LOCAL AND MISCELLANEOUS.

—Mr. W. P. Wagner, Fagundus' popular postmaster and general merchant gave our town a flying visit Monday.

—Rowland Cobb is putting up quite a commodious building next to the depot, in which he proposes putting a stock of merchandise.

Lost—On July 6th, a gold chased bracelet. The finder will be suitably rewarded and graciously thanked by returning same to Mrs. J. W. Jamieson, Tionesta, Pa.

—The Republicans yesterday nominated Hon. O. C. Allen of Warren for State Senator in the district composed of Warren and Venango counties. A splendid choice.

—The election this year will come on Tuesday, November 2d, and it is noted as a singular fact that it will not occur again on this day until the year 1897, eleven years hence.

—Mrs. S. C. T. Dodd of New York has been the guest of her sister, Mrs. J. A. Dawson at Stewart's Run, for several days. Yesterday the two ladies went to Warren, Pa., to visit a few days with relatives there.

—The contest for Forest county's instructions for State Senator in this district promises to be lively in Democratic ranks. T. F. Ritchey of Forest, J. B. Newton of Cameron, O. B. Grant of Elk, and J. H. Wilson of Clarion, are in the race.

—Prof. Geo. R. Dixon, of Ridgeway, and Mr. P. J. Swain, the Democratic nominee for Assembly in Warren county, were in town last week. And the REPUBLICAN acknowledges a pleasant call from them.

—On Tuesday of last week, during the storm, lightning struck and ignited the large saw mill of W. Byrom & Co., at Byrom Station, Jenks township, this county, burning it to the ground. We are without particulars, but understand the loss was very heavy.

—We are in receipt of the premium list of the Venango County Agricultural Society, for the seventh annual fair to be held at Franklin, Sept. 7, 8, 9, and 10. The Society promises that this shall be the best fair yet held by it, and if so it will be worth going miles to see.

—Mr. Chas. U. Brett, a former well-known Tionesta boy, but now of Olean, N. Y., passed up the river on the train on Friday last. It was Charley's first glimpse of the town since his removal, fifteen years ago, and he had a longing to stop off and "shake" with old friends.

—Mr. Wm. E. Morgan departs today for New York, where, on Saturday next she will sail for London, England, to pay her old home a visit. She expects to be absent during the greater part of the summer, and her many friends here will wish her a pleasant voyage and a safe return.

—Geo. Osgood, Constable of Kingsley township, writes us that he intends to enforce the law relative to the destruction of Canada thistles, and asks that his brother constables in the several townships of the county do likewise. It is a very commendable move and it is hoped there will be a general raid made upon this dangerous weed.

—Mrs. Frank Moore of Olean, N. Y., is paying a visit to Mrs. C. M. Shawkey.

—Quite a number from this place took advantage of the excursion last Sabbath to visit the soldiers in camp at Warren. Another excursion will be run on Friday next, which will give all along the line a chance to pay a visit to the encampment. It will be the biggest day of all, as Governor Pattison, General Beaver and Ex-Gov. Hartranft will be there.

—Mr. D. W. Clark, of our borough is announced in last week's Vindicator as a Democratic candidate for Congress in this district. While we haven't the slightest doubt but that Webster would be a vast improvement on the last two Democratic incumbents, we hereby serve notice on him that the Republicans will, some of these fine days, name the man for that place.

—The following in regard to the fee charged for money orders under five dollars in accordance with an act of congress just passed, is given, and will take effect at all money order post-offices on Monday, July 26, 1886. The act in question provides: "That the fee for each domestic money order not exceeding in amount five dollars, shall be reduced from eight to five cents."

—Will Morrow is having quite good success with the new soap he is introducing among the citizens of this county, and has received quite a number of good testimonials from those who have tried it. Mrs. Wm. Longstreth of Green township, writes: "I like the soap very much; I tried it to-day, and think it splendid." Others are equally enthusiastic in its praise. Housekeepers should give it a trial.

—Last evening Tionesta Lodge, No. 369, I. O. O. F. entertained Complanter Lodge of Oil City. They chartered a special train to bring the members up and take them back after the evening was spent, and while here the Oil City boys were treated to the best the market affords. Doubtless the visiting brethren left with pleasant memories of the hospitality shown them by the members of Tionesta Lodge.

