LOCAL AND MISCELLANEOUS.

Oil market closed yesterday 84 1/2. Opening this morning at 84 1/2.

Thanksgiving is not a great day off, but how about the turkey.

Mrs. J. A. Hart of Oil City, is the guest of Tionesta relatives.

Billy Morgan is erecting a new barn on his premises down town.

A few such days as yesterday would make the "going" comparatively good again.

Girl Brownell has returned to his former "sit" on the Austin, (Pottaw Co.) Autograph.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Jas. R. Clark, of the Borough, on Thursday, Oct. 25, 1888, a daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. Brownell were in Warren yesterday, attending the funeral of a sister of Mrs. B.

Mrs. A. L. Hayden of Pittsburgh, is paying a visit to Tionesta as the guest of Mr. J. H. Fones' family.

Mr. Geo. P. Park of Jamestown, N. Y., was the guest of Ben. W. May, at the May mansion, over last Sabbath.

Misses Eda and Mary Krotzer, of Bradford, were the guests of their aunt, Mrs. W. F. Blum, during the past week.

Beware of campaign lies from this on. There will likely be hosts of them set afloat by our enemies. Take no stock in them.

Mrs. Hall and son, Homer, of Steubenville, Ohio, mother and brother of Mrs. Dr. Siggins, are paying the Doctor's family a visit.

Republicans, don't fail to be out early next Tuesday morning, and see that your indifferent neighbor, if you have any such, goes with you.

We understand some of the young men of the town are arranging for a grand ball at the rink on the 9th inst., at which Coleman's orchestra will furnish music.

Mr. J. V. McAninch, a student of the Western Theological Seminary, will preach in the Presbyterian church on next Sabbath, Nov. 4th, morning and evening.

The Dawson run well is down in the oil producing sand, but the operators say it must be shot before any definite conclusion can be formed as to its wetness or dryness.

To-night will be "holler eve," but we dare say the boys are onto the racket all right. Remember, boys, fun's fun, but if too strongly indulged in, it's liable to create trouble.

The Dunham well located on the Hayes property near the Cobb mill in Harmony township, and about one mile west of the Carnahan wells, came in Monday night and is said to be dry.

Miss Gussie Legnard, of Waukegan, Ill., went to Tionesta yesterday for a two weeks' visit with relatives, after which she will return and make a short stay with her sister, Mrs. Ed. Bleakley.—Franklin News.

Ben. W. May of Chicago, was a welcome visitor among Tionesta friends, from Wednesday last till yesterday. Mrs. Kelly, who was visiting her daughter, Mrs. Chas. Bonner in Chicago, returned with Ben.

The weather for the past three days has been quite favorable to corn husking, potato digging and buckwheat threshing, but Jim Fones has his rain signal out again this morning, which will likely upset things once more.

Mr. Bennett's friends will be grieved to learn that his condition is by no means as favorable as could be wished, and his physician believes his case extremely critical. P. S.—Just as we go to press we learn that Mr. Bennett is dead.

The Sons of Veterans of this place have arranged to give an oyster supper in the Accomb Building next Tuesday evening, election night, and invite all the hungry ones to give them a call. Go and help the boys along, and at the same time get a good square stew.

The editor and family are indebted to the band for a most delightful serenade last evening. The boys are forging to the front in fine style, and the time is not far away when they will stand right up with anything in Western Pa. in the musical line.

Dr. W. W. Freeman of Warren, was married to Miss Elizabeth S. Ward of Buffalo, N. Y., on the 23rd inst. Wallace is pleasantly remembered by many of our townspeople as a former Tionesta boy, and all will join in congratulations to him on this happy event.

Some people are just as cross as a bear, they snap your head off when you happen to open your mouth. We can not excuse them, for they have bad colds, which makes them irritable, and are too mean to buy a bottle of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup, which would restore their good nature.

Mr. Will Klinefester has moved with his family to Golitzin Mills, Green township, where he has accepted Mr. F. C. Lacy's place as book-keeper for the Messrs. Lacy. Fred expects soon to remove to Pittsburgh, where he will make his future home. Our best wishes go with him.

Hon. J. W. Lee has arrived home from a stumping tour in Connecticut and New York, under the auspices of the National Republican Committee. He says the Nutmeg State will unquestionably go Republican, and firmly believes Harrison will carry New York State by 30,000 majority.—Franklin News.

A. A. Carlisle, the brilliant editor of the Clarion Jacksonian, is now journeying in New Mexico, having been obliged to seek that climate on account of failing health. His editorial brethren all through the northwest will wish him the greatest benefits from the change, and will be delighted at his return in the spring a sound man.

