LOCAL AND MISCELLANEOUS.

Oil market closed yesterday 92 1/2. Opening this morning at 92 1/2.

The election of Harrison and Morton will take place three weeks from yesterday.

Dr. Morrow is in Pittsburgh this week, summoned there as a juror in Uncle Sam's Court.

Mr. G. L. Hawke, of Grove City, Pa., was in Tionesta on Thursday and Friday of last week.

Mr. John McFarland, of Pittsburgh, was up on a few days' visit last week to the family of his brother-in-law, Dr. Morrow.

The public sale of Rev. Hickling's household effects was well attended last Thursday, the goods bringing very fair figures generally.

Forest county will soon have another post office. It will be located at the mills of the Messrs. Lacy, on Coon Creek, and will be called Goleza Mills.

Argument Court, which was set for the 26th inst., has been put over by agreement of the attorneys, and will likely be held some time in November.

Mr. Amos Chambers and Miss Lily Burdick, both of East Hickory, Pa., were joined in wedlock at that place, on Tuesday, October 9, 1888, by C. H. Church, J. P.

The Daniel Huddleson farm, situated in Tionesta township, and which has heretofore been advertised for sale, was sold on the 9th inst., J. T. Brennan, Esq., being the purchaser.

Mrs. F. F. Shoup arrived in town from Pueblo, Col., on Saturday last, and will visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. S. Knox, for a few months. She reports Forrest well and hearty.

Mr. Ed. D. Stow of Philadelphia, gave old Tionesta friends a visit last Friday, remaining over night the guest of Mr. Kelly's family. The editor is sorry he wasn't in when Mr. Stow called.

Mr. J. T. Brennan forwarded to the Mayor of Jacksonville, a draft for $66.00, as a contribution from the citizens of this place and vicinity. Well done, and we hope it may do much good to the yellow fever sufferers.

Mrs. H. Garlick, of Cincinnati, who attended the Schoeff Stow wedding at Bradford last week, stopped off here on Saturday on her return, and remained the guest of Tionesta friends and relatives until Tuesday.

A general meeting is called for next Saturday evening at 8:00 o'clock, by those who expect to join the military company now forming here. It is hoped there will be a good turnout of all who have talked of enlisting. Meeting at the Rink.

Small pox has broken out and is becoming quite prevalent in and about Buffalo. It is a cold weather disease and if it gets a good hold, may continue all winter. Although some distance from here it would be wise to exercise due precaution, and it wouldn't hurt to get vaccinated.

The Jamestown Journal says: "Warnings are uttered against a young man who is traveling with a chart which he represents every school district must provide itself with by the direction of the superintendent of public instruction. The young man is a fraud, and if he attempts to work his game in this locality he should be handed over to an officer."

The satisfactory results of hatching fish by artificial process are now so well demonstrated that it may be said, Cast thy fish fry in the waters and thou shalt find 'em after many days. A press special last night from Erie, Pa., says: It comes from good authority that the U. S. Fish Commission will take charge of the white fish hatchery at Erie. This hatchery was located here by the State of Pennsylvania and it has produced twelve million fish a year for three years. The white fish catch at this point has doubled itself this year, as the fruit of propagation.—Franklin News.

Republicans of Forest County.

The campaign of 1888, which has in this State been a quiet one, is drawing to a close rapidly, and it behooves us to bestir ourselves from this time on. Outside of Pennsylvania and the sure Republican States, the present campaign is one of the most hotly contested that has taken place since the Republican party first came in power. New York, Indiana, Connecticut, New Jersey and West Virginia, are ablaze with enthusiasm, and are bound to go Republican if there be no blunders made between now and election day, and we have a man at the helm, Col. Matt Quay, who never makes blunders in conducting campaigns. But it is to the voters of Forest county we wish to sound a note of warning. Our county is safely Republican, but it will not be if too much indifference is shown, or if we get over-confident of success. It would almost seem unnecessary to urge the Republicans to get out the vote in such an important campaign as this, but we want to do it just the same, and we want to see every last voter in the county out on the sixth of November to cast his ballot for Harrison, Protection and the whole Republican ticket, which is an exceptionally good one. Don't allow yourselves to get over-confident. Get out the fullest possible vote, and pile up such a majority as will teach the free traders better than to ever again attempt to hand over the industries of this glorious country to the tender mercies of old England.

Let every Republican go diligently to work from this on and urge and impress upon his neighbor the great importance of getting out the vote in his district. We want to help swell the great majority for American Protection. That's the battle cry, and a brave and glorious one it is too, as against the pernicious free trade doctrine of the party that now runs the government at Washington. Go to work.

