

A LIGHT OF OTHER DAYS.

INCIDENTS IN THE LIFE OF TOM MARSHALL.

The Kentuckian Who Moved Crowds With His Eloquence and Made Night Hideouts with Orgies.

"Tom" Marshall, of Kentucky, was a marked character in his day and time, but died, like Reverdy Johnson, without leaving, so far as can be ascertained, any record of his career.

It was in the fall of 1859, after the Indian summer of the Northwest had passed and gone, and the air had become sharp and chilly, when Tom Marshall made his appearance at St. Paul, Minn.

Among the hundreds of fine places in Woodford county, Ky., there are none which show up to better advantage than the old Harper home, and there is certainly no spread of horseflesh to be found anywhere upon the face of the earth that will equal what is to be seen there.

Although unkempt, unshaven and untidy, bearing the appearance of a man with whom fortune had dealt neither gently nor generously, Tom Marshall held himself proudly.

When the evening arrived for the delivery of his lecture upon George Washington, Mr. Marshall appeared early under the influence of "the rosy."

Meeting him in the street one day he stated he had just learned a lesson in politeness. He had met an Indian, he said, clad in all the gorgeous array of paint, feathers, trinkets and blanket.

One cold, stormy evening Marshall put in an appearance at the Winslow home, evidently suffering the effects of a protracted debauch.

Tom Marshall happily broke the significant silence by loudly exclaiming: "Landlord, what time do you have supper?"

"Supper at 7," he ironically replied the host, the clock pointing to a quarter to 7. A dead silence fell on all around, which, as the clock struck 7, was interrupted by Mr. Marshall, who, thrusting his hand into his pocket, extracted a set of false teeth, and snapping them viciously into his mouth, shouted: "Now bring on your supper and be hanged to you!"

How Tom Marshall managed to get away from St. Paul nobody ever knew, but the next time the writer met him was at Nashville, Tenn., during the spring of 1864, after the defeat of Hood's forces by General George H. Thomas.

Mr. Len Piles, a citizen of Sullivan county, is the owner of a mad-stone, says a letter from Vincennes, Ind. It is gray in color, full of pores, and almost as light as a piece of paper.

NEWS AND NOTES FOR WOMEN.

Mrs. Henry Ward Beecher is writing a book.

Fashionable ladies in Paris now wear short silk socks instead of stockings.

Narrow colored ribbons round the neck are a very pretty caprice of fashion.

Bustles have probably reached their maximum in size for at least six months to come.

Green in various subdued shades is a leading color in fall and early winter fashions.

The small capote, with a high crown dressily trimmed, is the favorite head-gear for visiting.

For evening wear and garden party toilets young ladies wear one small tuft of natural flowers in the hair and another on the shoulder.

Very fine silk tulle veils are now to be procured in every color; instead of the thick dots they are ornamented with small woven-in rings.

The only woman railroad official in this country is Miss Laura Braden, treasurer of the Washington and Waynesburg railroad, in Pennsylvania.

The great banking house of the Rothschilds at London, employs mainly women, claiming that they are more reliable and accurate in their work than men.

The latest thing in parasols are covers of printed handkerchiefs with heraldic patterns, so laid over one another that the points fit in exactly between each other.

Blouse waists, with their broad gimps and fancy trimmings, have been the means of again bringing into fashion large embroidered collars.

In Garfield county, Colorado, there are 737 unmarried men and only sixty-eight unmarried women.

Gloves are not worn so soiled this season as they were last, and there is a disposition to revert to French kid, after a course of Suede.

The women of Thibet, who are permitted to wear any color except green, purchase corals and pearls to ornament their head-dresses, which are the most costly part of their attire.

Neapolitan straw bonnets are liked because of their coolness and lightness, and are shown in black, beaded with small lead beads, and trimmed along the brim with pink or yellow roses that are veiled with Chantilly lace.

In many English factories the girls are robust as young athletes. An R. A. once declared that he never found such splendid physical development as among the factory girls in the slums of Stepney.

The tendency to make waist and sleeves of different material is more and more manifest. For instance, in a satin and lace costume, the bodice was satin and the sleeves were lace.