—Mr. C. A. Howe, accompanied by his wife and son, and Miss A. W. Brazin, of Boston, arrived in town last evening, and will take up their abode in Mr. D. W. Clark's vacant house in the north ward. Mr. Howe is the gentleman who has charge of construction and will superintend the new tannery at Kellestville, and we are glad to know that he will make Tionesta his home. Such citizens are always heartily welcome here.

—A circular sawing machine has been patented by Mr. Evers S. Collins, of Meadville, Pa. The invention consists of a circular saw mounted on an arbor supported by a counterbalance, with pivoted levers for swinging the saw upward to a cutting position on the table, the device being adapted to promote convenience for use in a limited space, as the saw can be placed below the level of the table when not in use.—Scientific American.

The above is doubtless correct with the exception that Mr. Collins is a Forest county boy, but made application for his patent while attending college at Meadville.

—Peterson's Magazine for August opens with a beautiful steel-engraving, "Morning Among the Mountains," followed by a double-size colored fashion-plate, and this by a colored pattern for embroidery. In addition, there are some fifty wood-cuts of fashions, work-table patterns, etc. We do not see how any lady can do without this magazine. Everything it gives, from its steel-engravings and original stories down to its fashions and work-table patterns, is the best of its kind. Terms, only Two Dollars a year. Address Charles J. Peterson, 306 Chestnut St., Philadelphia, Pa.

—Major Goodman, guardian of the U. S. mail in transit between Garfield and Balltown, reports that one day the past week he was beset on the way to Balltown by three would-be highwaymen who demanded the mail pouch. Not recognizing their right to demand or receive or distribute or otherwise appropriate or make use of this item of Uncle Sam's property, the Major responded by shooting one of the gang, and during the confusion ensuing, brought the mail off the field all safe and sound, leaving the robbers to take care of their wounded. A posse of men soon after investigated the scene of the encounter and vicinity but without results. The mail contained at the time about $100 worth of stamps for use in the Balltown Office.

—Chas. Raisig has disposed of his carriage and wagon factory in this borough to Messrs. Joseph Scowden and Joseph Clark, two of Tionesta's energetic and enterprising young men. Mr. Clark has been with Charlie for several years, and has become master of the wagon and carriage making trade and is fully competent to conduct that branch of the business in a satisfactory manner; while Mr. Scowden is one of the first class blacksmiths of the country, and as fine a workman as can be found anywhere. Both are young and full of energy, and will push the business for all there is in it. They have the good wishes of all our citizens in their new proprietorship. Mr. Raisig has built up a good reputation in this section as a business man and number one citizen generally. He goes to Wilkesburg, Beaver county, Pa., to engage with his brother Louis in the carriage making business exclusively. We bespeak for all a prosperous future and deserving success.

Whig Hill. On Thursday last a party from Whig Hill were about starting to go over to Starr for cherries. They were in a hack. Mrs. Elva Berlin and Mrs. Sager, wife of Rev. Sager, were of the party, and were seated in the back seat of the hack. The horses, unexpectedly to them, stepped up quickly, and the seat not being securely fastened, tipped up and backward throwing both ladies out of the hack backwards. They struck the ground on their heads turning completely over. Mrs. Sager sustained no injury beyond a severe shaking up, but Mrs. Berlin was quite badly hurt; so much so as to be confined to her bed, and to be unable to help herself to any extent.

Frank Gillespie is nursing a broken collar bone. The book made use of in the barn to unload hay with the hay-fork broke and struck him, inflicting the injury mentioned.

Ed. Gillespie brought his reaper and binder from over in Crawford county, and is sowing wheat with the same. It works like a charm, so to speak.

The people of Mayburg had a rain of about 2 1/2 hours on Thursday evening last "what was a rain." Tionesta creek swelled a little, and Dusenberry made use of the rise (it was not a good one) to get down logs from the mouth of Bobbs Creek.

July 19. Marienville.

Mrs. Weiden, we are sorry to say, is very sick. Mr. H. H. McClellan has been on the sick list, but is much better.

The Fourth passed off very quietly, with the exception of a small fight in the evening, but no one hurt.

Miss Shultz is paying her brothers a visit.

The show in Reck's hall was largely attended.

M. C. Caringer has the lumber on the ground for a large store building.

Col. Ameler's store is going up very fast. Mr. Milt Graybill is building it.

Mr. James Bigley has started a barber shop in Reck's building.

There will be a grand musical concert given in the Presbyterian church next Friday evening.