One of the most frightful railroad accidents that has ever occurred in this State, was the one at Mud Run, on the Lehigh Valley road near Wilkesbarre, on Wednesday night last, at about 10 o'clock. An immense excursion, consisting of over 2,000 people, was returning from a celebration by the Catholic society at Hazleton. The excursion was in two sections. The first section had stopped at a place called Mud Run, to allow another train ahead of it to gain time, when the second section came thundering around the curve and plunged at full speed into the rear car of the first train. The engine telescoped the hind car completely, leaving not a soul alive. The hind car passed into the next, and the next into the third car from the rear, causing horrible results among the passengers. Between 65 and 75 persons were almost instantly killed, while fully as many others were more or less wounded, some of whom have since died. The responsibility for the wreck has as yet not been definitely settled, but the fault seems to lie with the crew of the ill-fated train in not sending a signal back when they stopped in such an out-of-the-way place.

Many friends and acquaintances here of those mentioned will be interested in the following from the Bradford Era of the 11th inst.: The residence of H. H. Stow, No. 33 Summer street, was the scene of a pretty wedding last night. The interior of the house resembled a conservatory. The bride and groom plighted their troth under a big floral bell. The ceremony was performed at 7 o'clock, by the Rev. S. D. Day, rector of the Church of the Ascension. The young people who were thus made happy are Miss Georgianna K. Stow, one of Bradford's best known and most accomplished vocalists, and John Robert Schoeff, a young business man of New York. Miss Blanche Stow and W. H. Stow, sister and brother of the bride, filled the roles of bridesmaid and groomsmen. There was a whole room full of presents. Those from out of town who attended were Edward Stow of Philadelphia, Mrs. Garlick of Cincinnati, Mrs. Bailey and Miss Elsie Bailey of Pittsburgh, Miss Nora Pickett of New Castle, and others. Mr. and Mrs. Schoeff were driven overland to Carrollton, where they caught the Erie thunderbolt for the West.

As a matter of encouragement to the brave young men hereabouts, who are enrolling their names in the new military company about to be formed, we mention the fact that a new Canadian prophet is out with a prediction that in the year 1889—that's next year—England will be involved in a war with the United States, and that the affair will be no bit of a skirmish either, but a real blood-and-thunder war of the regulation size and pattern. Here will be an early opportunity for some of our young heroes to distinguish themselves, and come back home wearing the spurs of a jiggadier-bridle, after a five years' campaign with the Johnny Bulls.

Literally speaking 'Squire McSteen did a "regular railroad business" this morning.

On information of Detective B. J. Wilmoth, of Bradford, eight Rousseville boys were brought before him charged with trespassing on the W. N. Y. & P. trains at that point. The 'squire made the fine as light as the law would permit, five dollars and the costs, or eight dollars each. Several arrests for the same offense were recently caused by Mr. Wilmoth at Corry, and a number, it is said, will shortly be made in Oil City. The practice of jumping on moving trains has been lectured on until it has become a chestnut and the action of the W. N. Y. & P. authorities in taking stringent measures to put a stop to it, is something to be commended.—Oil City Blizzard.

Here is a pointer for the Tionesta boys who are almost daily indulging in this dangerous pastime. We should be sorry to see any of them get into trouble, but the same medicine will be forthcoming if the practice is not stopped. Take warning.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Agnew returned from their pleasant three weeks' sojourn in Washington, D. C., on Saturday last accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Montague, who will be their guests for a fortnight. In this connection we find the following item in the Washington Evening Star, of the 9th inst.: "Miss Sara A. Reagan, of the Register's Office, Treasury Department, and W. P. Montague, Chief of the Army Pay Dep't, Second Controller's Office, were married at St. Paul's church at noon to day. The bride wore a navy-blue costume, with bonnet to match. She was accompanied by her cousin, J. B. Agnew, of Tionesta, Pa., who gave her hand in marriage."

Harrison and Morton Club.

The Harrison and Morton Club is requested to meet at the office of Sheriff Sawyer, Tionesta, on Saturday evening next at 7:30 o'clock. Important business will come up, and it is desired that there be a full attendance. By order of the President.

Barnett Notes.

The inclement weather has virtually driven us under cover, so we just thought we'd employ the time in dotting down a few items from these parts. Farmers are kept very busy trying to get their fall work done up between showers.

Coleman Run mill starts up in full blast this week, with head sawyer Frank Small at the gates. Barnett will go Republican this fall for all she's worth, and don't you forget it.

Spring-house thieves are quite abundant in this part of the country, but unless they look a "leedle oud" they'll get something heavier and harder to digest than ordinary eatables.

Mr. John Huleman and family are visiting at Jacob Maze's. Dave Silvis has a big log job on Coleman run.

