LOCAL AND MISCELLANEOUS.

Oil market closed yesterday 86 1/2. Opening this morning at 86 1/2. —Charley Griffin and Joseph Fair, of Balltown, were in town over Monday night.

—Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Irwin, of Tionesta, spent yesterday with relatives in this city. The latter will remain over Sunday.—Franklin News.

—Nothing nicer than a life-like photograph of yourself as a Christmas present. Gallery opposite Lawrence House.

—Christmas is coming. It will be here on the 25th day of this month this year. New Years day occurs one week later—on the first of January—as usual.

—Dr. and Mrs. T. D. Dunn, of West Chester, Pa., were guests at the home of Mrs. Dunn's parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Cobb, a few days of last week. Mrs. D. is still here.

—Mr. L. J. Hopkins, of the enterprising firm of H. J. Hopkins & Co., is in New York this week laying in a rich supply of Holiday Goods. Look out for a fine display.

—Leap year will be past in less than four weeks, and the girls are reminded that they will not have another chance for the next four years, and should make the best of the little time left.

—We believe the Sabbath Schools of this place are making no preparations for Christmas trees this year, preferring to save their money and take in Chautauqua again next summer.

—Policeman S. D. Hason of Franklin, who was tried for killing a belligerent and unruly tramp whom he was attempting to arrest last summer, was acquitted at last week's session of court at that place.

—Who is the guilty party? The Blizzard says: "The reports in full to date, as per statement of the river trainmen, show the total yield of big game to be one deer, shipped from Tionesta a week or ten days ago."

—When old Judge Jowler was tucked in his little bed by Mrs. Mouser he couldn't sleep a wink until the excellent woman had brought a bottle of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup. Then he crossed his little hands and sunk in sweet repose.

—Duncan Buchanan, whose illness at the Central House we mentioned last week, departed for Erie on Monday to receive medical treatment. His trouble is something in the nature of consumption, and we hope he may get speedy relief.

—But few hunting parties have passed through here for the big woods compared with past seasons. The time is short for the legal killing of venison, as the season expires on the 15th inst., or one week from next Saturday, so that it is hardly worth while going very far away for a big hunt.

—Persons wishing photographs to present to friends for Christmas presents, should have their negatives made at least 10 days before. Gallery open on Christmas and New Years to accommodate those who cannot come at any other time.

—Superintendent Baird, of the Dead-Letter office, has issued a circular to Postmasters telling them "in all cases to collect one cent for an advertised letter on delivery, whether the same has been published in a newspaper or in a posted list, and to affix and cancel a corresponding postage due stamp, as evidence of its payment, in compliance with regulations."

—Michael Brecht, an old and highly respected citizen of Beaver Valley, Hickory township, died at the home of his son Daniel, on the 21st inst. Mr. Brecht was aged 71 years on the day of his death. He was the father of a large family, all of whom are now grown to manhood, and some of whom are still among our most useful and honored citizens. He voted for General Harrison in 1840, and again for his illustrious grandson at the recent election.

—Teachers and others attending Institute are respectfully invited to call at the Photograph Rooms opposite Lawrence House, Tionesta, Pa., and see specimens of work. Should you wish cabinets of yourself you should call early in the week and avoid the rush. Best work guaranteed. Will remain only a short time after the holidays. Cabinets $3.00 per doz. Will be open on Christmas and New Years to accommodate those who cannot come at any other time.

—There shall be no more coasting on the sidewalks, says the town council. And they mean business. It is not only dangerous to the unsuspecting pedestrian, but to the small boy who indulges in the sport as well, and the edict is therefore sent forth and must be heeded. The REPUBLICAN had a reporter at the meeting of the irate borough dads on Monday evening, and they had blood in their eyes when they voted the resolution through with a rush that meant much. A fair warning to the boys and girls.

—The monthly oil report for November shows 309 wells completed; new production, 3860 barrels; six dry holes. This is an increase of 83 new wells over October and shows 518 more barrels of new production, with six more dusters. In the work under way there are 324 wells drilling, 205 rigs up and building. Compared with last month this shows 12 more rigs and a decrease of 5 drilling wells. The bulk of the new production comes from the Southwest and Butler and Armstrong districts. Venango and Clarion show the most new work. Venango appears to be the strongest territory, Clarion showing a falling off in production. On the whole, the report is considered favorable under the circumstances, as all possible efforts are made to rush work before snow lies.

—Operations in the new oil field of Harmony township will be active for the next three or four weeks. Drilling is expected to commence as follows this week: Tionesta Oil Co., one well on Dawson tract, Kelly, Wolcott, Mead & Grove, one well on the C. O. Baird tract. Compromise Oil Co., one well on the Agnew & Morck lease, McCalmont tract. Harmony Oil Co., one well on the Agnew, Jamieson & Proper lands. Barnsdale & Co., one well on the Barnsdale tract. Brown Bros., one well on the farm of Orion Siggins. In Hickory township, Wolcott & Co., will commence a well soon near the east end of Hickory bridge, on land of Orion Siggins. Grove & Co., will also soon start a well below that short distance, in the vicinity of the mouth of Little Hickory creek.

