LOCAL AND MISCELLANEOUS.

Condensed Time Table Tionesta Station.

Table with columns for NORTH and SOUTH, listing train numbers and times.

—Preaching in the Presbyterian Church next Sunday morning and evening, by Rev. Hickling.

—Preaching in the M. E. Church next Sunday evening by F. M. Small.

—Presbyterian Sabbath School at 9:45 a. m.; M. E. Sabbath School at 10 a. m.

—The hillsides are just now clothed in their most gorgeous array.

—Buckwheat cakes and pork sausage will soon be on tap again.

—Mrs. H. G. McKnight and two sons, of Oil City, are guests at S. J. Campbell's residence.

—No "chestnut accidents" as yet, although the average small boy has laid in a good share of his winter's supply.

—Fishing for bass is the choice pastime of these days. Catching 'em is another branch of the industry, however.

—A stone culvert has been put in at the head of Bridge St., next to Herman's store. The right thing in the right place.

—District Attorney Van Giesen has changed his mind about locating in Kansas, but expects soon to move to Edenburg, Clarion county.

—The bell was successfully placed on the M. E. Church last Thursday, and has since been performing its mission of calling the people to services.

—The band boys are resting their mouths while awaiting the arrival of their new horses, the ones they had having been pronounced n. g. by Prof. Crisp.

—Mr. T. C. Jackson has so far recovered from his apoplectic stroke as to be able to go about his room and converse with friends, we are pleased to note.

—Miss May Agnew's many young friends will be pained to learn that she is still critically ill, yet it is hoped she may soon experience a change for the better.

—Mrs. Geo. Morgan and grandson Charles, shipped their household goods to Oil City last week, where they will make their future home with Fred. Morgan.

—The borough board of directors, at its last meeting, adopted Smith's works on Physiology and Hygiene, in accordance with the provisions of the late law bearing on that subject.

—A game of base ball will be played in Oil City to-morrow between the Louisville and Allegheny clubs. Also one on Friday. Two such noted clubs will doubtless attract a large crowd.

—Rev. Wilder, who has many old friends in this section, spent a night at the house of Mr. Andrew McCray, on Heleman Flats, while on his way to his new charge in Jefferson county, a short time ago.

—Although the deer and pleasant season has been open for a week, our market has not as yet been glutted by either of these species of game. However, the grouse crop is said to be unusually good this season.

—The plasterers have finished their work on D. W. Clark's fine mansion, and the carpenters are again at work putting on the finish inside. Mr. Clark expects to move in about the first of December or sooner.

—The first little touch of winter struck these parts on Sunday last, and we learn there was a strong suspicion of snow in some parts back on the hills. Jackson Frost may be expected to put in his appearance in good shape most any day now.

—Bids will be received by the School Board of the Borough until Saturday evening for the janitorship of the school house for the present term. "No kindling fires with kerosene" will be about the only "swivel service" restriction under which the candidate will be placed.

—Mr. H. A. Adams leaves for Marion, Ohio, this week where, in company with Messrs. T. B. Cobb and J. T. Dale, he will build a mill for the manufacture of staves. The company has a good lay-out there, and will undoubtedly make a success of the undertaking, all being practical and experienced men in the business. Mr. Adams expects shortly to move his family to that place.

—"Golden Days" for October, is in the hands of its many delighted readers, and a welcome number it is. It is just the kind of literature that will keep the boys at home and out of mischief during the long winter evenings, and should be in every household where there are young folks. James Elverson, Publisher, Philadelphia, Pa.

—A new Catholic Church is to be built in this place forthwith. It will be located on the lot belonging to the Church on Vine St., above the old school house lot, and near Jared Huling's house. Stone for the foundation has already been hauled on the ground, and the fine edifice at one time used by that church at Pithole is being taken down and brought here to be rebuilt, the first load arriving yesterday.

—H. M. Irwin Esq., of the Franklin Evening News, and one of the most pleasing writers in the State, came up Saturday and remained over Sabbath at the residence of his brother, S. D., being accompanied by his two eldest sons, Dick and Hiram. He had the audacity to walk in on us Monday morning just as we were in the act of working the "no change" racket on one of our farmer friends who had left us a roll of choice butter.

—Many of the old judgments and mortgages, thinks the Franklin News, will be wiped off the books as soon as the act of the last Legislature imposing a tax upon them becomes operative. Judgments cost nothing except to reissue them, and many of them are kept on the books year after year in the hope that the person against whom they are entered will some day be worth something. As soon as the tax begins to run on these veteran judgments and doubtful mortgages, they will begin to drop off the books. The law went into effect on the 1st inst.

