—Preaching in the Presbyterian Church next Sunday morning and evening, by Rev. Hickling. —Rev. Hicks will occupy the pulpit of the M. E. Church next Sunday evening, at 7:30.

—Presbyterian Sabbath School at 12:30 p. m.; M. E. Sabbath School at 10 a. m. —No Paper Next Week.

According to our established custom no paper will be issued from this office next week. The sanctum will be open for the transaction of all business in our line, especially the taking in of money—we do occasionally indulge in that branch of business when an opportunity affords. Our next issue will occur on July 16th. Meantime we hope all our friends will enjoy the Fourth of July.

—Hurrah for the day-after-to-morrow! July 4th. —Sheffield boys and girls will have their annual hop on the 4th.

—Oil market closed yesterday at 59c. Opened this morning at 60c. —Let everybody celebrate and have a good time, if it's in the pips.

—Misses Fanny and June Siggins, of West Hickory, visited Tionesta friends Monday.

—The T. V. R. R. company will extend their road about four miles the present season.

—Billy Sibble is home from Macksburg, Ohio. Henry is also stopping at home for a short time.

—A stone culvert is taking the place of the tile across Elm St., in front of H. J. Hopkins & Co's store.

—Harvesting will soon be all the rage. Many grain fields are beginning to assume the beautiful golden hue.

—Capt Knox, of Stow Post, assist in the muster of a new G. A. R. Post at Clarendon, Pa., on Thursday evening last.

—The hauling of the Ford & Lacy lumber to this station for shipment gives the town a much livelier air than usual.

—Messrs. Jas. Davis and Mack Agnew, Allegheny College students, are home from Meadville to spend their vacation, which lasts till September.

—The parties who have been confined in the county bastille since May court for violation of the license law, were on Monday released under the insolvent act.

—Another child of Selden Whitman's has been taken off by that dread disease, diphtheria. Our sincere sympathies are extended to the stricken family.

—Mr. C. F. Gillespie is rushing his new store building, at Whig Hill, rapidly forward to completion. He will doubtless have it full of goods within the next three weeks.

—Frank Whittekin has had his moustache trimmed "Wild Bill fashion." A Mexican sombrero, brace of pistols and a knife in his boot would complete the simile.

—John Becker of Lancaster has built a mill on tract 3160, Barnett township, and intends manufacturing lumber, shingles and lath. He will add a planer in the spring.

—Mr. T. B. Cobb returned from a two weeks' trip to Kentucky and Tennessee last Wednesday, where he has been looking over some big timber lots with a view of investing.

—That which was dead, may again live." The old Petroleum R. R. is being revived, and its extension to the Jefferson county coal fields may be looked for in the near future.

—Mr. M. Carpenter, our Photo Artist, has made ample preparations for the Fourth, and will be fixed for all who may call for pictures. Give him a call.

—Mr. L. D. Whitcomb has just started a new planing mill at West Hickory station, which has a capacity of planing timber up to twelve inches in thickness. See his card in this issue.

—The approaching Agricultural State Fair will be the first held in Philadelphia since 1880, and only the third time since 1857. It will open on September 8th, and continue two weeks.

—Ed. Heibel, our popular hardware merchant is knocking the shingle trade around here "out of time" at a rapid rate. Ed. puts on a very substantial tin roof, and guarantees it not to rip ravel or run down at the heel.

—The Enterprise Transit Company has bought all of the Stockwell and McHenry lands in Millstone and Jenks twps., Forest county, and will build a mill thereon, and build a railroad from Marienville to the mill.

—"Golden Days" for July has reached its thousands of delighted subscribers. There is no young people's magazine in existence that is so much sought after as Golden Days, which is the best evidence of its merits. Jas. Elverson, Publisher, Philadelphia, Pa.

—The members of The Equitable Aid Union will hold an ice cream festival at Partridge's Hall on Friday afternoon and evening, July 4th. Everybody is cordially invited to call and partake of the refreshments which are expected to be first class in every particular.

—Mr. S. S. Canfield has lately erected over the grave of his infant child a handsome tombstone, on which is inscribed the following beautiful lines, composed by S. D. Irwin, Esq: Unto our Father's will alone One thought hath reconciled, That He who's love exceeded ours Hath taken home His child.

