LOCAL AND MISCELLANEOUS.

An Important Matter.

It should not be forgotten that Thursday, September 6th, is the last day for the registration of voters. Every person who intends to vote should see that his name is on the registry list, and the best way to attend to the matter is to do it personally. Young members of the party should be particular to see that they have not been missed. County Committeemen and Vigilance Committees should look up all Republicans and see that they are registered. Do not neglect to attend to this matter promptly.

—Oil market closed yesterday 82½. Opening this morning at 82½.
—Are you assessed? Thursday, September 6th, is the last day.
—Miss Ida Paup is home from Edinboro to spend her vacation.
—Miss May Armstrong has returned to her home in Hendersonville, Mercer county.

—Young Republicans, who voted on age last fall, must be assessed in order to vote this fall.
—Mr. and Mrs. Jas. A. Cable of Warren, paid Mr. Brownell's family a visit last Friday and Saturday.

—Don't forget the meeting of the Harrison and Morton Club at the Court House to-morrow evening, for organization.

—Remember Thursday, September 6th, is the last day for the registration of voters.

—An original poem dedicated to the Harrison and Morton club of this place is at hand, but came too late for this issue; it will appear next week.

—Court is in session in Clarion this week, and several Tionesta citizens are in attendance as witnesses in the Everhart case, which will come before the grand jury.

—Thursday, September 6th, is the last day for the registration of voters. Let every Republican committeeman attend to his duty of seeing that every Republican in his district is at once assessed.

—Harry Melvin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Patterson, Kellettville, Pa., died on Monday and was buried at Whig Hill on Tuesday of this week; his age was one year, one month and thirteen days.

—The storm of Sunday evening last which swept over this section was very severe on the cornfields, many of which look as if they had been visited by a mowing machine. The loss will be quite heavy.

—Blackberries are ripe and abundant. Some have been brought in and found sale at 10 cents per quart. Quite a number of our people are preparing to camp out among the briars during the next ten days.

—Ralph, youngest son of Mr. Thos. Brace, narrowly escaped death from the heels of one of his horses last Sunday. As it was, a slight scalp wound and a severe fright is all the injury the little fellow sustained.

—Messrs. T. B. and Rowland Cobb are at the bedside of their father, at Frewsburg, N. Y., whose very serious illness was telegraphed here last week. His death is hourly expected, his old friends throughout this section will be pained to learn.

—The soldiers' reunion at Bradford next Wednesday, 22d, will be well attended from this section by the veterans. Stow Post will go in a body, and have succeeded in raising sufficient funds to take Tionesta's elegant Silver Cornet band with them; also the Post's fine martial band, and will thus not be outdone by any of their comrades in the musical line. A fine reception awaits "the boys" at Bradford, which city is noted for its hospitality to visitors.

—September 6th is the last day on which voters can be registered. Republican workers, see that all Republicans are upon the lists!

—The Austin, Potter county, Auto-graph says, "Mr. G. W. Smith received a fine present last Friday. It's a boy and weighs 10 pounds." The many Tionesta friends of Mr. and Mrs. Smith will extend congratulations upon this important event.

—Mrs. David Hays of Elsworth, Arkansas, accompanied by her two daughters, arrived here last Saturday and is the guest of Hon. E. L. Davis' family. Mrs. Hays' former Tionesta friends are pleased to welcome her back to her old home once more.

—Mrs. Rebecca Higbee and daughter, Mrs. Will J. Anderson, of Oil City, were guests of Mrs. D. S. Knox a few days last week. Mr. Anderson has been stopping in town for several days with a view of organizing a lodge of the Knights of the Maccabees, with good prospects of success.

—Mrs. G. D. Ackery and two daughters, of Jacksonville, Florida, arrived yesterday, and will remain the guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jude Arner, during the hot season. Yellow fever is raging in Jacksonville, and she no doubt very properly thought this an auspicious time to make her old home a visit.

—Mrs. W. A. Grove, who has been an invalid for several years, is receiving medical treatment in Pittsburgh. Her husband and sister, Miss Minnie Hunter, are with her. Mrs. Grove's many Tionesta friends will anxiously hope that she may receive a speedy relief if not a permanent cure of her illness, which seems to be in the nature of rheumatism.

