WHERE STRANGE AND VALUABLE ARTICLES ARE STORED.

Paintings Worth a Fortune-Alexander Hamilton's Dueling Pistols-Story of a Crook-Quaint Curios.

"Yes, I have received many curious and antique articles since I began business thirty-five years ago," said Robert Taggart to a Journal reporter. Mr. Taggart s a pioneer in the storage business, and his mammoth establishment is filled with old objects, each of which has an interesting history.

"Now, among a vast collection of fine paintings which I got in the course of business," continued Mr. Taggart, "are two which I have been told time and again are originals by Rubens. One represents the adoration of the Saviour in the stable at Bethlehem. The subject of the other I do not know, as I have never met any one who could tell me. There is an inscription on this picture in one of the dead languages, I believe, because I have never been able to find any one learned enough to translate it. The picture represents a queen on a magnificent throne giving orders apparently to some of the royal guards.

How did you become possessed of the pictures?" asked the reporter."

The day the first gun was fired at Fort Sumpter a gentleman who was very well known here then and hated equally as well for his avowed sympathy with the Southern cause came into my place and told me he intended going South and aiding the Confederates with his money and every way else he could. He asked me to take his household furniture on

'You won't have to keep them long,' he said. 'The South will win sure, and I'll return to New York, for I can't live anywhere else.

I took his furniture, but it has never been called for. He raised a regiment South and fell at Bull Run with his two sons at his side. He had no near relatives to mourn his loss and so I have his furniture still. The Rubenses were among his chattels and also a picture by Murillo for which I have been offered $90,000. There is practically no price on the Rubenses. Besides these pictures mentioned I have as fine a gallery of paintings as any connoisseur would wish to look at. I have always been fond of pictures and never tried to dispose of any of them, al-though some of them would bring fabulous prices."

Among other articles which Mr. Taggart showed to the reporter was a pair of beautiful dueling pistols inlaid with solid gold and silver, which are the same, Mr. Taggart says, used by Alexander Hamilton in his deadly encounter with Burr on the Elysian Fields, where Weehawken is now growing up. The pistols were once owned by General Grant, but they passed from him to another branch of the family and finally came into the possession of a Broadway jeweler, who is unfortunately addicted to drink. During one of his periodical sprees he placed the pistols, with some other property, on storage with Mr. Taggart in order to raise money enough to continue his debauch. He never called for the weapons and the man's wife wants them sold, as she says she hates to see them laying around the house when her husband is on a spree.

"About two months ago," said Mr. Taggart, "a well-dressed, middle-aged man came into my place and, handing me a small chamol ag, asked much I would ask to keep it for him for a day or two without examining the con-'Twenty-five cents,' I replied.

"Well, sir, the fellow kicked like a mule. He swore he wouldn't pay such an outrageous price and finally beat me down to twenty cents for two days. Next day a detective from the Central office came in looking for such a bag and told me the fellow who had left it with me was a famous Western crook and that he had him locked up in the Tombs. I went down there with the bag, which was opened in presence of the Judge and found to contain diamonds valued at nearly $100,000. It surprised me that a man wishing and thinking he could safely conceal such a plunder would kick about the cost, especially when you consider the little I asked him.

Among many other curious things which Mr. Taggart has are skeletons, coffins, grandfathers' clocks, horses, sheep, cows, in fact all kinds of animals and fowl, and as a curiosity shop in every respect his place cannot be beaten.—New York Journal.

The tract of land embraces 50,000 acres, and will be increased by the addition of 20,000 acres. It is fifty miles from the railroad, but is reached by a good macadamized road. Where Pipes are Made.

gia, is the centre of the pipe manufacture of Germany. Like Sheffield, England, it was famous in the middle ages for its arms and armor, and at a subsequent period for its knives. When the use of tobacco became common in Europe, it turned its attention to the fabrication of iron smoking pipes. Gradually, how-ever, beginning in the seventeenth century, meerschaum and wood were adopted as more suitable materials to work upon.