Jas. Cosgrove drives the grey team now. Jas. says his vote will count one for Harrison this fall.

There was a fellow from your end of the county over here shortly who wanted to trade horses badly. He had a good horse, but from later reports he still possesses it. This is a good country for trading, and we hope he'll come again.

We had a small freshet in the Clarion last week, on which a few empty boats got out safely. Some of our young Nimrods have brought in nice strings of squirrels.

Thompson Hindman, the obliging and popular clerk in the store of J. B. Pearsall is kept quite busy especially on Saturday evenings.

John Maze is teaching school at Rodoloffe.

George K. Braden is doing up the buckwheat threshing with the "chaff-pler."

Dissolution Notice.

Notice is hereby given that the partnership heretofore existing between George Wagner and C. R. McClune, under the firm name of Wagner & McClune, and engaged in the lumber business in Howe township, Forest county, Pa., is this day dissolved by mutual consent. C. R. McClune retiring from the firm. All collections and settlements will be made by George Wagner, and it is expected that all those indebted to the late firm will make prompt settlement, either by cash or note.

Several months ago Mr. Jas. Shuttleworth, of New Straitsville, O., formerly of New Castle, Pa., was hit in the eye with a piece of coal. He had granulated eyelids, which complicated the case badly. Ulceration of the cornea set in, and eventually spread so as to cover the whole front of the eye a dense yellow white, and filled the front chamber of the ball with a thick yellow pus. The pain was intense, preventing sleep for two weeks. The eye looked hopeless, and was blind. At this juncture he consulted Dr. Sadler, 804 Penn avenue, Pittsburgh, Pa. In two hours he was relieved and asleep. To-day he is at work, and is gaining steadily. It is in such desperate cases Dr. Sadler's skillful services prove invaluable.

Tourists to Yellowstone Park next season might encounter a North-western blizzard. If they are wise men they will take a supply of the famous Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup.

East Hickory.

Frank Henderson is able to be around again. Chat. Hillard got hurt quite badly one day last week, by falling off the runway in Wheeler & Dusenbury's lumber yard.

Orrin Jones spent the Sabbath with his friends at Agundus.

Eugene Gorman has got able to resume work again, which we are glad to note. School commenced Oct. 2.

Chestnuts and hickory nuts are getting ripe. I presume from the name of the town hickory nuts must be plenty.

Rev. C. R. Thompson preached a very able sermon last night in the M. E. church.

Poker playing is being practiced a good deal of late. Boys, if you must play poker, please play on some other day than Sabbath.

Wheeler, Dusenbury & Co., are having gas lights put in their mill at Stowtown.

Mr. Whitcomb is firing his boiler with gas, at his new planing mill. The Tidouste Gas Co. is talking of running a gas line from the big well to Hickory. If so the people in this vicinity will have cheaper gas to burn.

Miss Lute Green spent Sabbath with friends in Stowtown.

The young men down town say they intend to give the REPUBLICAN correspondent a talking to. Come right along, young men; it always does an old lady like me lots of good to chat with the boys.

During the wet weather the last few weeks Hickory Creek has had enough water to keep the old water mill running pretty steady, at Stowtown.

There are some big trees still standing in the lumber woods. Wheeler & Dusenbury have one tree that measures 22 feet in circumference. How is that for a pine tree?

Why, Moses! bless your old soul, I think you had a good deal of gall to ask me to accompany Grover and you a fishing. I expect you are going after trout as you do not live far from Queen Creek.

Sabbath School at the M. E. church every Sabbath at 10 a. m. Young folks, please all try and go; don't stay at home.

About Skunk Ranches.

The Oil City Blizzard, something of an authority no doubt, has this dissertation on skunks and skunk culture.

The reader may recall an article which appeared in the Blizzard some time ago giving the meat of an interview with a resident of North Venango on the rise and temporary fall of the skunk industry in that part of the county. The article set forth in substance the purpose and experience, as gleaned from our informant, of two men who started individual skunk ranches. Their experience it may be remembered, was unsatisfactory and their investment proved a total loss. The said investment, however, was not large, amounting in the aggregate to two enclosures and five assorted skunks. Anyhow the scheme didn't pan out well. Perhaps the climate had something to do with it—too warm, perhaps. Passing northward the industry is found to be more profitable. Note the following from the Olean Times:

Mr. Clark, of Leicester, near Perry, has a skunk farm with a stock of 300 young skunks, which he is raising for their hides and oil. The business is a very profitable one. Others are talking of embarking in the trade. Mr. Clark kills off all but the black color, as the buyers pay handsome prices for pure black. The skunks breed like rabbits, eight to eleven in a litter. The farm is daily visited by numbers of people to watch the animals play. They are tame as kittens.

