LOCAL AND MISCELLANEOUS.

Oil market closed yesterday 9 1/2. Opening this morning at 9 1/2.

Are you assessed? Thursday, September 6th, is the last day.

The days are shortening up at both ends quite perceptibly.

Miss Lizzie Morgan, of Oil City, is paying friends here a visit.

School Books and Tablets at DEPARTMENT STORE, 2L.

Remember Thursday, September 6th, is the last day for the registration of voters.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Zesky of Oil City, are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Raab this week.

The borough schools will open next Monday, and the long play-spell of the young 'uns will come to a close.

Mr. R. Rudolph, one of Kingsley township's staunch Republicans, was in town Monday, and gave us a pleasant call.

Tidbits will soon have competing natural gas lines. The work of putting in the new plant is progressing quite rapidly.

Mr. H. M. Slater, of Mercer Co., is up-shaking hands with old friends in this section, and gave us pleasant call this morning.

Young Republicans, who voted on age last fall, must be assessed in order to vote this fall.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Klinefister and daughter, Emma, of Nebraska, were visiting friends in Cleveland during the past week.

Mr. Simon, of the enterprising firm of McCuen & Simon, merchant tailors, Oil City, was up yesterday afternoon and took several orders back with him.

The squirrel season opens next Saturday, Sept. 1st. A few have been seen in this section, but whether they will be plenty enough to make good shooting is yet to be seen.

Hon. A. B. Richmond, of Meadville, spent Sabbath in Tionesta, being on his way home from Clarion, where he was in attendance at court last week as counsel for the defense in the Everhart murder trial.

Ex-Commissioner Chadwick took in the Thousand Island excursion yesterday, and will spend part of his time among his relatives and old time friends in and about Rochester, N. Y., where he grew up to young manhood.

The oil market is showing some signs of life these days, and Capt. J. J. Vandergift predicts three-dollar oil before the end of the year. The market touched a higher point yesterday than it has for, "dear knows when," 9 1/2 cents, and closed at that figure.

Mrs. A. H. Partridge and young son, Dale, departed for Cleveland, Ohio, yesterday, taking part of her household goods with her, intending to take up her residence in that city. Her eldest son, Joe, has been in Cleveland for some time; he is learning the carpenter trade.

The quarterly meeting services held in the F. M. Church during the past week were quite well attended. On Sabbath afternoon five persons were immersed in the Allegheny river at the east end of the bridge. These services were witnessed by about two hundred people.

The annual convention of the Forest County W. C. T. U. takes place at Greenwood M. E. Church, Barnett township, Wednesday and Thursday of next week, Sept. 5th and 6th. The program arranged for this occasion is quite elaborate, and the session will doubtless be a very interesting one, while the attendance promises to be large.

September 6th is the last day on which voters can be registered. Republican workers, see that all Republicans are upon the list!

Thursday, September 6th, is the last day for the registration of voters. Let every Republican committeeman attend to his duty of seeing that every Republican in his district is at once assessed.

R. C. Beveridge of Oil City, deputy internal revenue collector, left home two weeks ago, ostensibly on business, since which his family have been unable to learn anything of his whereabouts. His accounts seem to be all straight, and his friends are at a loss to account for his absence, and think his mind must have become deranged.

The Harrison and Morton club will meet for drill at the skating rink on Saturday evening next, at 7:30, sharp. Every member is urged to be out, as the time for preparation for the meeting on the 12th of September is limited, and there are several matters of importance to attend to before that time. It is expected the torches already ordered will be here in a day or two. Turn out.

Mr. Marcus Hulings, of Oil City, president of the West Virginia Improvement Company, with headquarters in Charleston, W. Va., and offices 18 Cortland street, New York, has effected the sale of one half of the company's possessions, to a party of capitalists from the above named city, with certain provisions. The amount of the sale is in the neighborhood of $200,000. The sale includes timber, iron, ore and coal.