The first meerschaum pipe was carved in the early part of the thirty years' war, and Wallenstein is said to have bought The true clay is to be produced only at Eski-Scher, in Asia Miner, where there are large deposits, and whence it is sent direct to to the manufactories at Ruhla, of which there are at present forty, employing almost the whole population of the district. The number of pipes, and the other articles dear to smokers, turned out is enormous, the yearly average being 540,000 real meerschaums, varying in price from six cents to $60 each; 500, 000 imitation meerschaums, at from twenty-five cents to $5 per dozen; 9,600, 000 porcelain pipe bowls, either plain white or gayly painted, ranging in price from eight cents to $2.50 per dozen; 5,-000,000 wooden pipes of infinite variety in size, form and ornamentation, and price, the common kinds being extremely heap and those artistically curved fetching a comparatively high price; 3,000,000 howls of clay or lava, plain, at about six cents, and of better kind at seventy-five cents per dozen; 15,000,000 pipes composed of separate parts (bowl, stick, cover, etc.), from ten cents to $1.25 per dozen. There are five qualities of meerschaum used in the making of pipes. The best is known by its facile bsorption of nicotine juice of tobacco, which gradually developes into a rich brown blush upon the surface, and when this process is well advanced, the pipe becomes almost invulnerable without be ing hard. A specimen of this kind sold at Vienna for $250, although it was not very highly carved .- Tobacco.

A Prairie of Pitch.

I have just returned from a trip to the so-called "Pitch Lake," writes a correspondent from Port of Spain, Trinidad, to the Philadelphia Inquirer. Running south down the Parian Gulf to La Brea, some forty miles distant from this port, we there disembarked, and, climbing a gentle ascent of 140 feet, we found the lake, a little more than a mile inland. Strictly speaking, there is no lake in the common acceptance of the term, but a plain, composed of a concrete, though flexible, mass of pitch, covering an area of perhaps 100 acres.

Bushes, patches of vegetation and oc casional pools of brackish water diversify the surface here and there, giving it the appearance of a mud swamp. There is no difficulty in walking or wading from one end to the other, for with the sole exception of several places where the pitch is in a state of ebuliition in a soft and viscid consistency the "lake" is semisolid. On it I found chestnut-colored men and women digging out large clods of the asphalt with ax and shovel and loading it upon donkey carts.

Each lump of the asphalt exhibited small cavities, and we were informed by the diggers that they never dig deep enough to find the pitch at all softened. The roughened surface of the pits is exposed to the tropical sun, and within a few days the cavities are full again. From 30,000 to 40,000 tons of the asphalt are dug out every year, each cubic foot of tried, five in the natural state and five few days the cavities are full again. From the pitch weighing on an average sixty pounds. It is estimated that there are in the deposit not less than 10,000,000 pounds which, at the present rate of digging, should last fully 8,000 years.

A modern siege gun costs $97,000, and the cost of one shot is $900.

Great Man.

New York Correspondence Cleveland Leader
One has a most excellent opportunity to study "man" as represented by the average
New Yorkers. Among the wealthy classes, very many of them have the waxy skin, dropsical flesh, and "puffed eyes" that are indirative of serious kidney affection.
"Bright's disease" is plainly written on their faces. Since General Logan's death the subject of rheumatian is being discussed by the medical profession. Great Man.

ject of rheumatism is being discussed by the medical profession.

Every intelligent person, with any knowledge of the human system, is well aware that if the kidneys are in good condition all uncessary material is regularly carried off by them. If not, various acids, such as uricacid, one of the chief causes of rheumatism, are left in excess, creating deposits that cause all sorts of chronic organic diseases. It would seem, therefore, that rheumatism, like dropsy, is not a disease, but the result of a disease, and, it is safe to say that if the stemach and kidneys are kept in healthful condition, there will be no deaths from rheumatism.

General Logan was well aware that his disease was of the kidneys, and once expressed himself in indignant terms at the folly of dectors treating him for rheumatism, when it was the kidneys that caused his attacks. The high living and the excesses in all things prevalent among wealthy men in large cities, especially in New York, is the thief cause for Bright's disease, and the aristocratic trouble known as theatmatism, even as insufficient and improper food bring about the same results among the very poor. the same results among the very poor.

The above article, which we reproduce because of its general interest, is very significant. The public believes that rheumatism is an effect of diseased blood, this disease being caused by uric acid or kidney poison. Enough of this is developed daily to all several men, and if it is not removed by the kidneys as fast as formed, it gradually ruins the health.

This fact is a scientific demonstration This fact is a scientific demonstration.

If doctors do not admit it, it is probably because they do not wish to attract attention to the mena e deranged kidneys offers to the general health, since they have no authorized specific for these organs.

