LOCAL AND MISCELLANEOUS.

Oil market closed yesterday 86 1/2. —E. C. Mays, of Clarrington, ex-Sheriff of Forest county, spent Sunday with his daughter, Mrs. A. B. Thomas.—Kane Leader.

Mrs. Dr. Morrow departed for her former home in Indiana county yesterday, in response to a telegram announcing the serious illness of her father.

Trains are running as usual this week, no such changes as were mentioned having taken place. The schedule will not likely be changed for some time yet.

Benj. W. May Esq., made a flying visit home from Chicago, only remaining over the Sabbath. He was accompanied on his return Monday by his sister, Mrs. Sharpe.

The next exciting event for this community will be the spring elections, which occur on the third Monday of February. Now's the time to announce for the fat offices.

Quarterly meeting will be held in the Wesleyan Church, Stewart's Run, next Saturday evening, Jan. 26, and continuing over the Sabbath. A cordial invitation is extended to all.

"For there was never yet a Philosopher, that could endure the tooth-ache patiently." Perhaps not—but there's little wit in enduring it at all, when one bottle of Salvation Oil will cure it.

Equip Henry Church, one of our efficient Jury Commissioners, made us a pleasant call Monday. He will be engaged a greater part of this week in assisting to re-fill the Wheel and draw a jury for the February term of Court.

Representative Hall, a prominent legislator of Mercer county intends to introduce an amendment to the marriage license act, requiring only one of the contracting parties to be present when the license is applied for. This is a sensible idea, thinks the unmarried local editor of the McKean Miner.

The joint resolution proposing an amendment to the constitution prohibiting the sale or manufacture of intoxicating liquors was taken up on third reading yesterday and passed finally by the House of Representatives by a vote of 132 to 55. The resolution then went to the Senate, which body will likely pass it early next week.

A. A. Carlisle, whose dangerous condition was noted in these columns last week, died at Las Cruces, New Mexico, on the 10th inst. of consumption. The editorial fraternity of this section of the State is thus bereft of a most brilliant member, who will be greatly missed by all who were accustomed to reading his crisp and spicy paper, the Clarion Jacksonian.

The long and anxiously looked for snow came on Sunday and Sunday night last, and a happier lot of people than the lumbermen and teamsters were when they went out on Monday morning and found from 6 to 8 inches of snow covering mother earth, would be hard to find. The sleighing is not what it might be, but is so much better than none that it is being used for all there is in it.

The pupils of the borough high school are making an effort to establish a library for the benefit of the school, and desire assistance from every citizen. A good book will be received with as much favor as money. A record of each contributor is to be made and kept by the secretary for future reference. This is a very worthy undertaking and the pupils not only deserve but should receive the substantial encouragement of all our citizens. The committee elected to carry on the work is as follows: Inez Brownell, Blanche M. Pease, Florence Klinefiver, May Knox, Chas. R. Howe, Ben. M. Kelly, Treasurer, Ed. H. Clark; Secretary, Forest J. Bovard.

—Mr. Harry H. Harp, who is with Mr. N. E. Snyder, tonsorial artist, has become the owner of a lot of ground in the business portion of Marienville, Forest county, with a view to erecting a building and locating there in the near future. The purchase was made last week from Mr. Edwin Bevier, also of Brookville. Mr. Harp is an industrious young gentleman, and deserves success in his undertaking.—Brookville Republican.

—The dwelling house occupied by Mr. Philo Barnes, at Stowtown, Hickory township, was consumed by fire on Friday of last week. The fire originated from natural gas, the pipe conveying it into the house having become detached from the stove, while the family were temporarily absent. Nothing worth speaking of was rescued from the flames, and Mr. Barnes' loss is a total one, he having no insurance on his household goods, we understand.

—The celebrated Forest county ejection case of Berry et al. vs. Watson, which had been sent to Warren county for trial, in which the judgment was reversed by the Supreme Court last October, was ruled out for trial before arbitrators, but we are informed that the rule to arbitrate has been stricken off by consent of parties. Doubtless neither party would have submitted to an award of arbitrators, considering the amount and the questions involved.—Titusville Herald.

—Frank Walker and Henry Silverling were picking out a route and measuring the distance for a telephone line from Nebraska to this place, last Saturday. Orion Siggins of West Hickory, who has the agency in this section for the Telephone Co., will superintend the putting up of the line, which will be done with as little delay as possible. We hope this is the preliminary step to the up-the-creek railroad. And, by-the-way, that railroad's a going to come; mark that down in your pass-book.

—Representative Randall came home to spend the Sabbath with his family, returning Monday. He says there is some talk of amending the game laws so as to prohibit the killing of deer for a period of three or five years, and if those of his constituents who are interested in the matter would like to have such an amendment made he would be pleased to hear from them. We believe it would be just the thing to do, as this fine game is getting scarce in this section, and a suspension of the operation of the law for 3 or 5 years would increase the supply of venison very materially. Give the deer a chance.