Miss Della Knapp died at her home in Green township, this county, on Wednesday last, Aug. 22, of typhoid fever, aged 14 years. This is the third member of the family which this dread disease has taken off within the past two months, the mother having preceded her in death only a few weeks. The remaining members and relatives of the family have the sincere sympathy of the community in their affliction.

A new W. C. T. U. was instituted at Gilfoyle, in this county, on Thursday last week. It will be known as Gilfoyle Union, and meets every alternate Saturday at 3 P. M., at the school house, beginning Sept. 1st. Its present officers are: Mrs. A. N. Irwin, President; Mrs. W. S. Davis, Vice Pres.; Mrs. A. B. Langworthy, Rec. Sec.; Mrs. T. S. Mooney, Cor. Sec.; Miss B. A. Davis, Treasurer; Mrs. M. J. Maze, Supt. Literature.

Before the election last year the Republican State Committee offered a splendid banner to the Republicans of that county which should show the largest proportionate increase in its Republican vote. The prize was awarded to Forest county, and the County Committee have made arrangements to hold a meeting on the 12th of September for the formal reception of the trophy.—Franklin News. It's going to be a rousing affair, and you'd better come up and take it in.

The State Weather-Crop Bulletin for the past week says, the temperature has averaged about 5 degrees below the normal, with an average percentage of sunshine. The rainfall was excessive. Torrential rains fell on the 21st, causing heavy freshets and wash-outs to corn and vegetables planted on hill sides. In many places corn was blown down, and damaged by the high wind which accompanied the rain storm. Pasture lands and potatoes are in good condition. Light frosts occurred on the 23rd.

A large delegation from this place attended the G. A. R. reunion at Bradford last Wednesday, most of whom were old veterans. All pronounced the reception and treatment received at the hands of the citizens of that enterprising city, as princely, and everybody seemed to think they never had a better time. The crowd was immense, yet very orderly, and the big-hearted town turned over their best to their battle-scarred guests. Barring the gas explosion, by which three men lost their lives and several others were seriously injured, the day was full of pleasure for all. The next reunion of the N. W. A. will be held in Greenville, Mercer county.

The several members of the Siverlyville band who drove to Tionesta Saturday afternoon, returned home at 8 o'clock last evening. They arrived in Tionesta Saturday evening and were immediately taken in charge by the band of that place and given the best of suppers. In the evening both bands consolidated and serenaded the town, after which all repaired to the band room, where ice cream, cake, etc., were served. During the stay of the Siverlyville boys from Saturday night until Sunday afternoon the Tionesta band paid all expenses and treated them in such a royal manner that the boys on their return say "they never had such a good time for so small an amount of money."—Blizard. The Tionesta boys will be pleased to see their Siverlyville brethren at any time they choose to favor them with another call.

Every Republican should register at once.

Two Accidents.

Two accidents occurred on the lumber railroad of Collins & Co., at Nebraska yesterday evening, and several persons were more or less injured, but we are unable to get the particulars this morning. Add. Walters, who has charge of one of the logging cars was coming down the grade with a load when his brakes either gave way or refused to work, and the car got out of his control. Two small boys, were on the car, which he took the precaution to pitch off, and then jumped off himself. One of the little fellows, a son of Geo. Klinefister was somewhat cut about the head, but we believe not seriously, and Mr. Walters was considerably, though not seriously bruised, while the other little fellow escaped with little or no injury.

The other accident happened to the board car run by Nelson Thomadsen, and was much more serious than the other. Just how it occurred we did not learn, but understand the car, loaded with lumber from the Collins & Watson mill, jumped the track. It is said his shoulder was dislocated, one arm broken, and he was otherwise badly bruised. Mr. Collins, and a son of Geo. Watson were also on the car, but we understand were not injured. Dr. Siggins was summoned, but not having returned at this writing we are unable to give the nature or extent of the injuries received by the unfortunate ones.

The Grand Rally on the 12th.

