LOCAL AND MISCELLANEOUS.

—Little Minnie Reck is paying her grandpa and grandma a visit.

—A cow belonging to Tommy Hasey was killed by a passing freight train last Sabbath.

—Mrs. Alex. Bonner and children of Stoneboro, Pa., are the guests of Charlie Bonner's family.

—Alex Dale came home from McKean county on the Fourth, and is now making a full hand in his father's harvest field.

—The law firm of Messrs. Agnew & Clark has been admitted to practice before the Interior Department at Washington, D. C.

—Mr. T. J. Bowman of East Hickory, is announced in the Vindicator as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Assembly.

—"Golden Days," bright, sparkling and interesting, for July, is issued. Subscribe for it. James Elverson, Publisher, Phila., Pa.

—Dr. C. M. McEwen and H. K. Miller, of Plumville, Indiana county, paid their friend L. J. Hopkins of this place a visit last week.

—Hon. Willis B. Benedict, of Enterprise, Warren county, paid a short visit to Judge Irwin on Monday. He was accompanied by his wife and son.

—By reference to our list of patents it will be observed that Mr. Everett Collins of Nebraska, this county, has secured a patent for a circular sawing machine.

—Mrs. A. B. Kelly is spending a couple of weeks at that delightful resort, Allegany Springs, near Irvineton, being accompanied by the younger members of her family.

—Rev. J. H. Morrow, wife and daughter, of Wahoo, Neb., are paying Dr. Morrow's family a visit. Rev. Morrow occupied the pulpit of the Presbyterian church last Sabbath morning and evening.

—Mr. H. M. Irwin of the Franklin Evening News, came up Monday and remained the guest of his brother over night. Mrs. Irwin and children, who have been visiting at the Judge's for the past ten days, accompanied husband and papa home yesterday.

—The celebrated lawsuit of Watson et al vs. Berry et al, which was taken on a change of venue from this county and tried in Warren week before last, resulted in favor of defendants. The case was tried before Judge Cummin of the Locoming county bench.

—Miss Maud Davis was in Warren Wednesday last on her way from Tionesta to Chautauqua. Where she is engaged as pianist for the season. She is well fitted for the position.—Warren Mail. And the management is certainly to be congratulated on its choice.

—E. E. Clapp, of President township, was summoned yesterday to Ocean Grove, N. J., by a dispatch announcing the death of his mother. Mrs. Clapp, who was the widow of the late Rev. Ralph Clapp, must have attained an advanced age.—Franklin News, 7th, inst.

—We acknowledge the receipt of a handsome remittance from our old friend John C. Jones, of Camden, Ala., which sends his subscription up to Sept. 1887. Mr. Jones, we are pleased to note is doing well in his present quarters, and wishes to be remembered to all his old friends here, of which he has many.

—Morris the Tailor, of Oil City, expects to visit Tionesta next Monday, July 19, with full and handsome line of samples, which he guarantees to make up in the latest styles at prices lower than ever offered before. He will be at the Lawrence House. Call and see him.

—Mr. H. J. Hopkins and wife departed yesterday for San Francisco, Cal., expecting to remain in that lovely clime for at least a month. Mr. Hopkins is a member of the Grand Commanders' staff, G. A. R., and will be present at the grand reunion of that organization, which is to take place there.

—We observe by the proceedings of the recent Republican State convention that ye editor was designated as Forest county's member of the State Central Committee. Since General Beaver had a dead sure thing on the gubernatorial nomination we are inclined to be reconciled with this as our share till the next time.

—Hon. Charles E. Taylor, Venango county's popular President Judge, came up the first of last week to open up the woodcock season. He returned home on Wednesday with a nice bag of this gamiest of birds, after a good day's sport, fully demonstrating to his friends that the sweltering heat has no terrors for him when the woodcock is on the wing.

—The next important event for Tionesta will be the Free Methodist camp meeting, which commences here on the 18th of August, and continues one week. The ground selected for the meeting is Robinson's grove, the same that was occupied the last time, six years ago. Any one wishing tents for the occasion should make application to Rev. Schooley of this place.

—The hauling of the pipe the for Tionesta Gas Co.'s line has been going on for the past two weeks, and the distribution of the pipe along the route will be completed in a short time. As soon as this is done ditching and laying will begin, which, with a large force of hands will speedily be accomplished. Before the weather gets very cold our people can turn on the gas, from present appearances.

—Mr. J. T. Brennan has had printed, for the convenience of tax collectors, proper notices for posting as required by the late act of assembly, which makes it obligatory on all collectors to post at least ten such notices in their respective townships. Collectors should avail themselves of the opportunity to procure these blanks. Mr. B. also has a new supply of Constable's Sale blanks.

—The borough school board met on Friday evening last to select teachers for the ensuing school year. A large number of applications for the respective departments was handed in, from which the following were selected: Advanced school, C. H. Donnell, of Cooperstown, Venango county, Pa.; Intermediate, Miss Alice Brennan, of Tionesta; Primary, Miss Agnes Kerr, who has taught the same school for the past four years.

