Preaching in the Presbyterian Church next Sunday morning and evening, by Rev. Hickling.

LOCAL AND MISCELLANEOUS.

An Important Matter.

It should not be forgotten that Thursday, September 6th, is the last day for the registration of voters. Every person who intends to vote should see that his name is on the registry list, and the best way to attend to the matter is to do it personally. Young members of the party should be particular to see that they have not been missed. County Committeemen and Vigilance Committees should look up all Republicans and see that they are registered. Do not neglect to attend to this matter promptly.

Oil market closed yesterday 94 1/2. Opening this morning at 94 1/2. Every Republican should register at once.

The Harrison and Morton Club meets for drill this evening.

Mr. Jas. H. Kelly is visiting friends and relatives at Chicago.

Are you assessed? Thursday, September 6th, is the last day.

Mill Village Herald: Spencer Range is visiting friends this week in Forest county.

Judge and Mrs. J. A. Propper are paying friends in Wisconsin a visit, expecting to be gone a week or two.

Republicans, this is to warn you that to-morrow is the last day for registering.

The Erie annual conference of the Methodist Episcopal church will meet in Greenville on September 19th. Bishop Foster will preside.

Mr. J. R. Chadwick returned from his Rochester, N. Y., trip last evening, having had a royal time among the friends of his old home.

Squirrels, the season for which is now open, are fairly plentiful, and bid fair to get plentier. And then there'll likely be a match hunt on the tapis.

Come to the big demonstration in Tionesta next Wednesday, and hear some good speaking, see the handsome silk banner, and have a good time generally.

Miss Laura Clover, a compositor in the Republican-Gazette office, goes to Marienville, Forest county, on Saturday next, where she has secured a term of school.—Clarion Rep.-Gazette.

The new and elegant mansion of Mrs. Dr. Hunter is receiving the finishing touches, and will soon be ready for occupancy, but the family will probably not move in till the first of October.

Contractor Clark is making rapid progress with the new road around Stow Bend, and will soon have a channel cut through to the end of the route, and the finishing up will be vigorously prosecuted.

September 6th is the last day on which voters can be registered. Republican workers, see that all Republicans are upon the lists!

The Corner Stone of the new Evangelical Lutheran church at Tylersburg Station, will be laid on the 16th inst. Several ministers from abroad will assist the pastor Rev. Carl Zinsmeister. Services will begin at 2:30 p. m.

The many Forest county friends of Mrs. Sarah A. Lovel, formerly of German Hill, will be pleased to extend congratulations and best wishes upon the event of her marriage to Mr. Daniel Goldinger, of Butler county, which occurred on the 28th of August.

J. W. Lauders will give a dance at the Rink in the evening of the 12th inst, next Wednesday. The McGraw band will furnish music, and supper will be served at the Central House. Prices will be down to a reasonable figure. A general invitation is extended.

Thursday, September 6th, is the last day for the registration of voters. Let every Republican committeeman attend to his duty of seeing that every Republican in his district is at once assessed.

Remember Thursday, September 6th, is the last day for the registration of voters.

Mr. Samuel H. Clark, who has been sick for two weeks past, is lying very low this morning, and his death is hourly expected. Mr. Clark is one of the oldest settlers of this section, and his demise would be lamented by a very large circle of friends and acquaintances.

Miss Nannie Morrow departed last week for Foxburg, this county, where she has been engaged to teach an eight-month's term of school. The retention of Miss Morrow for another and much longer term of the school at that place speaks well for her popularity.

The new improvements about the court house are progressing finely. Mason Joyce will likely complete his contract of stone work this week, while John Muezenberger is making good headway with the sewer to the river. The work is all of the most substantial nature, and when completed will be a credit to the county.

We have received the following new list of old citizens who were Tippecanoe voters in 1840, and will get there again this fall, if spared. Michael Brecht, James Brown, W. L. Anderson, Fred. Kifer, Hickory township; J. F. Connelly of Harmony township, who now sports a Harrison hat that is not only becoming but makes the old 'Squire appear quite young again.

