—Pay your State and County tax. —About thirty from Tionesta took in the excursion to Niagara Falls yesterday, and if they didn't enjoy a rich treat it was their own fault. We sent a special reporter with the excursion whose account of the affair will appear next week. —The foundation for Mr. Craig's house is nearly completed, and will soon be tackled by the carpenters. —The cellar for Prof. Hilliard's new dwelling is dug, and will also soon be ready for the wood work. Harvey Foreman has the contract for both houses. —Golden Days for this month is published, and like all predecessors, takes the lead of any other magazine for young folks. It is pure, chaste and highly interesting, and is anxiously sought after by its many thousand readers. James Elverson, Publisher, Phila., Pa. —Geo. Bowersock, who has been hauling lumber from the Ford & Lacy mills, met with a painful accident on Saturday afternoon last. While unloading his wagon at the depot a stick of square timber fell on his left foot, crushing it so severely above the toes that it may be necessary to amputate part of the foot. —Robinson and Bonner's mills narrowly escaped being licked up by flames Monday forenoon. They had fired up but a short time when Selden Whitman rushed in and informed all hands that the roof was on fire. A space of four or five feet square was burned over before they succeeded in controlling it. —Josephus Danham, living between Pleasantville and Neilltown, was robbed of $82, on Sunday night of last week. The thief entered the house and took Mr. D.'s pantaloons which contained the money. The peddler, Torlando, who was robbed a short time ago near Pleasantville, is slowly recovering from his injuries. —Hon. J. B. Agnew has moved back into his newly fitted house on Vine St. It has all the modern conveniences of a city building, with hot and cold water in most of the rooms, a fountain in the front yard, and a system of water works by which he can turn the hose on any part of the building. Altogether it is a very comfortable abode. —Up to the hour of going to press nothing of importance has been done by the court, the civil cases having mostly been put over. The grand jury ignored the bill of libel against J. M. Kepler, and put the cost on the prosecutor, Will J. McConnell. In the case against Schwartz, selling beer contrary to law, bill ignored and prosecutors to pay costs. —Edward, a young son of H. M. Zahniser, of Stewart's Run, had the misfortune to fall, while practicing on roller skates at the rink last Thursday morning, and fractured his right arm just above the wrist. Dr. Morrow was summoned and soon reduced the fracture, leaving the sufferer feeling quite comfortable. The parents of the young man wish to extend thanks to those friends who rendered him much comfort and aid during his misfortune. —During his visit here this week, Hon. Alexander C. White, our popular candidate for Congress, made a host of new acquaintances and friends, upon whom he left a most favorable impression. His gentlemanly bearing and known abilities and qualifications for the high and responsible position to which he aspires are conceded by all alike, and his friends predict for him a triumphant election, while his political opponents are almost ready to concede his success. Slightly Off. There appeared in the last National Democrat an article signed "Phoenix," in which the scribe refers to the Blaine and Logan club of this place as a secret society. We wish to respectfully call his attention to the fact (which he might have known had he ever attended one of our meetings) that none but members are admitted to the business meetings of the club, but that all are welcome to attend the general meetings; and further that many are taking advantage of the invitation to join our ranks and cast their influence against Free Trade and in favor of Protection to American labor. ONE OF THE CLUB. Starr, Sept. 13, 1884. —Republicans should look after the payment of their taxes.

—Last week we received a neat package from Kellettsville, which upon opening we found to contain one of the handsomest and most symmetrical pieces of mechanism in the shape of a spear that our eyes ever gazed upon. It was from that veteran of the forge, W. C. Wilson, better known as the Buckeye Blacksmith. Our old friend seems, like some other first-class articles, to improve with age, this last piece of workmanship fully demonstrates. Many thanks, and best wishes for your future success. May you kill the biggest buck in the county next winter. —We inadvertently omitted last week to mention the death of Mrs. Hannah Robinson, mother of our townsman, Mr. G. W. Robinson, which occurred at her home in Reynoldsville, Jefferson county, Pa., on Friday, Sept. 5th, 1884. Mrs. Robinson had attained the ripe age of 73 years, and until within a year past had enjoyed quite rugged health. She was the mother of six children, all of whom survive her. Her funeral was attended by a large concourse of friends, for she enjoyed in a high degree the esteem of all who knew her. Rest in peace. —Peterson's Magazine for October comes to us with an increase of pages, and a more brilliant array than ever of steel-plates, colored fashions, colored patterns, and illustrative wood-engravings. The principle steel-plate, "Playing At Being Grandpa and Grandma," is as graphic as it is humorous—one of the very best things of the kind we have ever seen. The stories, continued and otherwise, are exceptionally good: in this respect, "Peterson" has long been without a rival. Address Charles J. Peterson, 306 Chestnut Street, Philadelphia, Pa. —Ballou's Magazine contains a large installment of "On Land and Sea," by Wm. H. Thomes, author of "The Belle of Australia," and "The Gold Hunters of Australia." "On Land and Sea" will be published in book form in November, by DeWolfe, Fiske & Co., Boston. In addition to the leading story there are quite a number of short sketches, stories, illustrations, etc., making a magazine that one can read with profit and pleasure at all times. Ballou's is published at No. 23 Hawley Street, Boston, by Thomes & Talbot, at only $1.50 per year, post-paid. Neilltown Notes. Mr. Demunn has been suffering from a bad hand for sometime back. The soreness of his hand seems to have come from irritation of the muscles, perhaps through having strained it at sometime. Mrs. McAllister boasts the biggest pumpkin and A. A. Hopkins the biggest squash in the county. W. J. Gorman & Co. have a rig up and will put down a new well on Poverty Hill right away. Potatoes are rotting. The Harmony School Board met on Saturday last and hired teachers for Neilltown, Trunkeyville, and Allender Run. Some of the citizens of Fagundus are dissatisfied with the action of the directors having charge of the district in which Fagundus school is located, (not the Harmony Board,) have fitted up a building near the post office and started a school there over which Miss Cox presides. Lillian Miles, than whom there are few better qualified teachers, is teacher of the Fagundus district school. Uncle John Peterson of Trunkeyville is quite ill. BY THE WAY. Whig Hill Items. The "dude" crop is not so extensive as the "cucumber and turnip" crops. We think from all appearances that ere long we can buy our calico's and ginghams at the store, which is being erected by C. F. Gillespie, up on the corners. Miss M. B. Lewis was back visiting friends in this part of the county. Miss Lizzie Berlin is visiting friends in Clarion Co. Mr. Edward Gillespie is home from his labors in Crawford Co. Eddie, we welcome you back. Mr. L. S. Wolfe is about to build a new house on his farm; we wish him success. Miss Jenny Wolfe is visiting her sister, Mrs. Frank Gillespie. Miss Maggie Williams closed a successful term of school, Sept. 11th, with an entertainment in the evening, which was largely attended and appreciated by all. WANDERER. Sept. 15, '84.

