Rev. Darius Toby has moved with his family from Minister to Mayburg, and occupies the boarding house there lately kept by Mr. McMurtrie. He has a timber job there, and besides will keep a store. Mr. McMurtrie has moved to Minister and occupies Mr. Toby's house.

Pleasantville correspondence of Titusville Citizen: A number of our sportsmen are hunting in Forest county. We may expect on their return an abundance of game or numberless tales of adventure that would put even the fertile imagination of Baron Munchausen to shame.

What everybody wants is a nice Christmas present for their friends. You can get just what you want at H. J. Hopkins & Co.'s. Cheap. 2t.

The veteran editor, W. R. Johns Esq., now an attache of the vigorous Oil City Blizzard, was circulating among friends in Tionesta last Friday. Brother Johns grows more genial as the years roll by, and his reminiscences of early journalism in the oil regions are very entertaining.

The first break-up of the season occurred yesterday, when the ice went out of the river. The river was not frozen over, but the shore ice went adrift filling the river almost bank full. The whole affair wound up in a rollicking, roaring blizzard, and this morning things out of doors are rather brisk.

Only one week from next Saturday and Merry Christmas will be here. The question that revolves in the mind of about four fifths of the inhabitants about this time of year is doubtless, "what'll I get." And the answer will likely be measured according to the size or weight of the prospective Santa's pocket-book.

Attention is directed to the new card of Dr. J. B. Siggins in this issue. The Doctor needs no introduction to our people. By close attention to business, coupled with a thorough and complete knowledge of his profession, he has already established himself, and scored a success rarely achieved by so young a physician.

Mr. D. H. Burwell, the "boy orator," is announced to speak on Temperance at the Court House on Wednesday and Thursday evenings, Dec. 15th and 16th. The lectures will be held under the auspices of the Young Women's Christian Temperance Union, of Tionesta, who extend a cordial invitation to all to attend. Admission free.

Thomas Gifford, of Mayburg had the misfortune to cut his foot very bad, on Tuesday week. He was working on the new "Right of Way" pipe line being laid from Balltown to Tidouite. The instep of the foot was cut right across with the ax and deep enough to sever the artery running to the great toe. Mr. Gifford is a young man and the only support of his parents and family. The accident is indeed an unfortunate one.

Messrs. Herman & Siggins have a broad gauge "ad" in this week's issue, simply announcing that they have "Holiday Goods for the Million." This is a veritable fact, as all will discover on entering their store. A more complete or more beautiful line of this class of goods has never been placed before our people, and at astonishingly low prices. Their stock should be seen to be appreciated, and you should call early to make selections before the choicest are taken. Too much space would be required to enumerate, but a handsomer line of toilet cases, albums, Christmas cards, or a greater variety of books and toys could not reasonably be asked for. Go and see.

The following from Mr. Dunn's paper, the Fredonia, Kansas, Chronicle, will fit everywhere: Trade at home. Strangers will come along and offer you something that seems like a bargain. Often, if you patronize them you are swindled. Besides, you pay them the cash. If you want credit you go to your home merchant. When you have cash you should patronize him for the accommodations he has extended when you needed it. By dealing with home merchants you deal with those who have something at stake in the community, and who will treat you fairly for this, if for no other reason. Too many men receive an accommodation in the way of credit and then persuade themselves into a belief that the creditor is an oppressor because he wants his dues. A credit is not necessary a gift, but it is always an accommodation, and should be so regarded.

Fred. Morgan of Oil City came up last Friday and stayed over night with his brother Wm. E. He was accompanied by his mother, who will visit with friends here for a few days. Fred's many friends hereabouts will be pleased to learn that he is rapidly forging to the front as one of Oil City's leading grocery-men. Our best thanks are extended to him for a nice Xmas gift in the shape of a box of choice cigars. May Fred's shadow never grow less.

We are pained to learn of a serious accident which happened Mr. Hamilton Stow, of Cincinnati, on the 3d inst. We are without particulars, but understand he received a fall which so shocked him that his friends are very much concerned about his recovery, which is said to be very doubtful. We hope, with the many friends of the grand old man, to hear that his injuries may not be of as serious a nature as present reports seem to indicate.