General Logan know what his real trouble was, and he recognized the nonsense of treating the affects the content of the content of was, and he recognized the nonsense of treating the effects—the real seat of the disease was the kidneys. Senator Sittig, of Illinois, whose vote elected Logan Senator after four months of balloting, teils us that Logan often complained to him of great distress in his kidneys. Disease of the kidneys always produces rheumatism, and besides that, it causes paralysis, apoplexy, impotency, stomach and blood disorders, brain troubles, female complaints and countless other diseases which would almost never develop if the blood was kent free of uric acid or kidney. the blood was kept free of uric acid or kidney

These facts the public recognizes even though medical gentlemen, for very evident reasons, will not publicly acknowledge them lest, per chance, some proprietary medicine like Warner's safe cure, now admitted to be the only scientific specific, will get the benefit. Fie on such bigotry! It has been authoritatively stated time and again that there can be no real sound health if there is any false action of the kidneys. Insurance companies refuse millions of risks on this ground alone, hence it is that there is such universal popularity given to the great preparation named—a popularity that is based upon intrinsic Too much dependence upon professional advice, especially in matters over which medical men admit they have no power, too often results very disastrously, but of what use to the victim is experience gained by fatal disastro

How much better it is to be guided by an anprejudiced public opinion in such matters. Had Logan been so guided, he might have Experiments made at the suggestion of Professor Sargent by the Boston and Providence Railroad on the enduring qualities of various woods for railroad ties have given results of importance to farmers. In these experiments fifty-two ties were laid in December, 1878, on a track in Boston, where the traffic is very creosoted. None of the ties rotted except one of the ailantus; the others that had to be removed had been injured by the hammering of the trains. Spruce, hemlock, larch and Southern pine have all suffered badly in this way. Whiteonk lasted well, but it holds the spikes so firmly that they cannot be drawn when the rails have to be shifted. Creosoted elm and birch did well, and are to be recommended. Chestnut was unfortunately not included in the experiment, although it is considered one of the best woods for ties. The behavior of the catalpa was one of the most interesting feat-

"I remember well," says Archibald Forbes, "the time when the six lions were loose at one time in Astley's. The Sangers had sent the beasts up from Edmonton the night be-fore. Nobody to this day knows how they got out of their dens; but it was thought at the time that some one of the grooms-with whom the manager was very unpopular, he used to fine them so mercilessly-had let them loose mali ciously, that they might get at the horses There they were, anyhow, loose in the place, smelling the horses, and mad to get at them. They had already killed a man, aud had eaten him when Crockett arrived. Without halting an instant, he dashed in among them single-handed, with only a switch in his hand, and I'm blest if he didn't manage to den them all single-handed. That was nerve for you.

A Queer Town.

"The queerest town I know of in this part of the country," said a commercial traveler, "is at Milledgeville, Ill. For me reason or other the railroad people and the principal owner of the town site had a falling out and the railroad decided to start a new town. Through the com-pany's influence a brick block was put a mile or more saway from the old town, but nearer the station and side tracks. That block contains nine store-rooms on the first floor, and a large number of offices overhead. In it is almost every kind of business usually carried on in ; country town. In fact, that brick block is a whole town in itself, but it looks odd to see farmers' wagons hitched in a circle about that building, and the entire business of a prosperous little place being carried on under one roof. There is only one other building in the new town." Chicago Herald.

AND HEART TROUBLE.

Mrs. Mary A. McClure, Columbus, Kons., writes: "I addressed you in November, 1884, in regard to my health, being afflicted with liver disease, heart trouble, and female weakness. I was advised to use Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, Favorite Prescription and Pellets. I used one bottle of the 'Prescription, five of the 'Discovery, and four of the 'Pleasant Purgative Pellets.' My health began to improve under the use of your medicine, and my strength came back. My difficulties have all disappeared. I can work hard all day, or walk four or five miles a day, and stand it well; and when I began using the medicine I could scarcely walk across the room, most of the time, and I did not think I could ever feel well again. I have a little baby girl eight months old. Although she is a little delicate in size and appearance, she is healthy. I give your remedies all the credit for curing me, as I took no other treatment after beginning their use. I am very grateful for your kindness, and thank God and thank you that I am as well as I am after years of suffering."