THE CAMPAIGN OPENED. The Republican Mass Meeting at the Court House Last Night— A Large and Enthusiastic Gathering. The first grand rally of the Republicans of Forest county was held at the Court House last evening, and none who were present will pretend to deny that it was a grand success in every particular. Long before the time for the speeches to commence had arrived, the room began filling up with interested listeners, and by the time the meeting was ready to begin there was scarcely standing room left. Chairman Randall called the meeting to order, and Hon. N. P. Wheeler was elected President, with one Vice President from each township. F. F. Whittekin and J. E. Wenk were appointed Secretaries. The meeting was called to order by the President, and the large and intelligent audience was treated to an honest, convincing and forcible advocacy of Republican principles, as well as an able and clear delineation of the wonderful and remarkable progress of the manufacturing, agricultural, and commercial interests of our country during the past 24 years under the enlightened, fostering and protecting policy of the Republican party, by Venango's most brilliant and accomplished orator, the Hon. W. J. Hulings. Mr. Hulings is a young man of ability, force and clearness of expression. His argument elicited at times great enthusiasm and applause, and taken all in all, was an honorable offspring of his ability, and reflected credit on himself as well as on the Republican party of which he is member and advocate. The political future is bright with promise for Mr. Hulings, and we believe his fine ability will of itself secure him such high recognition as he deserves. After some excellent music rendered by the brass band of East Hickory, President Wheeler introduced our candidate for Congress, Hon. A. C. White, of Brookville, who spoke with great force and logic and riveted the closest attention of the vast audience. He spoke of and dissected the tariff plank of the Democratic platform, and after his discussion of it, its transparency was so apparent that many Democrats were set to thinking; and our Greenback friends must admit that his exposition of the finances of the country was just, and if fair they will openly admit that our finances are the best of any nation on the globe. His fitting tribute to the memory of the late lamented James A. Garfield aroused the sympathy of every true citizen. His personal acquaintance with James G. Blaine enabled him to make a strong argument showing why that brilliant statesman should be the next President. He retired amid applause, and we shall see that after the 15th of November the twenty-fifth congressional district will be represented by a Republican who will be an honor to the district which he will represent. That representative will be Hon. A. C. White. At the close of Mr. White's telling address the band discoursed some more fine music, and then the brilliant and eloquent Col. W. A. Stone, of Pittsburgh took the audience, and with his convincing arguments and ready, easy flow of eloquent language, held the audience in rapt attention for over an hour. His speech was frequently interrupted by thundering applause as one after another his telling hits were made. He criticised without being severe, and eulogized only where all knew that such was fact. His telling illustrations in a humorous way were appreciated by all and he retired amidst a round of applause in which even his political opponents joined almost as heartily as his Republican friends. The Democrats as well as the Greenbackers openly admit that it was a success. The meeting dispersed by giving three rousing, hearty cheers for the noble, gallant standard bearers, Blaine and Logan. The meeting was one of the largest and most enthusiastic ever held in this county. It is the key note to the opening of the campaign in Forest Co. —Fall and Winter Clothing in Children's Suits and Overcoats from 4 years old up, and from $3.25 upward. Haslett, of Forest county, and Miss Lucretia H. Girts, of Helen Furnace. DIED. BOWER—John Jacob Bower, of Lineville, born in Salem township, April 28, 1856, died September 2, 1884, aged 28 years, 4 months and 5 days. He was married to Dora Stitzinger, by whom he had three children, all of whom are living. His head was violently crushed under the wheels of his wagon loaded with lumber, on the 26th of August last, at Fryburg, from the effects of which he died. The Lord comfort the friends of the deceased, and put us on our guard, for we know not the hour when the Lord cometh to call us from a world of death to give an account of our stewardship. His funeral was conducted by the undersigned in St. Luke's church near Lineville, where his remains were interred September 4, 1884. J. HUMBARGER.
