CALL FOR THE REPUBLICAN STATE CONVENTION.

HEADQUARTERS REPUBLICAN STATE COMMITTEE, PHILADELPHIA, June 9, 1887.

The Republican State Convention will be held in the Opera House, at Harrisburg, on the third Wednesday of August, the 17th, 1887, at 10 o'clock, a. m., for the purpose of nominating candidates for State Treasurer and Judge of the Supreme Court, and for the transaction of other business.

The attention of Republicans throughout the State is respectfully directed to the following Permanent Rules for the holding of State Conventions and the conduct of the party.

First, That delegates to the State Convention shall be chosen in the manner in which candidates for the General Assembly are nominated.

Second, Hereafter the State Conventions of the Republican Party shall be held not earlier than the third Wednesday of August, except in the year of the Presidential election, when it shall be held not more than thirty days previous to the day fixed for the National Convention, and not later than the third Wednesday of August, except in gubernatorial years. At least sixty days' notice shall be given of the date of the State Convention.

Third, That we recommend to the county organizations, and in their rules they allow the largest freedom in the general participation in the primaries consistent with the preservation of the party organization.

The State Convention of June 30th, 1886, having abolished Senatorial representation, delegates to the approaching State Convention will be selected according to the number of Representatives in the Legislature to which each county or city is entitled under the representative Apportionment law passed at the recent session of the Legislature.

THOS. V. COOPER, Chairman.

The Lackawanna Democrats declare that the revenue bill was lost by fraud and bribery. Now if these excited Democrats will furnish some evidence on the subject and not froth so much they will do the State a service.

The Ohio Democrats met at Columbus on the 21st and placed the following ticket in the field, to be knocked out in November next: Governor, Thomas E. Powell; Lieutenant Governor, D. C. Coolman; Supreme Court Judge, long term, L. R. Critchfield; Supreme Court Judge, short term, Virgil P. Kline; Auditor of State, Emil Kiesewetter.

The free traders are a dishonest lot. While plainly intending to destroy the protection features of our custom laws they refuse to say so in plain English. The skulk behind the subtlety of saying "reform and reducing duties." If they believe free trade is popular why not say so and go to the people on an issue squarely made and about which there can be no doubt?

The Revenue Commission, which is hard at work on a new revenue bill to be submitted to the next legislature, has dropped the provision which exempts household furniture, watches and carriages, but as these articles are already exempt from taxation as soon as a separate act, passed last winter, goes into effect, the result will be the same, and a second exemption in the new revenue bill would be superfluous.

Mr. Wherry, of Cumberland, who would like to be the Democratic candidate for State Treasurer, has had himself interviewed by a reporter of the Philadelphia Times. This he has had done, no doubt, because Mr. Wherry has made a discovery all alone by himself. He has found that there is no Randall and anti-Randall party in the State outside of Philadelphia, but that on the other hand all are for the party regardless of the leader. This is a discovery, certainly, and Mr. Wherry was justified in having himself interviewed.

Governor Beaver, in a letter to a gentleman in McKean county, has plainly stated his purpose not to appoint an additional law judge for either the McKean-Potter district or that composed of Fayette and Greene until the Republican nominations are made. Then he will appoint the choice of the convention in each case. This is in accordance with his policy respecting the vacancy on the Supreme Bench. There are several candidates for the nomination in each instance, and should the Governor make the appointments now, when not really necessary, it might have the effect of influencing the action of the convention. The Governor will be commended for the position he has taken.

In Chester and Lackawanna, where appointments have been made, there was no divided party opinion, only one candidate having been presented from each county.

"Who shall decide when doctors disagree?" Good Democratic authority states that the President is going to St. Louis this fall, despite his statement to Mayor Francis that he had abandoned his intention to do so; while equally reliable though less Democratic authority says he has not yet decided that he will go. In this conflict of statement we can only bide our time until the matter is settled. If the President goes West this fall, he will display a fickleness and vacillation of which his bitterest enemy has not yet accused him.

The Knights of Labor have lost half their membership in Boston, New York and Chicago in the last year. Much the same has happened in Philadelphia. This was inevitable after the blunder made at Richmond. As Mr. Powderly remembers his high hopes and sees the end in the miserable intrigues which the General Executive Board is striving to retain its power, it must seem to him a sad outcome for a movement begun with such promise and ending in such disaster; but too much management and too little principle will kill any organization, most of all one calling for supreme self-sacrifice in all engaged in its leadership.