—Samuel D. Irwin Esq., has compiled and had printed a "Manual and ready reference for township road commissioners, road-masters, tax collectors, auditors and justices as relating to roads," together with the road laws in force in Forest county. It is designed particularly for those who have to do with the roads in this county, and obviates the necessity of searching "through a mass of pamphlet laws to find the laws relating to Forest county." It is neat and compact, and well worth the price asked, 50 cents per copy. To be had at the Prothonotary's office.

—A dispatch from Sheffield to the Warren Mirror, under date of July 10th, says: One of the most destructive forest fires that ever visited this section of the country is now raging near here in Forest county. The fire originated in a large bark slashing in which was piled several thousand cords of bark. About sixteen hundred cords of bark, together with several lumber camps, are now burned and the fire is not yet under control. Horton, Cray & Co., who own the bark, have a hundred men fighting the fire, and it is thought it will be under control before night.

—The Rev. Wm. Stout, Warton, Ont., states: "After being ineffectually treated by seventeen different doctors for Scrofula and blood diseases, I was cured by Burdock Blood Bitters." Write to him for proof.

—John N. Heath, son of Mrs. W. R. Coon, and nephew of Mr. Wm. Heath of German Hill met with a very serious accident on the 29th ult. He was driving Mr. Heath's team to Balltown with a load of produce, and when passing the Brush Camp pump station the horses took fright at the escaping steam and ran away. The wagon and Mr. Heath were thrown over a steep embankment, the latter under. When rescued he was found to be in unconscious condition. Dr. Siggins of this place was summoned who found, among other injuries, the left thigh bone broken. The fracture was reduced and the patient left in as comfortable condition as possible. At last accounts he was getting along quite well.

—Last Wednesday morning Dr. Coburn and family took their departure for Minneapolis, Minn., in which booming city they intend to make their future home. In the Doctor's departure our community loses a good citizen, one who always attended strictly to his own affairs and never meddled with the affairs of others; a successful, faithful and untiring physician who had a large practice, and promptly attended his professional calls in bad as well as in good weather. The ladies will miss a very estimable and agreeable member of society in Mrs. Coburn's absence, and the young men and boys will be minus two popular companions in Byron's and Carl's departure. We join their large circle of friends here in wishing all a prosperous and happy future.

—Three fishers for suckers are fishing. One works in Dauphin county. He is selling common salt put up in jars as a "stump exterminator." He sold lots of it. Directions were, bore a hole in the stump, put "the powder" in and let it remain six weeks, then set fire to the stump. No. 2 is the lightning rod man in revised form. He has been doing up the innocents of Butler county by putting rods on their barns and then insuring the building. The insurance policy turns out to be a promissory note, filled up with an amount corresponding to the richness of the victim's farm. No. 3 is a dentist; he pulls teeth free of charge when a set of artificial teeth is ordered. He collects half the price of the teeth, all round, and then pulls out for other stumpy fields, leaving his victims sans teeth and sans cash.

A Fiendish Outrage.

On Monday evening last, about half past four o'clock, as some of the children who attend the Minister school located on the banks of Tionesta creek opposite Kellettsville this county, were returning home, and as they were passing along on an old road not frequently traveled and had gotten about a mile back on the hill from the creek they were met by an unknown man. There were four or five children, and as he passed them he put his hand on the heads of one or two, until he came to Katie Miller, aged 12 years, and a daughter of Mr. E. D. Miller. To her he said, "I am going to take you down to Tobey's," (meaning Mr. D. B. Tobey's place, on the creek bank near the school house) and took hold of and held the girl. This frightened the other children, who ran on to their homes and gave the alarm. It was perhaps half an hour before help came, and then, too late; the fiend had accomplished his hellish design and fled, while his young victim was making her way home as best she could, and was met on the way by her brother and some other men. She was taken home and cared for, and was found to be in a delicate, though not dangerous condition.

Search for the villain was immediately instituted and has been in progress ever since, the entire neighborhood being stirred up to a high pitch. Up to yesterday evening no clue had been found. The children's description of the man is that he wore a pair of dirty pants, old shoes, and had on a mask made of a piece of cloth that looked like part of an undershirt, with simply two holes cut for the eyes. The girl says that he smelled of oil; he asked her if she knew him and she replied that she didn't. Evidently the perpetrator is acquainted in the neighborhood, and doubtless had his plans fully laid for his fiendish act. The parents of the outraged girl are among the most estimable in our county, and are almost frantic over the affair. It is sincerely hoped the villain may be speedily brought to justice.

The Everhart Murder Again.

