LOCAL AND MISCELLANEOUS.

Oil market closed yesterday 911.

This is the first day of spring.

Chinese Village Co. at the Rink Saturday night.

Easter comes rather late this year, April 21st.

Don't get it mixed; the troutling season don't open till April 15th.

The days are now of quite respectable length, longer, in fact than the nights.

The smell of burning rubbish has permeated the air for several days of the past week.

The veteran riverman, John A. Stewart, of Cherrytree, is circulating among Tionesta friends.

Mr. Beaver of Pittsburgh, father of Mrs. J. L. Craig, stopped with the family over last Sabbath.

C. D. Baker, the bustling commercial tourist, gave the REPUBLICAN a pleasant call yesterday.

Maple and balm of Gilead buds are bursting, but they are liable to get a setback before the swallows come.

We had a pleasant call from Mr. E. B. Head and his bright little boy, Harry, of West Hickory, on Saturday last.

Joe Dewees is rapidly recovering from his serious attack of fever, from which he has been suffering for several weeks.

Pilots Bruce Crawford, Nelson Cole and James Stroup "tied loose" for Pittsburgh with a fleet each this morning.

Mr. O. W. and Miss Euretta Proper attended the Ivy Club reception at Oil City, on Monday evening of this week.

It is now unlawful to the tune of $50 to $100 to wear the Grand Army button if you are not a member of that institution.

The early gardener is getting in his work already, as the tearing up of the ground in several lots through the town would seem to indicate.

The weather crop bulletin reports the winter wheat as looking very well throughout Pennsylvania and New Jersey.

The annual session of the Pittsburgh Conference of the Evangelical Association commences to-morrow in Brookville, Pa., and will continue till Saturday.

Regular argument court was held yesterday at the court present, but the session lasted only a few minutes, and nothing of public interest was done.

Wild geese were reported flying northward last week. There are now but two elements wanting to complete the advent of spring—the peep frog and the organ-grinder.

Pleasantville is now happy in the possession of an abundant supply of natural gas, having lately been connected on the main line recently laid from the Speechly district to Titusville.

About this time it is not an unusual thing to see where some "cheap John" Democrat gets himself mentioned in the country papers and gains a little notoriety by resigning a two-fold postmastership at a cross roads office, because he's too much of a Jacksonian to hold office under a Republican Administration.

It's two to one the position wouldn't pay $40 during an entire term.

John Van Camp of this place, a veteran of the late war, was made happy a day or two ago by the receipt of a pension check for $2,400. He will receive $8.00 per month in the future.

It is well even for the most pious retailers to remember the axiom of Josh Billings: "A man can serve the Lord just as strictly in measuring onions correctly as in shoutin' Glory Hallelujah!"

Sucker fishing is "on" to the full extent, and during the warm days of the past week were biting well for the boys, if the numerous nice strings brought in are any indication.

Arthur Kelly departed for his post of duty at Chicago yesterday, after a long visit with home and friends here, which was somewhat drawn out by the unfortunate accident he sustained in the breaking of his arm six weeks ago.

Philip Uncosper, of Washington twp., Indiana county, died at his home on Thursday of last week, aged 79 years. He was the father of Mrs. Dr. Morrow of this place, who received the sad intelligence too late to be present at the funeral.

H. J. Hopkins & Co. sold so many suits of clothing last week that Lynx was obliged to post off to New York this week to lay in a new stock, and while there will select a large and varied stock of spring goods of all kinds. Look out for a boomer.

We see it stated by some of our exchanges that the new witness bill makes the compensation of witnesses attending court $1.50 per day. This is a mistake; the pay is $1.00. This is the bill introduced by Representative Randall of this county, and it is now in force.

The ice in Tionesta creek, from Nebraska up came out in a sort of pond-flood Sunday afternoon. It was pretty well ground up before it reached the mouth, and amounted to little more than slush. Among the flood-wood was a good sized black bear. He was dead.

Dr. Allison of Nebraska, gave us a pleasant call yesterday. He talks some of shaking the dust of this country from his feet after the spring rafting is done and will look over parts of the Western country, and in the meantime pay a visit to his distinguished nephew, Senator Allison, of Iowa.