The report of the death of Henry M. Stanley, the African explorer, in that far-off land, caused a shock of surprise and a feeling of sorrow throughout Christendom. Mr. Stanley has done much for civilization, and was in a fair way to do more. He has written his name high on the temple of fame, and will be remembered with Livingstone, while the English language survives. Some comfort may be found in the fact that the story of his sad and premature death is discredited in England, Belgium, where his movements have been closely watched. Let us hope the rumor is without foundation, and that the brave, tireless explorer may be spared for many years, to further advance the great work he has done so much to forward in the "dark continent."

A Chapter on Coffee. After pondering over the REPUBLICAN'S item relative to coffee and naturalization papers, it would seem that Kepler took an extra pull at his jug to help along digestion, and out of a befuddled brain evolved the following incoherent conglomeration of stuff, which for pure cheek would put to blush the most hardened government mule.

Editor Wenk seems to have a pick at the Carnahan Bros. Last week he located their well on, "Lands of Calvin G. Hinkley," this week he is ranting about their naturalization papers and Kepler's hotel. He says the business was forged and that an emetic brought it up. The emetic seems to have been Wenk's Burly assistant and his own bad liver. The Carnahans are all right despite Wenk's little paw. It is evident that no thrilling stream of pleasure courses through Wenk's veins over the Carnahans' good luck.

As to the Carnahan Bros, they are not in the controversy. Personally we are not acquainted with them, but from what we have heard, can say they are industrious, estimable gentlemen, and deserving of all the good fortune that can come to them. But about the coffee business: In 1868 a contest arose out of a senatorial election in the then 21st district. The contest developed the deplorable fact that hundreds of forged naturalization papers had been issued and voted on at the preceding election. To give them a dirty and aged appearance they were dipped in coffee. Now what we propose to show is, where this "dirty" was done. We therefore first append the sworn testimony of Jane Moore, a cook in Kepler's hotel (?) at Phillipsburg, which is as follows:

I was cooking at Kepler's hotel previous to the October, 1867, election; Mr. Leda boarded there; Mr. Leda came out Friday evening and asked me if I would make him a pint of coffee; I made a peach can full for him; I took it into the dining room and gave it to him; there were two strangers with him; this was after supper; the table was cleared up; Mr. Leda had his supper; don't know what he done with the coffee; I did not put any milk or sugar in it.

And here is a little extract from H. Bucher Swoope's argument before the committee of investigation, and for scathing sarcasm it would make a dog cringe. Here it is:

Their next witness was Jacob M. Kepler, who keeps the wretched apology for a hotel at Phillipsburg, where the conspiracy was hatched—the place where the papers were colored with coffee.

We hope Kepler will try not to get things mixed up so badly when he writes about coffee colored naturalization papers in the future.

RENEWS HER YOUTH. Mrs. Phoebe Chesley, Peterson, Clay Co., Iowa, tells the following remarkable story, the truth of which is vouched for by the residents of the town: "I am 73 years old, have been troubled with kidney complaint and lameness for many years; could not dress myself without help. Now I am free from all pain and soreness, and am able to do all my own housework. I owe my thanks to Electric Bitters for having renewed my youth, and removed completely all disease and pain." "Who says him that gives his neighbor drink, that putteth thy bottle to him, and waketh him drunken also.—Hab. II, 15.

FROM BEER TO BRANDY.

The beer-brewers and moderate drinkers claim that beer is an innocent beverage, and that its universal use would crowd out brandy, whiskey, and the stronger liquors. The so-called "high-licens" bill at Albany is framed upon this basis. The beer countries and beer drinkers of Europe are quoted in support of this theory. Prince Bismarck especially has been publicly referred to as an example. But the telegraphic reports of Bismarck's recent noted speech on the "army bill," of three-quarters of an hour in length, state that during the delivery of it he "drank nine glasses of cold brandy and water." This is very bad for the beer argument, but it is the only natural and inevitable result. The drinking of beer and light wines leads directly to the stronger liquors. This is the almost universal testimony. Beer is the outlet to the great ocean of intoxication. The claim that beer displaces the stronger liquors is utterly false. On the contrary it only fosters and creates the appetite. The alcohol in beer and wine is as dangerous and poisonous as in brandy. It is a "mocker," and whosoever is deceived is not wise.

It is a cruel thing to send a boy out into the world untaught that alcohol in any form is fire, and will certainly burn him if he puts it into his stomach. It is a cruel thing to educate a boy in such a way that he has no adequate idea of the dangers that beset his path. It is a mean thing to send a boy out to take his place in society without understanding the relation of temperance to his own safety and prosperity, and that of society. The national wealth goes into the ground. If we could only manage to bury it without having it pass thitherward in the form of a poisonous fluid through the inflamed bodies of our neighbors and friends, happy should we be. But this great abominable curse dominates the world. * * * The more thoroughly we can instruct the young concerning this dominating evil, the better will it be for them and for the world.—J. G. Holland.