—Mrs. Jennie Jones, wife of Warren Jones, died at her home, Newtown Mills, about seven o'clock on Monday evening of this week. Last spring Mrs. Jones took a severe cold, which developed into consumption and finally caused her death. She was a most estimable woman, beloved by all who knew her for her many kind attributes of head and heart. She leaves a husband and three children, the oldest about seven years and the youngest about three. To these she was a most affectionate wife and loving mother, on whom her taking away falls with a heavy blow. The sympathy of the entire community in which Mr. Jones resides goes out to him and his little ones in this hour of their sad bereavement. The deceased would have been 31 years of age had she lived till the 26th of January. The funeral takes place to day, the remains being laid to rest in the Evangelical Church Cemetery, German Hill.

—A well known citizen of Wetheredville, Md., Mr. W. R. Graves, writes: I suffer sometimes with acute rheumatism and your Salvation Oil gives me instantaneous relief, and I recommend it as a sure cure for this terrible disease.

—Japanese Holiday goods, never before offered in Tionesta, in Rose Jars, Vases, Water Bottles, Cups and Saucers, Plates, Toys, &c., at DEPARTMENT STORE.

—Don't suffer with indigestion, use Baxter's Mandrake Bitters. For sale by G. W. Bovard.

JOHN S. EVERHART ACQUITTED.

The Jury Brings in a Verdict of Not Guilty After Several Hours' Deliberation.

DAN'S TRIAL BEGUN.

On Saturday morning last, after the attorney in the trial of John S. Everhart had finished summing up, Judge Wilson delivered his charge, a very able and exhaustive one, to the jury, which retired at 11:25 A. M. At 9 o'clock Sunday morning a verdict of "not guilty" was rendered, and upon motion of Mr. Wood, counsel for defense, Mr. Everhart was released from custody.

From the Oil City Derrick's report of the trial we take the following details: J. C. Bowman, testified: I was a member of the committee to ferret out the perpetrator of this crime; A. B. Kelly and R. Alt were the others; John Everhart gave about $150 towards the expenses of this investigation; after the money in the hands of the committee was used up I told Everhart if it was my wife I would mortgage my farm to ferret out the murderer; my wife and I were at Everhart's a short time after the homicide; I told him Mary and him ought to travel; that he would go crazy staying there brooding over it; he said no, that was home and he would stay there; he said he always intended to give Mary a deed for half the farm and Dan one for the other half, and he guessed he would do it now; I advised him not to.

H. H. Wilson testified: I was arrested at one time for this murder; after I was discharged by the Grand Jury, I went to John Everhart's; I was working up my case for false imprisonment against John S. Everhart; Mr. Everhart came out and said, "I think I ought to know you!" I said, I think so too, when you treated me so badly by having me arrested and imprisoned; he said, "I was advised to do so;" I said, old man, why did you not arrest the right man? he said, "I would if I knew who the right man was;" I then pointed to a man coming up and said who is that man coming up? He said, "that is my son Dan;" I said why don't you arrest him? He is the man that done the killing, and you are the man that directed it; John Everhart turned pale, shook like one palsied, staggered back and dropped to the ground.

Selden Whitman, testified: I went to Everhart's in June after the homicide; John S. was eating dinner at Dan's; we sent his grandson in to tell John to come out; he came; we told him we wanted to see where the women were killed; he took us all over the house; took us up stairs; showed us the room where he slept, where his wife slept and where the old lady slept; when we came down stairs he showed us where the old lady was found; there was a stand there with some papers; he said there is where I sit and read; I said "how can you bear to sit and read there?" he said "I have taken more comfort than I have in 10 or 12 years;" he took us out to the springhouse; he said he threw out and thrown in the mud boiler; I asked him if there was any blood between the house and the spring-house; he said, "just about as much as if you would cut your finger and shake the blood off."

At 3:00 p. m., Wednesday, the commonwealth rested, and the defense was opened. Mr. Richmond, counsel for defense, outlining what they proposed to show. The defendant, John S. Everhart, was the first witness. His testimony was in the main similar to that given in the Horner trial, which we gave, last week. The examination was continued on Thursday morning as follows: I showed Selden Whitman through my house; I told him I could content myself better there than any other place, as it is my home; I had no knowledge of the homicide; I do not know who did the killing and know nothing about it.

