The Allegheny Valley Railroad is on hand with another holiday present to all its patrons. The ticket agents of the company are authorized to sell excursion tickets on Dec. 24, 25, and 31, 1888, and on January 1, 1889, and make them good for return trip until Jan. 3, 1889, inclusive.

The Harrisburg Telegraph says the State Department this morning received notice that in drawing for priority between Judges Mitchell and McCullom, recently elected to the Supreme Court, Judge McCullom won, so that in the matter of procedure he is first.

Court convenes next Monday. There are but few civil cases on the trial list, but if all are tried the week will be about all taken up. There being no criminal matters to come before the court, the grand jurors have been notified not to appear, and an official notice to that effect is published in this issue.

Rev. S. E. Ryan left today for Lisbon, Dak., to which place he has been transferred by the Methodist church. His many friends in Siverlyville and Rouseville regret to part with him and wish him success in his new charge.

The young ladies of the Presbyterian Sabbath School are getting up a supper at the Central House, next Friday evening, for the purpose of raising funds with which to defray the expenses of a Christmas tree.

The prospectus of the Harrisburg Weekly Telegraph is published in this issue, and special attention is called to it. It is decidedly the best journal published at the State Capital, and is especially interesting during legislative sessions, as it will be this winter.

The "Birds of Pennsylvania" a volume of 375 pages, printed in Harrisburg in accordance with an act of assembly approved last May, will be out by January 1st.

Attention is directed to the new "ad." of David Barnett, dealer in general merchandise, which appears in this issue. Mr. Barnett has a fine stock of goods, and has marked them down to bottom figures.

The trial of Daniel Everhart ended in his acquittal on Sunday morning last at 9:35, the hour when the jury rendered its verdict. Judge Wilson commenced his charge to the jury on Saturday morning and finished at 10:10, when the jury immediately retired.

As winter comes on, so do traps, and our borough has of late been considerably annoyed by this nuisance. The following from the Blizard is appropriate at this time: Too much sympathy is wasted on the worthless tramps who go about from place to place begging, stealing, drinking whiskey and doing anything excepting work.

The full McGraw band, consisting of five pieces, will furnish the music for the dance to be given in the Rink, Dec. 25. Good order will be kept and all are cordially invited to come.

Messrs. J. H. Dingman and Alex. H. Dale have embarked jointly in the lumbering business, making a specialty of hardwood bill-stuff, switch and cross-ties, &c. The firm will succeed; there's no two ways about that, and success is what we wish it.

Nelson Greenlund, Warren's favorite furniture dealer, is out in a bold announcement, which none of our readers can well overlook, in this issue. Mr. G. backs up all his advertisements, and only asks the public to give him a trial to be convinced.

Mr. Ben. Cornell, of Conestoga Lake, and Capt. Clark of Hunter Run, gave the REPUBLICAN a call Monday. Mr. Cornell is arranging to put down some wells on Hunter Run in the near future, one of which will be located on the Captain's farm.

The Philadelphia Press gives this gloomy outlook for the future of the American oil market: The petroleum market has had no increase in price during the last year commensurate with the decrease in stocks and the reason is plain, Russian oil is taking up the markets from which an increase in the foreign demand once came.

Those who are astronomically inclined might be interested to learn that there will be five eclipses next year—four on the sun and one on the moon. The first is a total eclipse of the sun on January 1, at 5 o'clock, five minutes in the evening; visible at the setting of the sun.

Holiday Season has come once again bringing with it many new and beautiful things and we are Headquarters for all novelties in goods for holiday trade.

The well above the bridge is spudding. The Beaver Valley well expects to reach the sand to-day.

Rev. C. R. Thompson writes: Hickory charge, Franklin District, Erie Conference, is composed of the following named places: East Hickory, Fagundus, Whig Hill and Balltown.

Whig Hill is situated eight miles from Hickory on the road leading to Kellestville on the Tionesta creek. Here is where our annual district campmeeting is held, and the prospects for a grand, glorious campmeeting sometime during the summer of 1889 are hopeful.

East and West Hickory.

From this morning's Derrick we clip the following correspondence from the two Hickories:

WEST HICKORY. J. A. Whelpley, of Jefferson, O., was successful in killing two fine deer last week. Mr. W. understands his business in the woods as well as any sportsman who visits this country.

The stores in town report a good trade in the holiday line; it is encouraging, indeed. Toothache is quite fashionable in our town and has been for about three weeks. A dentist could reap a good harvest here.

The raffle for billiard and pool tables belonging to Al. Lusher, resulted in the ownership being transferred to John Young.

Grant Kemble spent Sunday with his parents here.

The meeting at the M. E. Church was well attended Sunday evening, people from Balltown and Fagundus being present.

John Conrad, of Butler, was the guest of his parents for a few days last week.

here on December 1st and 2d. P. E. M. Smith was with us and gave us three able sermons. A revival service has commenced here and with implicit faith in God's goodness and mercy, good results must and will follow.

Mr. S. Hepler of this proximity, was in Clarion several days last week. Mr. A. Shriver of this section is busily engaged in taking out ties on his tract of land.

The friends of Mr. D. Kinch congratulated him very highly on last Saturday, it being his 61st birthday, by assembling at his residence in the form of a surprise, and bringing him a goodly number of valuable birthday presents.

Mr. Isaac Hepler of Newmanville, gave this locality a flying visit not long since.

Miss Tillie Kinch who for some time has been rusticated at Pine Hollow, and visiting friends at Pittsburgh, Pa., has returned to her home near here. Her numerous friends extend to her a hearty welcome home.

John Clary is much more quiet than he was but still much deranged. Sarah Shoupe is much deranged but more quiet.

Wm. Baruhart is still excitable and sometimes quite noisy. Isaac Reed is quiet and has been so for some time, though much confused in mind.

Samuel Hawthorne is quiet and generally pleasant but confused in mind. Olive Noble is very quiet and pleasant except when she has the fits and then is quite uncomfortable for a day or two.

Peter Guenther has been quiet for some time, not speaking to any one.
