LOCAL AND MISCELLANEOUS.

—East Hickory "rhymes" will appear next week.

—Ducks have not been plenty as usual on the river at this time of year.

—There is nothing of importance to report from the Everhart tragedy this week.

—Tionesta station now has a night operator, which will be appreciated by our citizens.

—April came in on her good behavior. She took warning from the shameful conduct of March.

—Miles W. Tate Esq., who was confined to his house with illness for a few days past, is again able to attend to business.

—Blum & Bennett have just completed two nice wagons at their shop, one of which has been sold. The other will go to the first customer.

—The roads are very bad. An old citizen says they are worse his way than for seven years past. And the same may be said of all the roads.

—Bro. Hoskins of Bathgate, D. T., says the third member of his family is the foreman of the Sentinel. All right, Bob; we reluctantly stand corrected.

—A big slide on the railroad opposite town made it necessary to transfer passengers at this station yesterday. Everything running smoothly again this morning, however.

—Thos. W. Corah has purchased the Arner hotel at Kellestville, and will occupy it in the near future. We understand the Judge contemplates moving to Tionesta this summer.

—Mr. I. N. Muncy was here last week talking up the beauties of Washington Territory, with a view to getting up a colony. He left a good impression on those with whom he met.

—Chas. Raisig has moved into George Haslett's house on Vine St., just vacated by Mr. Fulton, who now occupies C. M. Arner's house, the latter having moved to his farm near Whig Hill.

—The river has twice been too high for safe rafting within the past week. It is now booming high with several "Alleghenies" lying at this point waiting for it to go down some. Fourteen fleets started out on Monday.

—W. H. Frost of Frost's Mills, we are sorry to learn, is suffering from a recurrence of an old complaint—some disorder of the stomach. Mr. Hedden of Frosts has also been on the sick list, but is around again.

—Mr. J. R. Chadwick expects in a few days to have ready for delivery the second volume of Blaine's great political history, "Twenty Years of Congress." The heavy demand for the work has caused no little delay in its delivery.

—The April number of "Golden Days" is issued, and has its usual fund of sparkling literature for the young folks. It takes the lead of all publications of its kind and is deservedly popular. James Elverson, Publisher, Philadelphia, Pa.

—Reports reach us that in the vicinity of Tidioute as well as in places in our own county a peculiar kind of a cold is prevalent. In the case of children all the symptoms of whooping cough are present except that it does not seem to be contagious. It is pronounced by some physicians to be a bronchial pneumonia.

—The Grove Brothers assisted by Zach. Shriver and George Hood, completed a good well for Holman & Hopkins at Grand Valley last week. The Messrs. Grove have a good lease in that territory which they will commence to operate shortly.

—Mr. Geo. F. Watson was in town Monday. He expects to occupy his new purchase, the A. B. Kelly place, within ten days or two weeks. Mr. Kelly will shortly move into the Winans house, which he will occupy, until his new house is built.

—As Memorial Day comes this year on Sunday, the Department of Pennsylvania have issued a general order, stating that in compliance with an act of Assembly passed in May, 1874, and the rules and regulations of the G. A. R., the day would be celebrated on Saturday, May 29.

—This is a year of Friday's. It came in on a Friday, will go out on Friday, and will have 53 Fridays. There are four months in the year that have five Friday's each; changes of the moon occur five times on a Friday, and the longest and shortest day of the year each falls on a Friday.

—The Rev. R. Pearse of Edinboro, will address the Royal Templars of Temperance in open Council at the Court House, in Tionesta, on Monday evening, April 12, 1886, at 7:30 o'clock. Having formerly resided in Pleasantville and formed an extensive acquaintance in this place, it will no doubt be interesting as well as instructive for the people to come out to hear him. All are cordially invited to attend. The lecture will be free.

—The pigeons have been flying in the vicinity of Marienville lately and the many pigeon hunters there are very desirous that they locate in the vicinity. There is plenty of such as the birds feed on in the woods there, and it is likely they have chosen a location somewhere in the vicinity, but just where was puzzling the hunter there last week. When the pigeons first appeared there was considerable snow in the woods—probably too much for the birds to find good living with anything like comfort.

