Mr. Ed. Christy, of Tidoute, and Miss Louise Richards, of Ball town, who have been visiting relatives in the city, returned to their homes this morning. Oil City Blizzard.

Hon. J. B. Agnew and A. B. Kelly Esq., accompanied Delegate C. M. Shawkey to Harrisburg yesterday, and take in the fun at the Republican State Convention which convenes there to-day.

Daniel Andrews, of Hickory is recovering rapidly and wishes to acknowledge his gratitude to the citizens of his township who gave him material assistance during the worst of his trouble.

The scholars of Miss Nannie Morrow's school, at Foxburg, this county, gave expression to the esteem in which they hold her by the presentation of a very handsome toilet case, on Monday of this week.

C. J. John Sobieski will lecture on temperance in the M. E. church next Tuesday evening, May 1st, under the auspices of the W. C. T. U., of Tionesta. The lecture will be free, and a general invitation is extended.

Among the list of students at Clarion Normal School, as recently published in the papers of that place, we notice the following from Forest county: A. W. Richards, Balltown; J. B. Mays and J. G. Braden, Clarion; Ella Brennehan, Cocksburg; Winnie White, Clarion.

A petition has been forwarded to Governor Beaver asking the appointment of Mr. T. B. Cobb to the vacancy caused by the resignation of Justice Brennan. Squire Cobb is possessed of the intelligence and ability to administer the responsible trust to the entire satisfaction of all in his bailiwick, and we apprehend his court will be conducted in a graceful and dignified manner.

The Warren Mirror says that Mr. Criswell, a highly respected citizen of Sheffield Junction, is missing. He is the owner of the White Mill and is a man of temperate habits. Last Wednesday morning he left his home with ninety-five dollars in his pocket and at Tionesta bought a ticket for Warren, to purchase a circular saw for the mill. Since that time nothing has been seen or heard from him and fears of foul-play are entertained.

Mr. Hoyt of the Gas office has been successful in bringing out about six dozen chicks by an incubator of his own designing and heated with gas. They are lively little creatures, and take as naturally to scratching and pecking as though hatched by the old process. When Mr. H. "set his hen," we had some misgivings as to the final outcome, or come out, of the chickens, and had plans all laid to hatch out a little fun at his expense, but the success with which he met has knocked our calculations flatter than a pancake.

A letter received from Elk City states that Amos Kiser, the raftman who was so badly injured at Moran's Eddy, became rational Thursday for the first time since the accident. He remembered that he had been hurt at Oil City, but knew nothing until Thursday of the time that had passed since he was injured. The ugly wound he received has nearly healed but has caused his left ear to become deaf. —Blizzard.

David Collingwood, who was detained in Clarion on suspicion of being the murderer of the Everhart woman, had his hearing at East Brady yesterday, and as was generally expected, not enough evidence was produced to even bind him over to court. And thus has another innocent man been thrown into prison charged with this most heinous crime on the merest suspicion. The Derrick says it is "a case of too much detective," while the most of its readers have about settled down to the conclusion that it is a case of too much unreliable Derrick reporting.

Oil City recently organized a "fur, fin and feather" club, whose object was purported to be the enforcement of the game and fish laws. Already there is complaint by some of the citizens of that town, that certain members of the f. f. f. club have been smashing the law by fishing on Sunday. A report comes from President that some of the same fellows inaugurated the season, which opened last Sunday a week, at that place. The proper thing for all lawabiding citizens to do, is to make the fur, fin and feathers fly when any of these chaps come nosing around where they have no right to.

A new map of Harmony township has just been issued by S. D. Irwin and F. F. Whittekin. It is on a large scale, being 24x38 inches in size. We have examined it, and find it very accurate in all details, showing the roads, railroad depots, post offices, &c. There was much confusion in this township heretofore regarding land lines, and a year ago the above able surveyors commenced the work, and it may be safely said it is the only true map out of that territory. It also includes that part of Tionesta township west of the river, which is a valuable addition. The finish of the map is excellent, being a photo-lithograph, the lines and figures being remarkably clear. For sale by the proprietors. Price $2 per copy.

