five dollars. Mr. Kelly thinks the young man had perhaps forty or fifty dollars, besides a silver watch on his person when he left him. Austin Ball was aged about 21 years; was a quiet, moral young man, having been a member of the F. M. Church for several years, and so far as we are able to learn his conduct was in harmony with his profession. The sad affair has proved a severe blow to his relatives and friends.

Since writing the above we find the following additional particulars in the Philadelphia Press: "It is proven that Austin Ball, a Pennsylvanian, who was found dead in a lumber raft cabin Tuesday morning with a handkerchief bound tightly about his neck and bruises on his head, was murdered. A strange man was seen going to the cabin early on Tuesday morning. He went inside, closed the door, and was not seen to come out. The handkerchief with which Ball was strangled had "E. M." worked in one corner, and, when found, his body had been carefully covered up with straw. The bruises on his head were made with a boot heel."

Crawford County Letter.

ED. REPUBLICAN:— As the adage reads, "make few promises and fulfill them" comes vividly before me, I find by raking up my memory a promise made to you during the dark, cold days of last winter that I would give you a minute account of all I am doing. So here goes, by first stating that we are snugly housed in our mansion near the Erie county line. Upon arriving here we found our furniture in a dilapidated condition, and the rats having full sway. Ed. and I held a council of war and proceeded to try to become masters of the situation, and are safe in stating we have the consolation of being able to say "we are monarchs of all we survey." After we had gained the mastery, our neighbors flocked in upon us and congratulated us upon our success in the arts of war. We found our fences thrown over the meadows, the high winds from the lake had strong things around in bad shape; we have them all replaced in better shape than ever, and are of the belief that it was the best thing that could have happened, for we had something to busy ourselves at and keep off the blues. Talk about gardens, Mr. Frank Burdick, one of our nearest and best neighbors, invited us to see his garden. He stated he had it well arranged, and he did; he made it all in one bed; upon measuring it we found it to be 628 feet long, and every foot of it was planted in onions. So look out for a smash in the market. The road leading by our house is said to be one of the oldest in Crawford county, and our farm is known to have been tilled 95 years, and dear knows how much longer, and still we find plenty of nigger head stones laying promiscuously about, causing a great deal of annoyance to the two sturdy farmers, yet hope ere the summer is past to number this pestilence among the things of the past. The wheat crop here is a total failure, yet I presume it will not affect the Chicago market. Expect to have abundance of fruit. Our orchard covers about 5 acres and the trees are so close that the branches touch each other, so if we have but a half crop we still will be abundantly supplied. The cheese fever has taken hold of our farmers and it seems strange to us to hear them speaking so enthusiastically over their prospects, just as our raftmen do in the spring in Forest. But enough for this once; if satisfactory will write again. Yours truly, R. Z. GILLESPIE. Bloomfield Twp., May 5, '84.

Byrom's Station.

Mr. N. C. Wiltzie, formerly of Corry, moved to Byrom's this week; he is sawyer on W. Byrom & Co's saw mill. Mr. Wiltzie is an old acquaintance of Mr. Drury.

Mr. John S. Caldwell, of the Diagonal House, has built himself a very large and handsome barn, and he will soon start in his new store room which he needs very bad; let him prosper.

J. C. Palmer and others are putting down a well on W. Byrom & Co's lot; this is to be no mystery.

W. H. Frost and others have the derrick up and will commence to drill there before long; this is not to be a mystery either; there is oil around here, the trouble is to find it.

Mr. D. S. Drury is clearing off the ground where he is going to put up a house.

Mrs. W. H. Frost was called away very suddenly; her father is not expected to survive.

Public Schools commenced on Monday, May 5th, at Avera and Byroms Same teachers as last term; this sounds good.

Bark peeling has once more begun. Mr. J. H. Hadden of Avera, and Mr. J. S. Caldwell of Byroms, have both taken very large contracts from the Sheffield Tannery Company. May 5, 1884. BACKWOODSMAN.

Forest County's Insane.

STATE HOSPITAL FOR THE INSANE, WARREN, PA., MAY 7, 1884. County Commissioners of Forest County, Gentlemen:—

The condition of the different patients chargeable to you in this hospital is as follows:

John Clary is very much deranged and very much excited.

Sarah Shoupe is quiet but rather sullen and cross to those about her.

Wm. Barnhart is very quiet; is rarely excited and keeps himself busy knitting nets.

Isaac Reed has been quite excited for several weeks, but is now becoming more calm.

Michael Callinan is very quiet; hardly speaks to any one, and sits by himself all the time in one particular place.

Samuel Hawthorn is very quiet, but thinks he ought to be allowed to go and attend to his place, and cannot tell why you do not send for him.

Andrew Salsgiver is very quiet, easily managed, but not able to do anything except walk around like an old man with paralysis.

Olive Noble is generally quiet and pleasant except when she has epileptic fits. Yours truly, JOHN CURWEN, Supt.

Western Epistle.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., May 5, '84. ED. REPUBLICAN:—

Skippering over the 600 miles which intervene between Pennsylvania and Milwaukee, and the incidents of my rapid transit from there to the "Cream City," I shall dwell more on first impressions for points to interest your readers.

"Back there" in the grand old Keystone State the rank and file of Tom, Dick and Harry are apt to speak of this section of the country as the "wild untamed west," but the fact is, civilization has as firm a grip here as any where east of the "Ohio idea."

Milwaukee is the metropolis of the Badger State, and is a beautiful city in every respect. Situated on the west shore of lake Michigan, 85 miles north of Chicago, with a population (city directory) of 200,000, with a network of railroads, great lake commerce, it is the great wheat bin of the northwest. Built of brick of a cream color, of which article there are many million made here annually, the city presents a neat, clean appearance, and looks as if it had just come out of a handbox. The streets are paved with the Nicholson block, and the avenues are model driveways.

In the diversified industries of this driving city the manufacture of beer has more capital employed than that of any other single commercial interest. The amount of hops, corn, barley and cooperage used here would astonish one who does not know what a business this has grown to be. And abreast of the production has been a corresponding increase in the home consumption. To deal out the "foamy" in this city alone requires nearly 1200 saloons, and the private orders direct from the breweries is no small item.

No other city in all the world has such a wide spread name won solely through beer, for "Best's Milwaukee Lager" is drunk over seas as well as every nook and corner of America. The Germans constitute nine-tenths of the population of Milwaukee, and with the national characteristic of love of home, the city is a city of homes, and the tenement flats so prevalent in Chicago and New York is unknown here. Hence the taxes are paid, municipal finances are good, and the city is prosperous in a great degree.

Of late years there has been a flood tide of Pollocks migrating to this city, and the southern part of the city is thickly settled with them. What the heathen Chinese is to California, the Polo is to Milwaukee. They dig our water mains, excavate new streets, help to consume bad whiskey, shovel on the rail-roads, man the vessels, dig the copper, iron and lead from the mines in the northern part of the State, snatch the fish from the lakey depths, and toil unceasingly. They are hated by the Yankees and despised by the Germans, and have the finest churches in the city. They are at once a necessity and perhaps a necessary evil.

Among the phenomenal successes that flit thro' the skies of business progress is the brilliant career of Peck's Sun, the leading humorous paper of the United States. Peck came here a few years ago from a country town where he had been getting an indifferent living publishing a country paper, and saw at once that he had struck it rich. He has made a cool hundred thousand, and is loved by all the newsboys.

But "stick" this up, and in my next I hope to be able to write something real interesting. FLORA HASLETT.