We understand the oil well at the "wind-fall" will be down in a few days.

Mrs. Z. S. Himes is paying friends in New Bethlehem a visit.

The saw mill belonging to Mr. Byrom was struck by lightning and burned to the ground, on Tuesday last.

July 19. Kellestville Items.

John Heath, the young man who was injured by the runaway at Bobbs Creek, is improving slowly but as well as can be expected.

The Free Methodists, who have been holding meetings on Whig Hill for a week, baptized six persons last Sunday in the creek at the foot of the hill. Four by immersion and two by sprinkling.

Lightning struck the house of John Wilson, who lives near Mr. Pierson's, during a recent storm. Mrs. Wilson was thrown from bed by the shock but none of the inmates were seriously hurt. The bolt followed the stove pipe and then passed through the floor and killed two dogs who were sleeping under the house.

A lawsuit before Esq. King attracted several of our people last Thursday. The parties were C. Ikenberg and J. Wolf. We believe it was concerning the sale of some hay, and ended in favor of latter named gentleman.

THE EVERHART MURDER.

From the Derrick of last Saturday we get the following summary of the testimony brought out at the hearing of H. H. Wilson for complicity in the Everhart-Gillilan murder:

At 10 o'clock the proceedings were begun by counsel for the prosecution asking the court for a continuance in the case of Norton, on the ground that an important witness by the name of E. F. Leekey was not present. After considerable argument between counsel and the examination of several witnesses as to the importance of his testimony the court granted a continuance until the 27th of July, at which time Norton will have a hearing. Wilson was then brought into court and the investigation began. He is 48 years old, is five feet and seven inches high, medium build, has a hollow complexion, small nose and wears a jet black wig. He lives in Townville, Crawford County, and has a wife and seven children. He was arrested by Sheriff Wheeler, of Clarion County, assisted by the detective, Norton is a man about 40 years old, stands five feet and nine inches high, has dark complexion, regular features and has iron gray hair and mustache. He claims to be a detective and says he has been connected with different firms. It is said he did a little detective work at Jojo among the whisky men who were selling without license. He was arrested at 1 o'clock on the morning of the 4th at the residence of Mrs. Helsey in Washington township near Lickingville. On the day of the murder he left home between 7 and 8 o'clock in the morning; did not return until 5 o'clock in the evening; found his mother-in-law with throat cut, lying on the floor; afterwards found his wife with her throat cut at the spring house with her face lying in the water; said there was $300 in the house, together with notes and securities amounting to about $1,300. He testified to the blood stains on the doors, and his testimony was about the same as given on previous occasions. The cross-examination failed to elicit anything new, only that the Everhart was the custodian of all money about the house, which she kept up stairs on the kitchen loft in an old coffee pot with some beans while a small amount was secreted in the false back of a picture in the adjoining room. The next witness called was Mrs. Achelle Hays, a widow near Lickingville and about 60 or 70 rods from the Everhart residence. She was at the barn about noon the day of the murder, and on returning to the house noticed a man going into the gate of the Everhart residence. He was walking with a cane and wore a light gray coat, heavy long sleeves. She learned of the murder about 5 o'clock that night; went to the house, and in her opinion they had been murdered about two hours. The cross-examination failed to shake her testimony, but she said she could not identify the man who by the color of his coat, F. S. Weeter was next called. He lives in Venango county, one-half mile south of the Whitehall school house; defendant came to his place on the evening of the 8th of March in a buggy; said he had come from Lickingville; his horse was quite warm and very muddled, indicating that he had been driving fast. The appearance of Wilson was nothing to excite suspicion, but was cold and chilly. Wilson showed that night in the Whitehall school house. Mrs. Susan Weeter, wife of S. F. Weeter, was next called to the stand. She heard of the Lickingville murder that same night after the post had been put to the story; her husband told her, but did not know where he got his information; defendant asked for a piece of linen cloth and to trade knives with her son; she made fun of the old knife, when Wilson said he had another knife. Wilson went from there to Maple Hollow. The cross-examination was not a very pleasant one between the witness and counsel. The latter was of the opinion that witness' memory had become greatly impaired upon certain points, while she objected to having so many questions asked her. The next witness examined was George Sheffer, who lives in Salem, lowland, Clarion county, about three miles north-east from Whitehall school house. He saw the defendant on the 8th of March at Eli Sheffer's house, which is about four miles from S. F. Weeter's house; he was traveling in a buggy; had a poor horse and was going very fast; saw a man next day going to Maple Hollow; gave an exhibition at Salem on the 12th of March four days after the murder and stayed all night at Sheffer's; after supper were talking when they heard a rustling noise at the window which scared the ladies of the house. The defendant remarked that some things did not excite or scare him; he put on his boots and went out doors; was gone 15 minutes. The defendant then told a story to the effect that himself and partner were counting money one night; heard the same kind of a noise; they both dropped to the ground and waited awhile, when they discovered that it was only their other partner who was to meet them. Witness lives 15 miles from Lickingville. Mrs. Sheffer, wife of the witness who just testified, took the stand next. Her testimony was simply a corroboration of her husband's, only that she thought he was very nervous and could not get a sound look at his eyes. Mrs. Minerva Carter was the next witness. She has been a widow for the past 15 years and lives above Oil City on the Clapp farm and is a cousin to the defendant by marriage. Wilson came to her house either on the 9th or 10th of March, he was in an excited condition and said that he had just come from within two and a half miles of where the murder was committed; she noticed that he had a bandage around one of his wrists and that his face and neck were badly scratched. On being asked how it happened he said he fell out of a buggy. He said he had saved over $200 in the business; had stayed frequently at her house, but was anxious to get away this time. By his anxious manner her suspicion was aroused. She further testified that a year ago from this time that the defendant was staying at her house and examining a large set of knives, and asked what she thought of that. There was considerable levity brought out on the cross-examination. Her religious proclivities savored strongly of spiritualism, but she denied that the spirits had anything to do with the making of this story, or that she read in the stars. She said that Mrs. Everhart brought the detective to her house about 10 days ago, when she told all she new about Wilson. At this point the commonwealth rested and the court adjourned until 8 o'clock this morning, when the counsel delivered their pleas. The jury rendered their verdict at 4 o'clock this afternoon and held Wilson for trial. Kribbs, a local light in the detective business in this vicinity, says he can arrest a man within 24 hours and produce evidence enough to convict him of the murder and is very anxious to try his hand.

