LOCAL AND MISCELLANEOUS.

Oil market closed yesterday 70c. Opening this morning at 70 1/2c. Turkeys are beginning to roost on the top perch now.

They haven't succeeded in getting the tools out of the Wolcott well yet. Mr. J. K. Crawford of Franklin, spent a part of last week in town on business.

Born—to Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Blum, of German Hill, Monday evening—a daughter. Mrs. Judge Trunkay was the guest last week of Mrs. S. D. Irwin and Mrs. Col. Thomas.

Lawrence & Smearbaugh have a fleet of ten coal flats about ready to start for the Pittsburgh market. The President has issued his proclamation appointing Thursday, Nov. 24th, next, as a day of Thanksgiving.

Misses Maggie and Artie Robinson returned last Friday from their visit to friends in St. Louis and Chicago. Little Willie screams and storms with a burn upon his arm. To little Willie joy is sent, by using Salvation Oil the great liniment.

Samuel Walker, well known to many of our readers, is now stopping at the Erie Soldiers Home. He has not been able to walk for three years. Saturday morning last the first general snow greeted the people as they stepped out of doors. The ground was fairly covered and out on the hills "the beautiful" was three inches deep.

Dr. Siggins went to West Hickory to attend the funeral of an infant child of his brother, A. J. Siggins, which died yesterday, aged about eight months. The stricken parents have our sympathy.

The shut down project goes into effect Nov. 1st. It is to be hoped some good to the oil regions will come out of the movement, which will be somewhat of a departure from past efforts in that direction.

Hallow E'en occurs next Monday evening, Oct. 31. The fact is mentioned, not as a reminder to the boys, but as a pointer to the average citizen who has thus far failed to garner his cabbage, pumpkins, etc.

Watchmaker Ralle was in Pittsburgh last week and laid in a full line of crystals, springs, bands, &c.; he also bought a complete outfit of the latest pattern of tools, and is all the better prepared now to please his customers.

Mr. R. W. Merriam, who was obliged to abandon his business in Tennessee on account of failing health, will leave next Monday for Colorado, where his physicians believe the climate will restore his health. We hope it may.

Mrs. S. D. Irwin was the guest of Franklin friends during the past week. On Monday she was joined by Mrs. A. B. Kelly, when they attended a convention of the missionary society of this section of the State, which was in progress there.

The strongest wind storm that has visited this section of country for years, passed over us on Sunday evening last, doing much damage in the oil fields in blowing over and demolishing derricks. It was all wind—no rain or snow accompaniments.

A goodly number of our lovers of music took in the concert of the famous Schubert Quartette, at Tidoute last Thursday evening, and returned delighted with the entertainment. Hickory turned out an immense crowd, while Tidoute was out in a body, filling Grandin opera house to its utmost capacity. All who attended are lavish in their praise of the managers of the affair, Messrs. Bucklin and Wheeler, who labored hard to please their patrons and make them comfortable.

Mr. Dan Bennett, of Cooper Tract, was in town yesterday on his way back from a visit to his parents in Franklin. He said: "The shut-down movement is being joined by nearly everyone in our district. Some are holding off yet, but I guess they will get around by the 1st of November all right."—Derrick.

The newly erected Evangelical Church, on Whig Hill, which is beautifully located on a two acre lot donated by Mr. Jacob Beck, will be dedicated on Sunday, Nov. 13, 1887. Rev. F. P. Saylor, Presiding Elder of the district, will officiate. The ministry and laity friends from near and far are cordially invited to attend.

Mrs. W. P. Rheese died at Nebraska, this county, on Sunday evening last. She was the widow of the man of the above name who died there a few weeks ago, a charge upon the township. The lady, who was an industrious woman leaves four children, all small, to be looked after by charity. The case is a peculiarly sad one.

Exra Barber, one of the men charged with riot on a train Sept. 28th, was rearrested by the railroad detective last Saturday and taken before Squire Walz charged with interfering with the running of the train (pulling the bell rope) thereby endangering the lives of the passengers. He was held to bail in $1000, and now is one of Sheriff Love's boarders.—Tidoute News.