—An extension of the Balltown oil field is confidently expected in the near future. James Welsh, who has been operating on the Schooley lands quite extensively during the past winter, has, it is said, a number of wells about ready to come in which are expected to open up things in lively shape. The belt is gradually working down the creek, and during the coming summer operations in that vicinity will doubtless be very brisk, and the production from Forest county is likely to be materially increased.

—An exchange says that the public school law now in force in this State provides that the use of profane or obscene language by any pupil shall constitute good cause for expulsion from school, also that any pupil who shall cut, deface or otherwise injure school houses, fences or outbuildings thereof, is liable to suspension and punishment and the parents of such pupils shall be liable for damage for the amount of the injury, on complaint of the teacher, the amount to be determined by the directors and collected through the courts.

—The mouth of the creek is now about clear of lumber, the water having settled down to about the correct stage to let all out who wanted to go. On Sunday there was as much, and we believe more, lumber and timber at the mouth as was ever there at one time, the creek being full to Forge Island, so that one could walk the entire distance and cross anywhere without the use of a boat. The jobbers all had splendid luck in running on the creek, losing little if any lumber. If they have as good success on the river they ought to come out ahead.

—By notice published elsewhere in this issue it will be observed the substantial firm of Robinson & Bonner has dissolved, Mr. Bonner retiring, and Mr. Robinson continuing the mercantile business at the old stand. His well-known reputation for honest, square dealing will continue to hold the extensive trade which the firm has enjoyed ever since they have been in business here. Charles will take a short season of rest during which time he will look the western country over to see what there is in store for a wide-awake business man. We hope he will conclude that Tionesta is good enough for him and finally embark in some enterprise here.

—The Jenks school board will open their schools on April 19, all with the exception of the Gilfoyle school which will open some time in May or first of June. The teachers are: Marlen, Ella Leech; Gaul, S. F. Rohrer; Byrom, Emma Colby; Rose, A. J. Salade; Gilfoyle, Agnes Kerr. All the teachers except Miss Kerr have been hired for the year. Wages are $40, payable in unseated orders. Miss Nellie Davis, who is at present at Jamestown attending school, expecting to graduate from there in June, will teach the winter term at Gilfoyle.

—We are sorry to learn of the death of T. C. McGregor of Frosts. Mr. McGregor was in the employ of Mr. Frost and at the time of his death and for six months previous and perhaps longer was in Pittsburgh attending to business there. His death resulted from pneumonia. He was buried at Frosts where his family reside. He was an energetic enterprising man, always found interested in anything looking to the improvement of the community, especially of an educational, intellectual, or moral character. We are without further particulars.

—A Pleasantville correspondent writing to the Titusville Citizen has the following to say on the natural gas question: Parties representing the Oil City Fuel Supply Co. have been in town canvassing for consumers of natural gas. The company, so their agent stated, would bring their line into town provided seventy five consumers could be obtained. We understand that before the agent left town over one hundred names had been secured to the list circulated. This should be sufficient to secure us the gas. It seems that there are other conditions imposed by the Company before fulfilling their part of the agreement, the most important of which is the requiring of our Council to grant them the exclusive privilege of laying their pipes within the borough limits. This is a horse of another color, and our town council will do well to carefully consider the question before deciding. Should such rights be granted them it would enable them to charge any price they might choose for their gas, and our citizens would be left without redress. Application will be made on April 6th to the Governor of this State for a charter by a company at Tionesta, who propose to bring their line into our town. Would it be justice to debar this company from coming, and that, too, before they had been able to show what they could do for us in the way of furnishing our town with cheap fuel?

Sudden Demise.

Last Thursday morning Dr. Morrow, Coroner, was summoned to Hunter Station, because of the sudden death of a man named Andrew D. Thompson. It appears the man has been at work in that neighborhood for about a year, living in a shanty or hut, built on a small stream known as Pierson run, his son aged about 19 years living with him. On Thursday morning the two got up as usual, the young man preparing the breakfast, to which they had sat down and begun eating, when suddenly the father gasped and fell backward over the bank on the edge of which he had been sitting. The young man ran to a neighbors for assistance but on returning they found the man had expired. Under these circumstances Dr. Morrow deemed it his duty to hold an inquest, and accordingly impaneled the following jury: G. W. Zents, Foreman, H. H. Shoemaker, J. C. Hoovler, J. B. Muse, D. G. Hunter, C. G. Huff, who returned a verdict to the effect that "death resulted from natural causes."