It is said that "a peck of March dust is worth a King's ransom," and if the axiom holds good there is no reason why the farmers and all others should not be happy in the anticipation of fine crops during the coming season, as we have already had considerable dust; a great deal more than a peck of it, at least.

The "Miscellany," a neat little eight page paper, devoted principally to religious topics, is now regularly published at Newmansville, Pa., by our friend John Rhodes. Although not claiming to be thoroughly practical in the printer's art, Mr. Rhodes displays excellent taste in the mechanical get-up of his paper, while its contents are entertaining and elevating. Success to the new venture.

The Dawson strike, reported last week, is holding up quite well. J. T. Shirley has commenced a well, on the McCalmont tract, about 400 feet south of the Dawson. Wm. Glass of Pleasantville, has leased from the G. S. Hunter estate, the Jesse Dale island, a little south of Dawson Station, and will commence operations within thirty days. The well on the Noble farm, east side of the river, was being drilled deeper, but the result is not ascertainable at this writing.

An interesting feature of the next census will be the ascertainment of the number of persons in the United States who have negro blood, either wholly or mixed, in their veins. The enumeration will classify the number of blacks, mulattoes, quadroons and octoroons separately. We shall then know whether the negro race remains chiefly black or whether it is gradually mingling with the Anglo-Saxon, "turning white," as colored people themselves express it.—Ez.

The Chinese Village Company will appear at the Rink next Saturday evening. The principal characters are Shu Sun Son, wife and two children, who are accompanied by others of their fellow countrymen. The lady belongs to the High Caste Chinese, and in accordance with the custom of her society her feet were compressed when she was a growing child until now they measure less than three inches in length. The company will exhibit curious works of art, wondrous oddities, idols, prayer machines, joss paper, opium, books, chop sticks, money, cloths, puzzles, musical instruments, counting boards, silk worms, cocoons, pipes, and many other articles of interest and wonder. They will also give an entertainment lasting about one hour, and will serve a Chinese supper.

The man Ruth, now in jail for beating and robbing Jacob Adamo, near Oil City, was identified by Sheriff Shearer last week as William Reed, whom he took to the Western Penitentiary in the fall of 1884. On the 8th of August, 1884, Reed entered the house of Jonas Potts, in French-creek township, while the family was at work in the harvest field, and stole some money and jewelry. Potts followed Reed to Franklin, and passed by him at the foot of the town hill. Procuring a warrant from Alderman Dailey, he placed it in the hands of Constable Hogan, who arrested Reed. On Reed's person the articles stolen from the Potts residence were found and identified. Reed was tried at August Sessions, 1884, convicted and sentenced by Judge Taylor to one year's imprisonment in the Penitentiary.—Venango Spectator.

Rafting commenced in pretty good earnest on Monday, and considerable lumber has already been landed at the mouth of the creek. There is little or none as yet down from above Coon Creek. Jas. Stroup has about 1,300,000 to run for Collins, Darrah & Co., three "Alleghenies" of which he was expecting to start for Pittsburgh this morning. James Haggerty, who is running the lumber of the Messrs. Lacy, will have 2,800,000 feet, all told, considerable of which is already down to the mouth, and the balance is rafting as fast as possible. Lyman Cook is running the Collins & Watson lumber, and expects to have in the neighborhood of 2,000,000. He has also got a goodly lot of it down to the mouth. If the water is favorable for the next week to come all of these contractors will have their jobs pretty well whipped; they are all hustlers. The largest raft ever run out of Tionesta creek, with possibly one exception, was run by Lon Stroup yesterday. It contained 118,000 feet of lumber, and was loaded with over 70,000 lath. The total run of lumber on the creek this spring will probably be the lightest that has been for many years.

The bill now before a committee in the State Legislature, to prevent the hunting of wild turkeys with dogs, will, if enacted, meet an exigency that long needed to be met. The Franklin Sportsmen's Club should keep an eye on this bill and conduct themselves accordingly. It is high time that a permanent end should be put to this thing of hounding wild turkeys over our breezy hills and through our happy valleys.—Franklin News. We heartily agree with the sporting editor of the News in his "kick" against this unsportsmanlike method of taking this noble game, which, only for the incessant hounding that is now carried on in the densely populated districts of our State, would be as plenty as punkies in the pinneries of a warm summer evening, no doubt. After this bill becomes a law, we move that the act placing a bounty on wolf scalps be repealed, and thus allow this species of game to once more flourish in our midst. True, there hasn't been a wolf in this State for twenty-five years, but that's no difference. How long would it take till the woods would be full of 'em if they weren't hounded to death? It's all wrong; the game laws are terribly out of joint, and should be remedied at once.

