—Preaching in the M. E. Church next Sunday evening by F. M. Small. —Presbyterian Sabbath School at 9:45 a. m.; M. E. Sabbath School at 10 a. m.

—Kelleitville items too late for this week. —Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Stow, of Bradford, are paying Tionesta friends a visit.

—Three weeks from next Saturday and the Fourth of July eagle will scream in these U. S. —Dr. Steadman has gone to West Virginia, where he will join his wife and rusticate for a few weeks.

—Dr. and Mrs. Jackson of Oil City were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Brennan over last Sabbath. —Misses Gussie and Bessie Leonard, of Waukegan, Ill., are paying a visit to their Grandma, Mrs. H. H. May.

—It has been predicted that we are to have seven consecutive wet Sundays. Last Sunday was the third of the series. —Mrs. C. M. Cott of Erie, accompanied by her four children, is visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Roberts.

—Mr. Lawrence is building an addition to his house across the creek. Commissioner Chadwick is doing the carpenter work. —The Willing Workers of the M. E. Church will hold a festival in the Acomb store room next Tuesday evening. Attend it.

—The annual statement is going the rounds of the papers that this is the year for the seventeen-year locusts to make their appearance. —There was a pretty heavy frost in parts of this section Monday and last night. We have heard of no serious damage therefrom, however.

—This is the month for catching young fawns. We have heard of no catches, although Byron Coburn nearly tramped on one the other day. —We noticed the genial Capt. Jas. Zahniser, of Neiltown, on our streets last Thursday. The Captain loses none of his staunch Republicanism with age.

—They are having it red hot over in our neighboring county of Clarion, over the President Judgeship. That is, the Democrats are; the Republicans "have nothing to say." —H. C. Whittekin had the bad luck to cut a big gash in his shin one day last week while out surveying on the headwaters of Bear creek. He is obliged to hobble about on crutches.

—In the afternoon and evening of the Fourth a dance will be given at the skating rink. First class music will be in attendance, and all who wish a pleasant time are cordially invited. —Strawberries have made their appearance in this market, and a delicious article may be had 'most any afternoon at Herman's store, cheap for the time of year' and quality of the berry.

—Invitations are out announcing the marriage on the 18th inst. of Mr. F. A. Wheeler, the gentlemanly station agent at West Hickory, and Miss June Siggins, one of Forest county's most accomplished young ladies. —We are requested to state that a meeting of the citizens, and all interested, will be held at the new school house on Saturday evening next to arrange for a Fourth of July celebration in Tionesta. A big attendance is hoped for. —Emma C. Johnson, teacher of Old Town School, makes the following report for month ending June 2, 1885: No enrolled, males 10, females 8; per cent of attendance, males 92, females 91. Desie Rhodes, Dora Glassner, John Shelhouse, Jake Orren and Haskell Hoover, have been present every day. Lizzie Flowers, Hattie Hood, James Hood, Sammy Carson and Sammy Hood, have been present every day but one.

—The attention of Republican voters is called to the Rules governing our primaries published in this issue. A strict observance of the same by election officers will insure a harmonious and successful election. Let every Republican turn out at the primaries on the 27th inst. It is important.

—Kingsley township, which already has a reputation for good roads, has just purchased two new scrapers of the latest design, at a cost of $40 each. These machines dress up a road very nicely and quickly, and we presume that township will outline us all before the season is ended. Let more of the townships follow suit.

—To-morrow at the bride's residence in Brookville, Pa., Mr. C. D. Baker, a former citizen of our town, and one of our most esteemed young men, will be united in marriage with Miss Laura Calvin, also a particular favorite with the young society people of our town. We join their large circle of admiring friends in extending wholesome congratulations and best wishes for a long and joyous future.

—The meetings conducted in the Presbyterian church during last week by Rev. W. F. Wood of Oil City, came to a close on Sunday evening. The meetings were well attended and the impressive sermons delivered by Rev. Wood were listened to with great interest by all. At the communion services on Sabbath morning the following persons united with the church: Mr. Geo. W. Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. Jas. R. Clark, Misses Lizzie Greenslade, Marie and Anna Jackson, and Florence Klinefelter.