Young Republicans, who voted on age last fall, must be assessed in order to vote this fall.

J. W. Ball, the wide-awake merchant at the depot, has just got in his stock of fall goods, which fills his commodious store room chock, brim full. These in need of anything in his line—dry goods, groceries, provisions, flour, canned goods, tobacco, cigars, confectioneries, etc.—are invited to call and inspect his stock, fresh from the city markets, and at prices that will be found satisfactory to all.

The Clarion Democrat charges us with "springing a campaign poet on the native who takes the wind out of the natives, tears the bark off the trees and sings as if Forest county would elect the next President." And we venture the assertion that if the editor of that paper were to tear the moss off the backs of some of the Clarion county Democrats, the party of free trade would not count its majorities with four figures.

The State Weather-Crop Bulletin for the past week says, most stations report no rainfall during the week. The temperature was slightly below the average, with a fair percentage of sunshine. Corn is ripening rapidly, and the crop will be more than average. With but few exceptions, the moisture has been sufficient for all growing crops. The yield of potatoes will be large. Wheat sowing has commenced in some localities. Light frosts occurred on the 28th and 29th, but did little damage.

The following oil items are from the Pleasantville Record of last week: Joe McCaslin has leased 75 acres of his farm near Neillburg to Ed. Grey, and in company these gentlemen have leased 50 acres of the Westcott farm, adjoining. They expect to begin operations soon.—Fogle & Co. finished their No. 2 on the Azro Copeland farm Thursday. It will average somewhere from 5 to 10 barrels.—Sager & Co's well at Balltown, is reported as very dusty, also the Gibson well on the Alex. Berry farm.

Mr. J. W. Sires of South Oil City, is starting a photograph gallery in the room over D. Barnett's store, opposite the Lawrence House, and expects to have it in operation by next Monday or Tuesday. Mr. Sires is well known to many of our citizens, who have had work done at his place, and to these he needs no recommendation. To put it short, he is one of the best artists in this section, and the people of this vicinity are fortunate in having an opportunity to have the best of work done right at home. Give him a call.

John Grubbs, who has been drilling a water well on the Bonner property in this place, finished up on Saturday last, having found a strong vein of water at 56 feet, but put the well down to a depth of 65 feet. A remarkable feature of this well was the striking of quite a showing of oil at 52 feet, sufficient, in fact, to grease the tools and ropes, making them quite smeary. The well was also quite gassy, and when the boy attempted to drop a lighted paper down the hole, the gas ignited and gave his eyebrows and hair quite a singeing. These obnoxious fluids were all caused off, however, and the well now yields a plentiful stream of pure fresh water. Mr. Grubbs has had an experience of 15 years in drilling water wells, and never fails to give his patrons perfect satisfaction. Those wishing anything in his line could not do better than consult John. He will shortly begin the county well at the Court House, for which he has the contract.

A Beaver Valley, Hickory township, correspondent says: A company sailing under the euphonious title of the Hunkeydory Oil Co., has a rig up on tract 5211, that township, and will drill at once. The location is on the line between the farms of ex-Commissioner Byerly and Daniel Brecht, one and two miles, respectively, southwest from the wells put down in that neighborhood by Tionesta parties, several years ago. The same company will put down at least two other wells before giving up the test, and are sanguine of a good find.—The black-berry crop of the Valley has been something unprecedented this year, but is now about wound up.

By reference to our marriages this week it will be observed that another of Tionesta's energetic young men has discarded the life of single cussedness for one of double blessedness. We refer to Mr. Joseph Clark, of the enterprising firm of Scowden & Clark, who hid himself to York State in company with Miss Sadie Hopkins, where the happy knot was tied, just in time to avoid the rigors of the new marriage act of that State. Joe and his charming bride received a delightful serenade by the band upon the evening of his return, and has since been receiving the congratulations of his numerous friends, to whom he has come down handsomely with the Havana's. The REPUBLICAN joins the many friends of the happy young pair in best wishes for a long and prosperous life.