It may be well to add in conclusion that the foregoing quotation and comments are not published as hint or reproach to our board of trade—never!—but for the reason that some persons seemed disposed to consider our former article mainly the result of a wild, romantic flight of poetic fancy. The theme, we admit, does seem rather romantic and poetic; yet the article referred to was built upon bald, stubborn facts and should not have been doubted.

A Most Wonderful Recovery of Sight. Several months ago Mr. Jas. Shuttleworth, of New Straitsville, O., formerly of New Castle, Pa., was hit in the eye with a piece of coal. He had granulated eyelids, which complicated the case badly. Ulceration of the cornea set in, and eventually spread so as to cover the whole front of the eye a dense yellow white, and filled the front chamber of the ball with a thick yellow pus. The pain was intense, preventing sleep for two weeks. The eye looked hopeless, and was blind. At this juncture he consulted Dr. Sadler, 804 Penn avenue, Pittsburgh, Pa. HERE AND THERE.

Hon. John Wentworth, better known as "Long John Wentworth," died in Chicago yesterday.

An exchange says, "kissing is something like seven-up. If he begs and she thinks she can make a point in the game, she will give him one."

John Dunham was arraigned at Meadville last week charged with killing fish by exploding dynamite in the waters of Connetquot Lake. He pleaded guilty and was sentenced to pay a fine of $50 and costs.

At the last term of the Mercer county court, S. B. Forker was awarded $500 against the borough of Sandy Lake for injuries sustained in falling off a sidewalk. The borough citizens consider the award unjust and talk of appealing the case.

At Greensburg, last Wednesday, a boy about fourteen years of age, evidently a runaway, was ground to pieces by the cars. His remains were kept until Saturday and then buried at the county home, diligent inquiry in the meantime having failed to afford even a clue to his identity.

Gertrude Rives, the younger sister of the famous Amelie, is extremely fond of horses and a daring rider.—[N. Y. Morning Journal.]

Will the Journal kindly give us the name of the daring rider of whom Miss Rives is so extremely fond?

Wise say's in from the Youngstown, (O.) Telegram: A still wife's a treasure. The rear car is dangerous. Money makes fools proud. Don't, don't repeat old stories! Fine feathers make costly lads. Riches and poverty both bring care. Nothing is difficult when you know how. Want is generally the offspring of waste. This eternal hat tipping is very tiresome. A nice sight is a well filled plump-out jersey. A man to be a social success doesn't need beauty. The ugliest dress can't spoil the looks of a handsome girl. The average poet deserves pity rather than imprisonment or the gallows. If only takes a glance to tell husband and wife from lover and sweetheart. There should be a retreat, remote from civilization, for incipient musicians. Women's rights wrong no man, but they're a little tough sometimes on the baby.

Transactions in Real Estate.

The Prothonotary's office of Forest county shows the following transactions in real estate for the week ending October 17, 1888:

Deed—Wm. Smearbaugh, Treas., to C. F. Gillespie, 100 acres, Warrant 5196, Kingsley twp.

Assignment—C. F. Gillespie et ux to F. B. Orne, above.

Deed—Robert Hunter, Sarah Hunter to N. P. Wheeler and W. A. Dusenbury, — acres, Hickory twp., right of way for railroad.

Lease—Wm. Bradish to Clarence McKay Agnew, oil and gas of 30 acres, Harmony twp.

Deed—Welta J. Colter and M. J. Colter to Philip Smith, two tracts, Harmony twp., containing, respectively, 102 acres and 2 acres and 120 perches.

VEOTED THREE HUNDRED.

Once again, once again, Once again blundered; This is what Grover did— Voted three hundred.

Go with your pension bills; Who cares for soldiers' ills? This is what Grover thought— Voted three hundred.

Forward in sixty-one, This is what soldiers done; Not, though, that Grover knew; He never wore the blue, Nothing encumbered.

Dare they not reason why? Yes, they will veto me; To him that vetoed much— Voted three hundred.

Cal. Brice is asking them; Cal. Brice is begging them; Financially pleading them For money by hundreds, Stormed at with such a yell, Boldly their votes will tell; Who their next man will be; Grover has vetoed well— Voted three hundred.

Fished on Memorial Day; Speaks from encyclopaedia; Return the rebel flags, Sanctioned that order; Plunged in Protection's smoke, Right through its line you broke— Free-trade you thundered, Reeled by Protection's might, Forced to give up the fight, Then you will not— Not veto three hundred.

Soon will your glory fade; From the "pet bank" brigade You will be surrendered, O, the wild charge you made, Voted the light brigade— Voted three hundred.

—A. F. I. —To arrive this week—a lot of Steamer or Helmet Hats, for Young Ladies and Children.