Monday's Blizzard has the following concerning the death of a former Tionesta lady, who will be remembered by many friends here as Mrs. Clara Fuller: "Geo. M. Kepler received a message from Portland, Indiana, Saturday afternoon announcing the serious illness of his daughter, Mrs. D. S. Wakenight. He at once arranged to leave for that place, but before starting this morning received another message bringing the sad intelligence that she died last night. He left to-day and will be present at the funeral next Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. Wakenight was formerly a resident of Oil City and her husband was for several years engaged in business at Millerstown. A daughter, born about a week or ten days ago, survives the mother."

The Blizzard makes the natural and suggestive inquiry, how much money comes into Oil City or any other city for the amount that is sent out every month to lotteries? Seek your answer in the colossal fortunes heaped up by the men who are running these lotteries. Not long ago one of the leading officials of the Louisiana State Lottery gave his daughter a present of one million dollars on her wedding day. A leading citizen of Forest county informed us in a conversation this week that about a year ago some one in that county drew a good-sized prize in the lottery, and ever since there has been a steady flow of money from that region into the swindling concern. "Has any one drawn any more?" we asked. "No; but the drawing has been steady in 'other direction.'" —Franklin News.

These be facts, friends. Said a gentleman recently, "no one, perhaps, who is not 'in the business,' has any idea of the amount of gold, hard-earned cash that monthly goes out to these leeches." But it's the old story: a sucker born every minute and never one dies.

A week ago last Monday, James McLaughlin left his home at Siverlyville to indulge in his annual trouting expedition on Hemlock Creek, near President, since which nothing has been heard of him. He was accompanied to a small stream which empties into Hemlock, by a couple of friends, when they separated, McLaughlin saying that he intended camping out during the night. Oil City parties by the score have been out in search of the missing man, but up to yesterday morning had not found him. The Derrick says of the affair: "The parties who were out yesterday searching for Mr. James McLaughlin returned last night without having found any trace of him. There were several parties out and they searched along all the trout streams in the neighborhood of where he was supposed to have been. Another large party will leave Siverlyville this morning at 8 o'clock provided with provisions for a day or two, and anyone who wishes to go along is invited to meet them. Capt. Miles intends heading another party, which will leave this city some time this forenoon. Mrs. McLaughlin's condition was not materially changed yesterday. She is still in a very critical state. The condition of the family is a very sad one, and is deserving of attention. Mrs. McLaughlin resides in Refinery Row, at Siverlyville."

Big Blaze at Hickory. The Clark Hotel, at East Hickory, was totally destroyed by fire shortly after 12 o'clock yesterday. The fire is supposed to have originated near the chimney in the third story of the building, which being a frame structure was quickly consumed, a brisk breeze blowing at the time giving little chance to fight the flames. Nearly all the furniture and household goods were saved, except some in the third story.

The principal portion of the house was new, having been finished and occupied only since last summer, by Mr. Judson Clark, who conducted a very good hotel. We are not fully informed as to the amount of loss which the fire entails upon Mr. Clark, but hear it estimated at about $3,500, with an insurance of $2,500; two thousand of which is on the building and $500 on the furniture. Mr. Bowman's store was on fire several times, but by hard work of the men was saved.

Around the Circle. We've been out on a cruise. This may be a small matter to other people. But it engaged all our attention, took all our time, and was our legitimate business as—we're a tramp. We saw little new, nothing marvellous, nor anything out of the ordinary. But it is very pleasant betimes to review old landmarks, revisit old scenes, and renew old acquaintanceships. For it is not the time nor place but what we associate with these that make one more to us than another. With most of people the experiences of life are confined in a limited circle of which they themselves are the center. And so it follows that to "most of people" things, memories of times and places, localities are pleasant or otherwise, just as these have fulfilled the desires and been useful to the welfare individual, or what he believed to be his welfare.

You may give your neighbor good advice, tell him truths he ought to hear, deliver him the message the Lord has for him, but you will usually offend him, and no matter how much good your reproof results in to him you had better much rather look to the Lord for a reward than to the man. You leave an unpleasant impression that time can not efface. Principle may triumph over avarice to avenge. But a wound given to individual pride—the basis of personal dignity—will never heal. Maybe we're a little bitter. But would you expect a poet to write Evangelical, or a tramp to pen rhapsodies on the liberality of human thought on a diet of cold potatoes and frozen bread with the prospect of a late spring in the immediate vicinity? Not any.

