Let not a Republican stay at home. There is abundance of good material to select from, and each member of the party should consider it his duty to attend the primaries. A good vote now prepares the way for a glorious success in November. Turn out, all of you.

Now They are Frothing Mad.

It appears from a casual glance at the last issue of the two fusion organs that are just now locked in loving embrace and straining every nerve to gain a point, that the REPUBLICAN is not so badly downed as they thought it was, and the consequence is they are both real mad about it. They have the impudence to call in question other people's honesty. As though the editor of this paper would stop to argue that point with such characters as they possess. Whenever it comes to that pass that he has no better reputation for honor and veracity than either of them then be'll "silently fold his tent," &c. But that is not a question in this controversy, and much as these political schemers and trappers would like to draw the fire from the main issue, the fact remains that we have proven to them some very unpleasant things. That the bosses are going to run things to suit themselves is evidenced by the fact they have refused to publish announcements when their rules say as plainly as words can that candidates shall be announced. Who has the right to say they shall not be announced? Does it lie in the power of their county committees? No sir; most emphatically not. Who has and Campbell's Mill. the right to say to a Democrat "you shall not run for the office of Prothonotary or Sheriff; or to a Greenbacker House, you shall not run for the office of Assembly or Associate Judge?" Has the county committee, or what is worse, six men the right to prohibit it? Is that Democracy or Greenbackism, or is it bossism? Is it in conformity with the established rules of either party? These are questions which every consistent voter must decide for himself. candidate for Sheriff, subject to Republi- If the bosses have the right to lay down such rules why have they not the same right to pick out the ticket? Is any one foolish enough to think he can be nominated on this fusion ticket without the consent of the bosses? Not if he was the most popular man in the county. That's not what the fusion is gotten up for. The bosses are just now trying to make it appear that this fusion was the doings of the people. We would like the individual voters to stop and think a moment: Were you consulted about it; did it spring from the people, or was it concocted by a few political tricksters right in this vicinity? What was your first intimation of fusion? Why, simply that it was "fixed." "A simpleton with only half an eye dates his letter from nowhere, nor has he the courage to sign his name, but evidently sees that the fusion organs of each other as follows, viz: are getting badly walloped and considers it his duty to come to the rescue. Now, if this "simpleton with half an eye open" had just opened the other eye and given us his name his as it is, we don't know whether it was the editor of the Commonwealth or the Democrat who wrote it. At all events the "simpleton" proves just what we have always maintained and shown to judgement and ability." be the object of the fusion: that of spoils. By his allusion to the matter ing my many friends for their kind of public patronage he unwittingly betrays the whole scheme of the bosses piece. THE Tionesta papers have been snarling at each other for the past two months. The Democrat and Commonwealth have "fused" against the RE-PUBLICAN but the latter manages to hold its own. However, we don't think there is a man that wears hair that can tell what the fuss is all about.
