Republican State Ticket.

FOR STATE TREASURER, MATTHEW S. QUAY. of Beaver County.

Republican County Ticket.

For Associate Judge, Hop, JOHN A. PROPER. For District Attorney, P. M. CLARK, Esq.

CANDIDATE DAY will not make any stump speeches. He is a sensible man. Talking against a Republican majority of 81,000 would be about as useless as whispering to a cyclone.

GEORGE WILLIAM CURTIS while doclaring that civil service reform started with the Republican party makes a very feeble apology for having voted the Democratic ticket last fall, and almost promises that he will not repeat the folly.

Ga., that Governor Pattison says "Philadelphia can elect Day as State treasurer." The Governor is right-Philadelphia can elect Day. It is not likely, however, that she will do any funny business of that sort this season. The dog days are over .- Phila. Press.

CHAIRMAN COOPER'S circular inviting Government clerks to contribute to the campaign fund has provokeb a clamor loud enough to enable Chairman Hensel to issue a similar invitation in behalf of the Democratic fund without being overheard. The holy horror with which the Democrats profess to regard Chairman Cooper's action indicates a virtue which protests altogether too much to be above suspicion.

In view of the fact that a leading spirit of the Standard oil company dominates President Cleveland's cabinet; that there are Standard oil company democratic senators from Ohio and West Virginia; that the principle owner of the New York Central, Vanderbilt, is a democrat, and that nearly all the principle officers of the Pennsylvania railroad are democrats, it must require some gall for the dem ocratic party of Pennsylvania to plume itself on being the "anti-monopoly" party. - Crawford Journal.

That Mysterious Case Explained.

The following explanation of the strange death of Fanny Squibbs, published in our paper last week, we find in the Oil City Blizzard:

Soon after the publication concerning her death, Mr. James Leasure, of Kittanning, visited Verona, announcing himself the brother of the dead woman, whose maiden name was "Dot" Lessure. The gentleman told the following history of her life: She was born at Pigeon postoffice, Forest county, in 1861, and resided with her parents on a farm for eighteen years. In 1879 she visited her brother in Kittanning, and while there fell desperately in love with James Cunningham, whom she married in opposition to the wishes of her friends and relatives. It was a case of marry in haste and repent at leisure. He neglected her and so ill-treated her that she was forced to return to the home of her parents. About ford months ago she again visited Mar. Leasure in Kittan. ning, and then left, ostensibly for hom. When Mr. Leasure saw the recount of her death he wrote to his mother, and finding that his sister had not gone home, at once concluded that the dead woman was she. He says that when at home she was a good conscientious girl. He had her remains removed to the family lot, and took the surviving child to his mother, who, he says, will cherish it as its own mother would have done.

A MENDMENT TO THE CONSTITUTATION proposed to the citizens of this Commonwealth for their approval or rejection by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, Published by order of the Secretary of the Commonwealth, in pursuance of the 1st section of Article XVIII of the Constitution.

Joint resolution proposing an amend-ment to the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania: He it resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, that the following is proposed as an amendment of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, in accordance with the provisions of the eighteenth article thereof.

AMENDMENT. That section five of article five of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, which reads as follows: "Whenever a county shall contain forty thousand inhabitants it shall constitue a separate judicial district, and shall elect one judge learned in the law; and the General Assembly shall provide for additional indges, as the business of the said General Assembly sha'l provide for additional judges, as the business of the said districts may require. Counties containing a population less than is sufficient to constitute separate districts shall be formed into convenient single districts, or, if necessary, may be attached to contiguous districts as the General Assembly may provide. The office of associate judge, not learned in the law, is abolished in counties forming separate districts; but the several associate judges in office when this Constitution shall be adopted shall serve for their unexpired terms, it be shall serve for their unexpired terms," be and the same is hereby amended, so as to read as follows: Whomever a county shall contain sixty thousand inhabitants it may contain sixty thousand inhabitants it may constitute a separate indicial district, and may elect one judge learned in the law; and the General Assembly shall provide for additional judges, as the business of said districts may require. Counties not forming separate districts, shall be formed into convenient single districts, as the General Assembly may provide. The office of associate judge, not learned in the law, is aboli-hed in counties forming separate districts and having more than one law judge; every other county shall elect law judge; every other county shall elect two associate judges, who shall not be re-quired to be learned in the law; but the several associate judges in office, when this amendment shall be adopted, shall serve for their unexpired term.
