LOCAL AND MISCELLANEOUS.

Oil market closed yesterday 87 1/2. Opening this morning at 87 1/2.

Election one week from next Tuesday. Get out the vote.

All H. J. Hopkins & Co. want is customers; they have the goods.

Work on the court house improvements is being somewhat retarded by the inclement weather.

Philip Emert is fitting up rooms in the Reck building, and will commence housekeeping in a few days.

Rev. and Mrs. J. Hickling departed last Wednesday for their new home in Sandy Lake, Mercer county.

Prof. Brooks' scholars were out chestnutting Monday, but the rain drove them in before many bushes were gathered.

Isaac Shimp was putting in some sensible street crossings last week, and it is now possible to cross the river of mud comparatively dry shod.

Col. Thos. J. Stewart, Secretary of Internal Affairs, has on thanks for the annual report—an elaborate affair of his department, for 1887.

It seems to us that there are less persons afflicted with rheumatism, since our druggists sell Salvation Oil. Price twenty five cents a bottle.

Mrs. S. W. Turner, of Rixford, McKean county, Pa., is paying her sister, Mrs. Pritner Agnew, a visit, expecting to remain a few weeks.

Mrs. Dr. Hooter is having her new property enclosed with a handsome paling fence. Carpenter Chadwick is pushing the job as fast as possible between showers.

The Tionesta Oil Co.'s well on Dawson Run is having some difficulty in getting the water cased off, but the operators expect to reach the second sand by Thursday of this week.

Cast your eye over the new advertisement of H. J. Hopkins & Co., which appears in this issue. They are always ready to back up just what they say, as a visit to their establishment will demonstrate. Go and see.

Mr. Joseph Morgan has the frame of a new dwelling on his lot down town about up and enclosed. He will not attempt to finish it this winter, but will get into it early in the spring. Glad to see Joe become a fixture among us.

For the past five weeks the weather has been, to say the least, "wetness." We believe the record will show that within that time there have not been 24 successive hours upon which rain has not fallen in this latitude. And still it rains.

Alba Gillfillan, who is agent for the Climax road machine, took one of the machines through here one day last week, which is to be tried by the authorities of Green township, with a view to a purchase if it does the work. While here the machine was given a small test, and its work left a very favorable impression on those who saw it.

E. M. Grant, the gentlemanly treasurer of the Union Light and Heat Co., of Foxburg, and J. W. Kelly, William Fryer and several others are up in Forest county on a hunting expedition, and are enjoying their outing to their utmost. It is pretty safe to predict a scarcity of game in Forest county after the return home of these gentlemen.—Emmenton News.

This seems to have been a prolific squash year. The latest farmer to come to the front with a big crop is John Wiles, of Smokey Hill, Tionesta tp. From two seeds he raised 287 pounds of squash, one of which measured 5 feet 5 1/2 inches around from head to foot, and 5 feet 3 1/2 inches around the waist. John also got there on the pumpkin crop, raising from one vine 12 good sized pumpkins.

A Strong Plea for the Lumbering Industry.

MARIENVILLE, PA., Oct. 22, 1888.

There was to have been a joint debate in this place, Saturday evening, Oct. 20, on the issues of the campaign, pursuant to a resolution passed, first by the Democratic club, and subsequently by the Republican club. When the time arrived the Democratic orators failed to appear, and the query now is, why? Was it because the subject would not bear discussion from a Democratic standpoint? Let us see: What political subject is it that most interests the voters of Jenks township? That which affects the lumber industry, is it not? Most certainly. We are more interested in that than in all the others put together. That is what brought the most of us here, and that is what we depend upon for our means of subsistence. Injure that industry and you injure us all; destroy the industry even for one year, and you scatter the inhabitants of Jenks township to the four corners of the earth, and make their now comfortable dwellings the abodes of owls and bats. There is not an intelligent voter in this township that does not know that any material reduction in the price of lumber and shingles would shut down every saw mill and shingle mill in this vicinity. We infer that the reason the Hon. Mr. Beers, during two speeches of an hour each in this place last Tuesday, did not refer to the lumber industry, was because the attitude of the Democratic party on the subject would not bear explanation in this lumbering country, and why? because the law as it now exists places a tariff of $1.00 per thousand feet on all sawed boards, planks, deals, and other lumber of hemlock, whitewood, sycamore and basswood; and on all other articles of sawed lumber $2.00 per thousand feet; on shingles 35 cents per thousand; and on all other manufactures of wood in proportion. In other words, persons in Canada or other foreign countries are required to pay the above sums into the treasury of the United States for the privilege of bringing into and selling the articles in this country. The Mills bill, which was endorsed by the Democratic Convention, and will become a law if Cleveland is elected, will admit the above articles free; or in other words, citizens of Canada and all other foreign countries will be permitted to ship lumber, shingles, &c., into this country free of duty, giving Canadians and other foreigners an equal chance to sell in the markets of the U. S. with our own merchants and manufacturers. Now, the question that interests us, is, will admitting lumber, shingles, &c., free, reduce the price? If it does, it ruins the industry on which we depend; if it does not, Mr. Canadian or other foreigner is just ahead of the amount of the present duty on all he imports.

As to whether it will make it cheaper or not we will have to judge by existing circumstances. Canada lies north of us with 457,448 square miles of territory more than the U. S. Her population in 1880 was only 3,602,321, while that of the U. S. was 50,152,559. Originally we probably had about as much timber as they, but we have had about 14 to 1 consuming and destroying it, consequently they must have many times as much as we have now. Their facilities for shipping into large parts of this country are unsurpassed by any home competitors, and their labor is cheaper. Here is what Mr. Thurman says in his letter of acceptance: "We say give to the masses of the people cheap and good clothing, cheap tools and cheap lumber."

