—William Kearns, connected with the National Transit at North Clarendon, has met with a sad bereavement in the drowning of his eldest daughter, Mary, aged about 15 years, on Tuesday of last week. While out gathering mountain tea with some other children, she attempted to cross a foot log over a stream, a branch of Tionesta creek, and fell into the water and was drowned.

The afflicted father and mother have numerous friends in Oil City who join the Blizard in sympathizing with them over their great loss.—Blizard.

—In which sympathy the REPUBLICAN and many Tionesta friends also join.

—We wish, though a little late, to join with their friends in extending congratulations and good wishes to Mr. Harry Harp and Miss Mary Shick, who were united in marriage on the 7th inst., by Rev. F. P. Hummel. The bride and groom have commenced life at their new home, at Marienville, where Mr. Harp has opened a barber shop and news stand. May success and happiness attend them.—Brookville Democrat. We cordially welcome all such acquisitions to our county.

—Information is wanted as to the whereabouts of John Thompson, who came from Derbyshire, England, in 1860 or '61. He went into the service of the United States as cook or waiter for some army officer. His friends think he went from the oil region of Pennsylvania. He had but one arm. Any information concerning Mr. Thompson, dead or alive, will be thankfully received by William Jones, Bellefonte, Centre Co., Pa., Quartermaster of Gregg Post, No. 95, G. A. R., Dept. of Pennsylvania.

—New Jersey has a Baptist minister who claims to have baptized more people than any other man in his church. The community in which he resides has been grieved over his stubborn cough that has interfered with his pastoral duties. A physician recommended Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup, and consequently there will be baptism in his church next Sunday.

—The Derrick of yesterday morning has this pleasant reference to one of Forest's citizens: "Capt. James Zahniser, of Neillsburg, Forest county, was in town yesterday morning on his way to Cochran to visit relatives. The Captain is a prominent citizen of Forest county and a veteran of the late war, 75 years of age, but as hale and hearty as a man of 50. He was Captain of Company I, 51st Pa. in the late war, and has considerable history connected with his career. He is well known to many of our readers."

—The Chinese entertainment at the rink last Saturday evening was quite a decided success financially. The show was novel and in many respects instructive if not amusing. One of the most pleasing features was the fluency and intelligence with which the leading character of the company spoke the English language. Indeed, except by his general appearance one would hardly have taken him to be anything but a native American. The tea served with the luncheon after the performance, was simply delicious, and reflected credit on the one who prepared it, be he Chinaman or American.

—F. M. Ziegler, until recently engaged in the milling business near Tionesta, will leave here to-morrow morning for Colorado to be treated for a lung trouble with which he has lately been affected. His numerous Oil City friends will hope that the change of climate may have the desired effect and that he may soon regain his former health and strength. Mr. Ziegler will be accompanied on the trip by his father-in-law, John Jennings, of Plum Township, this county.—Blizard of Monday. Mr. Z. has a host of friends in this community who will anxiously await news of an encouraging nature from him.

—There is nothing new to report at Dawson this week. Shirley has his rig nearly up, and will perhaps commence operations this week. Kelly has located well No. 4 on the Baird tract. It is in a southeasterly direction from the others, or toward the Dawson well. J. H. Hardison has leased ground from the G. S. Hunter estate near the depot at this place, and will commence a well before long. There have been several wells drilled in that immediate neighborhood each of which produced some oil, and one of them was abandoned as a 25-barrel pumper. But that was in the days when oil wasn't worth having, hardly.

—The Berry vs. Watson suit, which has attracted so much attention, was settled Wednesday. The property in dispute has produced about 35,000 barrels of oil worth an average of 80 cents, $28,000. Less expense of drilling three wells and equipping same, cost of pumping, torpedoes and extras for about six years, $12,000. Balance $16,000. For this sixteen thousand realized from wells by the Watson parties they surrender the property with the three wells and equipments, and pay cash $15,000. Each party pays its own expense of suits. This statement is authoritative, and the average reader, the question having been raised by the Derrick correspondent, can draw his own conclusions as to who has the "best" of it, as well as the Derrick or its correspondent. The parties who really seem to be out are the attorneys of both parties.—Tidoute News.