The latest proposition for a business enterprise comes from a gentleman who wants to start a glass factory in Tionesta if the town will donate three acres of ground, with railroad switch room, and twelve thousand dollars in money! He didn't say anything about free gas and exemption from taxation for 10 or 15 years, but that, of course, would be expected to follow as a secondary matter. It looks like the old story of one fellow furnishing the experience and the other the capital.

Speaking of the decision of the Supreme Court in the King murder case, the Clarion Democrat of last week says: There can be no hope of clemency from the Pardon Board, and it only remains for the Governor to sign the death warrant and fix the day for the execution. King received the news that threw the shadow of the gallows over him, from whose gloom only grim Death can release him, with stolid indifference at first, but gradually he has come to realize his situation and has broken down. Fathers Deckenbrode and Meyer have been with him and have administered spiritual consolation.

H. G. McKnight, one of the proprietors, and Harry Johns, the artistic job printer of the Oil City Bazaar, dropped into town last Friday afternoon. They had run short of meat down there and started out to hunt some; getting off the train at President, they were soon lost, and badly frightened by the fearful "whirr" of numerous pheasants that flew up before their feet. Weary, foot sore and hungry when they struck the town, kind friends took them in, and the evening train conveyed them home under cover of the night, but they of course had "a good hunt." No mistake about that.

The Sabbath School Convention held in the M. E. Church last Thursday, Friday and Saturday, while not so largely attended as could have been wished, was nevertheless a most decided success, and heartily enjoyed by those who attended. We had expected to be furnished a report of the proceedings for this issue but were disappointed. The officers elected for the next convention, which will be held in the Presbyterian Church in this place, on the first Thursday and Friday of September, 1888, are as follows: President, Dr. J. W. Morrow; Secretary, J. E. Hillard; Treasurer, A. B. Kelly; Program Committee, C. H. Donnell, A. B. Kelly, P. M. Clark; Delegate to State Convention, J. H. Dingman; Alternates, A. B. Kelly.

The very large chestnut crop this year is said by weather prophets to indicate that next year will be a severe one. The large yield of chestnuts and acorns is Nature's way of supplying the squirrels for a protracted siege of extremely cold weather.—Venango Spectator.

We dislike very much to "teal down" our venerable brother of the Spectator on a subject upon which, as one of the "oldest inhabitants," his opinions are clearly entitled to consideration over most all others, but the theory advanced does not always hold good. It is just ten years ago this fall that the chestnut, acorn and beechnut crops were greater, if anything, than this year, and yet the winter was very open and mild; and immense bodies of pigeons thrived all winter, grew fat and commenced nesting in this county in the latter part of February of '78. Why cannot Nature as well as history repeat itself?

On last Saturday as A. W. Kinch and son were driving along the road near Tylersburg they noticed something in the shape of a wallet sticking partly out of the mud. The son alighted from the buggy and picked it up and on slight examination found that it contained a large sum of money and some valuable papers in favor of Nicholas Gilford. The party drove a distance of three miles to the store of Mr. Gilford and after questioning the old man as to any lost treasure he discovered his loss. When restored he examined the contents, admitted that all was right, amounting to several hundred dollars and valuable papers. Mr. Gilford rewarded the young man with his thanks and a quarter.—Clarion Democrat.

The Miami Republican, of Paola, Kansas, thus speaks of Judge Irwin's recent visit to that city: Samuel D. Irwin of Tionesta, Pa., was here during parts of last and this week. Sam is an old Paolite, coming here in 1857 and remaining until about 1864. He was so well known and liked during his residence here that after a lapse of twenty four years he found a host of friends still here who gave him a hearty welcome. His friends were glad to see that he had changed but little. He is gifted with a powerful memory and asked about old friends who had died or moved away, some of whom had been forgotten by our oldest settlers. Mr. Irwin is perhaps one of the best scholars in the country. It was just after he graduated that he first came to Paola, but there was a better field for a good surveyor, so he added that in connection with his law business. He made the present plat of the old town site and has run lines over almost the entire county. He did his work in such a manner that it was a great help to surveyors who followed him. Besides this in nearly all the records of the county can be found papers from the pen of honest old Sam, all correct. He was not only able and intelligent, but kind and courteous, a good friend and an honest lawyer. He slipped in among us unannounced, but as soon as it was known that he was in the city he left their business to hunt him up, and no man ever received a heartier welcome than was enjoyed by Sam during his stay here. He left for his home in Pennsylvania Wednesday, with the promise that we would hear from him soon.