The N. Y. World promises the farmer lumber at $1.00 to $2.00 per thousand cheaper; shingles 35c. cheaper, and lath 15c. cheaper, to compensate them for their loss on wool. What do they propose to give us cheap, to compensate us for furnishing the masses of the people cheap lumber, cheap shingles and cheap lath? Is it clothing and woolen goods with 45 per cent. ad valorem duty on them? Is it tools that are now made in this country so cheap that we export largely of them? Is it sugar which will still be expected to pay one fourth of all the duties on imports? Or is it railroad rails? If it is we have no use for them in our business.

Here is a proposition for the voters of Jenks township to ponder over: If by putting lumber on the free list it reduces the price of the duty now imposed, to compensate us for furnishing cheap lumber to the people, everything we buy would have to be put on the free list, because, if we should pay one cent more for any article on account of the tariff, the equilibrium is destroyed and we are the losers.

So let us consider our political ways that we do not help to put stumbling blocks in the way of our own prosperity. M. C. CARRIGER.

If you think of buying Horse Blankets, or nice Wool Blankets, or cheap Wool Blankets, or even Shanty Blankets, go to H. J. Hopkins & Co. Don't buy your Underwear or Wool Shirts until you have examined those nice ones that H. J. Hopkins & Co. have just received.

Strokeleton.

Having seen that this proximity has been unnoticed in your paper, concluded to furnish you with the current news.

Mr. E. E. Paup of Lickingville, died at his home Friday, Oct. 12th, of typhoid fever. He leaves a wife, two children and many friends to mourn his loss. The deceased was born Feb. 16th, 1862. His remains were taken to the Evangelical Church, where Rev. Brickley delivered an elegant discourse, after which the remains were conveyed to the Hill Cemetery for interment. Mr. Paup was a young man highly esteemed throughout the entire community.

Mr. John Wolfe of Newmansville, gave this vicinity a flying visit last week. People should endeavor to get their cabbage safely stored away for Hallow eve is fast approaching. Miss Lizzie Smith, who for a prolonged time was rusticated in this vicinity, has gone to Tionesta where she intends staying the coming winter. Mrs. Wm. Alexander, a resident of this locality, died on Thursday of last week. She lived to be a nonagenarian. The deceased was taken to Washington church, where Rev. J. R. Miller preached a beautiful sermon to the bereaved.

Mr. Brownell of Tionesta, gave this vicinity a flying visit last week. John Harmon a resident of Strobleton, has taken up his abode near Lickingville. Mr. H. Wolfe has erected a commodious coal house near the Shriver school house. He intends getting in a large supply of coal for the coming winter. Mr. B. Mealy is erecting a large house near the Tionesta road. We wish him good success in his undertaking. Wm. Hepler purchased a valuable cow not long since. The recent snow storm has started the wild geese to flight for a warmer climate.

Mrs. Corbon of Lickingville, died last week of typhoid fever. Deceased leaves a large family to mourn her loss. Her remains were taken to the Evangelical church, where Rev. Brickley conducted the funeral services. The interment took place in Hill Cemetery. Messrs. Samuel and Edward Hepler of this place were rusticated near Gilfoyle last week.

"It is all over town," said the Arab. "What?" asked the old man, his eyebrows bristling with curiosity. "Mad!" said the youngster, while his mouth went clear around his ears in a grin. "Right you are," said the old man. "With the mud come colds and coughs, and you know the remedy." "Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup," rejoined the boy. "Right you are again!"

Came to the premises of the undersigned in Tionesta township, Forest county, Pa., about two months ago, one yearling, half Jersey, black and white bull. The owner is hereby notified to come forward, prove property and take same away, otherwise he will be disposed of according to law. Q. JAMIESON.

Queer People. This is the title of the latest and by all odds the most charming book for little people we have ever seen. Its fables, or stories, are delightful, but the illustrations are simply immense. The author, Palmer Cox, is a new star in the juvenile firmament, but he shines with unique brilliancy. His charming fables rival those of the world famed Esop, and he far outshines that celebrated literary comert by his inimitable illustrations. He dresses up his birds, animals, insects, giants, fairies, goblins, etc., in grotesque style and makes them reason, talk, dance, and out up all sorts of the oddest pranks imaginable, affording infinite delight, as well as excellent instruction to the young. The issue of his book "Queer People" has brought a perfect ovation of praise from the brightest men in the land. For instance, General Clinton B. Fisk says: "It has set my children wild with delight," and Col. Russell H. Conwell, the famous lecturer, says: "Don't send me another copy of such a book, for I can't get my children to bed!"

The famous statesman, diplomat and wit, Sumner Cox, says: "The Queer People are simply incomparable," while the distinguished theologian, Dr. Howard Crosby, says: "They have the fascination that belongs to Esop and Uncle Remus," and the venerable poet, Dr. Oliver Wendell Holmes, writes: "I am sorry I have not a nursery full of little folks to enjoy its bright pictures and stories." Esop's fables are enjoyed by old and young and are quoted by the greatest orators and surely these equally charming stories, so profusely and exquisitely illustrated will charm young and old for generations to come.

The sale of this book will surely be enormous. It is published by the well-known house of Hubbard Bros., Phila., Chicago, and Kansas City, to whom any person desiring an agency should apply.