We are sorry to state that our town is likely to lose its popular Presbyterian minister, Rev. Hickling, who has received an invitation to take charge of the Hadley and Fairfield churches in Mercer county. The relations between Mr. Hickling and his church here, are, and always have been, of the most friendly and cordial nature, and during his seven years' residence and ministrations among our people he has endeared himself to all by his zealous Christian labors and always agreeable and kindly disposition, and fortunate, indeed, are the congregations which have secured his services. We fear the Presbyterian pulpit at this place will be long vacant ere it has a minister of his equal. As citizens and neighbors we all regret the departure of our midst of Rev. Hickling and his most excellent wife, and can only wish them a happy and prosperous future in their prospective home. They may keep their residence here for several months yet, but will move as soon as Mr. H. can satisfactorily dispose of or rent his property here.

An Unfair Report Corrected.

"A juror is withdrawn and the case continued until the third Monday in November," said Judge Wilson, "and the present case ended."

Probably no person in the Court room heard these words from the Court with the same relief and manifest delight as the prisoner, Dan Everhart. If ever a facial expression denoted unmistakable relief it was on Dan's face, a smile stealing over his countenance. Upon meeting an intent look, however, he attempted to resume his ordinary expression, but not with entire success.

The above quotations are from the Oil City Derrick's account of the Everhart trial and are not only misleading but calculated to greatly prejudice Dan Everhart's case by creating the impression that he hailed the circumstance as lengthening out his allotted time of existence on this mundane sphere. On the contrary, we are reliably informed by those more familiar with Dan's facial expressions than even the astute feminine pencil wielder for the Derrick, he not only did not evince pleasure at the announcement but was, perhaps the most sorely disappointed person connected with the case. The progress of the trial, it is said, was in every way satisfactory to him and he entertained not the slightest fear of the result. Hence the Derrick's reference quoted above is not only uncalculated for but looked upon by those conversant with the facts as base injustice to one of the prisoners and emanating from a thoroughly prejudiced standpoint.—Clarion Democrat.

Next to the man or woman who would commit a murder, in point of meanness, is the man, woman or newspaper who would wantonly prejudice the public mind against one on trial for his life. And how much more despicable is the case when it is done for the sole purpose, seemingly, to create sensation and sell papers. It is high time the hose were turned on all such so-called journalism.

For Sale or Rent.

The very handsome and desirable property of Rev. James Hickling, in this place is for sale or rent. This property is finely located and has every convenience, and is one of the most comfortable homes in our pretty town. Possession can be had at any time. For terms, etc., inquire of or address Rev. Jas. Hickling, Tionesta, Pa.

FROM ANOTHER CORRESPONDENT.

The abundant crop of wild berries has been garnered, and so far as the supply is concerned, all can say, let Winter come.

Mr. Stright has his mill in almost running order at this writing, and ere this reaches your numerous readers the saw will be doing its work in first class style.

Mrs. Shimp, who has for several weeks past been visiting her son, Rev. J. H. Shimp, has returned home, bearing the good wishes of all with whom she became acquainted during her stay among us. Mrs. Kealer, mother of the Pastor's better half, is on a visit at the parsonage. We wish her a pleasant stay among us, and hope she may be favorably impressed with us as a people.

One of the farmers on Church Hill has a flag flying from a high pole in his door yard. A couple of old bumpers chanced to pass that way, and seeing the flag, they at once declared it to be a "Grover flag," but were readily and emphatically informed that such was not the case, as no Grover flag should float over his premises while his name was Bill Albaugh.

