He let it down the third time and again the flow raised it, but this time it must have met some obstruction as it exploded some distance down the hole, blowing the casing out and completely demolishing the rig. The concussion threw the young man a distance of some feet, while flying missiles struck him in several places. Dr. Hottel of Balltown was summoned, who found the man suffering badly from bruises, cuts and burns, but no bones broken. The Doctor thinks there is a chance for his recovery, but he is in a precarious condi-

COURT MINUTES.

In addition to the Court minutes given in our last issue the following cases were disposed of: Dawson vs. Cohb, verdict for plaintiff for $47.45. David Hunter vs. M. Fitzgerald, verdiet for defendant. Proper vs. Lacy, verdict for plaintiff. All the criminal cases were continued.

GRAND JURY PRESENTMENT. To the Honorable the Judges of Quarter Sessions of the Peace in and for the County of Forest, at September Quarte: Sessions, 1885.

The Grand Inquest of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, inquiring for the County of Forest, in all matters relating to the same, do report as fol-

That they have acted upon eight Bills of Indictment of which six were found true bills, and two were not true bills. We beg leave further to report: That we have visited and inected the County buildings and find the Court House in good repair, but recommend that the vault in the Prothonotary's office be enlarged by taking out a partition which devides it from a small room on the west side, suitably ventilating it by putting in a window, and making it fireproof, as in the vault in its present condition there is not sufficient room to store the county records, they are liable to be destroyed by fire or injured by dampness which accumulates in the vault on account of insufficient ventilation.

The stove pipe in the Treasurer's office is unsafe and requires some repairs. In some of the various offices in the Court House the ropes for suspending the weights in the windows are broken. We further recommend that the County Commissioners repair the stove pipes and windows men-tioned, and also that they repair the transoms in the jury rooms so that the said jury rooms can be ventilated. We beg leave to further report that the stove pipes in the jail are worn out, and cannot be used, and we recommend that new stove pipes and safes be placed in the jail, that the said pipe be rivited together and that the stoves in the jail be repaired.

We further report that the wall of the jail yard is not high enough to prevent the escape of the county pris-oners, and we recommend that the said wall be built four feet higher and slanting toward the inside. We beg leave to further recommend that the doors of unoccupied cells in the jail be kept locked.

We further report that the public road running from the line of Jenks township to Brookston, is, and has been for the last six months or more, in a dangerous condition, and we recommend that the Road Commissioners of Howe township repair it without delay. We further recommend that the repairs in the jail be made at once. We respectfully tender our thanks to the Honorable Judges and District Attorney for their courtesy and assistance rendered us during our deliberations. N. R. GROVES,

Let Him Wallow in his Mud.

ED. REPUBLICAN:-

I have watched with much pleasure the silent contempt with which you have treated the lying slanders against our old friend and candidate Judge Proper, sent out by that notorious slanderer, the editor of the Forest National. It has been a gratification to yours as well as the friends of the Judge, and we hope you will continue that course, believing it to be unwise to enter into any discussion with one who has brought with him to this community such a tainted record and maintained it so faithfully during his residence in our county. Let him wallow in his mud; he is already at war with his own party, many of whose best members have denounced him long ago and are continuing so to do. Besides, his slanders are having no effect except to bring to the Judge's support men who would otherwise oppose him on purely political grounds, it being evident that he is a man who will not dance to the music of, nor be lead by the editor of that sheet, which alone is no small card in any candidate's favor. I have conversed with very many Democratic voters of the county of late who assure me they will cast their ballot for Judge Proper if for to other purpose than to administer a rebuke to the one who would so slander an old and honored citizen of our county. Yours Respectfully.

[Our correspondent seems to hit the nail on the head in the above communication. A respectable political controversy between newspapers, discussing the merits of candidates is perhaps not out of order during a campaign, and a thing we have no objection to, but when mud-slinging, lying, slander, vile and unwarranted abuse of old and time-honored citizens is resorted as in this case, then we, with all respectable people want nothing to do with it. It is a notorious fact that when an editor resorts to abuse of a candidate from motives entirely per sonal, as in this instance, it never carries any weight with it; doesn't change a vote, unless in favor of the caudi date thus slandered. Judge Proper has thus far conducted himself in this campaign with a quiet respectful demeanor; acted in every way the gentleman that he is. It was a pleasure to note during last week, while many of the voters of the county were called here to court, how warmly his old friends greated him, and gave Salutation of the day: Did you go him their hearty assurances of support is a citizen of nearly fifty years' residence among us, during which time be has lent his time and means towards the development of our resources. To him is largely due the opening of the Balltown oil field, while the clearing up and improving of his farm on the hill has afforded him many days of quiet and peaceful recreation. All his business transactions are open and above board, and it is no trouble to find out just where he stands on all questions; furthermore his word is as good as his bond. Such a man dues not need defending against the vituperations of a noted slanderer. - ED.]