Let all Republicans and those interested in the protection of American industries against the encroachments of foreign cheap labor, get ready for the grand demonstration to take place in Tionesta on Wednesday, Sept. 12th, next, the occasion of the Banner Presentation, by Chairman Cooper and members of the Republican State Central Committee. Some of the ablest orators of the State will be present on that occasion, among whom will be Chairman Cooper, Col. A. Loudon Snowden, and Hon. Charles W. Stone, Secretary of the Commonwealth.

The beautiful silk banner, so gallantly won by Forest county in the last campaign, will be presented at an open air meeting at the Court House, between one and two o'clock in the afternoon. Should the weather prove unfavorable the meeting will take place inside the court house. In the evening, after a brilliant procession by the Harrison and Morton club, a rousing demonstration will be had in the court house, at which some of the best speeches of the campaign will be delivered. In fact this will be the opening battle of the campaign in Forest county, in which the key-note will be sounded.

The members of the committee appointed for the different precincts throughout the county, and which were published last week, will co-operate with the citizens of their respective localities, in getting out a good attendance. Remember, this is a county affair, and every Republican and protectionist has a right, and is expected, to give his aid in making the occasion a brilliant success and a credit to the Banner County of the great State of Pennsylvania. Everybody made welcome! Prepare to attend!

East Hickory.

Mrs. Becket has returned home after a short visit with friends in Clarion county.

Mr. Gene Gorman is seriously ill with typhoid fever.

Quite a number of East Hickory folks are camping out Whig Hill this week, intending to pick blackberries.

Miss May Whaley entertained a number of East Hickory's society young folks last Saturday evening, in a very pleasing manner.

Mr. Joe Graham is on the sick list. The young folks had a surprise party at Miss Nellie Henderson's home on last Wednesday evening. Some of the young folks thought they were slighted because they hadn't any stool.

The boys had a good time at the dance the other night. One of them was sick the next day; some judged that bad whiskey would make anybody sick. Judge not lest ye be judged.

A number of East Hickory young men are in the habit of going up the railroad track on Sabbath afternoons and having a social game of poker; if their fathers were as diligent in trying to learn the whereabouts of the boys, as the boys are to elude detection, the fun might be checked.

Aug. 27. O. K.

Something new in Fall and Winter Dress Goods just arrived at DEPARTMENT STORE, 2L.

The motto of the proprietors of Dr. Henry Baxter's Mandrake Bitters is, "the greatest good to the greatest number," and so sell a large bottle of a valuable remedy for the small price of 25 cents, and warrant every bottle to give satisfaction or money refunded. For sale by G. W. Bovard.

THE EVERHART TRIAL.

A Juror Taken Sick, and the Trial Postponed.

The Everhart trial came up in the Clarion courts last Wednesday. The accused ones demanded a separate trial and the prosecution elected to try Dan Everhart first. The afternoon was taken up in getting a jury. Forty-four names were called before twelve acceptable jurors were found, and the work was not as tedious as many thought it would be. Following is the jury as finally sworn:

- 1. James Over, farmer, Licking. 2. Ezra Culbertson, farmer, Madison. 3. William Miller, merchant, Sligo. 4. C. E. Swartz, farmer, Salem. 5. G. M. Switzer, farmer, Beaver. 6. C. P. McCafferty, hotel-keeper, East Brady. 7. Fred Elschlager, Jr., laborer, Clarion. 8. M. F. Wilson, farmer, Toby. 9. Anson Peters, producer, Edenburg. 10. J. M. Hartle, farmer, Monroe. 11. R. M. Corbett, farmer, Clarion. 12. W. S. Maitland, harness maker, Callensburg.

On Friday shortly after dinner Jurymen Culbertson became sick, and the court ordered an examination made by Dr. J. S. Shirley, who reported the man suffering from congestion of the bowels, and unable to attend court. Court then adjourned until Saturday morning, and the jurymen being still unable to get up, the case was continued to the third Monday of November next, and the jury discharged. After the adjournment of the court, the sick jurymen got up, dressed himself, went to the court house and drew his pay, and started for home.