John H. Shaw, who works on the Collins mill at Nebraska, met with a severe accident last Friday evening. He was standing near the "edger" talking to Mr. Collins, and absent-mindedly laid his right hand back in such a manner as to come in contact with the saw, just as the mill was about shut-down. The result was a very badly lacerated hand. Dr. Siggins, who was summoned, amputated the index finger and left the hand in good condition considering the severity of the wound.

Clarion has taken a very laudable step in the organization of an association, composed of its leading citizens, whose object is "to cultivate public spirit, quicken the social and intellectual life of the people, promote good friendship, and secure public health by better hygienic conditions in our homes and surroundings, improve our streets, public grounds, sidewalks, and in general to build up and beautify the whole town, and thus enhance the value of its real estate and render Clarion a still more inviting place of residence."

Meadville proposes to celebrate its centennial, and has decided that the city was founded in 1788, when John and David Mead came to that place to reside permanently. They arrived on a prospecting tour in the spring of 1787, went away and returned with their families. According to the best information we have, the first settlement of Titusville was made in 1790. We are near to the time when we should celebrate, and if any of our old citizens have the correct date of the first settlement, we shall be glad to make it public.—Citizen.

Peterson's Magazine for January—the "queen of the lady's-books," as it has been called—excels even itself. The beauty of its embellishment and high character of its original stories are beyond all praise. "Is the Squire In?" the leading steel-plate, is one of the very best we have ever seen; and "First Grief," another steel-plate, is almost as good, if not quite. The colored design for painting on silk or to be worked in embroidery, would cost at a retail store fifty cents, yet is furnished gratis to subscribers for "Peterson" as a New-Year gift. Only two dollars a year, with great deductions to clubs. Address Chas. J. Peterson, 306 Chestnut St., Phila., Pa.

Yesterday morning as the train which is due here at 7:38 was rounding a sharp curve in the road near Siverleyville, the engine ran into the engine of an extra freight standing on the main track, causing both engines to be considerably damaged. There were about a dozen passengers in the car in which Conductor Holmes was taking tickets, only one of whom, I. N. Green, a commercial agent for A. Schilling & Co., Chicago, was severely injured. He was sitting in front of the stove, and was thrown forward with considerable force, striking his face against the hot stove, bruising him quite severely, but not seriously. Conductor Holmes was thrown down and received a bruise on the nose, but otherwise was not much hurt. Neither of the engineers nor firemen were injured. The train was delayed about four hours. The accident was caused, it is said, by the failure of engineer and conductor of the freight to send out a flag when they stopped on the main track.

Christmas presents to suit the tastes and pocket books of every man, woman and child in the county at H. J. Hopkins & Co.'s. Cheap.

INSTITUTE.

We desire that the coming Institute shall be a good one, and to this end we are working. And at the same time we realize that a good Institute is an Institute that does good in a good way.

E. O. Excell of Chicago, will conduct the music of the Institute.

We need every teacher in the county, and we confidently expect they'll all be present, unless, as Brother Hughes over in Jefferson county says, "Provisionally blundered."

There is nothing in the way to interfere with Institute; nothing to divide our time and attention. We want a good Institute; the cause deserves and needs it; we must have it; we can have it; we will have it.

We hope for good weather during Institute week. We'll know more about that later. But one thing we do know, taught by the history of the past, and that is that professional zeal and loyalty among the teachers of Forest county is great enough to smile at ugly weather and bad roads.

Let every teacher get ready to come to Institute. Let all the citizens, and patrons of the schools, who can, arrange their business so as to be able to come to Institute a part of the week at least. And let as many of our directors as can be with us, and especially on Director's Day. The Institute helps the teacher. Whatever helps the teacher helps the school. Whatever helps the school benefits the community. Whatever benefits the community benefits each individual in the community. Whatever benefits the individual deserves the individual's recognition, his appreciation, his respect, and his support. Let us unite in an earnest, united effort for the common weal in making the Institute an object of common interest and support. Respectfully,

J. E. HILLARD, Co. Supt.