—The wife of our worthy citizen, Mr. Frank Zeigler, died at her former home in Sunville, Venango county, on Friday last. We are without particulars, other than that she has been sick for several months. Mrs. Zeigler was a most estimable lady, beloved by all who knew her, and the stricken husband has the heartfelt sympathy of all our people in his great loss.

—The Road Commissioners of Tionesta township let the contract for building the new road around "Stow Bend" on Saturday last to D. W. Clark, of this place at $3.10 per rod. There were quite a number of bids offered, and ranged from the above price all the way up to $5.00 per rod. The distance is nearly 500 rods, and the road is to be 16 feet wide, with a 16-inch raise from the ditch to the centre of the road.

—On Friday last, Sylvanus Zents, of Barnett township, this county, met with a serious accident. He was driving a five-year-old colt past the large gas light at Gilfoyle, when a gust of wind threw the fire toward the young animal, causing it to spring sideways, throwing Mr. Zents out of the vehicle with considerable force against a log which lay by the side of the road, and causing severe concussion. At last accounts he was in rather a precarious condition, according to our informant.

—Horrible stenches impregnate the atmosphere in this town, in different localities. This terrible state of affairs is very apt to be the source of some ravaging epidemic, before snow flies, if it is not attended to. It would seem that people would have pride and cleanliness enough in their dispositions to remedy such evils, even at personal expense.—McKean Miner. This item fits in this locality just as though our esteemed neighbor had been here in person and taken the measure for it.

—John Wiles, who is taking out timber for Lawrence & Smearhaugh, met with a painful accident on Friday last. His left leg was caught beneath an 18-foot oak log, and he was thus held for nearly an hour before he could make himself heard to bring assistance to his relief. When released it was found that, while no bones were broken, the limb was badly bruised from the thigh down, and the strange part of it is that it was not ground to atoms. Although John is likely to be laid up for some time, he is lucky in escaping as well as he did, which is some consolation.

—Burglars, or sneak thieves, seem to be still lingering in our midst, and there is scarcely a night but that some residence is reported as having received a visit from them. Of course some of these reports are mistakes, but in most cases they are facts. One evening last week the residence of Mr. J. B. Agnew was visited while all the family happened to be out. On Sunday night Frank Hunter opened fire on some one who was trying to effect an entrance to the house by one of the windows, and although considerable cannonading was done, no blood was spilled, unfortunately. Those little scoundrels are becoming entirely too frequent, and if not stopped, a little missionary work should be done that would result to the financial benefit of the undertaker.

—The well put down on tract 2835, Tionesta twp., by the Independent Gas Co., of Titusville, proved to be the dustiest kind of a duster, getting no show of either gas or oil worth mentioning, although the earth was penetrated to the depth of 2250 feet. The same company is building two other rigs about one mile southeast of the Tionesta Gas Co.'s wells, on what is known as the Whiteoak Spring, made notorious as the place where Higgett and Wilson left their jug after their raid on the Wagner's year ago last spring. The location for gas is considered much more favorable, and they will likely find it there.

—The State Weather Crop Bulletin for the past week says, the rainfall has been very generally attended by thunder storms, local in character and variable in amount. The temperature has averaged about 4 degrees above the normal. The maximum for the year, occurred on the 8th at Philadelphia, when 98 was recorded. Sunshine has been abundant. The weather conditions were quite favorable for the completion of the oat harvest, and the growth of vegetables and fruits. Corn is doing finely, but in several sections it was badly blown down by the storm of the 8th. Rain is needed in many places. The second hay crop promises to be very good. Peaches have done well. The potato yield is large.

—The Commissioners of this county met those of Jefferson county, at Clarion, on Thursday last week, to open bids for the erection of the new superstructure of the bridge which spans the Clarion river at that place. Several bids were received, and all pretty close considering the magnitude of the work. Messrs. Nelson & Buchanan, of Chambersburg, Pa., representing the Pittsburgh Bridge Co., secured the contract for the work, at $8,500. Of this sum Forest county will have about one-third to pay, the expense being divided according to the valuation of the counties. The old structure, which was of wood, was badly dilapidated, and quite unsafe. The new bridge will be of iron, and is to be finished by November 1st.

