LOCAL AND MISCELLANEOUS.

-Oil market closed yesterday 871. Opening this morning at 871c. -Stave bauling through here has been quite brisk for some time past. -A graduate of the Normal School, Edinboro, is getting $5,000 per year. -A leap year party consisting of young and old enjoyed a sleighride to Nebraska last evening.

-A communication from Newmanville arrived too late for this issue but will keep till next week.

-Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Collins departed for San Diego, California, on Monday, expecting to remain till spring.

-Mr. Wolcott expected to finish his Dawson Run well yesterday, but what the results were we have not learned. -Mr. R. W. Merriam returned from his sojourn in Pueblo, Col., last week, considerably improved in health, we are pleased to note.

-Grandma Garfield, mother of the lamented President, died at her home at Mentor, Ohio, on Saturday morning last, aged 86 years.

-John T. Carson and F. R. Lanson were appointed overseers of the poor for the borough at the argument court held on Friday last.

-The trial of Mrs. Dinsmore, King's accomplice in the murder of Davis at St. Petersburg, will begin in the Venango county court to-morrow.

-Mr. Simon, of the flourishing merchant tailoring establishment of McCuen & Simon, Oil City, spent a few hours in town yesterday evening. -Misses Lola Hend-rson and Nellie Barber of Pleasantville, were guests at the homes of Hon. E. L. Davis and L. J. Hopkius during the past week. -At the rate kept up during the -Saturday and Sunday nights were a trifle the coldest we've had yet this winter, the mercury getting down to 12° and 10° respectively. On Saturday night the river froze over at this point for the second time this winter, and for five weeks the sleighing has been most excellent, which has proved a great blessing to lumbermen. -Mr. Jared P. Mr. H. had been married but little more than six months, and the separation thus soon from a loving wife is a sad blow indeed, in which he has the sympathy of a large circle of acquaintances. -A "corn doctor" did quite a thriving business in town last week. It beats all what a pile of people have corns, and how easy it is to "sell them" a remedy. The fellow claimed to have disposed of over 40 bottles, but if you were to inquire of those who were taken in, it is doubtful whether any would acknowledge the "corn." Try it and see. -Chairman Shawkey publishes a call for Republican Primaries for the purpose of electing a Delegate to the Republican State Convention, and for nominating a Delegate to the Chicago Convention. The early date of the State Convention makes this necessary. The general primaries for nominating county candidates will likely be held at the usual time in June. -Beaver Valley Items : Rev. Rumberger is holding a protracted meeting on Whig Hill at present .---- Mr. E. E. Stitzinger, of Strobleton, was visiting friends in the Valley last week.

-Harry Stolz, who for some months past, has had charge of O. G. Kelts' jewelry store, is suffering with quite a bad case of blood poisoning, the result, he is free to admit, of cigarette smoking. Under the advice of his physician, he left on Monday for a change of air. We trust he may soon return completely restored to health, and that he, as well as other cigarette smokers

Death of Samuel F. Rohrer.

The death of Mr. Samuel F. Rohrer, occurred very suddenly near bia home in Marienville, this county, on Thursday morning last, 19th inst. He had gotten into a passing sleigh on his way to his school, seemingly in his usual bealth, and when but a few rode from home, without a moment's warning, fell forward and was dead, evidently of apoplexy. Mr. R.'s life has been a busy and seful one. He came here at an early day from Lancaster county, where he had received a good English education. He was accomplished as a civil engineer and surveyor, and was engaged in surveys of rail roads and capals before coming here. After he settled in Forest county, his acquirements as a surveyor became of value to himself as well as to the community, for many an early settler in the great woods that then existed had been shown his farm and land lines through his aid.

He was Superintendent of Schools for three or four terms, it is said, and his reports are able. His manners were excellent, in habits not obtrusive, always cheerful, taking a bright view of everything. He may have had enemiss but the writer never heard of that a community always will miss

Nick. Thompson Camp, S. of V.

Nick. Thompson Camp, No. 28, Sons of Veterans, was instituted and officers installed on Thursday evening last. The installing officers were from H. M. Hughes Camp, No. 181, of Franklin, Pa., consisting of Capt. Frank Barr. Lieutenants G. S. Applegarth, and A. W. Ballman. A person would naturally ask, why is it only No. 28, when the installing officers were of an advanced number themselves. This is answered, that this number was vacant, and adopted by the chief officials, to keep up the number full. The S. V.'s turned out quite a large and healthy Camp from the very start, about 22 joining, with others heard from who are waiting, "anxiously waiting," to join the Camp. These Sons of V.'s must remind the old settler considerably of how the boys in blue looked when they started for the front in the sixties, when the land was in peril and "war waged its wide desolation." Now those boys are old, and these are deputized to keep alive the fires of liberty on the altars of our country. And continue to maintain the constitution and the flag.