Cross-examined: When Mary was looking through her mother's papers there was a note of mine there for $50; I took it and tore it up; I gave it to my wife to pacify her. She was always bothering me for a deed for half of the place; I said say at the time it was hurt Mary's feelings; I did not say it was a horse bet; I did have $250; the $500 I put up was Mary's money; I gave her my note for it; Mary said Jack Cribbs said he could find the parties if $1,000 was put up; Mary came to me and insisted upon my putting up the money; I refused at first because I had not the money; Mary said if I did not raise the reward she would put up my notes in the bank and raise the money; I said I would pay it if it was ever lifted, when I went out to attend my stock. After my wife was found three of the stalls were cleaned, one was not; I went to Scotch Hill before the manure was hauled.

Re-direct: When I was away my wife cleaned out the stable when no other person was there. Daniel Byers retold his story of the mysterious men that passed where he was chopping wood about 2 o'clock the afternoon of the homicide; our time was school time; Owen's time was about 20 to 30 minutes faster than sun time. When I passed Everhart's it was a little after 12 by sun time; I heard Mrs. Everhart talking when I passed John Everhart's carriage house. Min Sligo testified: I passed Daniel Byers by Everhart's carriage-house at 12 o'clock the day of the homicide.

THAT COAT. Milton McMichael testified: I hauled manure from John Everhart's barn; John Everhart was there a few moments the morning I commenced to haul, he then took his horse and went away; Howard Everhart and Joe Brewster helped load; I know of no coat having been found there; Dan Everhart was hauling also.

Ralph Alt testified: I was one of the committee to investigate this crime; John Everhart gave $500 to the reward fund and over $400 to investigating fund. James Brener: I was county detective in 1886; I started for Everhart's on the first train after I heard of the murder, under direction of the District Attorney; I arrived there Wednesday morning; Everhart took me up stairs, and down stairs, at the barn, everywhere, but I found nothing; I had a conversation with C. W. Levy before he left and I said to him "Now, you are going away, I wish you would tell me all you know about this murder;" Levy said: "There is no question about the guilt of Wilson and Norton;" that he had conclusive evidence to hang them.

ACCOUNTING FOR A STICK.

Helwig Luchart testified: I was at the Everharts Tuesday evening after the murder; I left a stick on the porch in the corner; it was a heavy stick and rough; I don't know what kind of a stick it was; I used it as a staff to walk with.

FRIDAY MORNING.

Ann Barnett sworn: Saw a man with a black mustache; I am well acquainted with Dan Everhart; I didn't know the man in the window. I have said the man was not Dan Everhart; I had a conversation with Mr. Weidner; he said he knew that I knew it was Dan, and said if I didn't say it was him he would put me in jail. I said I would stay in jail 60 years before I would swear that.

CROSS-EXAMINED: I could not see who it was. I did not see him plain enough to tell who it was.

THE KNIFE.

The defense wished the Court Stenographer to be sent to Mary Everhart's room, she being ill, for the purpose of receiving her evidence to the fact that the missing butcher knife had been in her possession; that she had taken it to Edinboro with her. The Commonwealth admit this fact.

A. W. Kinch recalled: I did not tell Hasset that I found the stick Wednesday, and that the prosecution offered me $50 for it. BIG MONEY FOR A STICK. S. H. Hasset testified: Kinch told me the Commonwealth wanted the cane or stick he found at Everhart's and they offered $50 for the cane, that they had the stump to fit it. Kinch said I offered them $100 for the stump.

JOHN EVERHART AGAIN.

John Everhart recalled: My daughter Mary told me on Wednesday that she had taken the missing knife to Edinboro with her. Cross-examined: I had known at the time that Mary had taken the knife to Edinboro, but I forgot it the day of the homicide. Christ Mahle testified: I was at Everhart's the morning of the homicide; they were sitting at breakfast; Mr. and Mrs. Everhart and myself were having fun; they were joking me.

Abe Hepler testified: Kinch told me he found a stick the day before the funeral; that he put it in the old house, that afterward he (Kinch) took it to the coon hunt and could not find a stump to fit the cane and he threw it away and picked up one laying there. Kinch also said that he wished I would get him on to work up the case for the Everharts; that there was no money on the Commonwealth side, and he was tired of working for nothing and that Everhart's were not guilty.

Michael Moran testified: Fulmer was at my store before the homicide; he said he had been at Everhart's and got part of his clothes, and John Everhart said if his wife had the clothes, washed in time he would bring them to my store on his way to Fryburg, the next Monday. S. H. Rayen, Ralph Alt, Jacob Miller, and S. H. Reyner were called, had questioned Joe Brewster after the homicide. All he ever answered was that when he came home he found grandmother lying with her throat cut.