—Where are you going to spend the Fourth? seems to be the question of the day. Tionesta will celebrate in good style, and those who want a pleasant time should come here. One very amusing feature of the day will be the parade of the hoodlums in the morning. Then there will be some very interesting races, and no doubt a match game of base ball. The whole to wind up with a grand display of fire-works in the evening. Come to Tionesta.

—Miss Laura, sister of Mr. H. J. and Linus J. Hopkins, died at her father's residence, Pleasantville, on Thursday morning last, 26th, her disease being diphtheria. Miss Hopkins was taken with this terrible disease several weeks ago, but was considered to be getting some better a short time before her death. She was a very estimable young lady and a favorite with all her acquaintances, and during a short visit here some time ago she made many friends among our young people who will hear of her death with the deepest sorrow. We join the community in extending to the afflicted ones earnest and sincere sympathy in their great trial. Miss Hopkins was aged 19 years.

School Directors Meeting.

The directors of Tionesta borough met on Monday evening. At a previous meeting it was decided to adopt the brick building, but as between the parties who had presented bids no decision had been arrived at, as the board wished to make some alterations. Upon opening the new bids it was found that Ed. Allen, of Titusville, had bid $7,945, and May & Osborne, of Franklin, $7,800; the latter bid was accepted, and the President and Secretary ordered to draw up contract with the parties forthwith.

The board then made the annual tax levy, which is the same as last year; i. e., for building purposes eight mills, and for school purposes eight mills.

It was decided to have eight months of school beginning on first Monday of September; to have three schools, and pay same salaries as last year. Agreed to select teachers on Saturday, August 2d.

It was also decided to offer the old school buildings and lot for sale.

OIL NOTES.

Agnew & Proper, with Emery and Welsh, are drilling two wells 22 and 44 rods south of the Emery & Agnew gusher on 3195.

The Porcupine Oil Company are also drilling three wells near the western line of 3195 nearly opposite the Agnew & Proper wells.

W. L. Crisman has sold his tract of 450 acres to the Cooper boys for $4,000 and retains three-fourths of the oil royalty.

Murphy, Walker & Co., started the drill on Monday on a new well near the mouth of Spring Creek, on warrant 3668, of Wright and Duhring.

A company represented by M. Arters, of Warren, have leased a large body of land in Jenks and Barneett to townships and the drill will be bouncing in the old laurel thickets in two weeks.

The Derrick, in its June report, has the following summary of new wells in the Balltown field. The production of some of the wells is considerably under estimated:

A Liberal Community.

DEAR REPUBLICAN:—

While traveling through the Allegheny valley last Friday, I chanced to stop at the little hamlet of East Hickory; its church spire pointing upward from among the green trees attracted me thitherward. Upon coming to the church I beheld a concourse of people in a grove back of the church. Some were stemming strawberries, others making lemonade, young girls busy weaving bouquets and garlands for a flowery bower, while still another guild were collecting milk, eggs and ice, preparatory to making that summer luxury known as ice cream. What did it all mean? Simply that the young folks saw the need of a bell in the steeple to call tardy people to church and Sunday school before the benediction; also chandeliers would add to the enlightenment of the congregations. So they resolved to resort to an ice cream and strawberry festival. The time and the place were well chosen; an array of benches gave a resting place for the visitors, while lamps from the mills threw light enough to be agreeable, the dark grotesque shadows dancing on the green archery of the tree, the clatter of spoons, the gay laughter, the white dresses of the girls, made a picture long to be remembered. Each young lady on the committee had made a necktie to match her apron. These ties were sealed in envelopes and sold to the young men; whereupon each young man was obliged to hunt up the wearer of the apron which matched his tie and escort her to supper.

I was astonished beyond measure when I heard that the result of this Festival was $84.11 clear profit, counting in some money that was donated to the cause. I thought this would have done credit to a city festival; but said I, probably the residents don't have many calls on their charity. Yes, they do, responded my friend. Only last week they subscribed $75.00 to help their worthy fellow citizen, Mr. Henry Kiffer, who is lying very low at present, and has long been unable to labor. Also, the Hickory band has had a benefit given them of nearly $30.00, and every good appeal is speedily responded to by the inhabitants of the valley.