In a letter written a few days before the hearing to the editor of the Meadville Tribune, to correct certain rumors, Wilson says he demanded an immediate hearing on his arrest, but he could not get it. He writes further: "The complaint charges that one Norton and myself were the parties who murdered and robbed the Everharts, near Lickingville on the 8th day of last March.

"As to Norton I know nothing of him, as I never saw him until I met him here on the 6th inst.

"One of the county papers says that the theory is that Norton, who used to live in Crawford county, but was then stopping about six or seven miles from there, knew about the money and must have known me and got me to help do the job. As to his guilt or innocence I can't say, but he claims to be able to prove an alibi. But the charge of my complicity in the act is false, as I will be abundantly able to prove whenever I am given the opportunity. I had been away on a business trip for several months, and was returning home through Venango county, and can fully substantiate by a score or more of witnesses, that I was in Rockland and adjoining townships on the 6th, 7th, 8th and 9th of March, and can prove that on the 8th I left a certain place about 9 o'clock, and also that I was at a place three miles from there between 11 and 12 and was at a certain other place one and one-half miles further on between 12 and 1, and left there after 2 p. m., and reached a place six miles further on at 4 and stayed there all night, and these places are from 25 to 28 miles from the scene of the tragedy, and as the roads were bad at the time it makes further comment on my part unnecessary. I told where I was that night and their detective went down there, and after hunting around for half a day he found one of my bills, and he told me on his return that he was satisfied that I had been there."

Wilson asks a suspension of judgment until all the evidence is in. Norton's hearing will take place on the twenty-seventh.

BILIOUSNESS. Bilious symptoms invariably arise from indigestion, such as furred tongue, vomiting of bile, giddiness, sick headache, irregular bowels. The liver secretes the bile and acts like a filter or sieve, to cleanse impurities of the blood. By irregularity in its action or suspensions of its functions, the bile is liable to overflow into the blood, causing jaundice, sallow complexion, yellow eyes, bilious diarrhoea, a languid, weary feeling and many other distressing symptoms. Biliousness may be properly termed an affection of the liver, and can be thoroughly cured by the grand regulator of the liver and biliary organs, BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS. It acts upon the stomach, bowels and liver, making healthy bile and pure blood, and opens the culverts and sluiceways for the outlet of disease. Sold everywhere and guaranteed to cure.