Mrs. Rayen and Mrs. Whitmore found plenty of sugar and coffee in the house. Rev. C. H. Fraunton testified: I am a Methodist Episcopal minister; I knew John Everhart and his wife; was there quite frequently; I was at his house for three or four weeks in the winter of 1884 and 1885, when I was holding protracted meetings; I never saw any quarrels between John Everhart and his wife. The same deeds offered in evidence as were offered in the Horner trial, offered to prove negative motive showing the title of one-third of 126 acres of land farmed by Dan Everhart, was in Dan Everhart prior to the homicide.

Counsel for defense offer in evidence a judgment, May term, 1888, against John S. Everhart. The same judgment assigned to Dan Everhart in 1889. This, on subject of motive, to show that Dan could by a s. c. fa. to revive and continue judgment, could have obtained a writ of execution against his father and obtained a deed to the remaining two-thirds, despite the refusal of Jimmie to sign a deed for it. Defense rests.

IN REBUTTAL.

The Commonwealth offered some evidence in rebuttal, but little except what we have given already. The following was added: Mrs. J. C. Bowman testified: Maria Everhart, Dan's wife, told me the day of the homicide she saw Mrs. Jimmie Horner go to the barn and let the cows out; she said she thought if Dan did not soon come home she would have to go and let their cows out, for it was then 15 minutes of 12 o'clock; she also said that when she, Maria, was at their barn she was sorry she had not looked down towards Everhart's, as she might have seen something.

WHAT JOE TOLD HIS MOTHER.

Mrs. Nannie Brewster, little Joe's mother and her little boy on the road; I saw no one about Everhart's or Dan's; I was driving from Lickingville toward McMichael's cross roads. C. W. Levy, testified: I am connected with the Pinkerton agency; I first saw Dan Everhart at his barn; took him in the barn; he seemed frightened at first; I asked him about Wilson; he told me about him; Dan's manner was very nervous; he would not look me in the face and kept clinching his hands; I said, "here, you need not be so nervous, I am here to take suspicion off of you." He told me he wore a full gray suit the day of the murder. Dan gave me different clues; he said a man came to him, and said he could turn up the man in 60 days; that he came again and wanted money to produce him. John Everhart, Dan and myself were in Everhart's house; I asked how much money was taken; John said $500, $300 of his and $200 of Mary's money; I asked Dan where the blood stains were; he said he did not know, ask father; I asked Dan if his step-mother and himself ever had any trouble; he said only once that was 10 years ago, about some tape I forgot to bring her, but she got over it in a little while, and we were good friends afterward. Dan and I rode together to Tionesta; I told Dan it looked bad for him, but I was doing all I could for him; he said, "I know you will, Charley, but there is two hours of that day I can't account for; nobody saw me," Samuel Mahle: Went to Dan Everhart, but he would not see Dan; his wife said Dan and his father had gone to his father's barn to attend the stock; I went down there, went around the barn, saw no one; the barn door was fastened inside; I heard some one talking inside; I called out and the old man said: "We will be out in a minute;" this was before VanCamp's arrest.

MARY EVERHART'S STORY.

Miss Mary Everhart testified: I had a horse at my father's farm; I had sold it and gone for the horse; my father was out of patience and said he needed the horse; he said he would bring it to Newmannville next morning; he did not bring it; I got the horse last spring; I was insisting that my father should raise money for the reward; I said repeatedly that the deed had not been done for money, but that the money had been taken to cover the murder.

CROSS-EXAMINED: My father gave me the horse when it was a colt.

W. H. Frazier recalled: I took Ann Barnett to Mr. Weidner's office; I heard the conversation about the man she saw looking out of the window; there was nothing said to her in my presence by Mr. Weidner that she should go to jail if she did not say the man with the black mustache was Dan Everhart. Commonwealth rests. Defense offer no rebuttal.

DAN ON TRIAL.

Immediately upon the retiring of the jury in the case John S. Everhart, the work of empanelling a jury for the trial of Daniel Everhart was begun, which consumed the balance of the day. Mr. Rich-

Council Meeting.

The Borough Council held a regular monthly meeting in the council chamber on Monday evening, and among the business transacted was the following: Application was made for a street light to be placed at a proper place between the corner at Herman & Siggins store and the approach to the river bridge. Laid over until next meeting.

Mr. Alba Gillilan representing the Climax Road Machine, appeared and explained the merits thereof with a view to selling one to the borough. On motion it was decided to purchase one of said machines at the price of $225, to be paid for in three equal annual payments from April 1st, 1889, with interest.

A resolution to this effect was unanimously adopted: That coasting on sidewalks in this Borough be abolished, and that the practice be continued, under penalty of confiscation of the sleds of those who persist in said practice, which is dangerous alike to both pedestrian and participant.

—Everything booming! We are now in the centre of the Penna Oil Field, with the finest producing well in this section at our door! With thousands of acres knocking at Tionesta's door for admission to make it the liveliest oil town in Oildom. We can safely say to the oil producer that we have the largest stock of merchandise in the county, and will be happy to have you call and see our stock.