—Twenty-five per cent. of the new postal card is wood pulp and seventy-five per cent. fine rags. It takes about twelve hours to convert the raw material into the cards, and between 1,000,000 to 1,500,000 of them are turned out daily, giving employment to 130 women and girls. They come from the press in sheets of forty cards each. It costs $100 a month for the little paper bands that are placed about the bunches of 25 each. The new card has a water mark that will aid in the detection of counterfeiters. Even with a million turned out daily the demand is greater than the supply.

—Thomas P. Flynn and Miss Lizzie Berlin, both of Tionesta, were married by Father Carroll yesterday morning at St. Joseph's Catholic church. E. J. Meagher and Miss Myrtle Nellis acted as groomsmen and bridesmaid respectively. The bride wore a fine colored silk, and the groom was dressed in the conventional black. After the ceremony the wedding party were driven to the Collins house, where they received the congratulations of friends and partook of a wedding breakfast. They returned to Tionesta in the afternoon.—Oil City Herald, Oct. 1.

—An attempt was made, on Tuesday night of last week, to break into the depot at this place. The tool house near the depot was broken open and some tools and the hand-car taken out. A light of glass in the freight room was broken, but the window having had boards nailed over from the inside was not further disturbed. Hunter's barn had been entered and the bundles taken down, evidently with the intention of stealing one or both horses, but it is thought the burglars were frightened away, and their designs frustrated. On the same night the local telegraph line spanning the river was cut at both ends, doubtless the work of the same parties, thinking perhaps it was connected with some burglar alarm.

—It seems we were misinformed as to the injuries received by Earnest Giles in the torpedo explosion at Balltown last week. He escaped uninjured, but when it is understood that the casing in the well was blown to such a height that it resembled pipe stems, and that for several moments it fairly rained iron and stones, the narrowness of his escape can be imagined. On the evening following the above mishap, Tuesday, the 29th, Cyrus Murphy approached so nearly three wells on the Nickel Oil Co.'s lease with a lighted lantern that the gas from them was ignited, and two tanks containing about 600 barrels of oil were burned. The loss from these two accidents will reach about $3,000; part of which falls on our townsmen, Judge Proper and J. B. Agnew.

Otto Raisig Dead.

It becomes our sorrowful duty this week to chronicle the death of Mr. Otto Raisig, which occurred at his father's residence, Plumer, Pa., last Friday, 2d inst. Otto had been in rather poor health for several months past, but stuck to his bench in his brother Charles' wagon factory, this place, until about three weeks ago, when he went home thinking that a little rest and recreation would restore his waning health. But he gradually grew worse, typhoid fever set in and soon claimed him as its victim. Mr. Raisig was one of the best young men of our acquaintance; quiet in his disposition, very steady in his habits, always gentlemanly in his demeanor, and blessed with good common sense. His sudden taking off is sincerely mourned by all who knew him, as he was a general favorite. Quite a number from this place attended the funeral which took place on Sunday last. His age was 25 years.

Neiltown Nuggets.

To any who think Neiltown is on the decline, can be said they are badly left. While it is not the town it was during the oil boom, yet those who are left here are settling down to enjoy the harvest of the days gone by, and making such improvement as suits the tastes of our enterprising people.

The church has been repaired and adorned by a coat of paint, and is now rather an imposing structure, but some miscreant has been girdling some of its shade trees.

Hill, the Triumph butcher, makes his regular rounds dealing out all kinds of meats.

T. B. Machesney is rusticating in town at present.

Miss Ella Gorman was visiting friends the past week.

Mr. Wm. Paup has departed for oildom.

A few of our young bloods were covered by Barnum's main tent during the tornado at Titusville, yet all came home forked end down, and none the worse for it.

Mr. R. O. Carson, despite the magnificence of his present residence, is about to tear it down and replace it, as he says by a better one.

Mr. Burchfield has made some improvements upon his house.

Rumor has it that Ham Bowman has finished his oats harvest.

Our town sorely feels the absence of Maj. Woodcock and family. But our loss is Titusville's gain, and to any who may visit the city and desire first class accommodations and be well entertained socially, we recommend a call on the Major. XENOPHON.

—In August, 1878, C. A. Wood & Co. commenced the manufacture, in Philadelphia, of the now well-known Philadelphia Singer Sewing Machines. At first they only made ten machines a week. Their business has steadily increased, until now they are probably the largest manufacturers of this style of machine in the United States. They do business on a liberal and just basis. They sell a three-drawer, drop leaf and cover machine for the low price of twenty dollars, including all the extra attachments, and warrant them for three years. They offer to send one to any responsible man or woman, to be tested in their own house two weeks before they pay one cent. This is certainly a fair proposition. They have found this way of doing business more satisfactory than to do as other companies do who charge forty to fifty dollars for machines, and pay agents twenty dollars apiece to sell them. We advise all in want of a machine to send for circular and testimonials. Address C. A. Wood & Co., 17 North Tenth Street, Philadelphia, Pa.
