LOCAL AND MISCELLANEOUS.

—Bass fishing is now in season.

—Wm. R. Reck and daughter, of Strattonville, paid Tionesta friends a visit last Sabbath.

—Lawrence & Smearbaugh started their first pair of flat boats for Pittsburgh yesterday.

—Jas. D. Davis came down from Warren to decorate Jim. is getting fat, and he always was handsome.

—We observe by the St. George, W. Va., Democrat that the infant son of Mrs. Nora Siegle, nee Hulings, died on the 21st ult.

—The Fourth of July cometh on apace. And the conundrum that presents itself is, "shall we celebrate?" Echo answers, "celebrate."

—Some of the side walks, we might say a majority of them, in this borough are in a wretchedly poor condition, and ought to be fixed forthwith.

—Commissioner Canfield commenced work on the streets yesterday and gives notice to all who have taxes to work out to come forward with their pick and shovel.

—Ben: Perley Poore, one of America's most brilliant and pleasing writers, as well as illustrious men, died at his home in Washington, D. C., on Saturday night last.

—Fred Morgan came up from Oil City one day last week and lifted quite a respectable string of trout, among which was one of fine dimensions, which Fred pulled out all by himself.

—Officer S. W. Trucks, the Bradford policeman who was tried in Smithport this week charged with causing the death of young Vosburg last January, was acquitted, and the costs put upon the prosecution.

—Messrs. Scowden & Clark have turned out seven new wagons thus far this season, and have orders in for several others. They have some very handsome buggies on hand, which the public is invited to inspect.

—In giving the list of jurors in the burglary case last week the name of H. H. Lynch, of Hickory was inadvertently omitted, making it appear as though but eleven jurors, instead of twelve, had disposed of the case.

—The Wesleyan Methodists will hold their first quarterly meeting at their church at Stewarts Run, on June 11th and 12th. Rev. D. J. Hays will be present and assist in the meeting. A cordial and general invitation is extended.

—Mr. Fulton's new residence is rapidly nearing completion, and will be ready for the plasterers in a few days. The location is a pleasant one commanding a bird's eye view of nearly the whole town, and Mr. F. will have a very comfortable home.

—Mr. Chas. M. Campbell, a former highly respected citizen of Forest county, but now of Hooker, Butler county, paid old friends in this section a visit last week. Our county lost an excellent citizen when Charley moved away, and we'd like to have him back again.

—Samuel Shell, who was held here for a short time supposed to have been implicated in the Wagner robbery, but was released and taken in charge by Clarion authorities as one of the Turkey City church rioters, made his escape from the jail at that place yesterday. He was allowed the freedom of the corridors, and when on account of some visitors, the front door was carelessly left open, Shell made a dash for liberty, and at last accounts was still at large.

—An entertaining letter descriptive of the industries of the city of Chester, Pa., made famous by the energy of the lamented John Roach, appears in this issue. It is written by the genial and efficient Message Clerk of the late House of Representatives, Mr. Thos. B. Taylor, and will interest many of our readers.

—Hon. N. P. Wheeler was a visitor to our borough yesterday, and made the REPUBLICAN office a pleasant call. He reports business in and about Hickory very active this season. The new railroad from the depot to Stowtown is being rapidly pushed forward, and cars will be running over the same in a short time.

—Gaudaur, the St. Louis oarsman, easily beat Hanlan, the Canadian champion, on Calumet course, Chicago, in a three-mile race on Monday. And thus the American championship comes back to the United States. We have only to lay out Beach, of Australia, in order to pull in the World's championship, that's all.

—Mrs. E. Cowan, wife of our venerable friend, the editor of the Warren Mail, died week before last after an illness of several months, of cancerous affection. Our heartfelt sympathy goes out to the bereaved husband in the loss of his faithful and devoted life-partner, whose intelligent counsel and loving kindness has lightened his burdens through a long and happy married life.

—Senator Allen's Republican friends of the State Senate conferred a very high compliment upon him at the recent adjournment of that body, by making him chairman of the slate committee two years hence. The vote stood, Allen 31, Delamater 26, Watres 26, Taylor 23, Rutan 22. This is a recognition rarely given a new member, and attests Mr. Allen's popularity with his fellow Senators.

