LOCAL AND MISCELLANEOUS.

Oil market closed yesterday 83. Opening this morning at 83c.

These are what are known as the dog days.

An argument court will be held on Friday next.

The W. C. T. U. column has been transferred to the fourth page, where it will be found in future.

Mrs. H. M. Irwin, with her two youngest children, of Franklin, was the guest of Mr. S. D. Irwin's family during the week.

Canfield will run a hack daily to the Whig Hill camp ground from this place. Those wishing to attend should engage seats ahead.

Haying in this section is about over, and the crop shows up a little better than the average, which is much better than last season.

Collector Canfield wishes to give this last notice to those who are still delinquent in their taxes of 1887, that a settlement must be had this week, otherwise he will proceed to collect according to law.

As will be observed by notice in this issue the Commissioners of Forest and Jefferson counties will receive bids for the rebuilding of the superstructure of the bridge which spans the Clarion river at Clarington.

The M. E. District Camp meeting commenced on Whig Hill yesterday, and will continue a week. Quite a goodly number of Tionesta people have tents, and will remain during the continuance of the meeting. Sunday will most likely see a big turnout from the surroundings.

The REPUBLICAN acknowledges a pleasant call yesterday from its old friend John Thomson Esq. of Stewart's Run, who was taking a few days' rest after finishing his hay harvest. And by-the-way, he informs us that his crop was one of the best he has had for many years. Mr. Thomson passed his 61st year a few months ago, but holds his age remarkably well.

Miss Mary Dithridge, accompanied by a younger sister, arrived in town on Friday last and will spend the season amid the scenes of her former home, and renew acquaintanceships among her former young associates, by whom she is given a hearty welcome. They are stopping at the old family homestead, now occupied by Mr. Asa Lovejoy and family.

Messrs. Whiteman & Baur have purchased the Whitcomb mill, formerly located at West Hickory, and will soon have it in operation on Tionesta creek, a short distance above Newtown, where they have a fine tract of hemlock to work up. Being very favorably located for both stocking and rafting, they will undoubtedly make a success of their enterprise.

The eclipse of the moon on Sunday night last came off promptly according to program and was a success. All who had the energy to keep awake till midnight saw the sight and were well repaid for the exertion, while those who snoozed missed one of the grandest shows of the season. The earth's shadow began to appear on the moon's surface at 11 o'clock, and the eclipse became total at exactly 12, during which time pale Luna presented a coppery hue. At half past one the show was over.

The State Weather-Crop Bulletin for the past week says: The temperature for the past seven days has been somewhat below the normal, with an average amount of sunshine. The rainfall has been excessive in some sections, and light in others. The weather conditions have been unusually favorable for harvesting, and nearly all the hay and wheat crop has been garnered in excellent condition. In several sections oats are being harvested, and the yield is very satisfactory. The season thus far has been a very productive one, and complaints are the exception.

The Commissioners of Tionesta township have posted notices informing the public that they will receive bids for the opening and finishing of a new road around what is known as "Stow Bend," beginning at a point in the creek road near Peters Run and ending near the Oldtown school house, a distance of about a mile. The road is being built in order to obviate the grade that now exists between the points mentioned.

The 4 o'clock passenger up on Thursday last ran into the caboose of a freight that was pulling into the switch at the curve in the road below the depot at this place. No one was injured, but the caboose was landed on top of the passenger engine and completely demolished, while the whole front of the engine was so completely wrecked as to make it a sorry looking object. The passengers were delayed about an hour.

Those who attended the Musicale at the Kelly mansion last evening—and there was a goodly attendance of Tionesta's people as well as a number from abroad—were highly edified by the rich musical feast which had been prepared for them, and which was decidedly the most recherche entertainment that has yet taken place in our midst. The receipts of the evening were very satisfactory, and will augment the Presbyterian church fund handsomely.

Mr. E. J. Russell gave the REPUBLICAN a pleasant call yesterday. He says reports from those members of the family (including his father, Cash and Walter) who are now located at Chehalis, Lewis county, Washington Territory, are very favorable. Mr. E. Russell has purchased an extensive saw and planing mill at that place, and will run it on an extensive scale. With lumber selling at as good figures as in this country, and with stock costing only $4.00 per thousand delivered at the mill, we cannot see why there isn't big money in the business. E. J. and Thomas Russell talk of migrating to that place in the spring, after finishing up their lumber business here. We shall be sorry to lose these energetic gentlemen from our midst.

Last week we stated that Tionesta had one citizen who had voted for General Harrison in 1840, Mr. Daniel Noble. We were not aware at the time that we had any more, but we have. Judge J. G. Dale was a young Harrison voter in those days, and took an active part in that memorable campaign, which he describes as the most exciting one that ever has occurred, or is ever likely to occur, in this country. Log cabins, canoes and hard cider were visible on every hand, while the songs of "Tippecanoe and Tyler, too," were on every lip. The Judge will take special pleasure in casting his vote for the grandson of Tippecanoe in November next. We also understand that Judge Prober was one of the Harrison men of '40, but have not had an opportunity of interviewing him as yet. And while we are at it, why not have a list of all the Tippecanoe veterans that now reside in the county. Will those now living in our county please send in their names?

The "Allegheey Hunting and Fishing Club," which has been in camp at Tubbs Run for the past month expects to break up housekeeping on Friday of this week. During their stay here the boys have conducted themselves in such a manner as to win the respect of all our citizens, and have shown themselves to be true gentlemen, every one of them. Visitors to their pleasant little home have been shown every courtesy, and have noticed no boisterous demonstrations of any kind. They have displayed wonderful taste and skill in fixing up their quarters in a neat and homelike manner, and the grounds present the appearance of a veritable little garden park, giving evidence of refinement and culture on the part of the campers which is rarely found in a party of pleasure seekers out for a vacation. They speak in glowing terms of the pleasant treatment received at the hands of our people who have honored them with visits, and wish to return their kindest thanks for the same. Should they take another "outing" next year the boys say they would not care to look for a pleasanter place than the classic banks of Tubbs Run.