—Last Thursday night and early Friday morning this section was visited by a very heavy rain, amounting in some parts to almost a deluge. The early riser found nearly all of his portable articles afloat, in some parts of the town the sidewalks being submerged by the torrents. No damage of any account was done in this place; on the contrary we don't know but 'twas a good thing, as much of the filth and garbage that some people throw and drain onto the public streets and alleys was washed into the river.

—Jacob Smearbaugh offers his farm on Dutch Hill, two miles from Tionesta borough, for sale. There are over 30 acres cleared and under excellent state of cultivation, a large frame barn and excellent farm house, both new, a never-failing well, a splendid orchard of choice fruit trees and other advantages. Will be sold at a reasonable figure on very easy payments. Here is a rare opportunity for some energetic, industrious man who wants a good farm that don't need fixing up. Information can be obtained at this office.

—Hear them puff. The Bathgate, D. T., Sentinel says: "Residents of North Dakota are now reveling in the almost endless days which are part of our glorious climate and country. Just to think, ye of the east, of being able to read newspapers by the light of heaven, at ten o'clock in the evening. And then for it to become light again by three the next morning. This feature combined with the most superb climate make the region above the 46th parallel such an objective one. Truly, we of Dakota are favored mortals."

—An accident occurred at Russell's Mills, on Bear Creek, last Saturday, which may yet prove fatal. David Ritchie, who manipulates the edger saw, was struck in the breast by a board which was thrown by the saw with such terrible force as to fracture some of the bones and render him unconscious for some time. Dr. Towler of Marienville was summoned and rendered all possible relief, but at last accounts had little hopes of the man's recovery, he being doubtless internally injured. He is a single man aged about 25 years.

—The new school board of Tionesta borough met on Friday evening to organize for the ensuing year. The following officers were elected: President, G. W. Robinson; Secretary, J. W. Morrow; Treasurer, A. B. Kelly. There being a vacancy by the removal of H. S. Brookway from the borough, J. H. Dingman, of the north ward, was elected to fill the same. The new board now consists of G. W. Robinson, J. W. Morrow, A. B. Kelly, D. S. Knox, E. L. Davis and J. H. Dingman. An adjourned meeting was designated for next Friday evening, when the annual tax levy will be fixed.

—The second annual meeting of the State Grand Union, E. A. U., was held in Erie last week. Sixty-four unions were represented. Among the Grand officers elected for the ensuing year were: Grand Chancellor, E. Harvey, Oil City; Treasurer, R. Ed. Ashley, Meadville; Medical Examiner, Dr. Kugler, Sharon. The next meeting will be held at Evansburg, Crawford county.

—The Pittsburgh Oil Exchange is winding up its affairs preparatory to closing doors. The Titusville Exchange is also just on the verge of dissolution. It is only a question of a few short years, when the bull-ring in the oil country, around which the pikers have belloved so lustily for a decade will have become as silent as the tomb. All that kind of business will be done in New York, thinks the McKean Miner.

Probable New Oil Field. The old Hancock & Kennedy well on the Watson farm, Whig Hill, has been drilled deeper, and it is rumored that an excellent show of oil has been obtained. The well is on a good line, and those who have given it any attention will not be surprised if a good well is struck. The owners are putting up several hundred barrels of tankage, and making all outward preparation to open up a spouter. Reliable parties tell us they have some oil.

OBITUARY. Death of Rev. O. B. Clark. The many old friends of the well-known gentleman whose name appears above will be surprised and pained to learn of his demise, although many were aware that for some weeks past he had been in a critical condition. We get the following sketch of his interesting life from the Jamestown, (N. Y.) Evening Journal, of the 5th inst.:

The Rev. Orson B. Clark died at his home on East Fifth street at a quarter past eight o'clock this morning, after an illness lasting several months. His death has been expected for some time and yet when it actually came it was a great shock to the numerous friends he possessed in this village, where he has long occupied a prominent position and has been identified with every movement to further the best interests of the community.