—The general election takes place on November 6th this year, and any man otherwise qualified can vote that day if his birthday on which he calls himself 21 doesn't come until the day after, and that is November 7th. It seems queer, but it is a legal fact, that the man whose birthday is the 7th becomes 21 at midnight after the 5th. The law recognizes no parts of days, and so legally if he is 21 at any time of the 7th, he is 21 all day of the 6th, and he can vote on that day. It is a matter that has been tested and demonstrated, and any young man reading this, who thinks he will be 21 on the 7th because it is his birthday, is hereby advised that he will be 21 on the 6th, and it is his duty and privilege to get himself made a voter in due season.—Et.

—The Methodist and Presbyterian Sabbath Schools will enjoy an excursion to Chautauqua on Friday of this week. Arrangements are making whereby a special train will leave this place in the morning about six o'clock, arriving in Oil City in time to catch the regular train. The fare will be as follows: Adults $1.60, entrance to grounds 25c.; All over 5 and under 12 years of age, 80c, entrance to grounds free; All under 5 years of age, free. While the excursion is gotten up for the benefit and enjoyment of the Sabbath Schools, it does not necessarily exclude others who wish to avail themselves of these cheap rates, to pay a visit to this popular resort. No doubt the affair will be a most pleasant one, and certainly a rare treat for the children, who are looking forward to that day with "great expectations."

Turkey and Its Customs.

Mr. Shadrack V. Bedikian, an Armenian who is studying for the ministry in this country, delivered an interesting and highly instructive lecture at the M. E. Church last Friday evening to a fair sized, but very appreciative audience. He also delivered his lecture in Oil City Monday evening, of which the Blizzard gives a very good outline as follows:
His talk abounded with many witty sayings which kept the audience in splendid humor. Mr. Bedikian labors under the same difficulty usually observed in foreigners who attempt to master the English tongue, that of expressing himself clearly and to his own satisfaction, although he does better than many others who have attempted to teach America how the other side of the globe is run.

At about a quarter to eight o'clock the gentleman in question appeared on the platform arrayed in a picturesque costume which he informed his hearers was the habit of a Turkish dudu, and not that of an Armenian, although he was an Armenian himself. The Armenians are a part of the Turkish empire, but differ from the orthodox Turks in their wearing apparel. In the Turkish empire there are sixteen different tribes or sects who differ from each other even as the Turks and Armenians differ, but are all under the same rule. In speaking of the fruits, which grow the same in Turkey as here, with the exception of bananas, he said: "The fruits here are all counterfeits, they don't compare with those of my native land; the grapes especially are far below ours. When I landed in New York, I noticed some nice looking grapes, of which I bought, but when I tasted them I couldn't eat, as they did not taste at all like home grapes, although they looked the same." Chestnuts and other like productions of this country were put in same class by him. The silk manufacture is one of the principal industries of Turkey. When the silk worms live the growers reap a good harvest, but when they die lots of money is lost. It is almost as uncertain as the oil business. In Turkey barley is used to make bread and other edibles but in this country it is used to make whisky. Mr. B. thought this state of affairs must exist on account of the higher education of the Americans. The seasons of the year are about the same in the east as they are here but not so changeable and the changeableness here he thought was what affected our politics, in that man is a democrat in the morning, a republican in the afternoon and a prohibitionist at night. The fact is that in Turkey, the weather never changes nor anything else, everything goes along just as it has for centuries. The power of government is in the hands of the sultan, whose position is hereditary, descending from the oldest son to the next oldest and not to the son's son. The Christians are allowed perfect freedom for worship, but they must not preach to the Turks. The people are taxed one-tenth of all their earnings by the sultan, and the Christians are even taxed more. It keeps the people in a low state financially to meet the heavy expenses of the sultan and his family, which amount to over $15,000,000 a year. The greater part of the traveling is done on horseback, there being but 1,100 miles of railroad in the entire country. The principal reason for this state of things is the unprogressiveness of the Turkish religion, and the fact that they don't intermarry with other Europeans. Instead of coal, wood and charcoal are used. There is no ice but snow is preserved and serves the same purpose. The table etiquette is hardly what it is in this country. The meals are served in courses, and each course is put on the table in a large dish, out of which the entire company eat, using their hands or fingers, it being considered a sin to use forks, as their ancestors got along without them. The marriages are not matters of love but the bride is chosen by the groom's mother, sometimes when the principals are not more than twelve years old. The length of engagement varies from one year to almost any number, dependent on the ages of those engaged.

