In this the Supreme Court reversed the decision of the Common Pleas of this county .- Titusville Citizen.

-The Clarion Jacksonian expresses our sentiments exactly in the following item: Correspondents to this paper are requested to avoid personals which are intended to injure anyone. We are not in a position to know what your communication may indicate; they may read all right to us and seem apparently to mean harm to no one, and still contain an unwise cut at some one in your neighborhood. Avoid all this and when occasion requires you to mention an individual do it without slur. We will gladly give you room for all you may write, that is of interest to our readers, but outside of this we have no space for publication of matters of this kind.

He had evidently been currying the horse at the time of his death, as he had fallen over backward behind the horse. The curry-comb layed by his side, just where it had fallen. Notice was at once given to the proper authorities at Pleasantville and Dr. Proper was called upon to make an examination of the remains. He did so, and reported that there was not a shadow of a doubt but that he had died from heart disease and that death had been ustaptaneous.

He had been a suf ferer from heart disease for some time.

In the death of Dr Burkett all acquainted with him find occasion for a profound sorrow. Not alone is his family bereaved, but the community as well. His sudden death brings darkest sorrow to his family, and saddens other hearts who miss from their community an active and a respected member as well as a skilfull and a humane physician. During the short time he has been amongst us he has gathered around him the host of voices unite in lamenting his unexpected taking away, and unite, too, in the stricken family and in uniting their sorrow with theirs.

Dr. Barkett was born in Punxsutawney, Jefferson county, Pa., June 14, 1850. He was married in Indiana county, Pa., Murch 15, 1870, to Miss Annie M. Van Horn, who, with three children, one born on the day of the Doctor's funeral, survive him.

The Auditors' Report.

Believing that the County Auditors Report is a matter of the most vital importance to the Republican taxpayers of Forest county, we this week give it publicity through our columns. We get no pay for this work, but do not believe that the Republicans should be deprived of the satisfaction of seeing the Report on that account. We wish, also, to correct a false impression which seems to have gained credence with quite a number: It has been told that the Auditors' Reports, and all other matters of public printing at the disposal of the County Commissioners, have beretofore been published in only two papers. This is a mistake. Every line of advertising which the Commissioners have had at their disposal for the past three years has been divided among the three county papers, as the files of the same with readily prove.

Barnett Notes.

Mr. Jacob Painter, living near Greenwood this county, and well known to very many of your readers, tertainment very much, and died on Sunday the 15th, of this month. He had been sick for some time suffering from Bright's Disease. He was buried on Tuesday following a speech which pleased the childre at Greenwood Church.

A little child of Jack McLaughlin's died on last Wednesday night from teeth and cold.

W. R. Coon went to Washington, D. C., the early part of last week to witness the dedication of the Washington Monument.

All of Douglas Moore's family are able to be around again.

Mr. McKinley of Brookville who is interested in a timber tract in Barnett twp., has been made the victim of a very rascally steal. He lost his bank check-book. Some dishonest person found it and instead of returning it made out and had cashed at a bank in Clarion a check for $350.00, of which transaction Mr McKiuley received due notice. He had not missed his check-book pre viously. The thief is unknown.