The river is falling rapidly and rafts have about stopped running. A timber raft is stuck on a bar just above the bridge, and can not be moved until the river raises again.
The Indian Medicine Company which has been showing here for the last week, has gone to Pleasantville. They did not leave a very good impression here, although their entertainment is well worth the price of admission.

Notice.
HOLEMAN PLATS, March 26, 1889.
EDITOR REPUBLICAN:
I wish you to state through your paper that I have a good milk cow and a yearling heifer that I will exchange to any person for a small house and small lot. Any one wishing to apply must do so at once, as this notice will not appear again.
LIZZIE B. HUFF.

HERE AND THERE.
It looks like the old oil fields about Parker would be again a scene of busy operations. Oil men are now leasing property there and expect to drill wells this spring.—Kittanning Free Press.
Those people who are always thinking that the newspapers are "bitting" at them, says the Atchison Globe, are advised to look through the Bible; they will find many flings at them in the good book.
Richard Connolly, of Williamsport, who was pestered by snakes stealing his milk, wrote to a friend in Ireland for some soil from the old country. He placed this Irish earth in a circle about his place, and, it is said, the snakes keep aloof.
Thomas Norton and Joseph Maloy made their escape from the Lawrence county jail Monday morning of last week by using a wooden key with which they opened two iron doors and then forced the lock of the door leading to the jail-yard. They have not yet been captured.

While nickel three cent pieces are extremely scarce, it is a curious fact that they are freely found among the plate collections of some churches each Sunday. It is supposed, says the Philadelphia Record, that in the dim religious light of the churches the donors mistake them for dimes.
Yorktown, N. Y., boasts of the oldest postmaster in this country. He was appointed by President Harrison in 1841, and has held the office continuously for forty-eight years. He is now ninety-three years of age, and with the assistance of his wife, who is ninety, attends to the duties of the office.

The Pennsylvania Railroad has perfected a method of warming cars by steam, which has been in course of preparation at the Altoona shops for two years. A trial trip was made a few days ago when all the officials expressed themselves as being completely satisfied and well pleased with the result of the test, and steam heating for passenger cars will undoubtedly be adopted by the Pennsylvania Company. The system has been patented by the company.
A Noble county cow ate several pounds of lard tobacco from the effects of which she died. Did you hear her like?—People's Press. No, never, but that's a bully pun.—Newcomer's Index. The editors of the above papers are evidently steering for a lunatic asylum.—Chamberland News. There's no ox-cure for so much ado about nothing.—Mercer Press. Some of you fellows must have been taking a horn.—Sharpsville Advertiser. Cheese it, brethren, cheese it.—Oil City Blizard. Such miserable punning displays an utter lack of the milk of human kindness.

We in the natural gas region are apt to think that the gaseous fuel is cutting a wide swath through the coal production. The figures, however, show that, although the natural gas belt is very long and its output immense, its effect on the consumption of coal is not appreciable. The statement of Prof. Ashburner to the U. S. Geological Survey shows that the total production of coal of all kinds increased from 129,075,566 tons in 1887 to 148,263,744 tons in 1888. The value of the coal mined last year was $208,129,506. Instead of a falling off, there was an increased production in every important coal region. The Pennsylvania anthracite mined during the past year amounted to 46,568,000 of a value of $85,714,000. In the face of such figures, the statistics of natural gas look insignificant, and even the oil production seems small in comparison.—Franklin News.

Pittsburgh Conference Proceedings.
The Pittsburgh Conference of the Evangelical Association convened in the church of that denomination at Brookville, Pa., March 21st, 1889, to hold its thirty-eighth annual session. Bishop R. Dubs D. C., of Cleveland, Ohio, presided. Conference was opened at 8:30 a. m., by singing, and prayer by the Bishop, after which he delivered a sublime and touching address to the Conference, then sang "Nearer, My God, to Thee," in the spirit and with emphasis. The remaining part of the forenoon session was taken up in the appointing of committees, &c., and of no general interest.
Convened again at 1:30 p. m., and was opened by singing, and prayer by Rev. D. S. Poling. Rev. I. A. Rohland's term as Presiding Elder having terminated, he was re-elected to said office by the Conference. When shall our next Conference convene? was then in order. This question brought on a lively and interesting debate from the fact that nearly one-half of the Conference desire a change from spring to fall. Among the many conferences of this Church, only two hold their sessions in the fall, hence this question was handled in a business manner, but on reaching a vote the proposed change failed, and the 13th of March, 1890, is the date of the next session, and Greensburg the place.