Yours, A TRAVELER. East Hickory, June 30, 1884.

THE GLORIOUS FOURTH.

Program of Doings in Tionesta.

At a meeting Monday evening of the different committees appointed the following program for celebrating the Fourth of July in Tionesta was adopted:

In the morning firing of the cannon will usher in the dawn of the Glorious Fourth.

At 9 o'clock a. m., sharp, there will be a Fantastic Parade. Followed by Dunkel's Minstrel Troupe. Do not fail to see this, as it will be the only "dark feature" of the occasion.

The Hickory brass band is expected to be in attendance. Reading of the Declaration of Independence by J. H. Dingman.

Ode by Choir. Oration by Miles W. Tate Esq. Ode by Choir.

Sack race on Elm Street, between Hopkins' and Robinson's stores, at 4 o'clock p. m. Two prizes. Wheelbarrow race at 4:30. Two prizes.

At 5 o'clock, foot race from May Street to Church Street. Two prizes. All races free to all.

At 8 o'clock, magnificent fire works will be set off on the point of Hunter's Island. This display will be gorgeous in the extreme.

Sheriff C. W. Clark is appointed Marshal of the Day, to appoint his own aides.

Other attractions will be added to the foregoing program, but as they have not been arranged, cannot be given at this time. The Committee of Arrangements extend a hearty invitation to the surrounding community to join in the festivities of the day. Come, everybody.

Balltown News.

It has been observed by a disinterested spectator that there is nothing small about Balltown, but whether the remark was prompted by contemplating the gigantic form of Peter Berry and Jim Emery, the spouting wells, vast forests, or the length of our miles is not known; at any rate, Balltown has endeavored to keep up to her standard of magnitude by bringing in a large well where the most experienced operators expected but a small producer.

The particulars in regard to this well, (on the Proper & Agnew reserve) you have already given to your readers. The opening of the well, which was a novelty to many, was witnessed by a large number of gentlemen and ladies from Balltown. Among the latter were Mrs. J. D. Emery, Mrs. Peter Berry, Mrs. J. C. Welch, Mrs. Charles Griffin Mrs. T. Corah, and Miss Neely. Tionesta was represented by Judge Proper, Hon. J. B. Agnew, J. F. Proper, and that irrepressible little man of curves and tangents, F. F. Whittiken.

The Balltown Union Sabbath School was organized last week and met for the first time last Sabbath. The following officers were elected at the meeting for organization. Mr. W. A. Walker, Supt.; Mr. Haslett, Asst. Supt.; Miss Berry, Sec'y and Treas.; Miss May Agnew, Librarian. The spirit of earnestness with which many of our citizens have entered into the work is amply attested by the attendance, there being fifty-four scholars present last Sabbath. Much of the labor involved in this undertaking was done by Miss Neely, our accomplished school teacher.

Mr. T. P. Flynn, who is engaged in the lumber business about three miles above this place, narrowly escaped serious injury yesterday by being thrown from a large load of lumber. The "shoe" having caught on the edge of a plank in the road, the wagon was stopped so suddenly as to throw Mr. Flynn to the ground. As he fell between the horses his escape with but a few slight bruises is astonishing. A producer near here says that for quiet, unassuming gall, a young scout from Oil City takes this year's wheat crop with the eighty million bushel surplus. The producer has a well about finished and as he don't care to have the public know much about it, he has placed signs at the approaches to the well warning people to "keep off the lease." This morning, as the producer "was wandering around his eye accidentally fell"—on the y. a. f. O. C., who was standing beside the derrick leisurely taking the level with an aneroid. The producer accosted the scout with, "Did you see that sign? what are you doing here?" (Scout, who had not finished his observations, still watching the instrument)—"To the first question, the love of truth which was instilled into my young epidermis through the faithful efforts of a remarkably robust school master compels me to answer yes. In answer to the last question I would say that I just came from Ohio to see Mr. Sargent, the contractor, who is an old friend of an uncle of mine who used to be engaged in the oil business at Pithole; however, as he is busy, and I have got the level, I will bid you an affectionate farewell."

With a happy smile on his youthful face and a spur on his heel the enterprising scout proceeded to "keep off" toward Sheffield. NESBITT. Balltown, Pa., June 28, 1884.