Dyspepsia. James L. Colby, Esq., of Yucatan, Houston Co., Monn., writes: "I was troubled with indigestion, and would eat heartly and grow poor at the same time. I experienced heartburn, sour stomach, and many other disagreeable symptoms common to that disorder. I commenced taking your 'Golden Medical Discovery' and 'Pellets, and I am now entirely free from the dyspepsis, and am, in fact, healthier than I have been for five years. I weigh one hundred and seventy-one and one-half pounds, and have done as medicine that seemed to tone up the muscles and invigorate the whole system equal to your 'Discovery' and 'Pelleta."

Dyspepsia. — Theresa A. Cass, of Springfield, Mo., writes: "I was troubled one year with liver complaint, dyspepsia, and sleeplessness, but your 'Golden Medical Discovery' cured me."!

Chills and Fever.—Rev. H. E. Mosley, Montmorence, S. C., writes: "Last August I thought I would die with chills and fever. I took your' Discovery' and it stopped them in a very short time." "THE BLOOD IS THE LIFE."

INDIGESTION
BLOTCHES.

Rev. F. Asbury Howell, Paster of the M. E. Church, of Silverton, N. J., says: "I was afficted with catarrh and indigestion. Boils and blotches began to arise on the surface of the skin, and I experienced a tired feeling and dilness. I began the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery as directed by him for such complaints, and in one week's time I began to feel like a new man, and am now sound and well, The 'Pieasant Prugative Peilets' are the best remedy for billous or sick headache, or tightness about the chest, and bad taste in the mouth, that I have ever used. My wife could not walk across the floor when she began to take your 'Golden Medical Discovery.' Now she can walk quite a little ways, and do some light work."

DISEASE.

Mrs. IDA M. STRONG, of Ainscorth, Ind., writes:
"My little boy had been troubled with hip-joint disease for two years. When he commenced the use of your 'Golden Medical Discovery' and rot be moved without suffering great pain. But now, thanks to your 'Discovery,' he is able to be up all the time, and can walk with the help of crutches. He does not suffer any pain, and can eat and sleep as well as any one. It has only been about three months since he commenced using your medicine. I cannot find words with which to express my gratitude for the benefit he has received through you."

A TERRIBLE AFFLICTION.

Skin Disease.—The "Democrat and News." of Cambridge, Maryland, says: "Mrs. ELIZA Ann Poole, wife of Leonard Poole, of Willemsburg, Dorchester Co., Md., has been cured of a bad case of Eczema by using Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. The disease appeared first in her feet, extended to the knees, covering the whole of the lower limbs from feet to knees, then attacked the elbows and became so severe as to prostrate her. After being treated by several physicians for a year or two she commenced the use of the medicine named above. She soon began to mend and is now well and hearty. Mrs. Poole thinks the medicine has saved her life and projonged her days."

Mr. T. A. Aynes, of East New Market, Dorchester County, Md., youches for the above facts.

CONSUMPTION, WEAK LUNGS, SPITTING OF BLOOD.

Golden Medical Discovery cures Consumption (which is Scrofula of the Lungs), by its wonderful blood-purifying, invigorating and nutritive properties. For Weak Lungs, Spitting of Blood, Shortness of Breath, Bronchitis, Severe Coughs, Asthma, and kindred affections, it is a sovereign remedy. While it promptly cures the severest Coughs it strengthens the system and purifies the blood.

It ravidly builds up the system, and increases the flesh and weight of those reduced below the usual standard of health by wasting diseases."

Consumption.—Mrs. Edward Newton, of Harrowsmith, Ont., writes: "You will ever be praised by me for the remarkable cure in my case. I was so reduced that my friends had all given me up, and I had also been given up by two doctors. I then went to the best doctor in these parts. He told me that medicine was only a punishment in my case, and would not undertake to treat me. He said I might try Cod liver oil if I liked, as that was the only thing that could possibly have any curative power over consumption so far advanced. I tried the Cod liver oil as a last treatment, but I was so weak I could not keep it on my stomach. My husband, not feeling satisfied to give me up yet, though he had bought for me everything he saw advertised for my complaint, procured a quantity of your 'Golden Medical Discovery.' I took only four bottles, and, to the surprise of everybody, am to-day doing my own work, and am entirely free from that terrible cough which harrassed me night and day. I have been afflicted with rheumatism for a number of years, and now feel so much better that I believe, with a continuation of your 'Golden Medical Discovery.' I will be restored to perfect health. I would say to those who are failing a prevaled to perfect health.