On Thursday last G. W. Zeuts, of Tionesta township, was arrested and brought before Esquire Cobb, charged with raising a township order. A few weeks ago an order was issued to J. C. Hoovler, calling for $7.11. Mr. Hoovler passed it over to Zeuts, who is collector for the township, to apply on his taxes. Mr. Zeuts turned the order over to County Treasurer Fitzgerald and secured credit on his duplicate for $17.11. Mr. Fitzgerald discovered that the order had been tampered with, and called the attention of Mr. Lawrence, township treasurer, to the fact when he passed it over to him. Mr. Zeuts was notified of the matter, and came up and paid back $10 on the order. The matter rested here, until, as above stated, the arrest was made at the instigation of the Road Commissioners, by whom the order was issued. Mr. Zeuts waived a hearing and gave bail in the sum of $350 for his appearance at September Quarter Sessions. The affair has caused no little ripple of comment in this neighborhood, where the accused has resided for many years, and where he is generally known as a well-to-do farmer.

The game of ball between the married men and the singles hinted at in our last issue, came off on the island Friday, and resulted—but we won't give the young fellows away by telling how far behind the age they are in modern base ball. It used to be considered a great game when the scores run up into the fifties and sixties, but that was away back in the beginning of the game; in the dark ages, as it were, and no club can show its ignorance of the great national game any quicker than by running the score up in that shape. This is what the boys did, while the married men kept their side down to a respectable figure, preferring to do that and pay for the supper rather than display such lamentable ignorance of latter day base ball. Besides, they took compassion on the boys, who buckled into the work with a vim that led the other side to think they hadn't a nickle about them wherewith to pay for a meal if they did get left, and thus landlord Agnew would have been the loser in the long run, which wouldn't have looked well. All these things considered the boys were allowed to win the game, but if the married men had known they were going to make so much fuss about it they'd have taken the game themselves, and just let the boys cry if they wanted to. And that's what they'll do the very next time, see if they don't.

Some little excitement was occasioned last Friday by the arrest of a gentleman of color, by Constable Phil. Emert and his subsequent escape. It seems the young chap, who resides in Venango county, had relieved his step-father of $20, and was making way with it. Upon a dispatch to hold the wayward youth if he showed up, the constable collared him, and while awaiting the arrival of the old man, a "spell" came over him and he was seized with an irresistible desire to "shake" the officer, which he did by making his exit from the back door of the Central House and climbing the hill. Geo. Raab, who is some on the run, gave chase, following him to near the watering trough on the German Hill road, when he left the road and took to the woods, thus making good his escape for the time being. The race was a pretty even one for some distance, and was watched with considerable interest by a good many people, some of whom were uncharitable enough to remark afterwards that George mistook the fellow for a new barber, and while he had him on the run, was going to drive him out of town. But we don't credit the story, and take the liberty right here of branding it as another "campaign lie." George, although a democrat, believes in protection, but wouldn't resort to such stringent measures to secure it to himself. The fellow was afterward taken near Tylersburg and on Sunday brought here by an officer and lodged in jail. The theft was committed at West Hickory. At a hearing before Esquire Cobb, Monday, the fellow was bound over to court in the sum of $500, in default of which he now languishes at the Hotel de Sawyer.

Niagara Falls—A Delightful Day's Outing.

The Annual Grand Excursion to Niagara Falls, under the management of the Western New York and Pennsylvania Railroad will take place Thursday, August 23, 1888. A special train of through coaches will leave Tionesta in the morning at 6:30, Hickory 6:45, Trunkville 6:55, Tidouate 7:10, and stopping at all intermediate points, arriving at the Falls at 1:00 p. m. Returning the train will leave the N. Y. Central depot at 8:00 p. m., giving seven hours at the Falls, but all who wish to stop over, can return on any regular train leaving Buffalo the following day, Friday, Aug. 3. Fare for the round trip $2.50. This will be the only excursion from this section during the season, and all who wish to see this great natural wonder, should not forget the date. Excursion Agent S. B. Newton will have charge of the train which is a guarantee that all will have a pleasant time.

Starr.

The people of Starr are all living and well-to-do, just as they were one year ago, when "Underwood" and his clerk were giving the people of German Hill such wonderful puffs in or by the way of the Vindicator. I would just say that "Underwood" is telling the truth; we have had many reporters of late, but what did they report? In short, they would tell that some chap had his best girl out for a drive, or that "Doc" was lost, and so on and so forth.

The late rains have given our farmers a back-set; lots of hay down and no sun to dry it. Never mind, good people; the sun will shine, just for you, as some of our young folks think the stars shine for them only. Well, perhaps they do, and perhaps this world was only intended for two, and no more.

Crops look very good. Oats, corn and potatoes will be the best, if there is no backset. Hay was not extra on an average, caused by the cold spring. Wheat harvest has begun, which will not pay very well as the crop is poor this year.

Commissioner C. F. Ledebur is taking down and building larger his barn. Zuendel Bros. are doing the work.

Five dollars will be paid to the man who told the biggest snake story on our hill, if he will only come to the front like a man and say so.

Everybody expects to go to camp meeting at Whig Hill.

Our school will close in about 14 days, and then what? Everybody will find out.

Come again, Broomstick. July 20, 1888. OBSERVER.
