Mr. C. W. Moon has rented and taken possession of Mr. A. W. Stroup's farm, on Tubbs Run, and will work the same on the shares this season.

A very young lady arrived at the editor's domicile on Wednesday evening last. Weight 128 ounces, and a real little daisy she is, of course.

Mr. W. R. Dunn came down from Meadville, where he is rusticated for a short time, last Saturday evening and spent the Sabbath with his family.

A partial eclipse of the sun took place Monday forenoon, but as few were aware that such an interesting event was to occur the spectacle was not extensively witnessed.

Yesterday ended the six week's weather contract of the groundhog, and for once he must be given credit for accuracy in his prognostications. He's proved himself a dandy.

R. D. Hoskins, of the Bathgate, (D. T.) Sentinel has been commissioned a notary public. Now, Rob, you remember what the boy said to his "dad" about going west to get offis, don't you?

Note it down: St. Patrick's Day, in the morning, 1885, thermometer fourteen degrees below zero. Mild, open winter, to be sure; ice on the river, any where from one and a half to six feet thick.

Geo. S. Hunter's condition is gradually growing less encouraging, and it is feared he cannot recover. His friends still have some hopes, however, and we earnestly wish they may be realized.

Dr. M. B. Cook made a short visit to Tionesta friends before leaving for his western home, Pueblo, Colorado. He departed for Erie Monday, and will start west in about ten days. Success to you, Doctor.

It must be now that the spring is coming, in the year of '85, for haven't the wild geese been on the wing, northward, for the past few days? And wild geese and groundhogs are good enough prophets this year.

The rustic simplicity of the people who live in the southern part of Jefferson county, is childlike, and perhaps bland. A few short months ago a railroad opened their eyes to the outside world, and to express gratitude for the blessing, a justice fined one of the conductors $14.00 for running his train on Sunday.—Clarion Democrat.

Our old friend, Dr. C. C. Smith, of Brookston, passed through town on Wednesday of last week and took occasion to pay his respects to the Republican office. The doctor makes a specialty in his profession of roots and herbs, and his knowledge in this line is excellent. We are pleased to learn that his practice is becoming quite extensive.

Landlord Jackson has got fairly settled in his new quarters at the Lawrence House, and extends a cordial invitation to all his old patrons and many new ones to give him a call. While prices will remain the same as formerly he says his table will always contain the finest the market affords, and as to other accommodations, they will be second to none in the country. See change in card.

Considerable excitement was aroused by an alarm of fire at the lower end of town on Monday last, caused by a chair in one of the rooms in the Rural House catching fire and burning up. The room was one used by the family, and a dress had been thrown across the chair back which mysteriously caught fire. Five minutes more and the fire would have been beyond control.

The Floral Cabinet for March is a beautiful number, and gives many reliable hints in Floriculture and domestic art. It grows in interest as the spring time advances. Every lady should have it; its cost is but $1.25 per year. Address Ladies Floral Cabinet Co., 22 Vesey St., N. Y.

Ballou's Magazine for April is as good as usual. It leads off with an illustrated article on India, an important production at the present time, when Russia and England are glaring at each other in Afghanistan. Then comes "Lewey and I; or, Sailor Boys' Wanderings," by Wm. H. Thomas. The story is growing in interest, and promises to be the author's best. Ballou's is only $1.50 per year, or 15 cents single number, and is the best magazine in the country at the price. Address, Thomas & Talbot, 23 Hawley St., Boston, Mass.

Peterson's Magazine for April comes to us with a lovely steel-engraving of "Adeline," one of Tennyson's heroines; a beautiful, double-size, steel, colored fashion-plate; and half a hundred other illustrations for stories, work-table, fashions, etc., etc. The stories—though "Peterson" is celebrated for good stories—are better than ever. Certainly every lady of refinement ought to have this magazine, for it is emphatically the lady's book; and the terms are but two dollars a year, with great deductions to clubs. Address Chas. J. Peterson, 306 Chestnut St., Philadelphia, Pa.

Geological Surveys in Forest County—Altitudes &c.

The elevation and depressions of a section of country is an interesting study. Our State Geological reports furnish data on this subject which are interesting in detail. The height above the sea was ascertained by them by means of the aneroid barometer, a very sensitive instrument, that would register as small an elevation as ten feet. These instruments used by them came from Germany, as that country has the reputation of making the finest instruments in the world of this kind. I was with Mr. Ashburner when making his preliminary survey here, a few years ago, and went with him to the top of the hill above the mouth of Tubbs run, and noted the elevation as we went up the hill, on the barometer. The river hills run from 600 to 700 feet above river level.

The following table shows the elevation of different points in the County above ocean level in feet:

Table with 2 columns: Location and Elevation in feet. Includes Tionesta depot, River level, East Hickory, Foxburg, Brookston, Marienville, etc.

Now, from East Hickory to Tionesta is about eight miles, and there is a fall of 40 feet in the river, or about 5 feet to the mile. From Foxburg, in the north eastern part of the County to Tionesta, as the creek runs is, according to the best maps, 30 miles, and by the above table it will appear there is a fall in Tionesta creek to its mouth of 211 feet, or 7 feet to the mile on the average, which indicates a rapid mountain stream, and great water power. This data is important to those engaged either in manufacturing lumber along its banks or in navigating the stream.

Many regard Marienville as the highest point of land in the county, but without actual measurement or knowledge, I have my doubts about it. There is a sugar loaf shaped hill back of Guiton's, in Kingsley Township, being called "Mt. Pisgah," which is a hill on top of hills, from the summit of which you can see to Fryburg, in Clarion Co. The elevation of this is not noted in the State reports, and consequently its precise height cannot be stated. Yet it towers over the surrounding country and from its top you can trace the valleys of the surrounding streams. It is very similar in its conformation to the hill back of Fryburg.

Nothing in science is useless. The survey of the county is far from perfect, and is only shadowed forth or sketched. What is needed is development of the mineral resources, which will prove far more valuable and lasting than all the timber that will ever be cut.

Thoughts on Revivals.

While our meetings continue in progress, our hearts, all warm, are reaching out after friends near and dear to us; even in our zeal we are drawn toward those that are strangers to us; we greet them kindly and extend to them the warm hand of cordiality and Christian friendship; in fact, get them among us and make them feel that they are one of us. Now this is right and meet, as we all know. Where we fail as Christian men and women is in not keeping up this Christian friendship. Not holding on to those that come among us and cast their lot with us. How long after our meetings close will it be before we will pass those with a formal bow, that we now greet so warmly? Brothers and sisters this is not as it should be. "When the times of refreshing come" we put forth every effort to gain those wanderers; now let us put forth an effort to keep them, give them a warm hand-clasp, and a pleasant smile, even if you are not on the mountain top yourself, it is not always possible there to be. The sun must sink each day to arise to his zenith the next; if those now in the way get discouraged help them kindly over "their mountain of difficulty," help them to feel that we care for them, that we hold their spiritual welfare dear to us; should they stray, once, twice, thrice, do not, oh! do not shun them, or withdraw your influence in their behalf. Their temptations are legion, their strength is small; in our greater strength and experience let us be unto them a tower of strength. Remember, a friendly greeting, a few kind words, or a written line will do much, yes very much, towards building them up in the faith.