The Rev. O. B. Clark was born in Hartwick, Otsego county, New York, September 14, 1810, and was consequently 74 years, 8 months and 21 days old at the time of his death. Much of his earlier life was, however spent in Pike, Wyoming county, New York. At Gainesville, New York, March 11, 1834, he was united in marriage to Diadama Webster, who survives him and with whom he duly observed their golden wedding last year.

Mr. Clark was in 1845 ordained a minister of the Universalist church and has held charges in many different places in this state. About thirty years since he removed to this county, where he was in charge of a church at Sinclairville, and afterward at Busti whence he removed to Tionesta, Pa., where he was at the breaking out of the war of the rebellion. He raised a company of fifty men and received a commission as captain and also as chaplain of the 88d regiment of Pennsylvania volunteers. He served with credit through the war, performing the duties of army chaplain in a way which gained him thousands of earnest friends. A part of the battles through which he passed are Antietam, Fredericksburg, Chancellorsville, Gettysburg, Rappahannock, Kelly's Ford, Mine Run, Preble's Station, Quaker Run, Five Forks, Wilderness Farm, Laurel Hill, Old Church, Cold Harbor and those before Petersburg. He received a wound at Meade's Station. After being honorably discharged in the spring of 1865, he resumed his duties as pastor; his last charge being at Portageville, N. Y. He removed from this place to Jamestown thirteen years since, and has since resided here. During his residence he has officiated on many occasions, but his health has not permitted him taking any regular charge. The Rev. Mr. Clark during much of his life was a teacher, and about forty years ago conducted a select school at Hornellville, N. Y., and afterwards taught at Canisteo. He has been feeble for some years past, and has failed much during the past winter. The last of March he gave up and has not been out since. His sickness has been almost entirely painless until within the last few days. His wife survives him and three children, Mrs. S. E. Woodin of Jamestown, D. W. Clark of Tionesta, Pa., and Mrs. J. D. Frank of Busti, N. Y.

The subject of this sketch has been a member of the Masonic order for the past forty years. He has also been an active member of the Grand Army of the Republic, having been the chaplain of Post Brown since its organization. Mr. Clark has been known by his unpretending charities and many an old soldier and his family have reason to bless "Chaplain" Clark as he was generally called for the assistance he has extended where it was most needed. He was a man of extensive reading and fine education. By his death Jamestown loses one of her oldest and most esteemed citizens.

The Fourth in Town. Some of the boys have arranged the following races and other attractions for the Fourth of July in Tionesta:

Seventh—Greased pole, $5.00 on top. If one or more succeed in getting to the top, money to be divided equally.

Races open to all comers. Starting point at Hopkins & Co.'s store. Stakeholder, L. J. Hopkins; Starter, C. M. Shawkey; Referee, W. A. Eagles.

Fantastic parade in the morning. A general and cordial invitation is extended.

Nebraska Notes. Nebraska was thrown in a state of excitement last Wednesday evening by the statement that one of our citizens had been attacked by a catamount, near the mouth of Sugar run. The gentleman in some what of a hurry to reach home, was taken by surprise. A call for help and a few well directed blows from a heavy pair of boots, kept the animal at bay, until the party in the rear came to the rescue. But, alas! the animal had fled. No harm done, only a fright. But we would advise anyone traveling that road after night to go well armed.

We regret the loss of another good citizen, Mr. McKengie. Has also moved his family to Lacy's Mills. McQueen of Pittsburgh will occupy the vacated house soon.

The heavy rain last Friday raised the creek here bank full. Nick. Went came near losing two valuable cows; but for the timely exertions of three brave young men they would have drowned. The rapid current swept them under a barge which was launched near by. With some difficulty they were rescued not much the worse for the bath.

The first game of croquet was played Saturday evening; the grounds were illuminated by four lamps. Plenty of natural gas, but none utilized at present.

Nebraska is going to celebrate the 4th by a grand old fashioned celebration, of which you will hear.