The world was all before them where to choose," and as they were a sensible young couple they took a house near the corner, where they could get always on short notice, a bottle of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup—at 25 cents, to cure their colds.

An informal ballot of the householders of Burnley, England, was recently taken by the friends of temperance to ascertain their views on the licensing question. 8,366 were in favor of giving the people power to stop the sale of intoxicating liquors in their own district, and 2,640 against.

Said a landlord of a public house, at the verge of death, "If I had my time to live over again, I would rather sweep crossings or beg, or even starve to death, before I would again see the misery which I and my trade have produced."

You are feeling depressed, your appetite is poor, you are bothered with Headache, you are drowsy, nervous, and generally out of sorts, and want to brace up, but not with stimulants, such as medicine, or bitters, which have for their basis very cheap, bad whiskey, and which stimulate you for an hour, and then leave you in worse condition than before. What you want is an alternative that will purify your blood, start healthy action of Liver and Kidneys, restore your vitality, and give renewed health and strength. Such a medicine you will find in Electric Bitters, and only 50 cents a bottle at G. W. Bovard's Drug Store.

W. C. T. U. COLUMN.

Conducted by the Tionesta Union. The W. C. T. U. meets the 3d and 4th Tuesday of each month, at 3 p. m. President—Mrs. Eli Holeman, Vice Presidents—Mrs. J. G. Dale, Mrs. W. J. Roberts, Recording Sec'y—Mrs. L. A. Howe, Cor. Sec. & Treas.—Mrs. S. D. Irwin.

During the session at Johnstown, of the United Presbyterian Synod, Oct. 18 last, the following was submitted for adoption by the Committee on Temperance: Whereas, It is the duty of the church to take the lead in all moral reforms; and the liquor traffic continues to be supported, at least, indirectly, by our State and National Governments, it becomes the church courts to speak out in plain words of warning against this giant vice and crime of the day.

Resolved, First, That the remedy for the evils of the liquor traffic is not license, high or low, but the prevalence of the principles of the Gospel and prohibition by both State and Nation of the manufacture, importation and sale of all intoxicating liquors as a beverage.

Second, With gratitude and thanksgiving to God we record the progress of right thought and public sentiment on this leading question in morals and politics, and so rejoice in the passing of the "submission resolution" by the Pennsylvania Legislature. Third, We "bid God speed" to the W. C. T. U. in their great and good work against the iniquity of strong drink, and urge the formation of local unions in every community.

Fourth, As a court of Christ's house we enjoin upon all under our care the practice of total abstinence; that Seasons see to it that none of their members rent property for the sale of intoxicants, and that all use every right influence for the success of legal prohibition. S. B. McBRIDE, T. C. ATCHISON, J. G. GILMORE, Committee.

A gentleman prominent in connection with army hospitals during the war, writes as follows: It is certainly true that whisky was used to an extent, and with an ignorance that gave point to the remark of Dr. Dalton—then surgeon-in-chief of the base hospitals at City Point—that he judged of the value of his medical officers by the amount of liquor they prescribed—they standing in inverse ratio to this amount. That every one of the thousands of cases of pneumonia treated in the base hospitals at Point of Rocks and at City Point, in the trying winter of 1864, was made worse, or sent to a fatal termination, by the prescription of whisky, either straight or as a punch, no one would now dispute. It was not so clear then. But it was apparent that desperate cases went straight on to death under such treatment. The great service rendered by the Sanitary Commission in substituting for this treatment, or adding to it, the treatment by careful nutrition from its "special diet kitchen," has never received the recognition it would in our next war—which may God avert! The most deadly effect of the spirit ration was to take away the appetite for, or to prevent the assimilation of, the plain, nutritious food upon which recovery hung.—Union Signal

Last year the losses by fire in the United States a total of $120,000,000. While there went up in the smoke of cigars, $180,000,000, or a half a million dollars every day.

The Pioneer Press says that under the $1,000 high-license law of Minneapolis the police court business for August was the heaviest in the history of the court.