The Clarion Jacksonian gives the following account of the arrest of two men for complicity in the Everhart murder:

On Saturday last a man giving his name as E. D. Ward, and presenting credentials as a member of Pinkerton's detective agency, arrived in Clarion and solicited the aid of Sheriff Wheelock to arrest two men whom the detective claimed were the parties who murdered Mrs. J. S. Everhart and her mother, in Washington township, last April. On Saturday evening Ward and Sheriff Wheelock left town and the same night returned with a man named W. D. Norton, whom they had arrested near Lickingville, having rudely snatched him from the bed of a straw widow who resides in that vicinity, and with whom Norton has been making his home for some time past. On Sunday the Sheriff and detective went out on another expedition, and on Monday returned with another man named W. W. Wilson, whom they had arrested in the vicinity of Cochran, Crawford county. Both men demanded a hearing and this was granted them. Thursday, July 15th, being fixed as the date, Norton has been circulating between Lickingville and the Kane oil field for some time past. The reputation given him by the people in the vicinity of Lickingville is none of the best. It is said that he was in that vicinity prior and up to the date of the murder, and was then missing for two weeks. He claims to be a detective, and laughs at the idea of being arrested for the murder. Of Wilson we know nothing, but he appears to be equally indifferent to his arrest.

Many stories are afloat, but little can be known until the hearing, when something may be developed. Ward appears to be positive that he has the right parties, while the prisoners seem to be just as positive that they will be acquitted. There is nothing in their conduct to indicate that they have the least concern as to the result. The theory of the murder is that Norton, who was in the neighborhood, knew that Everhart held the poor funds of the township; that he secured the help of Wilson, whom he knew, and that the two planned a robbery, and waited for a convenient time when Everhart would be away from home; that the attempt was made and Norton was recognized, and the result was the murder of both the women to seal their lips. This is the theory. What the real facts may be, or what can be proven remains to be discovered, and until that time we refrain from making any comments as to the guilt or innocence of the prisoners.

THE FOURTH.

The third of July, 1886, seems a matter of so long ago that it is hardly worth talking about now. But it is only fair to state that a goodly crowd of people were in town and seemed to enjoy themselves quite extensively. The program was carried out as arranged, the fantastic parade being first in order. There was a good turnout and considerable fun was afforded the spectators. Mr. Tate's speech was well received and heartily applauded. The races commenced at one o'clock and were quite exciting. The winners are given below in the order in which they came in:

Boys race, 6 years old and under—A. Ruth, L. Blum, B. Fitzgerald. Boys from 7 to 10 years—Davey Blum, J. Thomas, W. Fitzgerald. Boys from 11 to 15 years—Burt Thomson, John Varner, M. Rhodes. Free for all race—J. Cosgrove, Byron Coburn, Jim Thomson. Hurdle race—Jim Thomson, E. Mealy, Burt Stevens. Wheelbarrow race—Byron Coburn, Jim Thomson, Geo. Hood. Sack race—Chas. Nellis, Sim Hood, E. Mealy. The tub race was won by Will Morrow. The greased pig was let loose and taken on the first jump by Elmer Mealy, and the case with which he held it would indicate that it had been "greased" with rosin and pitch. The horse race ended in a dispute which has not as yet been settled. But perhaps the most interesting event of the day was the laying out of the young fellows by the married men in a game of base ball, the score standing 12 to 13 in favor of the latter.

And thus ended the Fourth—or third, rather—of July in Tionesta this year.

Kellettsville Items.

If the villain who molested the school girl yesterday is caught we hope little Forest will set some other counties an example in speedily giving him his dues.

Mr. A. B. Root of Hickory was in Kellettsville this morning with some fine potatoes of his own raising.

Mrs. Lyman Cook and family returned home Saturday after a pleasant visit among relatives here.

Drilling was begun on the well at Minister last evening. The well spoken of in our last, as being located near the tannery, will be put down directly back of Chas. Whiteman's. Our people are laying in an extra supply of sleep, as they hardly expect to be able to get any after Kellettsville becomes a full fledged oil town.

A partially blind organ grinder stopped here one day of last week; after amusing the boys a while they liberally dropped their coin, much to the poor man's delight.

A party of ladies and gentlemen from Olean and Portville, N. Y., are rustivating at a pleasant spot above Newtown. They are relatives and friends of Mr. Wm. Dusenbury, and from indications appear to find camp life delightful.

Mr. G. W. Robinson and Mr. Chas. Bonner are in Kellettsville to-day. July 13. EZEKIEL.

An Exquisitely Lovely Thing.

A most bewitching picture is being brought out, entitled "Little Sweethearts." Probably no picture in any part of the world has ever met with such an outburst of applause. It is being brought out by Graham & Millar, Art Publishers, 146 Centre Street, New York. Everybody is sure to want one. They want good agents. Here is a chance to make lots of money. Boys and girls during summer vacation can make a little pile. It isn't often we recommend anything, but "Little Sweethearts" is praised by the best people in the land.

Jobber Wanted.

We want an experienced jobber to stock our mill on Hunter Run. Pine, Oak and Hemlock. Good prices will be paid to the right party. Cash monthly. COBB & DAVIS, Tionesta, Pa., July 13, '86. St.
