WALLACE is looming up as the probable Democratic candidate for Governor.

THE list of Democratic candidates for the gubernatorial nomination has been decreased during the past week by the withdrawal of Colonel McCormick. Each Democratic party still has a candidate in the field, however, and that makes a pretty large crowd.

THE conviction and punishment of the Chicago Anarchists have seemed beyond doubt from the very start : but no one anticipated such an overwhelmpointed postmaster of his town. The cation he had described admirably. Itain pipes, etc., and have, possess and enjoy all the rights, benefits and privileges of said Act of Assembly and its supplethis sort of thing by this time. If every harmless crank who wants to be appointed postmaster could be arrested it would no doubt add to the President's personal comfort, but it would make a tremendous hole in the Democratic party.-Phila. Press.

Ir is interesting to note that at Albany Friday last, while the applause for the President was "sincere and emphatic," that for Governor Hill was "vociferous and almost continuous." The ladies favored the President, while the men preferred to cheer for the Governor. Cleveland occasionally raised his hat, while Hill sat and received the applause in silence, which provoked a street urchin to yell, "Why don't you take off your hat? Look how his nibs does it!" "His nibs" is a delightfully simple Jeffersonian appellation for the Chief Magistrate of the United States.

THE New York World says that many a dealer who places a $10 advertisement in his village paper begrudges his investment, when it is worth double to him what he pays for it. Advertising rates in city papers would astoniah such business men. One column in the Chicago Tribune costs the advertiser $26,000. The New York Herald receives for its lowest price column $39,563, and for its highest $54,890. The New York Tribune for the lowest $29,754, and for the highest $85,648, and these papers it is stated never lack for advertisements to fill their columns. And still there are lots of people who wonder why a country newspaper cannot be furnished to subscribers at as low a price as the great dailies are sold for .- Mail.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

Washington, D. C., July 23, '86.

From our regular Correspondent.)

day without reaching a vote. The dekeenest satire at the poor but honest furnished within the time specified. dairyman, as described by Senator Miller. The latter had pictured the dairymen as a class of superlatively honest people, suffering from dishonest competition. Mr. Ingalls held up two vials of coloring matter, the labels of which guaranteed would impart a tint of the highest grade Jersey to white butter, and make it worth five cents more per pound. After dwelling with some emphasis upon the uses of these fluids, Mr. Ingalls remarked that the "honest dairyman" was not averse to practicing a little fraud himself.

When he again held up the vial and bridge at the mouth of Tionesta Creek. Said repairs to consist in removing eleven courses of stone off the right hand pier, and rebuilding the same, and to furnish any other stone that may be necessary for the building of the same, together with all building materials. Also repairing the wooden ice breakers, and the raising of the shore span of said bridge with sufficient staging to keep it in its place so that travel over the bridge may not be impeded during the building of the pier. When he again held up the vial and peded during the building of the pier.

The Commissioners reserve the right to preparations were made in Burlington, Vermont (the home of Senator Edmunds), the sedate Senate relaxed into roars of laughter, in which Mr. Edmunds joined heartily. But Mr. Miller could not see anything of an ing array of testimony against them as that brought forward by the prosecution. Nothing less than a miracle can save them now. Their incendiary utterances alone entitled them to punishment, but their use of bombs, poisoned daggers and other foul means doubly entitles them to the worst fate possible under the law.

Miller could not see anything of an amusing character in it. He arose to reply with a very serious countenance and a voice betokening anger. He suggested that there must have been rehersals for the scene just then enacted, and said Mr. Ingalls antics reminded him of his boyhood days when he used to see the itinerant peddler on training days auctioning off his bogus whose character and object shall be the transporting and shipping of petroleum, The man who was arrested in Albany on Thursday for following the President around turns out to be a harmless crank who wanted to be appointed postmantary of his town. The bear him out in the assertion that he had not indulged in any personalities.

He then charged that Mr. Miller had the strongest personal interest in the pending bill, as he was a dairyman He said the spectacle was presented piles. in both houses of this bill being urged by men directly interested in it, as the chairman of the House committee on agriculture also owned a dairy farm. Senator Platt's attention was called the other day to the criticisms which have been made upon his assent to the postponement of the open executive session resolution until December and the inference that he had abandoned the matter. "I moved that it be postponed," said be "because I am more concerned in getting favorable action on it than in merely securing a record of the Senate.