The Camp starts out with brilliant prospects, officers and members being full of interest in the work. The following is the roster of officers : Captain, C. M. Agnew. First Lieut., John T. Carson, Second Lieut., J. D. Swailes. Chaplain, J. N. Heath. Q. M. Serg't, S. Q. Clark. First Serg't, L. J. Hopkins. Serg't of Guard, E. C. Morgan. Corp. of the Guard, Bert Fitzgerald. Camp Guard, R. G. Brownell, Color Serg't, O. R. Bascum. Picket Guard, Chas. Boyard.

Camp Council, Joe, Clark, Andrew Carr. Frank Law. A few veterans of the Post attended the meeting to see the boys organize, and made some encouraging remarks, among them we mention Past Commanders Knox, Boyard and Agnew, S. Vice Com. Fitzgerald, Commander Irwin and Eden P. J. V. Remarks were made by Capt's, Barr, Agnew, and other members. Chaplain Heath gave a humorous declamation, which was an entertaining feature of the evening and quite to the purpose. At a late hour adjourned. Thus was organized a camp, which will be a credit to the county, and a benefit to its members. Meetings every Thursday evening for the first month. O. V.

WHAT BREWERS THINK ABOUT BEER.

Mr. Lill was one of America's greatest brewers. For thirty years he made beer, and the product of his great es. tablishment on the North Side, Chicago, had a wide reputation. At last the brewery burned down. People supposed that Mr. Lill would rebuild. At a meeting of the business man of that section the subject was broached. but Mr. Lill said that he should never build nor own another brewery. It was a business which demoralized both master and man. He had found it impossible to keep sober men on his premises. It was a manufactory of drunkards in constant operation ; and the curse began in the brewery itself, where every man was a beer barrel in the morning and a barrel of beer at night. He would have no more of it. He would be content to make less

He would be content to make less inoney in some other way. At this point an old acquaintance in the audience called out, "Lill, what are we to do for that excellent ale of yours?" Mr. Lill answered, "Do without, and be the better for it."

We can not very well doubt Mr. Lill's honesty in this. He had made money in brewing, and, according to common custom, he ought to speak well of the business. But he could not honestly speak well of brewing. It is too thoroughly bad ; the product is bad and its effects are bad. They accord with what we see everywhere around us. Beer brings disease, poverty, ruin-physical, moral, and mental, whenever it has a chance to work out its legitimate results, to the individual and to the community.

England's greatest brewer says : "It s in vain that every engine is set to work which philanthropy can devise when those whom we seek to benefit are babitually soaking their brains with beer or inflaming them with ardent spirits. The struggle of the school, the library, and the Church, all united against the beer houses and gin-palaces, is but one development of the war between heaven and hell." Reader, on which side do you propose to range yourself?

The Great Western Blizzard.

A telegram from Nebraska City, Neb., says Judge J. F. Kinney, agent of the Yankton Sioux agency, in Dakota, arrived here Friday after being nine days on the road. Five days were necessary for the party to travel thirty miles. The thermometer during the five days was at forty degrees below zero most of the time. The judge says the loss of life in Dakota has been greatly underestimated and the took place on board the cars. The passengers were crowded into one car trying to keep warm. Two babies perished. The men discarded all the outer garments they could spare and gave them to the ladies and children. finding these not enough, mail sacks were brought from the postal car and the children wrapped up in them. While at one station in Bonhomme County the judge says, nineteen frozen hodies were brought into the depot in one day. In Bonhomme County the list of dead will reach fully 160. The estimates made at Yankton, Thursday, figure up nearly 1,000 lives lost in the Territory. The counties where the loss of life was the heaviest are : Bonhomme, 160; Hutchinson, 14; Lincoln, 13; Beadler, 25; Spink, 12; Hand, 10; Ward, 15. The northern and central parts of the Territory have not been heard from fully. Judge Kinney was accompanied all through the scenes of suffering by his wife.

The same game has been played by the public upon St. Peter and St. Paul, and through all the years since their decease their heirs. haven't received a nickel of compensation. Messre, Spurgeon and Jones have fared a little better than the apostles, however, for they have already been paid a big round price for delivering their sermons. Moreover, if the press hadn't pirated and printed their discourses, it is doubtful if they could get half their present prices for preaching them. The apostles, believing their messages of vital importance to dying men, were doubtless glad to get their words spread abroad gratis, and were willing to take souls for their hire. But living in these days runs into money, and Mr. Jones is willing to content himself with a reward in spot cash." The News philosopher gets there, as usual with both feet.

A QUAKER'S ADVICE.

An elderly gentleman accustomed to "indulge," entered the room of a certain inu, where sat a sedate old Quaker by the fire. Lifting a pair of green spectacles up on his forehead. rubbing his inflamed eyes and calling for hot brandy and water, he complained to the friend that his eyes were getting weaker and weaker and the spectacles did not seem to do him any good. "I'll tell thee friend," replied the Quaker, "what I think: If thee were to wear the spectacles over the mouth for a few months thy eyes would soon get well again."