It is certainly amusing to hear what a grand, good, patriotic young man Cleveland was for staying home and taking care of his mother during the dark days of rebellion! Ah, yes; a mother is dear to all good young men, and yet we know of many who tore away from the parental roof, and preferred to stand under the folds of the old stars and stripes rather than lurk behind a half dozen brothers and a mother's apron. How much of such patriotism would it have required to have put down the rebellion? Shame on so childish an excuse, simply for defending a stay-at-home, and for the purpose of elevating an unworthy man in the estimation of loyal citizens; but then,

Cholera Morbus Thieves.

The following from Holemam Flats, explains itself:

I wish you to state through your paper that some miserable wretches visited our garden last Friday night, and played havoc among the melons and cucumbers, and all estates in the garden line. Not content with eating what they could, they had the river beach literally strewn with melons and cucumbers for yards around. I wish to advise the perpetrators to take warning, and henceforth beware of breakers. Respectfully, CELIA HUFF.

HERE AND THERE.

A man in Kansas writes to the secretary of his county fair association as follows: "Please offer a premium for the biggest fool in the county. I stopped my county paper and three weeks later a swindler did me up for $50 in good money. I renewed my subscription and secured all the back numbers, and by the lead of the prophet, the first issue after I had quit taking the paper contained a full exposure of the same trick that got away with me. I want to hire a dozen able men to kick me around my new barn."

Life of Gen. Harrison.

This book, just out, is the life of a great man by a great author.

Both subject and author have risen by superior qualities, indomitable energy and application from the quiet walks of life to world-wide fame.

They have been life-long friends; both have had thrilling experiences on the field of battle; have served in the Council Chambers of the Nation. How fortunate that the man whose illustrious ancestry shall be put in the shade by his own elevation to the Presidency of a far greater nation and whose fitness for such exalted position the people desire to become familiar with, should have such a biographer. One who has passed through like experience in the war for the Union and in the national councils and who can intelligently unfold and discuss the views Gen. Harrison holds upon national issues. One who wields a pen of such wonderful descriptive power as to have reached unchallenged fame in authorship.

The work is issued by the Messrs. Hubbard Bros., of Philadelphia, Chicago, and Kansas City, is intensely interesting, elegantly illustrated, and we understand is having a remarkable sale. It is sold through agents and undoubtedly affords exceedingly profitable employment for a great many active young men as every true American should certainly read this book before November 4th.

DIED.

ROBISON.—At her home in Tionesta, Pa. on Sunday evening, Sept. 2, at 6 o'clock of consumption, Mrs. Emily Robison wife of H. C. Robison, and daughter of Wm. and Lizzie McGroarty, aged 26 years 11 months, 5 days.

The deceased was born at Stewart's Run Forest Co., Pa., where she lived until her marriage with Mr. Robison to whom she was wedded nine years ago. After her marriage she went West with her husband where she resided until last spring when she returned East hoping that the change of climate, and the renewing of old acquaintanceships and the renewal of old associations might be the means of restoring failing health. But her hopes were destined to disappointment. She has been seriously ill for two years preceding her death.

A husband, and little daughter of years, mourn the going away of a faithful and affectionate, as well as a beloved, wife and mother. The bereaved have the sympathy of the many friends of the deceased and of the many neighbors who learn to know, to love, and to respect the one gone down to the grave.

A seeker after truth and light, a short time previous to her death she found strength for the untired journey in Him who has made the tomb only the gateway to the Eternal City within whose portals the beauties of this life are magnified and purified and glow under skies of infinite love, and against whose foundations the cares and troubles of life never roll the angry waves. The memory of such a ending brightens into a hope that link the past, the present and the future together as only parts of an existence begun and interrupted here only to be transplanted that it may never more wither, fade but abide forever a beautiful plant the garden of his God.

The funeral services were conducted by Rev. C. C. Rumberger, the funeral held on the afternoon of Tuesday following her death. With appropriate service her body was laid to rest in the Odd Fellows' Cemetery in a grave quietly and tastefully decorated with freshly cut evergreens, a fitting emblem of the glorious morning into whose radiance she is entered.