A tramp is not necessarily illiterate. As a matter of necessity he is rather journalistic. No man knows his beat better than he. No man is better acquainted with the charitable status of localities than himself. No scribe ever took closer notes of these same localities than he does. Among such that has a value to himself he necessarily gathers some things that have more interest for ordinary people than for him. Let's see—where's that shingle we made the memoranda of our last run on—here it is— — — — — These are for ourself. We'll give the editor these:

We met our old Tionesta friends Morris Einstein and Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Einstein at Sheffield where they are as of old in the store business. Mrs. Einstein conducts a millinery store, and it being but a short time after the grand spring opening 'twas a sight to see. A number of new houses of a very pretty style, cosy, homelike, and elegant, have been built in Sheffield during the past year.

M. M. Seybolt, in Horton, Cray & Co's office, changes but little from his former self when a resident of Forest county; always busy, but never too busy to extend a hearty grip. We had a very pleasant visit with J. H. Horton, of Horton, Cray & Co., whom we found a very pleasant gentleman. Mr. Heddin formerly of Frosts is a resident of Sheffield, as is also Mr. Cameron formerly of Brookston, whom we met and with whom we renewed acquaintanceship. At Brookston business seemed quiet.

We missed our old friend B. D. McClure who accepted a position with a lumber firm farther East some time last fall. We learn from friends to whom he has written since that he is prospering finely as he no doubt deserves. We met Mr. Gilderleaves, book-keeper there, a fine appearing gentleman, whose head resembles our own somewhat (we refer to the thickness of the hair just back of the forehead.) Frank Lindsay occupies a neat little house on the confines of the town and don't keep backdoor's ball either. He and Miss Lucia Moore, formerly a teacher in Howe township were wedded last June.

And, by the way, Miss Colby, another of the teachers of Howe township was married quite recently; and we do not know the name of the gentleman who was so fortunate as to win Miss Colby from the school-room to "a fireside now her own." We are reminded just here that in the year past not less than—let's see, one, two, three, four—, well, probably ten,—of the teachers of Forest county have been wedded. And only 60 schools in our county! How's that? But then you'd ought to send a notice to the REPUBLICAN so that your old friend, the Tramp, would ha' known it, and been glad at your good fortune. Don't forget next time. We'd drink a health to each of you separately, but we fain would believe our work not all done yet on this side the dark river. But here's to you all: Imagine us drinking your healths in bright crystals from the spring of eternal good will.

Squire Beebe and James Scherwald are in the butchering business. They have opened a market and also run a wagon. We met A. P. Anderson, hale and hearty as usual, also. The Tanning Company are building a large dry house near the station, and will build ten family dwelling houses for employes this summer. The rent for houses is nominal—$1.50 to $2 per month; gas $1.00 per month for fuel, and 25c. for light.

We met our old friend G. B. Haight of Watson's. He reports business out there quite brisk; the saw mill there and the shingle mill both running. Down on the extension of the T. V. R. R. the mill business seems brisk. The mill at Ferndale was burned last Fall, but was afterward rebuilt. There is the Pebble Dell mill, the Ferndale mill, Healy's mill, and W. E. Browne at Duhings, all running. A young man by the name of Mac-Anallen was caught in a log jam at Ferndale and crushed to death not long ago. This is the man reported as drowned at Brown's in your last week's paper. Brown's is on Spring Creek, only 9 miles from the mouth of the same, where it empties into the Clarion 16 miles above Clarion.

At Saybrook we met Miss Flora Kelly, who formerly taught school in a number of places in Forest county. Miss Kelly has taught for 3 consecutive terms at Saybrook; quite a compliment, well deserved. We had the pleasure to see the inside of the school house at Sheffield. The rooms are large and the ceilings high. The assembly room is especially pleasant. Mr. Miller is the principal, and has had a successful year along with his four assistants, all well qualified lady teachers. But the moon's gone down, and we'll have to quit for the present.

HERE AND THERE. Here's something that will "tickle" you: Put down in figures your age in years; multiply it by two; add to the result 3,770; then divide by two; subtract from the result your age—and you will obtain figures that you will not be likely to forget for some time. John Smith, of Canal township, on Friday last accidentally cut his left hand with a knife, which had previously been used in a surgical operation on an animal, and in a few hours blood poisoning developed so rapidly that on Tuesday only slight hopes were entertained of his recovery. Mr. Smith is known and respected as an intelligent honest citizen who could be relied upon for the community in which he was born and has always resided.—(Venango Citizen.)
