—Are you registered?

NO MAN was a better judge of character than Thaddeus Stevens, the great Commoner. Of Blaine in 1864 he said: "Blaine, of Maine, has shown as great aptitude and ability for the higher walks of public life as any man that has come into Congress during my period of service."

SENATOR GRADY, of New York, whose withdrawal from the Democratic State committee caused such a sensation the other day, is the man who denounced Governor Cleveland on the floor of the State Senate during the last session, and was answered by a letter from Cleveland to John Kelly, asking that he "should not be re-elected, as his presence in the Senate was a menace to the Governor's personal comfort and satisfaction."

His withdrawal from the committee has changed from a menace to an actual disturbance, not only of the Governor's "personal comfort and satisfaction," but of the whole gang of party leaders and their assistants. They are all busy now trying to head Grady off by stories of a bargain between that gentleman and the Republican managers, by which he is to support the Republican ticket, which of course would be dreadfully corrupt.

—Republicans, don't forget that tomorrow is the last day for legal registration. Attend to it immediately.

THE Democrats have seemed to be singularly indifferent to, or rather hopeless of success in Maine, but it has been discovered within a few days, that they were playing "possum on a rather magnificent scale. While sending out word that they had no expectation of carrying the State, and only hoped to keep the Republican majority from too greatly increasing, it has leaked out that they were organizing every scheme that cunning and money could devise and set in operation, to steal a march on the Republicans. Their game has been dropped to, and their investments will prove as ruinous as buying stock for a rise on a falling market.

THE Indianapolis Sentinel is not to be backed by the committee and the Democratic party of Indiana in its foolish scandal against Blaine. Voorhees has declined to act as lawyer for the defence, and the chairman of the State Central Committee says the committee will have nothing to do with it.

THE Philadelphia Times and one or two more Democratic bourbon supporters are the sole apologists for the lying Sentinel.

THE New York Sun has a fashion of speaking "right out in meetin'" latterly, that is very trying to the already tried nerves of the party of "ancient ideas." How it writes when it says, for instance, "We are saddled with Grover Cleveland, and like the old man in the fable, he will cling around the neck of Democracy until it is strangled and laid out." This sounds prophetic, very; and there are thousands who, notwithstanding the distress of the old hunkers, will hail its fulfillment with rapturous applause.

MR. CLEVELAND'S idea that he did all that was needed, when he told those who were to elect him, if he were to be elected, that the office was executive, shows that he has given very crude consideration to the character of the office he is aspiring to. The Constitution says, the President shall from time to time recommend to the consideration of Congress such measures as he may judge necessary and expedient. Did he overlook this fact in his letter because he was ignorant of the Constitutional requirement, or because it was none of the people's business what he might recommend as necessary and expedient? He has been two years Governor of New York, and the precious good care he has taken of the monopolies as against the people gives rise to the suspicion that he is not safe to tie to, on his mere promise of reform. Blaine has committed himself to the specific policies that he calls "necessary and expedient," and the people can judge whether they like them. What guarantee has Cleveland given that his mere vague promise is good without specification? To judge from the general conversation among the people, they are not inclined to trust him. He has shown the direction in which he traveled since he was Governor, and they look upon his promise of pure government if elected, without giving guarantees, as too much like the practice of his party to be trusted.

THE New York Star calls the attention of the Philadelphia Times to the falsehood contained in a Washington dispatch, which said that "John I. Davenport had drawn $122,710 from the Federal Treasury in seven years for fees," and adds that the Times omits to say what portion of this sum was paid to his deputy marshals. The Times in this campaign is a throughgoing bourbon sheet, with all a bourbon's instincts, habits, practices and want of conscience. Mighty little political truth will be found within its columns.

BLAINE is run down with invitations, but Cleveland isn't even asked to attend the fat man's clam bake.

HENDRICKS has evidently concluded that he made a mistake when he lost his temper and wrote the brief note accepting the nomination. He is supplementing it with certificates of character for the head of the ticket. He thinks that whatever may have been Cleveland's past he has promised to be better in the future. The handwriting is on the wall, Thomas. No death-bed repentance will save the concern this year. Better get ready for 1888.