THE EVIDENCE.

The evidence elicited was virtually the same as that brought out at the different hearings heretofore held before the justices, and has mostly appeared in these columns already. We shall, therefore, give only such as is most important, some of which our readers have not yet seen. What we give is taken from the Williamsport Grit, which paper had a special reporter on the spot:

Joe Brewster testified that he told John S. Everhart on the day of the murder, that he was not going to school that day, because Jimma was going to the weaver's. He said that Jimma wasn't going to the weaver's, and that he (Joe) should go to school. Jimma told John to bring some coffee and sugar home, and he said she would not need any sugar or coffee that day. Witness also heard John say to Jimma, that if she didn't sign that deed she would get her throat cut. This conversation occurred in the house.

This testimony was objected to by the defense. In the cross-examination it was learned from the witness that the story about the throat cutting was put into his mouth by Detective Ewing, who told him he was to come into court and tell this story. Ewing promised to do something for him, but he didn't mind what it was. Witness talked with Ewing since court began. He never told any one else about these things, and always said he didn't know anything about this case. He admitted that he may have said at first that John Everhart said to his wife: "You do not need sugar and coffee to-day." The Court granted the Commonwealth leave to ask the witness leading questions. He said that he told these things to his own mother shortly after the murder. She was the first person he told this to. Mr. Ewing asked him to tell him the story and the gentleman told him to tell the truth in court. His mother told him not to tell the stories to any one. The detective told him not to tell anything he knew about the matter. The examination of Joe Brewster was the feature of the afternoon.

Samuel Palmer, the old man charged with this murder by John S. Everhart, was the next witness. He lived with John S. Everhart in 1885. He heard the conversations between Dan Everhart and Jimma—outside the house once and inside another time. Regarding the deed for the land Dan said he was going to have a deed for the land and Jimma said it was time enough yet. The second time Dan asked for the deed and was told by Jimma that she was in no hurry. One time while mowing hay Dan told witness that he would manage to get a deed for his land before long. When I left Everhart on the 13th of December, he said, I left some clothes behind. I came back to Everhart on March 1st and had a conversation with John S. and Dan Everhart about my clothes, and I told John S. to bring my clothes to Moran's store, and he told me to be sure to come down on the 8th day of March and my clothes would be washed and ready for me. There were three shirts and an old pair of pants. He told me to come just after noon. I did not come down to Everhart's on the 8th of March nor until after the murder, which occurred on the 8th of March.

Mrs. W. J. Roberts, of Tionesta, testified that she went to Everhart's house on Wednesday morning after the murder, taking Mrs. John Gilliland to the house. Dan Everhart said that he was chopping wood with a man named Horner, and did not get home to dinner until one o'clock. Afterward he and Horner went con hunting.

T. F. Ritchey, of Tionesta, had several conversations with Dan Everhart on the day of the murder. At a prayer meeting Dan said he suspected Fullmer. Witness told Dan he was suspected and told him he ought to clear himself. He previously told witness that he wore gray clothes the day of the murder. Witness asked to see the suit he wore on the morning of the murder. He told him to come to the barn. Started and went to his house; he then said they were in the house. Dan showed witness a suit of clothes, light coat and dark pantaloons. The next morning witness told Dan that it was queer he had not seen any person when he went down the road toward Lickingville. He said he did see parties, but none that he did not know. At prayer meeting spoken of, John S. Everhart was one of the speakers. He gave his own religious experience, and said the two dead women were good Christians. Dan Everhart was present, and when John said that the murderer would have been so much more atrocious had his son Dan been the murderer, the former shuddered perceptibly and wiped his face with a handkerchief. This occurred on the Wednesday after the murder. Witness examined the lower part of the house of John S. Everhart, but John objected to the examination of upstairs. He found blood stains on the door leading from the dining room to the kitchen, and from the kitchen outside. The stains looked like finger marks. Witness described the blood marks at the spring house.