—The Postoffice Department introduced a new postal card on the first of January. The new cards differ from the old ones in that they furnish privacy in the correspondence contained upon them. It is very much like a double card of the old pattern. The back is split diagonally and opens square out. The four corners are folded and joined together in the center, when the card has been written upon, with a piece of gummed paper. The card weighs less than an ounce, and will contain no more writing than do those now in use.

—A quiet wedding took place at the Central House last Wednesday at 2 o'clock p. m., only the immediate relatives of contracting parties being witnesses to the happy event. The bride, Miss Nellie Brownell, is the accomplished daughter of Landlord Brownell, and one of Tionesta's most popular young ladies who will be much missed by her society friends here. The fortunate and happy groom is Mr. John Colegrove, one of Corry's leading young business men, where they will make their future home. The REPUBLICAN joins in the general good wishes and congratulations extended on this occasion.

—We observe that a member of the House at Harrisburg has introduced a bill to bring bear under the protection of the game laws. A good way to cure that chap from wanting to throw any safeguards around this ferocious beast would be to plant him down in one of the dense hemlock forests on the headwaters of Tionesta creek a dozen miles from any habitation, on some dark night, and then let him hear just one big snort from old Bruin. We think he'd move to amend by striking out the word "protect" and inserting "kill" in lieu thereof. There ought to be a good sized bounty on bear. They are getting plentier than deer in this county.

—Every three years all the school directors of each county are required by law to attend a convention at the county seat to select a County Superintendent. They are also required by law to attend the county institutes, at least one day. In his recent message Gov. Beaver suggests that this incur trouble and expense on the part of the directors, and propounds this query to the Legislature: "Would it not be both just and wise to give authority, by provision of law, to school directors to charge their actual, necessary expenses in attending these meetings to their respective constituencies, whom they serve without compensation?" The Governor's query is timely, and we are gratified to note that a bill has been presented to the legislature covering the ground suggested.

—Kelly & Co.'s well, No. 2, on the Baird tract, Dawson field, came in the latter part of last week, but didn't show up to any great extent. It was shot yesterday, but did not respond as it should have for a good well. They count it a five-barrel. It is about 500 feet northeast of No. 1 on the same tract. Tionesta Oil Co.'s No. 3, located a few yards farther up the run from No. 1, was due yesterday, but some of the machinery giving out caused a delay, and the well will likely be opened to-day or to-morrow. Work on the well on James Church's place, Little Hickory, is progressing, and the drill will be bouncing in a few days. There is quite an extensive territory in that neighborhood which has never been bored over.

—They say Bigelow is suing "Betty and the Baby" for half of their gift money, but the baby don't care a sou, so long as it can get plenty of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup.

A Former Tionesta Boy Killed. Mrs. D. W. Clark and her brother W. A. Hillands yesterday received the sad intelligence of the death, by accident, of their brother John, near Buffalo Gap, Dakota, on the 8th inst. It seems he was engaged with a companion in getting out timber for a house. They had cut a tree which lodged against a second one, and John was cutting the second tree. The lodged tree fell, striking John and crushing his head against a rock, killing him instantly.

John M. Hillands was born in Tionesta, June 10, 1854, and was therefore in his 35th year at the time of his death. He went West when about 16 years of age, making his home for some time in Iowa, with his sister, Mrs. Mitchell Vincent. He was a very steady boy and thus grew to manhood, an industrious and useful citizen. The news of his frightful taking off comes to his kindred here with crushing sadness, and with whom the writer can sympathize as one having lost a boyhood companion to whom in youthful days he was particularly attached. Besides two brothers and several sisters, he leaves a young wife to mourn his loss.

The Fence Law. Senator Packer, of Tioga, says the legislation his people are at present most interested in is the repeal of the fence law, which had its origin in colonial days. This law compels the horny-handed granger to maintain a strong fence, the exact proportions of which are specified, to keep the cattle, hogs and horses of his neighbor from his fields. The Legislature passed a law giving counties the right to repeal this law for themselves by popular vote. A number of counties did so, but the Supreme Court, on a case from Venango, decided the law unconstitutional. The court held the law to be indirect special legislation and ruled that the Legislature could not do indirectly what it might not do directly. In Tioga and elsewhere farmers had in many cases leveled their fences, and now are compelled to re-erect them for self protection. Packer has introduced one bill in the Senate, and Representative Morrow, of Venango, has introduced another in the House for repeal of the law, and people may be compelled to restrain the wanderings of their own live stock after all.—Pittsburgh Dispatch.

Representative Randall informs us that the present legislature is dead set on the repeal of the old law, and no amount of argument will convince the members from the larger and more thickly populated counties to the contrary. He thinks it will be impossible to muster more than a dozen votes against the measure. Notwithstanding this he will exert his best efforts in behalf of his constituents, yet it would seem the part of wisdom for our people to make preparation for the shutting up of their live stock.

Death of An Old Citizen. Died, of old age, at Neillsburg, Tuesday, Jan. 8th, Joseph Carson, aged 93 years.