East Hickory. Derrick correspondence.] Sherwell Carter, of Dempseytown, is visiting his sister, Mrs. Weber. Col. Hunt, of Oil City, was in our village on Friday. Rev. Thompson preached at Fagundas, on last Sunday. The Free Methodists will hold their general quarterly meeting here on next Sabbath. T. J. Bowman's family arrived home from Jamestown on Saturday. Henderson, Collins & Co. have been rafting on their timber the past week, and the mouth of Hickory has been lively. They will start four Alleghenies from here in a few weeks. Daniel Brecht will start for Washington about April 5th, to homestead a piece of land. The Free Methodists are holding a protracted meeting here, but have not yet made an impression on the people. W. A. Kribbs spent Sunday in Oil City. A fine boy came to the house of John Thompson last Wednesday. Many of the wells on this side of the river, which have been reported dry, are being drilled deeper, in the expectation of catching oil in the new Dawson sand. Lewis Kiester is rafting in Toby & Normie's timber. N. Spencer started to Oil City Saturday enroute to Pittsburgh with the first raft of the season, consisting of hemlock piles belonging to Jesse Perry. A well is being drilled on the Furnace tract, about four miles south of here. Ed. Withall, an old Allegheny pilot, was in town preparing for a run down the river in the near future.

Barnett Notes.

Rafting and running has begun on the Clarion, and times are lively. The oyster supper at Greenwood on Friday and Saturday evenings was a success. Misses Millie Brennenman and Winnie White are going to attend Clarion Normal this spring. Mr. Henderson, the efficient landlord, is going to occupy the Forest House in Clarington, in the near future. It is about as easy for one of last week's correspondents to be a poet, as it is for a sheep to be a goat. Miss Clara Richards, who has been visiting her aunt, Mrs. Ward, has returned to her home in Brookville. Mr. John Barton has been considerably under the weather for the past few days. We hear John Heath is 'round again; wonder if he has another horse to trade. The doctor fell through the mow, but the question is, how he knocked the horns off Coon's muley cow. Mar. 18. B4U.

Strobleton. E. E. Stitzinger of this locality, started on a pleasure trip to the lumber woods, and in search of a job for the coming summer. Rev. Carl Zinsmeister of Fryburg, was visiting friends of this community a not long since. The wild geese were seen flying last week, which indicates that summer is close at hand. Messrs. J. E. and I. F. Stitzinger were visiting friends near Fryburg last week. Mrs. Philip Wolfe of Newmansville, is at present rusticiating in this locality. Miss Black of Shipperville, who for the past four months was training the kids at the Shriver school, completed her term last week. An excellent address was delivered by A. W. Swab pedagogue of the Red Brush school. Protracted meetings are still in progress at the Amity church, near Newmansville. Mr. F. Stitzinger of this section was in Oil City one day last week. Mch. 18. ZIGZAG.

HERE AND THERE. A prohibitory mood appears to have seized our State Legislature. Tuesday the Senate passed a bill prohibiting the sale of tobacco to boys under 16 years of age. The kids must depend on their future supply on the elusive and uncertain snipe. Next in order will be a bill prohibiting the sale of spring chickens over 16 years of age.—Franklin News. An invention that is being used for sending coin through the mails consists of a piece of pasteboard about the size of an silver quarter, a half dollar, and a dollar, with red paper seals ready to paste across each slot. A coin can be put in and sealed, enclosed in an envelope, and sent through the mails in safety. It is said that a sure and very simple cure for insomnia is eating, before retiring, a couple of crackers sandwiched with honey. A cracker spread with honey is not hard to take under any circumstances. As a wooer of sleep to those who are strangers to rest, it must be even more palatable. The remedy is such an innocent one that it must commend itself to all those who are suffering from that dreadful disease, insomnia.—Exchange.