—The borough schools closed on Friday last. From all indications the term just closed has been one of the most successful for some time, and we believe the patrons would, as a rule, be well satisfied were the same efficient corps of teachers engaged for the next season. Three scholars, Roy Brownell, Wm. Morrow and Miss Zannie Tate, were graduated from the advanced room, passing very creditable examinations.

—Several of our citizens have been the recipients of a tastefully arranged program of, and invitation to, a piano recital for graduation by Miss Maud Davis, to be given at the New England Conservatory of Music, Boston, from which famous institution Miss Davis will graduate to-day. Her many friends and admirers will extend congratulations upon the happy termination of an unusually successful musical course.

—T. F. Ritchey, received $35 from the county for services as special detective in the Haggerty and Wilson case.—Forest National. And it is a generally conceded fact that to Mr. Ritchey's unceasing search and energy is largely due the strong chain of evidence that was wound around the prisoners and resulted in their speedy and easy conviction. No one who has the welfare of the public at heart, and really desires the conviction and punishment of such desperate characters as Haggerty and Wilson would growl at such a paltry bill of expense. It don't look well to say the least.

—A frightful wreck occurred at Horseshoe Bend on the Pennsylvania Railroad, on Friday night of last week, whereby six passengers were killed and eight wounded. As the fast line passenger train was rounding the bend a heavily loaded coal train came thundering down the hill, and as it was passing an axle under one of the cars broke throwing it against the passenger train which was running at a 30-mile rate. The sides of two passenger coaches were almost entirely torn off, resulting as above stated, in the death of six and wounding, more or less seriously, of eight passengers. Among the killed was Dale Graham, son of Ex-Speaker Graham, of the Pennsylvania legislature. The accident was entirely unavoidable.

—Doctors must register in every county they practice in. Dr. John Ege, of Reading, has just received the information that the case brought against him by the Medical society of Lebanon county, from which he appealed, has been affirmed by the Supreme court. Dr. Ege, while a resident of Reading, and registered there, attended patients in Lebanon, for which he was arrested, not having registered in that county. The Lebanon county court decided that he must pay the $100 for practicing in that county and not registering there. This the Supreme court has just affirmed. The decision means that physicians must register in every county in which they practice. Dr. Ege has since registered in Lebanon. The prosecution gets half the fine.

—The Pennsylvania marriage license law, as amended by the last legislature, provides that persons may apply for license separately or together, and the clerk may require on oath or affirmation that there is no legal objection to the granting of it; or the persons may make such oath before a magistrate and present the affidavit when making the application. But if either of the persons wishing to marry is under twenty-one years of age, consent of parents or guardian must be shown, attested to by adult witnesses. The clerk of court is to furnish magistrates, aldermen, and justices of the peace blanks for the affidavits required. Violation of this law by clerks, magistrates, aldermen or justice of the peace is punishable by a fine of $1,000 payable to the person aggrieved.

—A detective's reputation is generally made at so much per newspaper line. The Kittanning Times would have us believe that by the most expert detective work, a Mr. Stevenson, of that place, had traced Wilson and Haggerty from the scene of the robbery in Armstrong county to Tionesta, and had them arrested at the latter place. The simple facts are that Wilson and Haggerty were arrested at Edenburg, this county, on suspicion of being two of the Wagner robbers; that certain contraband articles were found in their possession, descriptions of which were given in the newspapers; that Mr. Stevenson read these descriptions, recognized the articles and then went to Tionesta and identified them as having been stolen in Armstrong county. There wasn't a bit of shrewdness in the whole transaction so far as Detective Stevenson was concerned.—Clarion Jacksonian.

LETTER FROM CHESTER.

