A TELEGRAM from Wilmington, Del., reminds no that we are not very far removed from the barbarism of the dark ages, after all. On Saturday ten prisoners, two white and eight colored, were punished at that place by being made to stand, half saked, in the pillury, or subjected to lashes at the whipping post. Delaware should amend her criminal laws and change the form of punishment inflicted to accord with modern ideas.

THE Senatorial fight in New Jersey will probably end this week in the Phelps, Member of Congress. The Republicans will vote solidly for him, while Abbett cannot haid the Democrats in line, and the absence of a number of them will enable a bare majority to elect. The contest promises to be a very exciting one, and great and small, each thinking be may be able to do something for his own

THE Republican majority in the legislature of this State has redeemed the party's pledge by passing, pure and simple, the resolution submitting the prohibition amendment to a vote of the people. The Republican party Sheriff. never made a pledge to the people and violated it. It hasn't got that kind of a record, and yet there are scores of insincere political prohibitionists who were hoping and praying that the amendment might fail of passage, simply that their word might be made good. Wolfe went howling all over the State that the pledge meant nothing, but then no considerable number of people ever placed much stock in Wolfe's howlings.