It turns out that the colonization of negroes in West Virginia by the Republicans, of which the Democratic papers made such a parade, has no other foundation than the employment by a mining company of that State, of which State Senator Gorman, of Maryland, Senator Camden, of Delaware, and Senator Camden, of West Virginia, are chief owners and managers, of a number of colored miners outside of the State, because the miners in the State will not work for the wages they are willing to pay. This we would say is peculiarly indicative of Democratic methods. Cut down the wages of their workmen; hire others to take their places because they refuse to submit, and then charge Republicans with colonizing their new men.

"TELL the truth," is what they say Cleveland said, when his managers urged that something should be done about the Maria Halpin case. And then six different defenses were put forth, and no two of them alike. Never before was the truth known to have so many varying phases and facts.—Akon Beacon.

CLEVELAND'S nomination gained the Democrats the New York Evening Post with 8,000 circulation, and lost them the Sun with 125,000. The amount of consolation to be extracted by our Democratic friends from a mental calculation of this subject is said to be very small.

THE Fulton Democrat, published at Lewiston, Ill., which started out as an enthusiastic advocate of Cleveland and Hendricks, now says, that the practical confession of moral depravity on the part of Governor Cleveland, makes its further support of him impossible. Very sad, very sad indeed. Everything points to the necessity of his withdrawal from the ticket and the substitution of a respectable man.

JOHN I. DAVENPORT'S charge that Barnum procured the making of the Morey forgery is answered in the Democratic press by charging that Davenport received big fees from the United States. Another plea of confession and avoidance. They admit that Barnum paid for the forgery, but justify the forgery by saying that the man who made the discovery is paid too much money by the Government. This is like their defense in the Cleveland-Halpin affair. Cleveland is admitted to be guilty—but the Rev. Mr. Ball is "a bad witness." It is not the offense but the witnesses who make known the offense whom the Democrats condemn.

How very bad off the Democrats are for something to say on vital issues, when they excuse Cleveland's cowardly shirking of reference to the tariff, by quoting Horace Greeley as another Presidential candidate who said nothing about that issue. We believe they are right in the statement, but do they forget that Horace was beaten worse than any candidate of their party was ever beaten? Or are they just now trying new tactics, and exerting themselves how badly they can contrive to be beaten.

THE fusionists of this congressional district re-convened at Kittanning last week and nominated a gentleman by the name of Daniel Reitz, of Jefferson county, for Congress.

D. LANCELL'S ASTHMA AND CATARRH REMEDY.

Having struggled 20 years between 120 and death with Asthma or Phthisis, treated by eminent physicians and received no benefit, I was compelled during the last five years of my illness to seek my chair day and night gasping for breath, suffering beyond description. In despair I experimented on myself by compounding roots and herbs and inhaling the medicine thus obtained. I immediately discovered this Wonderful Cure for Asthma and Catarrh, warranted to relieve the most stubborn case of Asthma in five minutes, so that the patient can lie down to rest and sleep comfortably. Please read the following condensed extracts: Mrs. W. T. Brown, Monroe, Texas, writes: "I suffered with Asthma 30 years. Your great remedy has completely cured me. Publish this for the benefit of the afflicted."

C. S. Clark, Wakeman, O., writes: "I certainly believe your remedy to be the best Asthma and Catarrh cure in the world. I have tried everything else, and all failed but yours. I wish you would success."

C. A. Hall, Bashaw, Wis., writes: "I received your little package and found invaluable, doing just what you claim for it. It is truly a God-send to humanity. No one can afford to do without it, who is suffering with Asthma or Catarrh."

Such are the expressions of praise and gratitude received daily, and in addition, I will still continue my former proposition. Send me your name and address and I will forward you a trial package by return mail, free of charge. Full size box by mail, $1.00. Sold by all druggists. Address, D. LANCELL, Appliance, O., Inventor and sole proprietor.