Here is something in the weather prediction line from the Philadelphia Record: "There is an old superstition that the date of the month added to the number of the month in the year when the first snow falls will give the number of snow storms for the winter. If this be true, then we shall have thirty-eight snow storms this winter, the first snow having fallen on the 29th day of the ninth month."

The boys who went down the river on the recent freshet bring back cheering reports for the Republicans all along the river. They say they found but three men who would cheer for Cleveland along the entire route.

On the way back on train No. 1, on Friday a canvass was made which resulted, Harrison 59, Cleveland 31, Belva 5. And this is the way the thing looks all round.

Ervin Hopkins, son of A. A. Hopkins of Neilltown, this county, started for the woods to gather chestnuts on Friday afternoon last. Not returning when night came, the neighborhood searched the woods all night, but without finding the boy. On Saturday he came to the road near Fatagundus, where he was taken in by friends, and returned to his home that evening. His father was absent from home at the time, and his mother, as might be supposed, was almost frantic during the nearly 24 hours of suspense.

Dr. Coulter and Will Fillson had a successful hunt in the wilds of Forest county yesterday. Their game footed up eleven squirrels, two pheasants, and a coon. This last was treed by their dogs, and the sturdy hunters clubbed the life out of the varmint. They desired to capture him alive, but the coon rejected all friendly overtures and so courted it own fate.—Derrick.

The names of Messrs. C. D. Baker and T. F. Ritchey should be included in the above list—not the game list, but the list of hunters—as they took a hand in the sport.

Three tickets will be voted in this county at the coming election. One is headed "State," and contains the names of the electors to be voted for, together with the candidates' names for Auditor General, Thomas McCamant. One is headed "Judiciary," and contains the name of the candidate for Supreme Judge, James T. Mitchell. One is headed "County," and contains the candidates' names for Congress, Theodore P. Ryader; Assembly, Charles A. Randall; District Attorney, P. M. Clark. These are the Republican candidates, and Republicans should examine their tickets carefully.

Saturday night was the 20th anniversary of the founding of the Ancient Order of United Workmen. It was established by the late John J. Upchurch, in Meadville, in a little room at the corner of Water street and Torbett alley. The order has grown remarkably. To-day Pennsylvania has 15,326 members, the Province of Ontario about 12,000, and the United States and Territories and Ontario, combined, 209,293. During the past twenty years over $25,000,000 have been paid out for beneficiary, sickness and distress, and thousands have been otherwise benefited.—Franklin News.

Narcissa E. White, the well-known lecturer for the National W. C. T. U., was married October 23d, at Wichita, Kansas, to Marshall J. Kinzey, of Astoria, Oregon. Miss White was a resident of Grove City, Pa., and was well and favorably known personally and as a lecturer for the W. C. T. U. The bridegroom belongs to a prominent family of Oregon, where he has large business connections. The marriage was performed by Rev. Dr. Zoshnell, a cousin of the groom, of Waynesburg, Pa., assisted by Rev. J. D. Roberts, brother-in-law of the bride, of Hazleton, Pa. The bride wore a neat-fitting, silver gray, moire silk dress, with cashmere basque with draperies, trimmed with steel passementeries.

Don't!—If a dealer offers you a bottle of Salvation Oil without labels, or wrappers, or in a mutilated or defaced package, don't touch it—don't buy it at any price, you can rest assured that there is something wrong—it may be a dangerous and worthless counterfeit. Insist upon getting a perfect, unbroken, genuine package.

Strobleton. A series of protracted meetings is being carried on at Lickingville with excellent success, by Rev. Brickley.

Mr. Jacob Wolfe and wife were the happy guests of Mr. Wm. Hepler not long since.

George Mealy intends erecting a large wagon shed in the near future.

Mr. Oliver Myers, formerly of Lickingville, but at present residing near Gilfoyle, is sick with typhoid fever. We wish him a speedy convalescence.

Peter Greer of Lineville, gave this proximity a flying visit last week.

Typhoid fever is at present raging in the vicinity of Lickingville. We sincerely hope and trust the afflicted will speedily recover.

Mr. Wm. Hepler is at present erecting a fine house for Jacob Mealy Sr. We presume the stove haulers of this locality will be compelled to abandon hauling, until the rainy weather is over.

Mr. J. Mong of Red Brush, gave friends of this vicinity a call last week.

Mrs. Michael Faller of this place is confined to her bed from the effects of a tumor. ZIZAG.