The engagement is made binding by the interchange of some gifts, such as handkerchiefs, pocketbooks or Bibles. The man and wife are not allowed to see each other until after the ceremony is performed, which lasts from two to three days. The parents of the young lady furnish the groom's costume and vice versa. After they are "one" they they go to the home of the bride or groom where they spend their honeymoon and the rest of their lives. There is no separation of families and some times as many as seventy-five or one hundred people live in the same house. The bride is not allowed to speak to any of the groom's parents or relations directly but through some little child; this prohibition is kept up for two or three years. The Protestants are doing away with many of these foolish customs, but they still exist to a great extent.

When through with his talk, a collection was taken up. Then came the showing of many curiosities from the far east, which proved very interesting. Those who failed to attend missed a rare treat.

Excursion to Chautauqua Lake.

The Sunday Schools of Tionesta have secured a round-trip fare of $1.60, including a ride on the lake to any point. Two children under 12 years of age will be taken for one fare, or one for half fare. Five years of age and under, free. Everybody is invited to take advantage of this low fare and visit this wonderful Sunday School resort, with its miniature tiberacle, and ark; its cities, rivers, lakes, mountains, &c., of the Holy Land; its Amphitheatre, its temples of learning and its great minds, by whom immense audiences are charmed; its beautiful groves; its unique architecture, and its cleanly, prettily planned streets. The train will leave Tionesta at 6 a. m., Friday next, 17th, returning at about 9:30 p. m., giving about 7 hours at the Lake, the highest navigable water in the world. Everybody should bring lunch baskets. Come one, come all.

SPECIAL.

The Methodist Sunday School management have concluded to take all its members under twelve years of age to Chautauqua Lake, Friday, free of charge, and pay the admission of all its members to the grounds.

HERE AND THERE.

The midsummer holiday number of The Cosmopolitan (for August) is the strongest number ever published by that bright young magazine. The magazine has now every appearance and assurance of success, being managed by a combination of publishers who represent a half million of capital, while its editorial content remains the same. There will be no change in its style or policy except to make it still more crisp and journalistic, keeping it entirely distinct from the other magazines. There certainly is room for such a monthly, and the people are bound to recognize its merits because of its unparalleled cheap price. Address, The Cosmopolitan, 214 and 216 Broadway, New York.

GOOD-BYE, OLD GROVER, GOOD-BYE.

It's loaded down
With Harrison men,
Good-bye, old Grover, good-bye.

Bye, free trade baby,
Rock it, Grover, tenderly,
Bye, free trade baby,
We'll smash the cradle,
Good-bye.

Free trade is "busted,"

Protection, we say,
Good-bye, old Grover, good-bye,
Roast beef to eat,
Two dollars a day,

Chorus—

The time has come
For loyal men,
Good-bye, old Grover, good-bye,
To shoot the bandana
And vote for Ben,
Good-bye, old Grover, good-bye.

Chorus—

The duty on wool
We'll keep the same,
Good-bye, old Grover, good-bye,
If you don't believe it,
Just ask Jim Blaine,

You will in November,

"Another wonderful discovery has been made and that too by a lady in this country. Disease fastened its clutches upon her and for seven years she withstood its severest tests, but her vital organs were undermined and death seemed imminent. For three months she coughed incessantly and could not sleep. She bought of us a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption and was so much relieved on taking first dose that she slept all night and with one bottle has been miraculously cured. Her name is Mrs. Luther Lutz." Thus write W. C. Hamrick & Co., of Shelby, N. C.—Get a free trial bottle at G. W. Boward's Drug Store.