ADDRESS.
At this juncture the Rev. W. Yost, Supt. of the Orphan's Home at Flat Rock, Ohio, addressed the Conf. in the interest of said institution. This is a church institution, maintained by the church and gives a home, shelter and clothes to a large number of little orphans. Rev. J. J. Carmany preached at 7:30 to a large congregation.

SECOND DAY.
Conf. was opened at 8:30 by singing, and prayer by that veteran G. W. Capp, after which the Bishop addressed the Conf. and assembly on "arriving late at church," in which he made some very pointed and truthful hits. Rev. S. S. Condo, the noted revivalist, of the Ohio Conf., presented his credentials and was received into this Conf. The work of Conf. the remaining part of the day was principally that of committee work, and of a statistical nature, hence of but little importance to your readers. Rev. D. S. Poling preached an eloquent sermon in the evening the large house being crowded as usual.

THIRD DAY.
Convened at 8:30 a. m., opened as usual by singing, and prayer by Rev. T. Bach; then followed an address by the Bishop on choosing a text, and on the receiving of membership.
The further proceedings of the day was that of receiving reports from the several committees and their ratification by the Conference, &c., which your correspondent will pass by. Conference concluded its work at a late hour on Saturday night. The last work was the report of the stationing committee. Ordination services were held Sabbath forenoon, at which time six or seven young ministers were ordained Deacons, and four, Elders.

By an invitation of the proper authorities of Jefferson county, the afternoon service was held in the Court House, for the reason that so many wished to hear Bishop Dubs preach, and would be unable to gain an entrance to the Church. At two o'clock the people began to wend their way to the Court House, notwithstanding the services were not to commence until 3 o'clock. The assembly was simply tremendous, and many went away entirely unable to obtain even standing room. The Bishop's text was, "Ye are my witnesses." Bishop Dubs was certainly in the best condition for the occasion, and preached in the power and demonstration of the spirit; having a voice like an engine he filled the entire room with apparent ease. No one was disappointed in the ability of the speaker, and that sermon will long be remembered by the church going people of Brookville.

Throughout the entire Conference session the highest grade of Christian spirit and love prevailed. All the members returned from the Conference to their fields of toil and labor with renewed courage and energy. We have only given your readers a very limited account of Pittsburgh Conference in session, and have so far refrained from entering into a statistical form, as this part will be published in the Conference Journal in a short time for distribution. Pittsburgh Conference district is divided into four Presiding Elder districts, either of which are larger than Franklin District. We here only append the report of the Stationing Committee so far as it relates to our (Franklin) district:

WORTH KNOWING.
Mr. W. H. Morgan, merchant, Lake City, Pa., was taken with a severe cold, attended with a distressing cough and running into consumption in its first stages. He tried many so-called popular cough remedies and steadily grew worse. Was reduced in flesh, had difficulty in breathing and was unable to sleep. Finally tried Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption and found immediate relief, and after using about a half dozen bottles found himself well and has had no return of the disease. No other remedy can show so grand a record of cures, as Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption guaranteed to do just what is claimed for it. Trial bottle free at G. W. Bovard's Drug Store.

—That old established cough remedy, Down's Elixir, still more than holds its own in the public estimation, despite sharp and active competition. It is a "home remedy," and in this locality needs no words of praise from us, so well and favorably known is it. It is the standard remedy for coughs, colds and all throat troubles, with great numbers of our people, and their continued use and unqualified recommendation of its virtues vouch for its favor.—Burlington, Vt., Free Press, January 25, 1882. For sale by D. Barnett.