ESTRAY. Came to the premises of the undersigned in Tionesta township, Forest county, Pa., about two months ago, one yearling, half Jersey, black and white bull. The owner is hereby notified to come forward, prove property and take same away, otherwise he will be disposed of according to law. Q. JAMIESON. Tionesta, Oct. 20, 1888.

HERE AND THERE.

Van Sickle, the man who tore his horse's tongue out by the roots near Port Allegany, has been lately seen around that town, and is now at his home in that locality. Tar and feathers and public sentiment must be scarce in that community.—[Smethport Miner.]

Any person in Pennsylvania who shall pursue and apprehend any horse thief in any county of the State, on conviction of the person so apprehended, shall be entitled to a reward of $20, and six cents for every mile necessarily traveled in pursuit of the offender.—[EX.]

Rev. John Eckels, the newly appointed minister of the M. E. Church at Reno, was the victim of a fatal accident at that place, about 3 o'clock last Thursday afternoon. While the New Castle train on the W. N. Y. & P. railroad was passing Reno, on the way to New Castle, Rev. Eckels was struck, and died instantly. From all that can be learned, this train makes no stop at Reno, and was running at a speed of about twenty miles an hour. When nearing the depot the engineer saw a man walking toward the track, and at once signalled. At the time this was given the man was fully 100 feet from the track. The man paid no attention to the signal, and the engineer could not stop in time to save him. He was struck by the pilot, and the engineer thinks, was thrown against the switch. The train was stopped and the body of the man, for death was evidently instantaneous, proved to be that of Rev. Eckels. The body was taken to his residence in the lower part of Reno, into which he had only removed the day before from Stoneboro. It is supposed that Mr. Eckels was either deaf or else was in an abstracted mood, and failed in some way to notice the approach of the train.—[Franklin News.]

Although the year 1900 will be divisible by four without a remainder, it will not be leap year. It will be to be informed of this in time. Twelve years must elapse before the interesting event takes place, but it was just the same in 1800 and in 1700 but not in 1600 for that was a leap year and the year 2000 will be a leap year also. Why this should be is as much of a problem to the general reader as the silver question or the tariff issue. To explain it in detail would be a tiresome task, but it rests on the principle that a difference of 11 minutes per year exist between actual time and calendar time. Thus, a year is computed at 365 1/4 days, three years being 365 days long and the fourth year 366 days. In fact the year is 365 days, 5 hours and 49 minutes long, or 11 minutes short of 365 1/4 days. The leap year every four years is said to have been an invention of Julius Caesar's. To allow for this difference of 11 minutes per year, one leap year was dropped every hundred years. But this was found not to be exact, and Pope Gregory XIII, in 1582, made an improvement and decreed that every centennial year divisible by four should be a leap year. Thus, by omitting the leap year for three centennial years and letting it remain as usual on the fourth centennial year, a system is obtained so close that it would take thousands of years to make up another day's difference in time. The calendar time is still not exact mathematically, but as no change will be necessary for 4000 years, the present generation need not worry about the trifling discrepancy remaining.—[Derrick.]

The Lumbermen of the United States. In the "Northwestern Lumberman" of October 29 appears a list of those engaged in the manufacture or handling of lumber in the States of Kentucky and West Virginia. The list includes owners and operators of saw, shingle, stave and heading, and planing mills, sash and door factories and box factories; also the names of wholesale, retail and commission dealers in lumber, timber and logs. By a convenient system of reference marks the above classification is indicated, and also in case of mills and factories the approximate daily capacity, the power used and whether or not dry kiln and logging railways are employed. The "Lumberman," which is published at Chicago, promises to continue the publication of these valuable lists in regular issues of the paper until inside of a year the round of the United States shall be made. This is a bold and costly undertaking and should be appreciated by all interested in any way in the lumber industry of the country.

Seventeen Years History of Running Ears. Mr. Wm. Miller employed as printer at Best & Co's, 207 Wood street, first consulted Dr. Sadler, 804 Penna & e., Pittsburgh, in June, 1874, for deafness and a discharge from his ear, that had continued for four years. A Polypus was found and removed, the ear healed and hearing restored so perfectly he could tell no difference in 12 years. He remained perfectly well for 12 years, when repeated colds started up a discharge again. He again went to Dr. Sadler, and again it is perfectly healed and hearing not noticeably different from the other.

DISCHARGE FROM THE EAR CAN BE CURED. This is only one case in hundreds recorded by Dr. Sadler. The cost is moderate. All cases must come to the office, once at least. All diseases of the eye, ear, nose and throat specialties. Spectacles perfectly adjusted. Artificial eyes perfectly natural in appearance inserted. The best possible results assured.
