The blade of the ax being nearly five inches wide, cut a gash the entire width of itself through the back and into the chest cavity. He was conveyed to his home and Dr. Siggios summoned, who found upon his arrival the worst cut he ever met with in his practice. So large was the incision that the doctor was able to insert his entire hand in the cavity, one of the ribs being cut in two. After the wound was dressed the young man felt quite comfortable, but the doctor feels none too certain as to his chances of recovery. The young man is aged about 17 years.

Tionesta Township Schools.

General repairs were ordered to be made on the Hunter Station school house, includng new patent seats; also new seats for Hunter Run building, and general repairs on Jamieson building, to gether with such repairs as are needed to other buildings throughout the district. Wm. Lawrence was experated from the payment of school tax in the township for 1887, for the reason that his children attend in the borough. Teachers were elected as follows: Hunter Station, three mouths, Chas. Stewart; Hunter Run, four mouths, Miss Nellie Barber; Jamieson, six months, R. S. Thomson; Oldtown, three months, Miss Ida Paup; Smokey Hill, four months, Miss Minnie A Wood; Blocher, four months, John Rhodes; Shriver, four months, C. L. Myers: Huddleson, six months, Miss D. C. Davidson. All teachers to receive $28 per month, and the Secretary was ordered to article with same before entering upon their duties. The apparent diversion from the new school law compelling six months school, as shown in the above list, is accounted for by the fact that some have already had a sufficient number of months schooling to make up the discrepancy. The next meeting of the board was set for October 8, at 1 o'clock p. m., at T. F. Ritchey's office. Forest County's Insane.

A Pittsburgh exchange says it may be of interest to smokers of "stogies" to have an explanation why they are so called, One is that the drivers of Conestoga wagons on the National pike were in the hab it of buying cheap, strong cigars, and, being heavy smokers, kept asking for a cheaper eigar than was then made. Over at Washington, Pa., a cigar maker, in answer to this demand for cheaper eigars, evolved a long, slender roll of totacco, which he offered to the drivers and freight ers, and was called Conestoga eigar, abbreviated afterward to "stoga," and later to "stogie."

Last week Barnum's bill posters got a double team and driver of Mr. Eysinger, and went out to Sheffield. Returning the team ran away throwing out the driver and hurting him seriously. The bill posters jumped out and escaped injury. Coming down the hill this side of Stoneham, he horses, now freed from the wagon, vertook Mrs. Jerry Crary, of Sheffield, who was coming towards Warren in a buggy, with her 14 year old boy driving. The horses attempted to pass the buggy, one on each side. The crash broke the buggy somewhat, and threw Mrs. Crary and boy out. She was badly bruised, and the shock to her nervous system is rather serious. She was brought to Warren-is now with her mother, Mrs. Dunham. The boy was not much burt.