The man was aged 61 years and had a wife living in Oil City, but had not lived with her for some time. The but in which he lived or existed, was scarcely large enough to allow of an ordinary man to stand erect in it or lie down at full length. The bed consisted of a few hemlock boughs and a little straw, and was in every way insufficient to provide the warmth necessary to good health. There is scarcely any doubt but the exposures of the past winter, together with the trouble of mind caused by the condition of his domestic relations, hastened his death.

—Spring Dress Goods, Hats, Notions, Croquet, Base Balls, very low prices. Just received at Wm. Smearbaugh & Co.

Nebraska Notes.

Quiet reigns supreme, or seemingly so, after three weeks of a busy rafting season. Mr. J. Russell yet holds the fort. The rafting of seven more timber rafts will complete the jobs for this spring.

A protracted meeting was in progress for the past two weeks, but closed on account of the muddy roads and bad weather.

Everel Collins returned from a short trip to Philadelphia, where he consulted a physician in regard to the condition of his lungs; the result is not encouraging, and he will be obliged to leave off studying for one year at least. Everel bears the disappointment bravely; he has the heartfelt sympathy of his many friends who trust he will recover his usual health.

T. D. Collins is having a new front added to the store and making general improvements, which will add much to the convenience and appearance of the building.

Mr. Wm. Jones shipped his house hold effects on a raft en route for Pittsburgh, his former home.

We are informed that Dr. Allison of East Hickory will take charge of the gristmill shortly; he proposes moving his family and becoming a resident of our town.

We feel much flattered in the marked interest which "Ezekiel of Kellestville," takes in "Nebraska Notes." As an excuse will plead an over pressure of business through the day, and attending the meetings of the past two weeks. No doubt the fair sex appreciated the gallant assistance of April 5, 1886. JOHN.

Brookston Items.

Our town is progressing. Miss Rachel Cole of Gusher City has been spending a few days with friends here.

Boss Dixon, of the Forest Tanning Co. informs us that they will erect, as soon as the weather will permit, a new store and twenty-five new buildings, which will add greatly to the improvement of the town. They are also intending to peel a larger quantity of bark than usual.

Byron McClure still attends to the bookkeeping and clerking of the Forest Tanning Co., and is just as "noisy" as ever. OBSERVER.

Pigeons in Forest County.

A gentleman interested in sporting matters writes that large flocks of pigeons are "nesting and feeding on Spring creek, in Forest county. There have been but a few birds killed here. We have examined the eggs taken from some of them and find them to be about the size of No. 2 buck shot and the pigeoners say from the size of these eggs that the birds will not be ready to nest for a week yet. We have heard that the Tennessee birds have hatched and we are now looking for this body of birds. There are a number of pigeoners as well as we shooters in this vicinity who are anxious to have the birds protected. The pigeoners are going to raise a purse to hire two or three parties to watch the nesting and arrest any and all parties who violate this law. They have asked us shooters to contribute something and to assist them all we can in enforcing the law."—Oil City Blizzard.

Some Alligators.

From a Palatka, Florida, paper of recent date we find the following items which has some local interest on account of the Dr. Stillson mentioned being a resident of Tidioute and quite well known to many of our citizens:

A party consisting of Mr. Jas. Bounds and wife, Mrs. J. E. Hazlett, Misses Leila Bounds, Gussie Sanford, Carrie and Lon T. Hazlett, of Palatka, and Geo. T. Stillson, Dr. R. H. Stillson, H. H. Babcock and wife, Mrs. C. H. Babcock, of Rochester, N. Y., chartered one of Capt. J. E. Lucas' steam yachts yesterday, and made quite a trip up the St. Johns and Ocklawaha rivers and Dunn's creek and around the Seventeen Islands. The party were much delighted with the beautiful scenery and had rare sport in shooting a number of alligators, bringing two very large specimens back to the city with them, one of which measured 11 feet in length and would probably weigh over 400 pounds. Besides these they killed a number of smaller alligators, and the entire party are very proud of their trophies.
