Forest County Takes the Banner.

A short time before the election Chairman Cooper of the Republican State Committee, offered as a prize a handsome silk Bancer to the Republi cans of the county which would show "the nearest relative approach to the Blaine vote of 1884." It seems that, neyood a doubt Little Forest has won this banner, the Republicans having not only come up to the Blaine vote, but exceeded it by 14. No other county in the State, so far as heard from has come up to the vote of Mr. Blains, the nearest being Crawford which still lacks several. Chairman Shawkey has written to headquarters, and laid in the claim for Forest county, and has word from the chairman that it would seem that our county had captured the prize; also informing him that the Banner would be forthcoming as soon as the result was definitely learned. It is no small distiuction to be designated as the "Ban and charge the borough $1.00 per hardly heir to an ache or pain which ner County," and the Republicans of month for them. The council thinks cannot be cured by using Salvation Forest may justly feel proud over the handsome showing.

conduct him over his well appointed farm. It is by no means certain that the reporter would have done so had there been a business like watch dog anywhere in sight, but after due inquiry in that matter he learned that the coast was clear. Mr. and Mrs. Dimond moved on the farm in 1873 --A Washington dispatch under the year before the grasshoppers came. they beat him getting off, for they ate a peach and apple orchard; also a grove of cottonwood trees that would make a delightful place for picuics or a good old fashioned campmeeting. But it is the system of water works on the place which calls for special attention. Over a well is a reliable Woodmanse windmill-it is reliable because it is an Illuvois article -which pumps water into a tank. From this tank the water is conducted by underground pipes to the hogs, the cows and to the barn, where a pump is placed close to the horses. Our city fathers would do well to consider the advisability of extending the system to Downs. Mr. Dimond kindly harnessed up his stallion and drave the reporter back to town. The horse is partly Norman and partly of the famous Morgan blood, being a beautiful jet black ani-

JUDGE LOCHRAE ON PROBIBITION.

Judge Lochrane has been known in New York, where he came frequently on business as attorney of the Pullman Car Company, as one of the lovers of good living and fine wines. He came up from Georgia last week and astonished his acquaintances by the announcement that he had become a full fledged Prohibitionist. "Atlanta as a Prohibition city," he said to me, and I helped to make it so. I turned all the good liquors in my cellars out into the streets. It had to run in the gutter or down my throat and I concluded it had better be in the gutter. You see, our Government had come to be a government of whiskey, by whiskey and for whiskey. The liquor dealers asserted their ownership of the entire country and their control of the entire population. It is only a question of time under such a condition of things when men will rise up and smite them hip and thigh. It is a thing that Rio Coffee, must be done in order to preserve the manbood of the country. You see drinking in the South is not drinking school at Edinboro. The aim is to give the in the North. Then when we attempted to regulate the sale of liquor so as to have things decent as you do in New York, the liquor men defeated every effort we made. It came to pass then that we got up and licked them out. It is what will eventually be done everywhere unless they see what is coming and take a modest back seat to get

> The Vernon horror, by which every passenger and all but one of the crew of a lake steamer perished, is proved by testimony before the coroner's jury, to be another whisky massacre. The captain was a confirmed druckardnotoriously so; had had delirium tremens on former trips. What the company were thinking about, entrusting such a man with the control of a vensel, we cannot imagine. The lone sur vivor testified: "The captain was drunk most of the time, and was very drunk when we left Cheboygan last week. Friday night, the night the steamer was lost, he was as drunk as I ever saw him, and kept taking a drink every little while from a bottle that he carried in his coat pocket. If the captain had been sober, I don't believe the yeasel would have been lost, for any sober man would have turned back when he saw how badly she acted in the hig sea."