I will take time to write you a letter from this land of shad. Some ten or fifteen years ago fishing for shad was about all Chester was noted for. From the time of the landing of Penn up to fifteen years ago, Chester grew very slowly; we have many buildings that were built away back in 1600, long before they commenced making brick in this country, for the brick were brought over from England. Among the buildings is our city hall; although over two hundred years old it is a very creditable Town Hall at this time. The era of Chester's prosperity is in a measure due to John Roach, who instituted the ship-building industry here, and had one of the largest ship yards in America, building more ships than all the rest of the ship builders in the United States put together. He had employed at one time 2300 men, and gave Chester a name not only of National but World wide importance. Is it any wonder that people of means who wanted to invest money selected this as the place to locate, when people from all over the world came on business connected with Roach? Not alone private individuals, but the congressmen and Presidents of the United States, and many foreign heads of Governments were among its visitors. It appeared that the hammer of the riveters at the ship-yard startled the sleepy old town, which had exceeded Rip Van Winkle, and been asleep for one hundred and fifty years. On getting awake the town commenced to drive ahead as though it was going to catch up to some of the places that had forged ahead while it was asleep. Cotton mills, woolen mills, rolling and shoddy mills, edge tool and print works, machine shops, foundries, and in fact it would be hard to name any kind of work that is not here. Some of the industries are noted in all parts of this country, and some have earned a foreign reputation; among these are Robert Wetherill & Co., builders of Corlies engines and pumping machinery. It is a common thing for this firm to put a new engine in the place of an old one and take as pay the money saved in fuel for the first ten years. Then the Eddystone Print Works are known wherever women wear dresses and want the best in the market. So Chester of to-day is one of the busiest of the thriving manufacturing towns in this country.

While the Grand Old Man has gone who first employed a large number of men in this city, there is monument left that he helped to erect for himself. It is the change of Chester from a shad fishery, to a manufacturing city with 30,000 souls. What has the old man received for this grand and noble work? He has received the "God bless you" from all who knew him. And been bounded to death by a Democratic administration. I think that the history of all unjust persecutions is paled when Roach's case is considered. At this time there are about fifty men at work in the shipyard. Draw your own conclusions.

While Chester workmen have plenty of work at fair wages, they have the best of a market. Meats cost about the same the State over; butter is about our dearest article of food, bringing about 25c. the year around; in the spring of the year we get fish right from the river very cheap; then we are on the line of the Baltimore & Ohio, and the Phila., Wilmington & Baltimore railroads, which gives us direct communication with the south, and we have all the vegetables at this time at reasonable prices; also fruits. I bought strawberries on Saturday, six quarts for twenty-five cents.

T. B. T. Chester, Delaware Co., May 29.

Memorial Day Exercises.

Memorial Day, May 30th, was a busy one for the G. A. R. boys of this place. Capt. George Stow Post had taken upon themselves to visit the cemeteries and burying places at East Hickory, Whig Hill, the two places on German Hill, and Tionesta, and had in connection therewith, appointed details to decorate the graves on Church Hill and Minister. It was thought by some they could not accomplish all they had undertaken, but they showed the people that they had not yet lost all their youthful energy. The Sabbath Schools and citizens turned out at the different cemeteries and encouraged them in their work, hiding them God speed at every point. The Army boys think they could not have been better treated than they were, and if possible would enjoy a trip of that kind every year, but are aware they are wearing out and it will not be long till their graves are among those to be decorated. Their first meeting place was in East Hickory; from there they proceeded to Whig Hill, taking dinner with George S. Hindman, which they appeared to relish very much, thinking if that was the way he lived, it was not much wonder he is in good condition. From Whig Hill they returned to Tionesta, arriving here about 5 o'clock, visiting the two cemeteries on German Hill on their route.

The ceremonies were pretty nearly the same at each place. Commander D. S. Knox had charge of the exercises. Adjutant Morrow read the National Order and called the roll. Chaplain Rhodes led in prayer. The officers of the Post made the usual address at the graves, and Chaplain Rhodes and Comrade Irvin were the orators. The Sabbath Schools that met with them assisted, each singing a piece, and furnishing abundance of flowers for the occasion. The Tionesta choir sang two beautiful pieces, "How Sleep the Brave," and "Cheers and Tears." The Post Martial Band, known as the Albaugh Band, rendered good service, joining the procession at Hickory, and continuing with it during the day. They were assisted in Tionesta by the Tionesta Cornet Band. The following graves were decorated:

EAST HICKORY. Jonathan Sutton, of the late war. Enoch Kifer, of 1812.

