

Republican Ticket.

COUNTY. Congress, Hon. J. B. AGNEW. (Subject to action of District Conference.) Assembly, CHARLES A. RANDALL. Treasurer, SOLOMON FITZGERALD. Surveyor, HENRY C. WHITEKIN. Coroner, Dr. J. W. MORROW.

The country hears very little of Perry Belmont nowadays. We suspect this interesting juvenile statesman has fallen back into the polo habit again.

THERE is a good deal of sympathy in London for Horizontal Morrison. We don't see that this is going to help matters in the able tinker's district, however.

EX-SENATOR DAVID DAVIS died at his home in Bloomington, Ill., on Sunday last. He had many friends in both political parties, owing to his honesty and purity.

THE Democrats are boasting at present of the wholesale slaughter of pension bills by President Cleveland. They will sing another tune when they want the soldier vote.

It is reported from Chicago that the Anarchists in that city are more active than ever, and not at all subdued by the occurrences of the past two months. The discovery has been made that large numbers are drilling nightly, and the slightest public agitation may lead to another deadly outbreak. The authorities have had sufficient warning from experience, and it will be wholly their fault should more lives be sacrificed. A little energy now, would, doubtless, prove the best thing.

THE Republican State Convention meets at Harrisburg to-day, and will place in nomination a candidate for Governor, Lieut. Governor, Secretary of Internal Affairs, Auditor General, and Congressman at Large. General Beaver will doubtless be nominated by acclamation, while the indications seem to point to Major Montooth of Pittsburgh, for Lieut. Governor. Col. A. Wilson Norris, of Philadelphia, stands a good chance for the nomination of Auditor General, but as to the balance of the ticket there seems to be considerable uncertainty. At all events the winning ticket will be named and it will be one that will command the united support of the Republicans.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

From our regular Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 26, '86. Mrs. Cleveland held her first informal at home from 12 to 1 o'clock Thursday morning. She had with her Miss Gregg of Buffalo. Mrs. Cleveland wore a becoming costume of cream colored camel's hair cloth. It had a side panel of ivory silk cords woven into a lattice work. The cuffs, collar and deeply pointed yoke were of black velvet. The steady down pour of rain prevented the non-official resident society people from paying their respects, as they desire to do, and as a fine day would have brought them out in full force.

Mr. Randall has prepared a tariff bill, but has not yet decided what to do with it. Some of his friends are said to be pressing him to introduce it in the House and attempt to secure its passage. This would, however, let the reformers in and open up the whole question, which he is not disposed to do. It is probable that he will not introduce the bill unless Mr. Morrison adopts some tactics which seem to promise the getting up of the question any how. Should Mr. Morrison or some friend of the worsted manufacturers on the other side bring out a bill to correct the defects in the law above mentioned, the tariff would surely be discussed this session, and Mr. Randall would introduce his bill or have it introduced.

Two wedding presents for the President and Mrs. Cleveland have arrived at the White House from Antwerp—a 100-year-old Dutch clock for the President and a valuable Belgian French black poodle dog for the bride. The presents were from Mr. Von der Boek, the agent of the Red Star steamship line. The duty on the presents was $26, twenty dollars on the dog and six dollars on the clock. The clock was not visible to-day, but the poodle enjoyed romping about the White House grounds in charge of St. Clair, the President's valet. He is a very handsome dog—for a poodle. He is jet black, with the exception of a little white spot on his breast, and is sheared with the exception of his woolly head, the tip of his tail and his ankles. The hair is very fine and curly and thick. He is about as large as a good sized bull dog, with long thick body and short legs. Mrs. Cleveland, it is said, first saw the dog at Antwerp and took a fancy to it.

The Democrats, after their little family fight Tuesday came into the House Wednesday morning in perfect good humor. When Mr. Morrison moved to take up the resolution for a change of rules, Mr. Reed opposed its consideration, saying he wanted the House to take up the sundry civil bill. This was an attempt to get Mr. Randall, who has the bill in charge, on his side. But Mr. Randall took position with Mr. Morrison, and told the republican leader that he would take care of the sundry civil bill. Just now he wanted this resolution passed.

The Lickingville Murder.

The following communications appeared in the Clarion Democrat of last week in answer to former ones written from Lickingville:

NEWMANVILLE, June 14th, 1886. EDS. DEMOCRAT:—I notice an article in your paper of June 10th, in regard to the Everhart tragedy. The writer, Dr. Phillips, seems to convey the idea that a committee appointed to expose and punish the perpetrators of that terrible crime, should at various times during the investigation, furnish the public with a complete account of their proceedings, thereby keeping the public continually informed as to the proceedings and plans of the committee. Now every intelligent citizen in the county or elsewhere, should surely have a better idea of the manner in which such a crime should be ferreted out. In ferretting out such a crime the facts of the case should not be made known until a convenient time, or until the guilty party or parties are arrested and secure. On the other hand, if the proceedings and plans of the committee are made known before the guilty parties are secure, it would necessarily give the guilty parties such information as they desired, thereby giving them an opportunity to evade the plans of the committee and serve to keep the public in utter darkness as to the facts in the case. But the persons who contributed to the investigation fund or reward may rest assured that at a convenient and proper time the committee will furnish them with a full and complete account of the proceedings of that committee, showing that every dollar of either the investigation fund or reward was properly handled in bringing the perpetrators of the crime to justice, or was used in an earnest effort in that direction. In the article referred to the eminent writer from Lickingville says: "There is apparently no effort made to bring the party or parties to justice." It is the object of this piece to inform the public that the committee are putting forth every effort in their power to bring the guilty parties to justice. The eminent writer further states that the people in Lickingville and vicinity feel grieved at the way the matter has been managed. We cannot see what the people or the writer of Lickingville are grieved over, unless it is because they do not know the proceedings and plan of the committee. It is our opinion that this would naturally grieve people so ignorant as to think that the perpetrators of that murder could be brought to justice in just a few months. It takes time to reveal such mysteries. The writer from Lickingville also says that the reward has never been published. We wish to inform the doctor that the committee prefer to employ persons who are skillful in ferreting out murder cases and that they do not purpose to employ such impatient people as the writer from Lickingville.

ONE INTERESTED.

A VOICE FROM FOREST. NEBRASKA, Forest Co., June 19. EDS. DEMOCRAT,

Dear Sirs:—Two separate articles in reference to the much desired detection of the perpetrators of the Everhart tragedy have appeared in your paper; (one in the issue of May 20th, and the other by Dr. Phillips of Lickingville, under date of June 10,) which I would like to notice through your columns.

The first one referred to states that no one seems to care whether this black spot in our county's history is avenged or not. The statement is apparently, correct so far as citizens of Clarion and immediate vicinity are concerned.

A gentleman, now residing outside of your county limits, spent several days in trying to raise funds for this purpose; that is, to defray the expenses of investigation, and when he came to the town of Clarion, a place proverbial for its wealth, whose inhabitants seemed very anxious and even clamorous for the arrest and conviction of the guilty party or parties, he found their generosity to consist of words alone; for he failed to procure one cent in the town. Then those same liberal, openhearted creatures have the audacity to inquire of the committee, "What has been done with the money?" Whose money? Theirs? Decidedly no.

I know of no place better adapted to purposes of burglars and murders than Clarion Co., Pa., as they appear to be perfectly safe from arrest and punishment if it threatened to wring a penny from the purses of those noble free-hearted people, as the transaction under consideration clearly shows.

Again, in Dr. Phillips' communication he takes the committee to task about the money. I would repeat the question—Whose money? Dr. Phillips? He did not contribute one farthing. It is an easy matter to spend others money.

Perhaps it would not be amiss to state a few facts in this connection.

Outside of the Everhart family and relatives, there was contributed to the fund to pay expenses of investigation, $35 by two persons in Lickingville and $45 by four persons living in the neighborhood of Tylersburg, making a total of $80 paid by six persons living in Clarion Co. With the exception of one family, no one in the county has paid a cent beyond the immediate relatives of the murdered women toward a standing reward.

Permit me to say a word here to the credit of "Little Forest." Her citizens gave freely, several hundred dollars to the first mentioned fund and they don't ask "what has become of their money." They have confidence that it will be judiciously expended and that in due time all will be right.

Should any of those six persons residing in Clarion Co., who gave of their means, feel dissatisfied about the disposition of the same, their cash will be refunded upon application to the party to whom they paid it.

No insult is intended by this offer, but merely to show that the funds so far have not all been squandered.

In conclusion, I would like to ask, is it wise to "proclaim from the house tops what is being done in the secret chambers?"

D. LANCELL'S ASTHMA AND CATARRH REMEDY.

SOLD BY ALL DRUGGISTS. Having struggled 29 years between life and death with ASTHMA or PHTHISIS, treated by eminent physicians, and receiving no benefit, I was compelled during the last five years of my illness to sit on my chair day and night gasping for breath; my sufferings were beyond description. In despair I experimented on myself by compounding roots and herbs and inhaling the medicine thus obtained. I fortunately discovered this Wonderful Cure for Asthma and Catarrh, warranted to relieve the most stubborn case of Asthma in five minutes, so that the patient can lie down to rest and sleep comfortably. Please read the following condensed extracts from unsolicited testimonials, all of recent date: Oliver V. R. Holmes, San Jose, Cal., writes: "I find the Remedy all and even more than represented. I receive instantaneous relief."

E. M. Carson, A. M., Warren, Kan., writes: "Was treated by eminent physicians of this country and Germany; tried the 'climate of different states—nothing afforded relief like your preparation.'" T. E. Gates, County Treasurer, Philadelphia, Miss., writes: "Have used the Remedy. Would not live without it. Every one that uses it recommends it."

We have many other hearty testimonials of cure or relief, and in order that all sufferers from Asthma, Catarrh, Hay Fever, and kindred diseases may have an opportunity of testing the value of the Remedy we will send to any address trial package free of charge.