Braided piques are new this season, and are much liked for young ladies. The braiding is narrow Hercules or wide outouché braid, covers the flat front and sides of the dress, the vest, the cuffs and the collar.

A new fashion is just beginning in Paris. The trimmings of the high hats are all to be placed at the back, and the effect is just as though the hat had been put on with the back to the front.

In Germany a servant has one Sunday out every two weeks. There is an understood hour for her to come home, and if she stays out later she loses her next Sunday holiday.

An old style revived is the initial cuff-button. The new buttons are an improvement on the old-time button with its staring single letter.

A peculiar custom in the Cape Verde islands is noted by a recent visitor there. His hostess was smoking a cigarette, when suddenly she drew it from her lips and offered it to him.

The treatment of eruptive fevers receives advantage from the wet sheet pack.

The cold douche to the head is the best remedy for the ravings of delirium tremens.

Acute mania, cerebral congestion, and sunstroke require the ice-cap, cool compress, or mild douche to the head.

Glycerine soap for chapped hands, lips, etc.: Take toilet soap, slice and melt with gentle heat, and add to one pound of soap one ounce of pure glycerine; when sufficiently cool make in balls.

"In 1880, while practicing in Madison county, Illinois," says a writer in the St. Louis Medical Journal, "I was induced by the representations of an old woman to make the trial in dysentery and diarrhea of table-spoonful doses of pure cider vinegar, with the addition of sufficient salt to be noticeable, and it acted so charmingly that I have never used anything else."

The Famous Notre Dame.

On the 30th of last January, the Sisters of the most noted Catholic ladies' seminary in the United States, the famous Notre Dame, at Govanston, near Baltimore, Md., made public a card, certifying to the beneficial results attending the use of Red Star Cough Cure in that institution.

A Cincinnati man has invented a powder which sprinkled upon small oysters will cause them to swell up into large and juicy bivalves.

ALCOHOL WAS NOT INVENTED and minerals were never used medicinally in the days of old. Invigorating and alterative herbs were then the only curatives.

The school teachers of the United States draw wages to the amount of $60,000,000 yearly—an average of $400 each.

"One Nail Drives Out Another," is a French saying that finds exemplification in the way one disease will substitute itself for another and graver one, in very many cases.

Yours Friends will Never Tell You, but perhaps somebody, who isn't your friend, will, that your presence is rendered offensive by the foul, fetid smell of your breath.

What Sporting Men Rely On.

When Lewis R. Redmond, the South Carolina mountaineer, cornered, after eight years eluding the government officials, was asked to surrender, he exclaimed: "Never, to men who fire at my back!"

Before he was taken, five bullets had gone clear through him, but strange to relate, he got well, in the hands of a rude backwoods nurse.

By the way, if Garfield had been in the hands of a backwoods nurse, he might have lived. A heap of volunteer testimony against the infallibility of the physicians has been accumulating of late, and people are encouraged to do their own doctoring more and more.

Before Detective Curtin, of Buffalo, caught Tom Ballard he "covered" him with his revolver. Tom saw the point and tumbled!

Joe Goss was "covered" a few weeks ago and he tumbled, and so did Dan Mace. Death "fetched 'em" with that dreaded weapon—kitchy disease.

Take all in all.

- Take all the Kidneys and Liver Medicines.
-Take all the Blood purifiers.
-Take all the Dyspepsia and Indigestion cures.
-Take all the Ague, Fever, and bilious specifics.
-Take all the Brain and Nerve force restives.
-Take all the Great health restorers.
In short, take all the best qualities of all those and like wood, my limbs were puffed up and filled with water.

Hardened Liver. Five years ago I broke down with kidney and liver complaint and rheumatism.

Poverty and Suffering. "I was degraded down with debt, poverty and suffering for years, caused by a sick family and large bills for doctoring."

Why Not Try It. If you have that extreme tired feeling, weakness, loss of appetite, indigestion, heartburn, headache, or other symptoms of dyspepsia, why don't you try Hood's Sarsaparilla?