W. M. Frazer went to the Everhart house the morning after the murder. Dan Everhart said he thought Fullmer was the man; Dan said Fullmer came through the woods, and he offered to go along with a party to follow what tracks might be found. The party found tracks leading to and from the house where Fullmer was living. They found old man Fullmer and upon making diligent inquiry learned that he had not been away from home the day before. After leaving the old man Dan Everhart still insisted that the old man was the party who made the tracks, and said that those three hundred dollars might go a long way with those Dutch. Where the tracks crossed the fence at one point some ravelings were found on a rail. When these threads were taken into the house and compared with some of old man Fullmer's clothes, it was found that they did not fit. The first track found pointed towards Everhart's, and another led the other way. The tracks were nearly snowed shut. It had snowed some nearly all day of March 8th. The tracks followed were probably made a day or so before.

The Drillers' Scale.

A meeting between the executive committee of the Producers' Protective Association and the executive committee of the Drillers' Union was held in Oil City last Wednesday for the purpose of fixing rates of drilling when the shut-in movement shall have terminated. The meeting was entirely harmonious and a satisfactory agreement was reached. It is said the producers are determined to give a decided preference when work is resumed to those drillers who stood by them during the continuance of the shut in.

The following schedule of rates for all drilling was adopted: Allegheny county, New York, 60 cents per foot. All drilling in Warren and Forest counties, Pa., 55 cents per foot. All drilling in McKean county, Pa., 50 cents per foot. All drilling in Elk county, Pa., 60 cents per foot. All drilling in Crawford county, that part of Venango county north of Petroleum Centre and lower part of Warren county, 55 cents per foot. All drilling in that part of Venango county south of Petroleum Centre and north of Emletton, 50 cents per foot. All drilling in Washington county, Smith and Ferguson pool, $1.25 per foot; all drilling in Taylorstown, $1.25 per foot; all drilling in Mt. Morris, $1.40 per foot; all drilling in Nineva, $2 per foot; all remaining down, north of Emletton, when required to shut off salt water, 40 cents per foot; use of machinery, north of Emletton, 10 cents per foot; cleaning out, after two days, in new wells, with tools and one man, $12 per foot. All water wells drilled north of Emletton shall be paid for at the same rate as the oil wells. Where five or more wells can be secured in the same immediate vicinity, where no unreasonable delays are to be encountered, a reduction of five cents per foot may be made from the above scale, north of Emletton.—Emletton News.

HERE AND THERE.

A writer in a scientific paper gives it as his opinion that the chewing of gum causes hollow cheeks. He says: "The constant exercise of the masticator muscle hardens it and removes the fatty substance which conduces to roundness. Not only is the fullness of the cheek destroyed, but there is a tendency to wrinkling the skin, a natural result of the falling away of the parts beneath it."

We have just received from the publishers, S. Brainerd's Sons, 145 Wabash Ave., Chicago, a copy of the "True Blue Republican" Campaign Song Book, containing sixteen pieces of music, arranged for male quartette, with words and music complete. The music was arranged by a quartette of Campaign Singers especially for the coming campaign. The price of the book is but 15 cents.

The back peeling season, says the Clarion Democrat, is about over in the hemlock woods. B. E. Cartwright, of Elk county, wound up the season by ranking up 25,000 cords, which is said to be the largest number of cords ever peeled by a single lumberman in Pennsylvania in one season. The logs from which this bark was peeled when saved are expected to make 35,000,000 feet of lumber.

An editor is a man who is liable to grammatical blunders, toothache, typographical errors and loss of memory, and usually there are ninety-seven people watching to catch him tripping. He is a man of sorrows, acquainted with grief and poverty, and frequently liable to go ragged, hungry and dry for a long period. And yet the woods are full of people who would like to be editors. So says one of our exchanges.