In the death of this aged patriarch, passes away one of the oldest inhabitants of this community. Mr. Carson was a native of Ireland, and came to America in 1839. Locating at Neillsburg he became one of the most prosperous farmers in the neighborhood. He has lived with his son, Robt. O. Carson, for a number of years, and has maintained a most vigorous manhood up to the time of Mrs. Carson's death, which occurred about five years ago. Since that time he has gradually yielded to the weight of years. In his declining years, surrounded by loving friends who tenderly administered to his every want he had often expressed himself as passing the happiest days of his life,—prepared and only waiting for the call of the Master. He has long been known as a consistent member of the Covenanters Church, and the last obsequies were performed by Rev. J. F. Bovard of the Covenanter Church of Oil City, at his late home in Neillsburg, Thursday, Jan. 10th, at 11 o'clock, a. m.

Deceased was the father of four sons, who survive him. Two are located at Winchester, Kan., one in Iowa, and Mr. R. O. Carson, of Neillsburg. One sister also survives him. His remains were interred in Neillsburg cemetery.—Pleasantville Record

East Hickory. Correspondence of Derrick.] E. A. Bloomfield has lumber on the ground for a house.

A house belonging to Philo Barnes burned to the ground on Saturday. Nothing was saved. The fire was caused by a defective gas service.

Wheeler & Dusebury have spent several weeks on Queen, estimating timber, preparatory to buying. Now that snows come, there will be a great demand for teams.

Aquila Mong will run a small raft to Oil City in the near future.

Wheeler & Dusebury are putting gas under their boilers in their large band mill.

Mr. Ed. Douglass is home from Gopher town.

Mr. William Hall has been looking at a lot in town preparatory to buying. The snow is hailed with delight by lumbermen and merchants here.

Rev. Thompson is conducting a very successful revival meeting at Fagundus.

Henderson, Collins & Co. have chosen a mill site on Queen, and Mr. Straight will move his mill there in the spring, and manufacture their lumber for them.

T. D. Collins, of Nebraska, was in town on Saturday.

Mr. Wilson, of Fagundus, was in town on Sunday.

Miss Kate Pettigrew returned home from Franklin on Wednesday.

James Church, who has been on the sick list, is around again.

William Kribbs and James Hunter have finished skidding one hundred thousand feet of square timber on Queen.

HERE AND THERE. A man who does not deserve the name, has cut the tongues out of about forty animals over in Indiana county. His last victim was a fine stallion.

Somebody has evidently been slapping the editor of the Youngstown Telegram. At any rate something has caused him to exclaim: "Don't muss her all up when you kiss her."—(Blizzard.)

Sluggish Sullivan is reported to have been conquered. It wasn't Mitchell or Kilrain that knocked him out, but his old enemy, John Barleycorn. Pride must have a fall, and Boston has been just a little proud of the champion.

Charles Martin Everett, a New Castle tinner, committed suicide Wednesday night. He had saturated a sponge with ether, placed it in a basin and with his face resting in the sponge had laid down never to rise again. He had spread a linen towel over his head so that when found there was no part of his person visible. Inflammatory rheumatism had wasted and weakened his constitution and affected his mind.

In one of the public schools in Mill-creek township, Clarion county, the other day, one of the big girl scholars became offended at the female teacher and proceeded to give her a frowning, pulling the latter's hair and inflicting other indignities entirely unbecoming. The names of the principals are not given, but the girl with the ungovernable temper was sent ten dollars and costs by a justice of the peace.

If you own a few foot lot it's not so much to boast of in the way of width on the surplusage, but it goes down 4,000 miles deep till you meet the man half way that owns the ground lot on the other side. Just think of it. Take my advice an' buy a few feet 'round you an' 4,000 miles under you and set it out in 'Yick's plants an' seeds an' it'll be better than puttin' your money out at a hundred per cent., to say nothin' of the health an' the pleasure you'll get. Yes, garden's pays. Ask James Vick, Seedsman, of Rochester, N. Y., for his circular, and see.

The editor of the Seneca (Ala.) Sentinel thus asks its readers to come forward and pay lack subscription: "It is a sad duty to us to state to the many readers of this paper that we are actually in need of a suit of clothes. We would like to attend preaching, but remain away because we are ashamed to enter the church with the suit that is worn daily; we go occasionally but have to slip in quietly and take a back seat. This piece is not written for the purpose of soliciting some kind friend to donate us a suit of clothes, nor some true-hearted merchant to sell us a suit on time; but to arouse the sympathies of those owing us. We have spent the last dollar in our possession to accommodate you; now come to our needy assistance, and receive the blessings that only a poor, oppressed newspaper man can bestow."

Reading for the friends of the most attractive and varied kind is afforded by "Peterson's Magazine" for February. The numerous wood-illustrations are all of exceptional merit, and the steel-plate, "The Last Day at Home," is a very beautiful picture. The opening story, "Lost and Found," is capably illustrated. The short stories and poems are every one worth reading, and the fashion and household departments are at their very best. The number is admirable in every particular—in some respects, superior to the handsome January number. One can depend on "Peterson" never allowing any falling off; each month's issue is as carefully prepared as if it were to commence or end the volume; and it is such thorough reliability which has helped to give it so strong and wide a hold on popular favor. Terms, two dollars a year. Address the Peterson Magazine Company, 306 Chestnut St., Philadelphia, Pa.