CHURCH HILL. J. Shellus Range, Co. G., 83d, P. V. WHIG HILL. Charles Zigler, Co. G., 83d, P. V. William Mabross, of 1812. Unknown, of 1812.

Capt. Geo. Stowe, Co. G., 83d, P. V. James Thompson, do do Philip Walters, do do P. O. Conner, Serg't 4th Cavalry. Daniel McClintock, 7th, N. Y. V. Lt. O. W. Stadina, 116th, N. Y. V. Maj. Mulkins, 69th, O. C. Jacob Zents, Co. F., 103d, P. V. Nicholas Thompson, Co. A., 121st, P. V. Lt. John Range, Soldier of Revolution.

A Rare Work.

We have just been looking at and in Perley's Reminiscences. The type, paper, print, and illustrations are first class; and the bindings are very handsome. But it is more especially inside that the books are great. Major Poore's powers as a journalist have never been eclipsed by any lauce of his profession, freebooter or regular service man, and in writing up the Reminiscences his pen has left lingering on the page flashes of wit, and a sunshine of humor, that makes the whole bright and happy to the end. Every page is interesting. And then, to it is truthfull. No man has had the opportunity for 60 consecutive years to see the true inwardness of Washington political life as has Major Poore. It is refreshing to turn aside from Webster's reply to Hayne and see the great Daniel behind the scenes just in his every day dress. Here is a line that is tender with pathos; here a sentence that is eloquent; and all the pages are elegant. The books are a fine addition to a historical library. They are filled with facts and incidents that are not found elsewhere. And so arranged that they are just delightful. They show up our great men just as a man saw them, one, too, capable of seeing without being dazzled by glory's halo, or made cloudy by his man's having laid down under misfortune or having been crushed by defeat. At the end of each chapter is the signature of some person prominent in American affairs, accompanied with a short sketch of the same in very small type; it occupies but little room, but is a valuable addition to the books. The books are unique in their line, and fill a place otherwise entirely vacant. The books are sold by subscription.

Enjoy Life.

What a truly beautiful world we live in! Nature gives us grandeur of mountains, plains and oceans, and thousands of means of enjoyment. We can desire no better when in perfect health; but how often do the majority of people feel like giving it up, disheartened, discouraged and worn out with disease, when there is no occasion for this feeling, as every sufferer can easily obtain satisfactory proof, that Green's August Flower, will make them free from disease, as when born. Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint are the direct causes of seventy-five per cent. of such maladies as Biliousness, Indigestion, Sick Headache, Costiveness, Nervous Prostration, Dizziness of the Head, Palpitation of the Heart, and other distressing symptoms. Three doses of August Flower will prove its wonderful effect. Sample bottles, 10 cents. Try it.

Excitement in Texas.

Great excitement has been caused in the vicinity of Paris, Tex., by the remarkable recovery of Mr. J. E. Corley, who was so helpless he could not turn in bed, or raise his head; everybody said he was dying of Consumption. A trial bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery was sent him. Finding relief, he bought a large bottle and a box of Dr. King's New Life Pills; by the time he had taken two boxes of Pills and two bottles of the Discovery, he was well and had gained in flesh thirty-six pounds. Trial bottles of this Great Discovery for Consumption free at G. W. Bovard's.

Some Foolish People

Allow a cough to run until it gets beyond the reach of medicine. They often say, Oh, it will wear away, but in most cases it wears them away. Could they be induced to try the successful medicine called Kemp's Balsam, which we sell on a positive guarantee to cure, they would immediately see the excellent effect after taking the first dose. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial size free. G. W. Bovard.

The Verdient Unanimous.

W. D. Sult, Druggist, Bippus, Ind., testifies: "I can recommend Electric Bitters as the very best remedy. Every bottle sold has given relief in every case. One man took six bottles, and was cured of Rheumatism of 10 years' standing." Abraham Hare, druggist, Belleville, Ohio, affirms: "The best selling medicine I have ever handled in my 20 years' experience, is Electric Bitters." Thousands of others have added their testimony, so that the verdict unanimous that Electric Bitters do cure all diseases of the Liver, Kidneys or Blood. Only half a dollar a bottle at G. W. Bovard's Drug Store.
